

Society

THE LAST of the August brides was by no means the least—when one reflects upon the attractiveness of her wedding and the charm of an ordinarily unaccountably formal affair, Miss Gemma Wadman was as winsome a little bride as one could wish on Wednesday night, when she plighted her troth to Mr. William Zerff, and her wedding party of the same daintiness as herself. The Methodist church on Victoria street, which is in itself quaint and charming, was beautifully decorated in compliment to the happy ceremony which took place there. A pink and lavender color scheme was used, toned only with the green of ferns and foliage. The pulpit and organ loft were banked with maidenhair and palms, while great bowls of delicate lavender and pink asters linked together with soft knots of tulle were placed among the green. The same coloring was used in the gowns of the bridal party. Mrs. Norma Adams, who led the procession as matron of honor, was charming in a gown of mauve colored satin with bodice of shadow lace. The skirt opened at the side over a panel of lace, while at the hem an artificial... disclosed another fall of the shadow lace. She carried a shower bouquet of pink Cecile Brunner roses, caught with pink tulle. Miss Sara Lucas, Miss Rennie Patton and Miss Isabel McCarrison, the three bridesmaids, who entered next, accompanied by three ushers, were gowned in a paler shade of lavender which toned almost into a pink. They were all made entrainees of a handsome satin chaise with trimmings of exquisite lace, chiffon and rhinestones. Dainty satin slippers matched the gowns. They carried bouquets of the pink Cecile Brunner roses and tulle.

The final merging of the lavender into pink occurred in the gown of the maid of honor, Miss Marguerite Wadman. She was dressed in a pink and white with rose colored chapeau and a small court train hanging from the shoulders. Beautifully trimmed lace, trimmed the gown, caught here and there with rhinestones and sparkling silver passementerie. She also carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and tulle.

The bride was radiant in her gown of ivory-colored chaise, draped with broad shadow lace. The overskirt and bodice were caught with exquisite rose point—old family lace of surprising fineness. The skirt was slit on either side of the short under-train to the back, revealing a flounce of antique-pleated shadow lace and making a court train of graceful length hanging from the shoulders. A fluffy veil was caught in a crown of black Brussels net and shadow lace over white satin, with rhinestone ornaments. A white picture hat with a mauve-tinted plume finished the costume.

Prior to the ceremony Mr. Rudland Dodd charmed the many listeners with beautiful selections on the organ. Mr. Reynolds McGrew then sang, "Oh Perfect Love," Mrs. Ernest Ross rendering an accompaniment as beautiful in itself as the song.

The Methodist Episcopal service was read jointly by the Rev. John Wadman, father of the bride, and the Rev. Robert E. Smith. Mr. Cyril Brough served as best man, while Mr. David Larsen, Mr. Dickson Nott, Mr. Richard Catton and Lieut. F. T. Evans were ushers.

After the ceremony, a small reception was held at the Wadman home in Manoa valley. Ferns, palms and white lilies and asters were used with tulle to make the house beautiful—the color scheme veering to green and white. Assisting Mrs. Wadman at the reception were Mrs. Tom Burningham and Mrs. Tom Sharp. The wedding cake was cut, and portions were distributed to be treasured and dreamed upon, but when the bouquet was thrown, the girls, also, were not there, and the trophy was carried off by Mr. Dickson Nott.

Mrs. William Zerff

Shortly afterwards the bride and groom escaped, heartily pelted with rice and old shoes as they fled. A smart red runabout, driven by Mr. Zerff, took them to Haleiwa, where they are spending a brief honeymoon. The bride wore a stunning going-away suit of navy blue velvet with a chic blue toque to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Zerff will return to town on Monday only to leave on Tuesday's Manchuria for the mainland, where, to the regret of their friends in Honolulu, they will make their home for the next few years.

Those invited to the wedding were Mrs. and Mrs. A. E. Arledge, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Atherton, Misses Atherton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Atherton, Mrs. J. M. Atherton, Miss Myra Angus, Miss Jean Angus, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Andrews, Mr. Watson Ballentyne, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Blake, Misses Blake, Misses Buckland, Mr. and Mrs. T. Burningham, Mr. and Mrs. George Bailey, Miss Erminie Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cartwright Jr., Mr. Reginald Carter, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Chapin, Dr. Frank Clark, Mrs. Olive, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Spalding, Miss Helen Spalding, Miss Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburg MacNeil, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin L. Marx, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Matheson, Mr. and Mrs. John Drow, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Melanphy, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Melanphy, the Misses Moran, Rev. and Mrs. Motokawa, Mr. James Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. J. Laurence Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. C. Schmutzler, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Schuman, Miss Myrtle Schuman, Rev. and Mrs. Doremus Scudder, Mr. and Mondays—Panahon, Makiki.

CALLING DAYS FOR HONOLULU

Tuesdays—Waikiki, Kapiolani Park, Kaimuki, Palolo. First Tuesday, Fort Ruger.
Wednesdays—Nuuanu, Punui, Pacific Heights. First and third Wednesday, above Nuuanu bridge; second and fourth Wednesdays, below bridge; fourth Wednesday, Pacific Heights; first and third Wednesdays, Alewa Heights.
Thursdays—The Plains.
Fridays—Hotels and town.
Fourth Friday, Fort Shafter; first Friday.
Saturdays—Kalihi, third and fourth Saturdays, Kamehameha Schools.
Fort Shafter—Calling day every Friday.

Note—The telephone number of the Society Editor is now 2916.

house, Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Wichman, Miss Ora Saunders, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Cleghorn, Mr. Theodore Cooke, Mrs. Charles M. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cooke, Judge and Mrs. H. E. Cooper, Miss Susan Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cooke, Miss Ethel Damon, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Day, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Miss Charlotte Dodge, Mr. Douglas Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ellis, Mrs. L. B. Evans, Mrs. Force, Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Fitts, Mr. Harold Fitts, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Baron, Miss Juliette Baron, Miss Helen Latham, Mr. Robert McCarrison, Mr. Reynold McGrew, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. McStocker, the Misses McStocker, Mr. and Mrs. John McTaggart, Mr. Dickson Nott, Mr. William Ouderkirk, Mr. and Mrs. S. Ozold, Mr. and Mrs. Tenney Peck, Mr. Roscoe Perkins, Miss Marjory Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Mannie Phillips, Mrs. W. W. North, Miss Eunice Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Caldwell, Judge and Mrs. Ralph Quarles, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Reedy, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Renton, Rt. Reverend and Mrs. Henry Bond Restarick, Miss Restarick, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Richards, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Ripley, the Misses Ripley, Miss Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Jared Smith, Rev. and Mrs. Robert Elmer Smith, Misses Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Soper, Miss Ruth Soper, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hedeman, Miss Hendricks, Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Hodgins, Miss Florence Hoffman, Rev. and Mrs. C. P. Hong, Dr. Sycman Rhee Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hopper, Miss Alice Hopper, Miss Julia Hughes, Miss Blaindell, Capt. and Mrs. G. H. Jamerson, Mrs. F. A. Tower, Mr. Frederick Tower, Mrs. Agnes Tower, Mrs. L. Moore, Mrs. H. C. Balch, Miss Young, Miss Warnicke, Mrs. A. Hodgins, Mrs. W. Riggs, Mrs. Henry Afong, Mrs. Fred Damon, Mrs. H. V. Murray, and the hostess, Mrs. William Williamson.

Mrs. Young's Poi Luncheon.
 Seldom has a prettier affair been given than the poi luncheon on Wednesday at which Miss Bertha Young was hostess. From a bed of ferns in the center of the table were strewn pale blue hydrangeas and dainty pink Cecile Brunner roses and pansies, caught here and there with broad green satin ribbon. Long leis of the blue hydrangeas wound their way in and about the outskirts of the table while individual corsage pieces of the hydrangeas, roses and pansies knotted with green ribbon were at each place. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. Wickham Havens and Mrs. George Wilhelm of Piedmont, who enjoyed the novel Hawaiian dishes more than many a kamaaina. After luncheon the party motored out to Moanaloa where they watched the Maui-Cavalry polo game. Miss Young's guests were Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. George Wilhelm, Mrs. Alexander Hawes, Jr., Mrs. William Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Gerster and Mr. Spring.

Lieut. and Mrs. Gordon's Dinner.
 A very charming dinner was given on Thursday at the Pleasanton when Lieut. and Mrs. Samuel Gordon entertained for Admiral C. B. T. Moore, Captain and Mrs. Arthur B. Owens, Lieut. and Mrs. Ernest Gayler, Lieut. and Mrs. Gaylord Church and Miss Betty Case. The table was tastefully decorated with feather-headed asters of a rose-pinkish hue, toned with ferns and tropical foliage.

Mrs. Hoffman's Dinner.
 An informal but delightful affair was the dinner given at the Moana hotel on Wednesday evening by Mrs. Hugo Hoff man. Brilliant red ixoras with their star-eyed petals made an effective centerpiece, while the other accessories harmonized. Mrs. Hoffman's guests were Miss Isabel Lynch, Miss Josephine Lynch, Col. Sam Parker and Miss Hoffman.

Lieut. and Mrs. Cook's Dinner.
 One of the many jolly affairs of the week was the informal dinner at which Lieut. and Mrs. Frederick Cook entertained on Wednesday. Their home at Fort Shafter was attractively decorated for the occasion with cut flowers and tropical greens. Those present were Lieut. and Mrs. L.

Photo By Perkins.

Mrs. George C. Beckley, one of the leading society matrons of Honolulu. One of the most charming affairs of the week was the luncheon which Mrs. William Williamson gave yesterday at the Japanese club in Nuuanu, complimentary to Mrs. Allison Jordan. The club is a dainty little tea house, the roof of and surrounded by a fastidiously Japanese garden, with stepping stones, miniature streams, shrines, dwarf trees, and everything else that is reminiscent of old Nippon. The guests all squatted on mats before wee Japanese tables. Asters arranged in the dictates of Oriental art were used as centerpieces. A most delicious luncheon was served—luscious Japanese viands passed on dainty bamboo-sprigged dishes. And there was no one who did not enjoy her tea more as she sipped it out of a bowl than if it had been served in a conventional cup. Those who were present at this delightful luncheon were Mrs. Allison Jordan, Mrs. J. Balch, Miss Young, Miss Warnicke, Mrs. A. Hodgins, Mrs. W. Riggs, Mrs. Henry Afong, Mrs. Fred Damon, Mrs. H. V. Murray, and the hostess, Mrs. William Williamson.

Mrs. Williamson's Japanese Luncheon.
 One of the most charming affairs of the week was the luncheon which Mrs. William Williamson gave yesterday at the Japanese club in Nuuanu, complimentary to Mrs. Allison Jordan. The club is a dainty little tea house, the roof of and surrounded by a fastidiously Japanese garden, with stepping stones, miniature streams, shrines, dwarf trees, and everything else that is reminiscent of old Nippon. The guests all squatted on mats before wee Japanese tables. Asters arranged in the dictates of Oriental art were used as centerpieces. A most delicious luncheon was served—luscious Japanese viands passed on dainty bamboo-sprigged dishes. And there was no one who did not enjoy her tea more as she sipped it out of a bowl than if it had been served in a conventional cup. Those who were present at this delightful luncheon were Mrs. Allison Jordan, Mrs. J. Balch, Miss Young, Miss Warnicke, Mrs. A. Hodgins, Mrs. W. Riggs, Mrs. Henry Afong, Mrs. Fred Damon, Mrs. H. V. Murray, and the hostess, Mrs. William Williamson.

Princess Kawananakoa's Poi Supper.
 Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ford Stewart of Los Angeles were the guests of honor at a prettily appointed Hawaiian supper given at the Country Club on Wednesday by the Princess Kawananakoa. In the center of the table was an enormous bowl of crimson ixoras and dripping asparagus, white scattered about were spicy red carnations, malle and maidenhair fern, with fluffy loops of red tulle. At each place was a long, fragrant lei of red carnations. Kaala's quintet chanted Hawaiian airs during the supper, afterwards changing to ragtime, to which the guests all danced. The princess was stunning in her gown of black satin with an overdress of white Chantilly lace. Her exquisite diamonds completed the toilette. Mrs. Stewart wore white satin with diamonds, all of the guests of the fair sex being beautifully costumed. Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Cooper, M. and Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Major and Mrs. John Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hawes Jr., Capt. and Mrs. John Thomas of Lelihu, Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Murray, Miss Irene Dickson, Major E. V. Smith, Paymaster Walter Izard, Mr. Harry Cobb and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Stewart.

Mrs. Bodrero's Supper.
 One of the largest affairs of the week was the supper and swimming party given on Wednesday by Mrs. H. Bodrero at Sans Souci, her home at Waikiki. The Kaula polo people were the raison d'etre of the occasion. Rose-laden tables were set under the trees, light being furnished by gaily tinted lanterns, to say nothing of the big moon which shone gloriously overhead. After a substantial supper, the party, which numbered a hundred and fifty, took a refreshing plunge in the cold ocean which beats against the sandy beach in front of the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewers' Poi Supper.
 One of the prettiest affairs of the week was the poi supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewers on Thursday in honor of the Misses Elizabeth and Phoebe Carter and Messrs. Jack and Carter Galt. The affair was held in their beautiful greenhouse, which is in itself a factor to ensure success. The guests were seated at small tables among the arches and pillars of magnificent maidenhair ferns, each table being adorned with smaller baskets of the maidenhair. Yellow-leaved lula girls, dancing on a bit of tapa were used as place cards, all the other accessories having the same spirit of Hawaii. A splendid quintet played during the supper, and afterwards for an impromptu dance. For this pastime, the guests adjourned to the main house, which was a bower of American Beauty roses and ferns. The hospitality which is so proverbial in the Lewers family made the affair a delightful one, and it was with visible reluctance that the young folk turned toward home. Among those present at this delightful supper were the Misses Phoebe and Elizabeth Carter, Ruth Anderson, Mary O'Brien, Helen Wilder, Pauline Schaefer, Ramund Swanzy, Ruth Soper, Eloise Wichman, Louise Day, Mr. and Mrs. George Carter, Mr. and Mrs. John Galt, Mrs. D. Paris, Messrs. Jack and Carter Galt, Dickson Nott, Fred Schaefer, Francis Brown, Alexander Anderson, Robert Purvis, Levy, George Alborn, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wall, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewers.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson's Dinner.
 One of the prettiest dinners of the week was given by Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Watson at their home on Thurston avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh F. Stewart, who have been so extensively entertained since their arrival in Hawaii, were the motifs of the occasion. The table was beautifully decorated with French baskets of pink roses knotted with pink tulle, the same color scheme being carried out in all the details of the dinner. Among those invited to meet Mr. and Mrs. Stewart were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Balch, Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Murray, Princess Kawananakoa and Paymaster W. Izard.

Mrs. Murray's Supper-Dance.
 Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Murray were hosts at a most delightful supper-dance on Thursday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ford Stewart of Los Angeles. The affair was held at the Country Club and was attractive—as all Country Club affairs are. A pink color scheme was used. Pink asters and sweet peas formed a charming centerpiece while carnations of the same hue were strewn about the damask cloth. Pink shaded candleabra were used upon the table, even the electric lights about the lanai having holiday garbs of pink crepe paper. Kaala's quintet dispensed lively airs throughout the evening, and after supper the guests succumbed to the spell, and devoted the remainder of the evening to dancing. The perfect night, delicious supper and inspiring music—to say nothing of the good company—combined to make it one of the most successful events of a crowded week.

Those who enjoyed Dr. and Mrs. Murray's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ford Stewart, Princess Kawananakoa, Col. and Mrs. Daniel Appel, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilder, Capt. and Mrs. Richard Cutts, Major and Mrs. John T. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. William Riggs, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Balch, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Hodgins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Armstrong, Mrs. Emmet May, Miss Irene Dickson, Mr. William Roth, Lieut. B. E. Peyton, Mr. John Evans, Paymaster Walter Izard, Mr. C. A. Brown, Mr. Paul Blundell, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Allison Jordan and Miss Warnicke.

Hearts
 are hard to win when one's complexion is marred by pimples, blackheads and blotches. Strengthen your charms, by keeping your complexion clear, with Glenn's Sulphur Soap
 Sold by Druggists. H.P. Hale and Widdler Dvs. Makers of Iodine, etc.

OUR FALL DELIVERY OF

"Ritz" Outing Hats
 is now on display, many handsome new styles in Ratine, Raffia and Linen. Duck in white and tan, with brims of contrasting color are being shown.

Knox Hats
 SPECIALLY REDUCED for one week. This includes their line of "Panama" and "Manila" weaves.

A SPLENDID NEW STOCK OF

Draperies
 IN NEW DESIGNS AND COLORINGS

36-inch SCRIM in plain colors and colored borders in floral and conventional designs.

36-inch DOTTED SWISS with hemstitched border, in white and Paris and with dainty border in colors.

IMPORTED CRETONNES—Chenty and other choice designs that are only to be had at SACHS'S.

HANDSOME SUN-FAST PORTIERES in Madras designs; colors are green, brown, old rose, blue and two tones.

Polo Coats
 On Monday morning we will put on sale a large line of the new
"Kenyon" Polo Coats
 Our Special Display of Lingerie Dresses
 for the warm weather embraces all the new shadow face effects on voile and batiste.

N. S. SACHS DRY GOODS CO., LTD.