SUPERVISORS ARE PARTIAL TO AQUA PURA

Members of the road committee of the supervisors will meet with John W. Caldwell, superintendent of public works, this week to settle the question of whether the city and county has a right to special privileges in using water for the irrigation of its parks.

Having before them the threat of Superintendent Caldwell to cut off the supply of water for Kapiolani Park, if the rules specifying the irrigation hours are violated again, the committee will point out to Caldwell in the conference that it is impossible to water the park during the hours he has set.

A letter was read from him at the last meeting of the board of supervisors in which he said that all irrigation must be done at Kapiolani Park between 6 and 8 in the mornings and 4 to 6 in the evenings, the hours which apply throughout the city for irrigating.

Fruit-growers are furnished the park to do the work of irrigating. They do not arrive there until it is too late, by the hours set by Caldwell, to use the water in the morning, and they leave too early to do it in the evening. Betwixt and between, the park would dry up, the supervisor says, if Caldwell had his way.

"There is no reason why such an order should be insisted upon," said Superintendent Caldwell, "when it comes to using water for a public park, a place which the entire community is interested in seeing in good condition. I can see no sound reason why he does not allow as the use of the water, say, for four hours a day and let us take it when we want it. Certainly, nothing would be lost by such a concession."

It is believed that Caldwell will agree to the compromise proposition and allow the park to be kept green and the superintendent of it to use the water four hours a day, such hours as he may choose.

Beginning August 1st, and until further notice, the basement or Rathskeller of the Alexander Young Cafe will be closed. Private luncheons or dinner parties can, however, be arranged for at any time through the management.—advertisement.

blow dirt into the room from the stalls or yard of the animals.

"The ordinance has been drafted by R. L. Weaver, deputy city and county attorney, upon the request of Supervisor Wolter, chairman of the health committee of the board, and upon the suggestions of E. J. Gay, the milk inspector of the city and county. That such an ordinance is greatly in need, both Wolter and Gay are firmly convinced.

At the present, says Gay, the great majority of the dairies have their milk room within a few feet of the place where the cows stand, and with the blowing of the wind, dust is caught up from the stalls, and finds its way into the place where the milk is kept. "We regard this as a condition against every rule of sanitation," said Supervisor Wolter. "With the milk exposed to such dust, the health of its consumers is endangered. The ordinance we have had drafted makes it necessary for the dairymen to remedy this evil, which can be done in two ways. He will first be required to put down a cement floor in the milking quarters, and secondly, he will have to so erect his milk storage room that it will not be exposed to the dust of the cattle pens."

Several other sanitation measures are being planned by the health committee.

get out of chaotic conditions. Gen. Yuan Shih-Kai is known to be a strong man and one devoted to his country. The Chinese believe that he is forceful enough to resist outside aggression.

"Dr. Sun is looked upon as a dreamer, as a theorist, though personally he is held in high regard. It seems to be the opinion, also, that he is disappointed at the role he is playing. When Yuan Shih-Kai was made president, undoubtedly Dr. Sun expected to be the power behind the throne. This he has not been, for Yuan has been independent.

"The assassination of the minister of agriculture a few weeks ago was what started the revolt. This was ascribed to Yuan's intention to rid himself of all elements hostile to his ambitions. However, Dr. Sun's forces have not been strong enough to cope with Yuan's army.

"The revolution has partially stopped transportation in the republic. The Tientsin-Pukow railroad stopped about the time I left. The Shanhai-kwan-to-Pekin railroad is guarded for its full length by the soldiers of foreign nations—United States, Germany, France, Japan and Russia—each nation guarding a section.

"Yuan Shih-Kai's reign is marked by the execution of those who are believed to be plotting against him. At one time in Peking, I was credibly informed, fifty-six persons were executed. About the time of my arrival, two Chinese girls were taken from a hotel and executed. It was said that they were members of a group of conspirators against Yuan. The mode of execution is shooting now.

"I don't think the revolution will last long. Even the southern provinces will not follow Dr. Sun and his associates."

MONUMENT TO THE HEROES OF THE ALAMO

(By Latest Mail)

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Combining beauty, grandeur and usefulness and representing the patriotic devotion of loyal Texans to the memory of the pioneers who fought for and won liberty, the Alamo heroes monument, to be erected in San Antonio on ground made memorable by the fortress' defenders who would not surrender, will be one of the greatest works ever undertaken in Texas. Its graceful lines emphasize rather than conceal the rugged strength of the structure and will mark it as a work of art; its great height and the massive character of the base, its columns and statuary within and without supplies the element of grandeur, and its usefulness to the people of the whole state will be realized in its galleries, its auditoriums, its halls for state and national patriotic societies or associations, and its individual rooms for each county in Texas for the maintenance of art or historical exhibits.

The Alamo heroes monument will rise to a height of 802 feet and thus become the highest building in the world, it is said. It has been designed along modern lines to possess strength and stability, attesting that modern engineering has made possible feats that were impossible when the tower of Babel was built, or, for that matter, were impossible only a generation ago. Yet with all the advance engineering has made this monument promises to be one of its greatest accomplishments. It will contain four spacious auditoriums, a museum, an art gallery and statuary hall, besides a separate room for each of the 248 or more counties in Texas. Near the top balconies will be provided for visitors who wish to take a look into the neighboring counties through the large telescope to be provided for that purpose.

Leaders Memorialized. The base of the monument will be of solid granite rising to a height of 50 feet. On this base will be placed at each corner of the monument and arranged around the shaft, huge pillars, each eight feet in diameter and 70 feet high, all of solid Texas granite. These pillars will be surmounted by heroic-size statues of Travis, Crockett, Bowie and Bonham, the four great leaders who succumbed in the Alamo with the men in their commands. Above these statues will be placed the six flags that have waved at different times over Texas, the Lone Star and the United States flags in the center, supported by the flag of the Confederate states of America, of Mexico, Spain and France. Places will be made, too, for an emblem representing the Indian tribes that possessed this land before the Spanish adventurers found their way here.

Everything about the monument will be on grand proportions and the great lobby is to be one of the most impressive sights of the monument. Visitors are to have free access to it at all times. Its inside measurement will be 82 1/2 feet square, which will be the inside measurements of the auditoriums, museum and art gallery, each of which will be larger than any hall in San Antonio today. The ceiling of the lobby will be 50 feet high, an opening in the center eight feet across forming its summit, and this opening is carried up through each succeeding story until it reaches a height of 700 feet. Here will be set into the ceiling, beautifully lighted by electricity, the Lone Star of Texas. The space for 100 feet beneath the star will have no opening from without to admit the light, so this star will be almost as brilliant in the daytime as at night.

Elevators Arrangement. The elevators in the monument, four in all, will be located between the massive columns as far up as these run, which will be to a height of 120 feet from the ground, and above that in the column which will be placed at each corner of the shaft and extending to the base of the dome there will be elevators having large carrying capacity.

The rooms apportioned to the different counties of Texas, in number between 275 and 300, for some will have to be provided for new counties to be established in the years to come, will be located within the shaft of the monument above the four floors in which will be placed the auditoriums, museum, art gallery and chambers for patriotic organizations. These will be reached by elevators, one of which will be designated to serve them while the other will run on express schedules between the first landing at a height of about 120 feet and the balconies at the top.

The dome of the monument will not be open to visitors, but will be offered to the federal government for an observatory such as is now maintained at a few places in the United States, and which is much in demand in the South. At the very top of the great structure will be located a powerful searchlight, the strongest that it will be possible to obtain. This powerful light may be turned on far-away towns if so desired, but generally it will be turned towards the clouds and its rays will be visible at great distances, far beyond points from which the great tower itself may be seen.

It is hoped by the projectors of the monument that in 1918, the two hundredth anniversary of the building of the Alamo chapel, the corner-stone of Texas liberty, Texans may unveil the most magnificent and tallest monument in all the world. Then loyal Texans may feel that they have paid a debt of gratitude owed to these valiant and sacrificing men who gave themselves to free Texas from oppression.

Few men reach 60 without wishing they had been more economical.

The CLARION

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES

Complete agreement has been reached between the war department and the executive committee of the National Guard Association on the general outline of a bill designed to make the organized militia available for immediate service in any part of the world as a part of the regular army.

The measure will be perfected in the near future and introduced in congress with the indorsement of the war department and the state militia authorities. Conferences on the proposed bill have been in progress for several days between Acting Secretary Breckinridge, for the department, and Maj. Gen. Edward Young, adjutant general of Illinois; Brig. Gen. John C. Chase, adjutant general of Colorado; Brig. Gen. James Drain of the state of Washington, and Col. Harvey of the District of Columbia National Guard, constituting the national guard executive committee.

The proposed new law would provide for the payment of militiamen by the national government, the payments to be made in lump sums to the state authorities and disbursed upon reports by inspectors of the regular army, testifying to the complete efficiency of the militia to be paid.

It would overcome the effect of a decision by Attorney General Wickersham, that the present militia cannot be used outside of the territorial limits of the United States. That is to be accomplished by maintaining the militia in strict accordance with the regular army organization, and by transferring the organization bodily, officers and privates, into the regular army, in case of need.

Adj. Gen. Andrews, who has direct charge of the recruiting service of the army, is making a close personal inspection of the principal recruiting stations in the west. After inspecting the station at Columbus, Ohio, he will visit St. Louis to inspect the station at Jefferson barracks, next stop will be at Denver; then he will go to San Francisco, where he is arranged he shall meet Sec. Garrison and Gen. Wood, chief of the station at the end of the month and accompany them on their visit to the Pacific coast ports.

Before returning to Washington, Gen. Andrews will take a short vacation. In his absence, Col. E. Heistand is in charge of the general's office at the war department.
