Gen. and Mrs. Funston's Dinner
The weather has been so hot this week as to absolutely preclude all formal entertaining. For the most part, people have contented themselves with swimming and riding and anything, really, that was cooling in its results. Gen. and Mrs. Frederick Funston gave a little dinner last night, though which was highly successful because of its informal nature. Their guests were Major and Mrs. Edward Timberlake, British Consul and Mrs. Rentiers, Major E. V. Smith and Lieut. William Ball. The table was simply but effectively decorated with pink carnations and maidenhair fern.

Allan Herbert's Dinner.
A charming dinner was given on Thursday evening when Allan Herbert entertained at his home on Makiki St. Cut flowers and ferns were used in the decorations. Those present were Dr. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shingle, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, C. A. Brown, Harry Whitney and the Princess David Kawanakoa.

Mr. and Mrs. Klamp's Supper.
A very jolly affair was given last night at Kahala when Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Klamp entertained informally at supper for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shingle, Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Murray, Princess Kawanakoa, Mr. Allan Herbert, Mr. Paul Muhlendorf, Miss Louise Girard, Mrs. Renjes, Mr. and Mrs. Man-lie Phillips, Dr. C. B. Cooper, C. A. Brown and Paymaster W. Izard. The house was attractively decorated with red lilacs for the occasion. After supper the guests devoted the time to social bridge.

Miss Guild's Luncheon.
A very delightful swimming and lunch party was given at Kaalawa on Monday last by Marjorie Guild to celebrate her birthday. Those present were Hildred Church, Jessie Baldwin, Marie Humphreys, Margaret Hoogs, Charlotte Ballou, Anna Pratt and Helene Morgan and they all had a glorious time. Swimming during the forenoon gave the little folks a good appetite for their out-of-door lunch and Mrs. North, who is the house guest of the Guilds, had prepared all kinds of delightful surprises to make the lunch both a very dainty and a very jolly one. The young people had a merry afternoon in and out of the dressed in a smart white tailored suit, with a white hat trimmed with yellow roses. She wore a corsage-piece of lilacs of the valley and maidenhair fern.

Mrs. Lella B. Hedges, a prominent society woman of San Francisco, who is visiting at the Pleasanton hotel.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with feathery branches of green pepper, vines, ferns and tall white St. Joseph's lilies to carry out the bridal idea. After the wedding, a luncheon was served at the bride's home for the bridal party. Mr. and Mrs. Strader then escaped to Tantalus, where they are spending a delightful honeymoon. Upon returning to town they will occupy a suite at the Blaisdell hotel, where they will be at home to their friends. Mrs. Strader is a well-known Honolulu girl, having lived here all her life, and possessing a wide circle of friends. Mr. Strader is a prominent young businessman of the city, whose interests will keep the young couple here indefinitely.
Mrs. Demmer's Card Party.
A large and very delightful card party was given this week by Mrs. Charles Demmer at her home at Schofield Barracks. The affair was in honor of her two house guests, Mrs. Peter Marquart and Mrs. William Kay of Fort Shafter, who have been spending several days at Lilihue. There were nine tables in all. After some excellent rubbers of bridge, the first prize went to Miss Lucy Gilbert while Mrs. Peter Marquart captured the second. The consolation prize went to Mrs. Leonard W. Prunty. A delicious repast was then served.
Lieut. and Mrs. Jackson's Dinner.
A charming dinner was given on Thursday night by Lieut. and Mrs. Franklin P. Jackson at their home on Matlock avenue. The affair was in honor of Col. and Mrs. J. G. Galbraith of the cavalry. For this reason yellow and white—the cavalry colors—were used in the decorations, the table being adorned with quaint little nosegays of flowers in these tints. Hawaiian place cards were used to indicate the seats. Those present were Col. and Mrs. J. G. Galbraith, Col. and Mrs. Francis H. French, Miss Emma Cooley and Lieut. Philip Lauber.
Col. and Mrs. French's dinner.
Among the dinners that are being given tonight before the hop at Fort Shafter is one at which Col. and Mrs. Francis H. French will be hosts. A pink color scheme is planned for the occasion. After dinner the guests will adjourn to the 2nd Infantry clubhouse and join in the dancing. Those who have been invited to this affair are Lieut. and Mrs. F. P. Jackson, Miss Emma Cooley, Lieut. and Mrs. William Kay and Lieut. Philip J. Lauber.
Mrs. Holloway's Picnic.
A very jolly picnic to Ford Island with luncheon and an informal day is being planned by Mrs. C. S. Holloway for tomorrow in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hyde and Miss Ruth Hyde, who have been her guests for several months. Among those who have been invited are Mr. and Mrs. Hyde, Miss Ruth Hyde, Miss Alice Hastings and Mr. Paul Achilles.
Senor Arana's Tennis Tea.
Senor Arana, the Spanish consul, who entertains a great deal in an informal way, has been having a series of tennis teas every Wednesday afternoon at the Moana hotel courts. Last Wednesday's affair was an especially delightful one, a refreshing tea following some hard-fought sets of tennis. Among those present were Miss Nora Swanzy, Miss Betty Case, Miss K. Ward, Miss Emily Farley, Carl Bostrom, Reginald Carter, Lieut. William Rose.
Fort Shafter Bridge Club.
Mrs. Frederick Cooke was hostess for the Fort Shafter Bridge Club on Thursday, there being three tables in all. The first prize was won by Mrs. Roe, while Mrs. Peter Marquart captured the second. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. R. Gibson at Fort Shafter.
Mrs. Ivers' Luncheon.
Miss Helen Wilder was the guest of honor at a very jolly affair on Thursday when Mrs. Richard Ivers entertained at a swimming party and luncheon at her home at Kaalawa. Tiffin was served on the lawn after a refreshing dip in the salt Pacific. Among those who were present were the Misses Helen Wilder, Pauline Schaefer, Phoebe Carter, Elizabeth Carter, Mary von Holt, Hilda von Holt, Eloise Wichman, Ruth Soper, Rosamund Swanzy, Katherine Jones, Margaret Jones, Katherine Irvine, Helen Jones and the Messrs Jack Galt, Carter Galt, Herman von Holt, Fred Schaefer, Francis Brown, Irvine (2), Donald Lewis, Marcus Billson and Paul Achilles.

Swimming Class.
Great interest is being taken by society ladies in the swimming classes that are being held two or three times a week. Miss Tupper is proving herself a most delightful and interesting teacher and her methods are growing in popularity every week. Many of the ladies have learned to swim in this short time while others who already knew how are brushing up their strokes, and attempting fancy diving. The swimming pool at the Castle residence at Waikiki makes an ideal place to conduct the classes—which really are more like social events than anything else. Among the ladies who are learning to swim under Miss Tupper's skillful tuition are Mrs. Daniel Appel, Mrs. Richard Cutts, Mrs. J. G. Galbraith, Mrs. Frederick P. Reynolds, Mrs. John T. Myers, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Frederick Funston, Mrs. Edward K. Masse and many others.
Mrs. Gartley's Supper.
A delightful supper was given on Thursday night by Mrs. Alonzo Gartley, in honor of the Misses Helen, Katherine and Margaret Jones, who leave Honolulu next month to be gone several years. The affair was given at the P. C. Jones' residence up the Fall and was strictly unconventional. After supper the guests played games and did stunts until the lateness of the hour suggested home. Among those who attended this jolly affair were the Misses Helen Jones, Margaret Jones, Elizabeth Carter, Katherine Jones, Hilda von Holt, Phoebe Carter, Corinda Low, Helen Wilder, Alice Hastings, Pauline Schaefer and Messrs Carter Galt, Jack Galt, Fred Schaefer, Farrant Turner, Donald Lewis, Francis Brown, Herman von Holt and Paul Achilles.
Around the Island Trip.
There is nothing more delightful than motoring during these warm summer days, and the road around the island is so good as to make that trip a very popular one. Mrs. Herman Focke was hostess at a very enjoyable affair of this kind on Tuesday. The party started in the morning and stopped at Ahimau for a refreshing plunge in the ocean. Luncheon was had at the Hotel Aubrey and the journey completed in the cool of the afternoon. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Focke's hospitality were Miss Mary von Holt, Miss Hilda von Holt, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Miss Helen Wilder, and the Misses Elizabeth and Phoebe Carter.
Mrs. Faxon Bishop's Swimming Party.
The younger set who are unending in their activities are being entertained this afternoon in a delightful way that is typical of Hawaii. After several hours spent in the surf at Waikiki supper will be served on the shady lawn of the Bishop place—Mrs. Faxon Bishop being hostess at the affair. Among those who have been invited are Misses Helen Wilder, Mary von Holt, Hilda von Holt, Elizabeth Carter, Phoebe Carter, Pauline Schaefer, Alice Hastings, and Messrs. Hermann von Holt, Jack Galt, Carter Galt, Paul Achilles, Frederick Schaefer and Marcus Billson.

Mrs. Jamerson's Card Party.
Royal Auction continues to be in as high favor as ever, and informal parties of one, two and three tables are greatly in vogue during the summer. Mrs. George H. Jamerson is being hostess this afternoon at an affair of this kind at her home at Fort Shafter. Her guests—of whom there are just enough to fill two tables—are Mrs. William Wooten, Mrs. Ernest Gayler, Mrs. Daniel Appel, Mrs. Charles J. Lincoln, Mrs. W. P. Gibson, Mrs. Tower, the house guest of Mrs. Jamerson, and Mrs. Paul B. Malone.
Chowder Supper at the Outrigger.
Everyone realizes that this is the time for open-air parties and that is the reason why so many affairs of this kind have been given this week. This evening a jolly and congenial party of Honoluluans, mostly hailing from Manoa Valley, are having a chowder supper at the Outrigger. They are coming en famille in the tune of thirty-four, even the children being allowed to participate in this informal occasion. Among those who will be present are Mr. and Mrs. John Drew, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Benner, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bierbach, Mr. and Mrs. R. Reidford, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Tarleton, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lindeman, Mrs. Charles Bon, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Goets and the families of all.
Mr. and Mrs. George William Bailey nee Cooper, were outgoing passengers on this morning's Sierra enroute to their home in Boston. I asen down with leis, they were equally showered with the good wishes of their many friends who were at the dock to bid them bon voyage. It would have been a sad aloha indeed if it had not been for the consoling thought that the Baileys will visit again in Hawaii next year. Honolulu people come and go so, however, that Mrs. Bailey expects to see most of her friends in Boston long before the year is out. Prior to their departure this morning the young couple were considerably entertained in an informal way—the hot weather precluding anything of a formal character. Miss Betty Case was hostess at dinner for them on Thursday at the Pleasanton, while Capt. and Mrs. J. S. Johnston had a small dinner in their honor last Saturday night at Fort Buser. The Sheedys, the Clarks, the Hochlings, the Koykes and many others have also entertained for them, their departure on this morning's boat being the occasion of much lamentation among the younger set.
