PINKHAM SAYS HE WILL CARRY OUT POLICIES O. K'D BY WILSON

President Instructed Candidates, Backed by Different Local Democratic Groups, to Settle Differences and Unite on a Man for Governorship.—Refused to Act as Mediator

By C. S. ALBERT
[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.—It is generally admitted here as conclusive that in appointing L. E. Pinkham as governor of Hawaii, President Wilson has punished the Democrats of that territory for failure to unite on a selection of their own party. The designation of a Republican to the best federal office in Hawaii will serve as a future object lesson that factional bickerings will not be sifted out or recognized at the white house by the incumbent.

Repeatedly those here representing Watson, McCandless and Waller were urged by President Wilson to adjust their differences and agree to some candidate for governor who could be recommended by all of them. He made it plain that he would not undertake to serve as mediator in their controversies. He frankly said at various times that if the Hawaiian Democrats did not harmonize on some general choice he would make his own selection without regard to party service or affiliations.

It is held here that the territorial leaders have nobody but themselves to blame for the appointment of a Republican to the governorship. It will be remembered that similar factional fights have prevented the initiation of local improvements in Hawaii. On more than one occasion direct notice was served that a general agreement must be reached as to side and character of betterment desired before serious departmental consideration could be given the project. The same spirit of controversy manifested by the Democrats has driven the governorship away from them.

Immediately following his designation as governor it was announced by Mr. Pinkham that he would remain here until final action had been taken by the senate on his nomination.

In discussing the future Mr. Pinkham said he had no program arranged but would return to Hawaii prepared to carry out policies which he thought would be approved by President Wilson and the Democratic administration. He indicated that he thought a number of reforms were needed.

The greatest industry in Hawaii, the one on which the principal wealth of the territory rests, is the production of sugar. Sugar to the amount of $50,000,000 is produced annually, he said, and large amounts of fruits are also grown. The sugar industry of the territory, he added, is controlled largely by a small group of men.

At the present time there is some uneasiness over the sugar situation, according to Mr. Pinkham, due to different causes. He said that in a general way, however, the affairs of the territory are in a prosperous condition, with prospects for improvements in a number of ways.

Mr. Pinkham took an important part in cleaning the territory of disease and in providing adequate care for the lepers, of whom there are now about 600 in the territory. The lepers are placed in a colony, on a separate island, by the government, and the children born in the colony are taken away as soon as practicable and placed in separate institutions. Often they are free from the disease, he said.

Speaking of the population of the territory, Mr. Pinkham said that although there are large numbers of Japanese, they mostly lease their land, and are not as a general thing permanent fixtures. Usually they look upon Hawaii as a kind of El Dorado, he said, and go back home as soon as they collect some money.

At present the population of the territory is more than 191,000, and a large proportion of the people there are Asiatics, he pointed out, although there are large numbers of Portuguese.

In connection with the presence of lepers on the island, Mr. Pinkham mentioned that men who have spent much time in the east grew accustomed to recognizing lepers very easily. He said that he saw two lepers walk

A STITCH IN TIME
The Importance of Keeping Clean

Every man, woman or child who neglects to keep antiseptically clean, inside and out, invites disease in one form or another.

It lurks in the air we breathe, in the food we eat. Every little cut, or scratch, or insect bite offers ingress to some among the countless "disease germs" which, if not immediately destroyed, may bring on blood poisoning in one of its many forms. Don't ignore the importance of combating the disease germ all the time. Get in the habit of using an antiseptic as a mouth wash night and morning. Have a bottle handy for use in cuts, burns, bruises or insect bites. Take the ounce of prevention which might prevent the pound of cure.

The best antiseptic to use is LISOGEN. It goes farther than Peroxide of Hydrogen by uniting with that most efficient germ destroyer the remedial and antiseptic properties of Thymol, Menthol and Eucalyptol.

These valuable elements take up the work where Peroxide of Hydrogen leaves off and with their help LISOGEN not only destroys the germ, but in some degree repairs the damage the germ has done.

Ask your druggist for LISOGEN. You will delight in the purifying, refreshing sensation that it gives. 25 cts., 50 cts. and $1 a bottle at

AUDITOR WILL EXAMINE BOOKS OF LEAHI HOME

When the Leahi Home asked the supervisors to increase its appropriation to $500 a month, it probably did not realize what a mess of trouble it would make, and how hard it was to get a bit of extra money from the city and county strong box.

Though it has been reported that the board will not increase the appropriation for the home, a report from the health committee is not yet ready to be made and before it is submitted the books of the home will be gone over by the city and county auditor. It was stated today, to ascertain the costs of running the institution. This is the upshot of the dispute over figures given by officials of the home, and the subsequent issue over them by Dr. James T. Wayson, city and county physician and Dr. A. N. Sinclair, of the Leahi Home.

Supervisor McClellan has suggested that the city and county auditor be asked to go over the books of the home, and determine from first-hand data whether the extra appropriation is needed. According to the contention of Dr. Wayson, the home is not in need of money from the city and county, but receives an ample amount. On the other hand, officials of the institution are contending that they are without funds and are running behind.

down the cow's throat. Efforts to draw it up brought objections from the cow, and finally the line was cut. Dr. Todd thinks that the animal, drinking in the brook, swallowed the line and hook left by a boy, who had fastened his miniature boat to the same line for safety.

Whether there was a fish on the hook is a matter of conjecture. Mr. Stone thinks there was.

THIS FISHLINE HAS RIVER COW AT END

[By Latest Mail]
WINSTED, Conn.—The sight of a cow wading in a brook and drawing a toy boat by a string in her mouth caused Dr. R. S. Todd of New Milford to stop his auto on its way up Kent mountain yesterday afternoon. In the car with the doctor was Selectman W. K. Stone of Winsted.

Both walked over to the brook. Dr. Todd found that not only the little boat but a fishpole was trailing from the line, the other end of which was

WHEN IN DOUBT SLITS ARE CORRECT

[By Latest Mail]
NEW YORK.—We are going to wear slits this fall. Also some chiffon and lace and ribbon and fur. But chiefly slits. The golden rule for the customer is: When in doubt, slit. The woman who is dressed up-to-date will have no difficulty in mounting the highest street car step if there are plenty of policemen present to restrain the crowds.

Many of the costumes at the fall and winter fashion show now being held in the Grand Central Palace are of peculiar design. The skirts are slit to a point above the knees, and the openings are not confined to the side, but are to be found both at the front and back. Corsages of evening gowns are mere transparencies, and evening cloaks are worn precariously over one shoulder, protecting neither health nor modesty.

For instance, there's a tea-trottery frock at the fashion show, which has practically no skirt at all in front below the knees. Another gown gives the impression possibly erroneous—that if the wearer walked a bit faster the two halves of the skirt would separate in the back up to the waist. Even at a small's pace the slit extended above the knees in the back, and beginning at the waist line on lengthwise fold of the skirt appeared to be laid over the other, disclaiming all fastening.

Work! Work! Work!

"BY THE SWEAT OF THY BROW SHALT THOU EARN THY BREAD" was the sentence handed out to Adam when he lost his job in the apple orchard.

The sentence was tempered with mercy, however, for Eve went with him, and he was not required to work all the time.

THE BUSINESS MEN OF HONOLULU ARE SERVING THEIR SENTENCES, sweat and all, these August days; but they are over doing it.

"ALL WORK AND NO PLAY MAKES JACK A DULL BOY."
OUR ADVICE TO YOU IS:

Buy yourself and Eve a ticket by next Mauna Kea, come to Hilo and REST AND PLAY A MONTH.

Cool weather, new scenes, good service, cheap rates.
In the long run you will do more work, make more money, and be a better citizen for it.
