Mrs. Gunn's Dancing Exhibition.
It has been some little time since Mrs. Mary Gunn has had one of her dancing exhibitions and many people are looking forward to the one tonight with considerable pleasure. The opening number will be at 7 o'clock, having been set at that early hour on account of the little tots who expect the sandman so much sooner than the grownups. The children will all be in costumes appropriate to the dances they are taking part in. These will be very interesting as well as graceful and pretty. The first on the program will be a pantomime by little children, "Sleeping Beauty." This will be followed by a Swedish singing game, "I see you." After that will come a Danish dance of greeting, "Blacking." Another dance will be called "Wooden Shoes," and will be executed in Dutch costume. One of the numbers will be a Tarantella-Greek maidens playing ball. Mrs. Gunn considers one of her prettiest numbers to be a "sixteenth century rose dance," in which twenty-four children will take part. There will be an Irish lawn dance and many other clever exhibitions of dancing. The program ending with the performances of the older children, who will do the Ostand waltz and two-step. The exhibition will take place in the makal pavilion of the Young Hotel. An admission of 50 cents will be charged.

Mrs. Charles Chillingworth's Bridge Tea.
One of the prettiest affairs of the week was the bridge tea given by Mrs. Charles Chillingworth in honor of Mrs. Frank Hatch of Oakland, who is visiting in Honolulu. There were three tables of bridge, while many came in later for tea, the guests being mostly old friends and school-mates of Mrs. Hatch. The affair took place at the residence of Mrs. Chillingworth on King street, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Feathery green and white bamboo, and yellow marguerites adorned the drawing room and lanala, varied with bowls of golden coreopsis and long branches of yellow pulmarias. The music room was brilliant with its decorations of scarlet hibiscus. Some highly interesting rubbers of royal auction were played by the bridge devotees, the prizes, pretty silver bonbon spoons, eventually going to Mrs. Richard Cutts, Mrs. A. Davidson and Mrs. Booth. A special guest prize, a beautiful Irish crochet centerpiece, was presented to Mrs. Hatch. The bridge players were the guest of honor, Mrs. Frank Hatch and Mrs. Charles Booth, Mrs. Arthur Davidson, Mrs. Day, Mrs. William Rawlins, Mrs. Jack Belsler, Mrs. Nelson Lansing, Mrs. Otto Bierbach, Mrs. Richard Cutts, Mrs. Roy Matheson, Mrs. Louis Underwood and Mrs. Homer Preston. Those who came into the delicious tea which was served later, were Mrs. Alexander Robertson, Mrs. Thomas Church, Mrs. Robert Breckons, Mrs. Gibson of Fort Shafter, Mrs. Carl Waldeyer, Mrs. George Henshall, Mrs. Frederick Hons, Mrs. Robert Hair, Mrs. Carlos Long, Mrs. Jean Campbell, Mrs. John Dominis, Mrs. David Dowsett, Mrs. Lou Whitehouse, Mrs. Norman Watkins, Mrs. Lester Petrie, Mrs. Charles Brenson Hall, Mrs. Frank Boyer, Mrs. Albert Cunha, Mrs. Clara Schmidt, Mrs. William H. C. Campbell, Mrs. Clarence Cunha, Mrs. Harvey Murray, Mrs. Harry Gray, Mrs. William T. Monsarrat, Mrs. John Clark, Mrs. Haley, Mrs. Frank Stillman, Mrs. Edna Bennel, Mrs. Robert Shingle, Mrs. Ethel Whiting, Miss Nina Craig, Miss Emily Clark, Miss Irene Boyd, Miss Kate McIntyre, Miss Margaret McIntyre, Miss Edith Williams and Miss Agnes Buchanan. Mrs. Hatch is well known in Honolulu, having formerly been Miss Annie Whitney of this city.

Miss Myrtle Schuman's Luncheon.
The Country Club was the scene of a very pretty luncheon today when Miss Myrtle Schuman entertained in honor of Miss Marguerite Creighton, one of next week's brides. An exquisite centerpiece of American Beauty roses adorned the table while miniature handpainted roses of the same kind marked each person's place. After luncheon the guest of honor was showered with dainty bits of household linen—final evidences of the good wishes of her friends for a happy married life. Among those present were Miss Marguerite Creighton, Miss Emmaline Magoon, Miss Helen Spalding, Miss Elizabeth Low, Miss Sara Lucas, Miss Mary Lucas, Miss Kathleen Kerr and Miss Gemma Wadman.

Schnm-Cowles Nuptials.
A most attractive wedding and one of great interest took place at Hotel Coronado on the evening of May 7, when Miss Edith A. Cowles of Washington, D. C., daughter of Admiral and Mrs. W. C. Cowles became the wife of Lieutenant Leo Schnm, chief engineer of the U. S. S. South Dakota.

The Rev. Mr. Barnes of St. Paul's Episcopal Church officiated at the ceremony which was performed in the green drawing-room, which had been transformed into a bower of white blossoms, the walls being almost hidden by beautiful palms, and at the end of which was erected an altar of flowers. The bride, who is a handsome brunette, was gowned in a most becoming robe of white satin and duchesse lace, the veil being of tulle with orange blossoms.

Admiral Cowles being unable to be present, the bride was given away by her mother and was otherwise unattended. Lieutenant C. E. Smith, commander of the first submarine group of the Pacific torpedo flotilla, was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held and a delicious supper served in the banquet room of the hotel to a limited number of guests.—San Francisco Examiner.

Full Moon Dance.
The usual dance of the full moon will take place at the Country Club on Wednesday, June 18, at 8 o'clock.

Service Bridge Club.
Mrs. G. H. Jamerson was hostess on Tuesday afternoon for the Service Bridge Club. There were three tables of players, all so well acquainted with one another that the meeting was, as always, highly informal. After several rubbers the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Harold Pratt, Mrs. Lincoln, and Mrs. Turner, and delicious refreshments were passed.

Capt. and Mrs. Jamerson's Bridge.
On Thursday evening Captain and Mrs. G. H. Jamerson were hosts at an informal bridge party for twelve. Some very enjoyable rubbers of royal auction were played, the prizes going to Mrs. Wooten, Mrs. Macomb and Mrs. Cutts. These were pretty vases of Japanese pottery. Later in the evening a tempting supper was served. Among those present were General and Mrs. Macomb, Admiral and Mrs. C. B. Moore, Major and Mrs. John V. Myers, Captain and Mrs. Richard Cutts, Major and Mrs. Wooten and Major and Mrs. Cheatham.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Benner's Crystal Wedding.
To celebrate fifteen years of wedded bliss, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Benner entertained at a large and very enjoyable card party Monday night at their home on Beretania street. Beginning with the invitations which were etched on squares of cut glass in lieu of the usual copper plate engravures, and ending with the prizes which were all of cut glass or crystal, the entire scheme of the party was carried out in the idea of the crystal wedding. The decorations of yellow cosmos and maiden hair in cut glass bowls and vases were most attractive, though simplicity was the keynote of everything. A number of gifts were shown in one room, material evidence of the congratulations and good wishes of their many friends. Conspicuous among these was a token which any one might envy—a dozen each of wine glasses and water goblets of beautiful Bohemian cut glass, the gift of the bridge club to which Mrs. Benner belongs.

During the evening the guests devoted themselves to auction bridge, twelve tables in all being given over to the game. Mrs. William Goetz captured the ladies' first prize, a rock crystal compote, while the second, a cut glass vase went to Mrs. Otto Bierbach and the consolation, a Bohemian glass bon-bon dish to Mrs. Linderman. Of the gentlemen's prizes, Mr. F. Blake won the first, a set of cut glass carrying nests, and Mr. Randolph Moore the second, a cut glass toothpick holder while Mr. Harry Taylor was more than consoled for poor cards by half a dozen crystal cocktail glasses. A tempting supper was served later in the evening, which the guests thoroughly enjoyed after their strenuous bridge. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Atherton, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gere, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ables, Mr. and Mrs. F. Blake, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Young, Mr. and Mrs. S. de Freest, Mr. and Mrs. George Guild, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Tarlton, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph G. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Lyser, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Drew, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bierbach, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Linderman, Mr. and Mrs. Marston Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. William Goetz, Dr. and Mrs. Philip Frear, Capt. and Mrs. Berger, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bush, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Belsler, Mr. W. T. Schmidt, Mr. Harry Taylor, Mrs. Hader, Miss Edwards, Miss Jessie Smith and Miss Bertha Benner.

Rag Party.
A delightful rag party was given at the Myrtle Boat Club last Saturday evening by a number of local young men at which over fifty of the younger set were present. The evening was spent in dancing the Tango, one-step and other new rag steps which are becoming so popular even in Honolulu. Later in the evening toothsome refreshments were served. The dance was in charge of Mr. T. P. W. Gray, Mr. A. K. Magoon, Jr., Mr. C. J. Sullivan and Mr. Sam Chillingworth, Jr. Mrs. Charles Chillingworth made a most delightful chaperone for the jolly affair.

Sons of Revolution.
All members of the Hawaiian Society of the Sons of the American Revolution are called to assemble in annual meeting Tuesday noon at 12:15 in Cooke Hall, Y. M. C. A. The meeting is an important one and a large representation is requested. There will be time for business men to attend the meeting and get their lunch at the cafeteria.

recognition of her first honors in the Life class and the Costume Sketch class. First mention was awarded her in the Illustrating class. One of the artists who acted as a judge in the award was the world famous Charles Dana Gibson. Miss Fraser is the daughter of Mrs. Nina Fraser, and a "Punahou girl." After completing the preparatory course at Oahu College she went to Wellesley, returning after graduation to teach for a year at Oahu College. Deciding upon art as a life work she went to the art center of the country where she has been meeting with signal success.

Monday's Manchuria brought with it a good many kamaainas who have been wandering over the Orient after the manner of Honolulu denizens, who are more often abroad than at home. Mrs. G. F. Renton returned after an extended trip in the Far East. There also arrived Mrs. E. B. Waterhouse and daughter Margaret, who have added this tour of Japan and China to their list of already extensive travels. Mrs. J. D. Stubbs, formerly Miss Elsie Waterhouse, returned with Mrs. Waterhouse instead of going on to England as originally planned.

The Shinyo Maru on Tuesday afternoon carried away with it a fair tourist from New Jersey, Miss Marion Hodges, who for the past few weeks has been registered at the Moana Hotel. She departed on the Japanese liner for Dai Nippon and the Far East ports. Miss Hodges has made many friends in Honolulu while visiting here and it was with great regret that everyone saw her go.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Bailey of Boston arrived on the Wilhelmina Tuesday to pay a flying trip to the islands and incidentally to attend the marriage of their son, Mr. George Bailey, to Miss Alice Cooper on the 18th of this month. The wedding is to be a social event of great brilliancy and is being anticipated with much pleasure by those who have been invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Graybill of the Canton Christian College were through passengers on the steamship Manchuria Tuesday. Mrs. Graybill will be remembered by some as Miss Griggs, whose beautiful voice made her well known at Vassar. While in Honolulu, Mr. and Mrs. Graybill were the guests of Miss Florence Lee in Manoa valley.

The many friends of Miss Dorothy Wood and her sister, little Natalie Wood, were filled with regret on hearing of their sudden departure on Tuesday's Manchuria. These two charming girls who remained behind to finish their school year at Punahou, go to join their family in Los Angeles after a two years' sojourn in Hawaii.

Mrs. Henry E. Cooper was a homecoming passenger on the Wilhelmina Tuesday morning after a two months' visit in southern California. Mrs. Cooper was accompanied by her cousin, Mrs. Lafayette Porter of Los Angeles, and Mr. Porter, who will be her house-guests at Pearl City for several months.

Lieutenant Wallace Berthoff, U. S. N., arrived on the U. S. S. South Dakota and is with his wife and little son at their home on Clay street and Presidio avenue.—S. F. Argonaut.

Mr. A. W. Eames, who went up to San Francisco a few weeks ago to at-end the marriage of his daughter, Helen, to Mr. Eugene Bodmond of Boston, returned on Tuesday's Wilhelmina. He was accompanied by his second daughter, Miss Elizabeth Eames, who has been attending the University of California for the past year.

On Saturday last Mr. and Mrs. Chester Huns entertained at bridge for Miss Katherine Ogilvie of Oregon. Others present were Mrs. Bruna, Mrs. McCormack, Miss Katherine Woodford, Miss Frances Reed, Miss Burton, Mr. Ricker, Mr. Harold Felts, Mr. J. A. Hill and Mr. William Gaynor.

Many families took advantage of the holiday and the fine weather on the eleventh to motor out of town for a breath of country air. Kohala, Haleiwa, Tantalus and Kawailoa were all equally popular, the wonderful sea-bathing at the latter place drawing quite a crowd of swimming enthusiasts.

Mrs. A. C. Farley and Miss Emily Farley will return from Molokai a week from Sunday, the 22nd of June. Mrs. Farley will be in town until the 23rd, during which time her friends are anxious to see as much as possible of her.

Miss Beryl Hunter-Jones was among the departing passengers on Tuesday's Manchuria. She will spend several months in southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Edmunds of Oakland, California, who have been spending the past six months in Honolulu, sail—to the regret of all who know them—on Wednesday's Wilhelmina.

AN AFFAIR of great interest to Honolulu society is the wedding next week of Miss Marguerite Creighton to Mr. Benjamin Conrad of California. The marriage will take place on Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Robert Lishman, on Keesaujoku street. It promises to be very unique as well as attractive in the annals of weddings in Hawaii, as the ceremony and reception are to be held out of doors in the beautiful Lishman garden. Unfortunately for those who will not be able to see this pretty affair, the wedding will be a small one, only relatives and intimate friends being bidden. Miss Myrtle Schuman will be maid of honor, and Mr. Donald Ross, cousin of the bride, best man.

Mrs. Knight's Luncheon.
Mrs. Frank Armstrong, one of Honolulu's recent brides, was the raison d'etre for the most elaborate affair of the week, a luncheon for thirty-two given by Mrs. Fred Knight on Thursday at the Hotel Plesasanton. The guests were seated at four tables over which there presided besides Mrs. Knight, Mrs. H. F. Lewis, Mrs. F. K. Kibahan and Miss Walker. Golden yellow was the color scheme for the entire affair. The tables were artistically decorated with bowls of flaming yellow lilies, smilax, and knots of soft green tulle. The place cards were hand-painted lilies to match the real flower that nodded from the lovely centerpiece. Graceful baskets of these lilies, called by some the Naluhi lily as they grow so plentifully around there, hung from the tall pillars and sills about the room, mingled with smilax and ferns. Throughout the luncheon, a quaint dispersed sweet airs, the haunting melodies of which filtered down from the semi-enclosed landing above. Tiffin over, the afternoon was devoted to bridge, some of the scores at the end of the day being a sure indication of enthusiastic bidding. The prizes, first, second and consolation—dainty bits of silverware—went respectively to Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Miss Walker and Miss Barracough. Among those present were the guest of honor, Mrs. Frank Armstrong and Mrs. Harry F. Lewis, Miss Barracough, Mrs. F. Kibahan, Miss Alice Cornet, Mrs. Charles Wilder, Miss Burr, Mrs. F. Kibahan, Miss Walker, Miss Agnes Walker, Mrs. J. M. Dowsett, Mrs. Samuel Wilder, Mrs. G. W. Kirkaldy, Mrs. James Wilder, Mrs. George Sherman, Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Mrs. J. O. Young, Mrs. Albert Waterhouse, Mrs. Alonzo Gartley, Mrs. Harold Giffard, Mrs. W. T. Monsarrat, Mrs. F. W. Carter, Mrs. L. A. Parish, Mrs. A. Conrad, Mrs. E. E. Freeth, Mrs. A. G. Hawes, Jr., Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Mrs. H. Renjes, Mrs. Frank Andrade, Mrs. Alexander Isenberg and Mrs. H. Gallard Smart.

Place Vendome Paris

From The Place Vendome comes all the imitable and authentic designs used by the World of Fashion.

Such famous style-makers as CALLOT, DRECOLL, POIRET, WORTH, PAQUIN and DEMART-DUTOY are located in the immediate vicinity of The Place Vendome.

We were fortunate enough to be able to purchase from the New York market about forty gowns, most of them being original designs, created at The Place Vendome; the rest are true copies of original models:

La Roulette a la Callot, Oasis a la Poiret, Imperatrice a la Worth, Saint Germain a la Drecol, Fragonard a la Paquin, Manolita a la Bernard, Maintenon a la Demart-Dutoy, and Bagatelle a la Laborde.

We secured these at a very low price, and are therefore able to offer the Ladies of Honolulu a rare opportunity.

WEDDING GOWNS

We direct special attention to a number of models in this assortment which would make most charming Wedding Gowns.

GRADUATION DRESSES

Another feature of this assortment is the many neat and pretty models most suitable for the charming June Graduate.

A few of these Models will be displayed in our Show Windows during the entire week.
