SITUATION AT PEARL HARBOR IS SERIOUS

Inability to Unload Coal-Laden Vessels May Cause Uncle Sam to Pay Big

FLEET IS "HUNG-UP" AT NAVAL STATION

Inadequate Facilities Given as Reason for Delay in Handling the Fuel

Uncle Sam, it is expected, will be called upon to settle claims in some instances amounting to $10,000 for failure to remove a large quantity of coal from three big British freighters now awaiting discharge at Pearl Harbor naval station.

Local shipping authorities say that Uncle Sam must pay for the demurrage under the terms of charter and that these charter terms will hold good in case of legal complications.

The claim is made that when the steamship Strathdene and Strathkeo from the east coast of the United States made their appearance at Pearl Harbor, the amount of coal brought by these vessels completely swamped the limited facilities at the naval station for the handling of fuel.

The Strathdene and the Strathkeo steamed to an anchorage off the harbor on the morning of August 26. They were in turn fumigated and the Strathdene, having a trifle the best of the long voyage from Norfolk, Va., was first to get the solitary wharf at Pearl Harbor.

Reports which have reached Honolulu since that date indicate that less than two hundred tons of fuel per

YOUTH MAY ESCAPE JAIL FOR ASYLUM

Mother of George McCandless Will Have Witnesses in Court in Morning

WOMAN MAKES DENIAL OF M'DUFFIE'S CLAIMS

Divine Expected to Testify as to Unsoundness of Mind of Unfortunate Boy

At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the court room of Circuit Judge Robinson, a mother's fight for her son will take place. At that time Mrs. W. W. McCandless, mother of George McCandless, the youth who was sentenced to four years' imprisonment following an escapade involving bad checks, will appear, with many witnesses, to offer evidence to prove that her son is not responsible for his acts because of his mental incompetency.

The mother has worked tirelessly since the proceedings commenced in preparing for the hearing tomorrow afternoon. Witnesses, following many callings in life will be present, by her arrangement, to give their testimony. A doctor, a minister and teachers are among those she has asked to appear. Rev. David Carey Peters, minister of the Christian church, is expected to be one of her important witnesses. Dr. George Herbert another. Mrs. McCandless said this morning that Rev. Peters had spoken to her many times about her son, always urging that an examination be made of his mind as he believed the boy was not mentally sound. She said that the minister had noticed count-

FREAR MAY FLOAT BONDS EVENTUALLY

Unless Definite News Is Hand in Near Future, Governor Will Take Action

IS NOW AWAITING SOME TIDINGS FROM WASHINGTON

Chief Executive Plans Vacation but s Undecided Owing to Political Uncertainty

Unless definite action is taken in Washington within the next week or ten days making certain changes in the confirmation or further delay in the confirmation of L. E. Pinkham's appointment as governor of Hawaii, Governor Frear intimates today that he probably will take steps toward the flotation of the territorial bond issue. "I will wait a few days longer to hear something definite from Washington," said the chief executive this morning. "I do not care to take up the bond issue business if my successor is to come in the near future. If he is delayed further, the need of the issue is so urgent that I may order arrangements begun for it within a few days."

The governor is talking of taking a vacation before retiring from office. Asked this morning if he proposed extending his vacation trip to Washington, D. C., to arrange for the bond issue, he replied that his plans on this point are "in nubibus"—in the clouds.

Just at present there is little official work for him to do, and he is outlining no course of action on any of his affairs until he can get an idea of the length of time he must remain on the job.

NO TROUBLE ABOUT WHARF SAYS FUNSTON

Department Commander Avers That Territory Will Have No Fuss with Department

SUGGESTS PLAN FOR AN AMICABLE SETTLEMENT

Commissioner McStocker Writes Regarding 'Exaggerated Statements'

That there is not the slightest disposition on the part of the War Department to "hold up" the territory because of territorial improvements on army land holdings, and that the most friendly relations are extant between the military and civil government heads, is the statement of General Frederick Funston, relative to the Queen street wharf quibble. The head of the army here believes that all the territory has to do to secure an extension of its lease on the wharf site, is to ask the War Department for it.

"It will not make any difference to the War Department because the territory has made extensive improvements on the wharf site," said General Funston this morning. "There is no prospect of a hold-up by the federal government. The army representatives here and the territorial officials are on the friendliest of terms, and there is little chance of a misunderstanding, over this wharf matter."

However, the army authorities here are of the opinion that if the territory desires absolute title to the property that it has improved, it might secure it through a trade of land.

GEN. HUERTA WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE; SHOWS MORE SIGNS OF BACKING DOWN

White House Receives Oral Assurances Dictator Will Not Run at Election—Pilgrims go to Rome to Pray For Peace

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 4.—It was given out in a guarded way at the White House today that the administration has received assurances that Gen. Huerta will not be a candidate for election to the presidency at the general elections in October. As this was one of the principal requests voiced by Special Envoy John Lind on behalf of President Wilson, it is believed that the attitude of the United States will finally be acceded to. The situation is therefore regarded as clearing up considerably. The assurances of Huerta's intentions are said to have been orally given.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—One hundred and thirty Mexican pilgrims arrived here today enroute from Mexico to Rome, where they will pray for peace for their country.

Dancing-Masters Say Tango Is O.K., Turkey-Trot Awful

BRIDGEPORT, Connecticut, Sept. 4.—The International Association of Dancing Masters, in convention assembled here, have come out in protest against many of the popular dances of the season. After heated arguments in the convention today, resolutions were adopted placing their stamp of approval on several of the dances and vigorously condemning others. According to the dancing masters, many of whom are from Europe, the tango, "heavitation wait," "hitchhike," peacock glide and others of the more sedate kind are all right. The association roundly condemns the turkey-trot, horse-trot and "grizzly bear" as vulgar. The dances approved are said to be well within the limits of decorum and propriety.

Young King Manuel Weds Wealthy German Princess

SIGMARINGEN, Germany, Sept. 4.—A royal wedding took place here today when the deposed King Manuel of Portugal and Princess Augustina Victoria, daughter of Prince William, a Hohenzollern, were united in marriage. The wedding was attended by many representatives of royalty. The branch of the Hohenzollern family from which the Princess Augustina comes is a wealthy one, residing in the south of Germany. The same family financed the Rumanian throne. Manuel met his bride in 1912 in Savona. At that time he was visiting his aunt. The betrothal was announced in April of this year.

Aviation Claims Army Victims

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 4.—First Lieutenant Moss L. Love, 11th army air, who has been a student at the aviation school here for some months, was killed today while operating one of the army aeroplanes above North Island. Lieutenant Love is the tenth army victim to the science of navigation.

BREIT, Prussia, Sept. 4.—Two lieutenants of the German army aviation corps were killed here today when the plane in which they were executing a difficult maneuver collapsed, and was dashed to the ground. Death came instantaneously to both men. The tragedy has plunged the community of this Salsician province into intense gloom, as both officers were well known and liked.

Thaw Loses Another Point

COATICOOKE, Quebec, Sept. 4.—Harry Kendall Thaw lost another point today in his fight for liberty and against being returned to the United States. He argued before the immigration authorities that he was in Canada as a tourist and therefore not liable to deportation as an undesirable alien, but the immigration officials refused to consider him in this light. They have as yet announced no decision.

Chill Not Likely to Exhibit

MORE POWER FOR MAYOR OF HONOLULU

P. L. Weaver, first deputy city and county attorney, has turned his attention to dance halls. The particular phase of the subject he has so far taken up is the matter of issuing licenses for dances. He does not believe the present system, which requires the time of the entire board of supervisors, is satisfactory. Under the ordinance now in force, applicants for a dance license must apply to the supervisors, who either grant or deny the request. If the ordinance, or rather the amendment to the present ordinance, which Weaver has up in his pocket, is passed, it will mean that the mayor will have the authority to issue all licenses, and the supervisors will have nothing to do with the matter. By the proposed ordinance, it is placed in the hands of the mayor to issue, refuse to issue and cancel all dance licenses, whether they are for a ball

LARGE TIME IS ASSURED GUESTS AT CONVENTION

With the assurance of the cooperation of the Honolulu Ad Club, Commercial Club and the Merchants' Association the committee in charge of the entertainment of the delegates who will visit Honolulu from the other islands in connection with the civic conference of September 22 is satisfied that the event will be an unqualified success.

At the meeting of the committee, yesterday afternoon, former Governor George R. Carter, recently elected president of the Merchants' Association, was suggested as toastmaster at the banquet to be given at the Moana the evening of September 22, in addition to his previously delegated office of making the address of welcome.

From communications received from the different civic organizations of the territory, it is believed that a large attendance will be on hand for the convention and to enjoy the pleasures of regatta day. The Ad Club will meet the delegates with automobiles and demonstrate to the visitors that that organization is one of the liveliest in Honolulu.

Efforts will be made to secure a steamer to take the visitors onto the regatta course, while in the evening of regatta day they will be regaled with motion pictures on the roof garden of the Young hotel.

The initial business session will be held Monday at nine o'clock, on the roof garden, following a trip around the island on Sunday, according to plans to be made by R. W. Shingle and Fred G. Smith. Another session will be held Monday afternoon from 2 to 4:30 p. m., while the evening of the same day will be given over to a discussion of the good roads movement.

The final business session is expected to take place Tuesday morning, September 23, at which time publicity will be the topic of discussion. A banquet at the Moana will close the festivities, this to be arranged by President Waldron.

Because the money order he is alleged to have forged has gone to Washington and cannot be returned within a month Kim Lee Sup, the Korean accused of forging a postal order for $45, will remain in jail several weeks longer awaiting his preliminary hearing before the U. S. commissioner. His bond has been fixed at $500, but he is unable to furnish bail in that amount.

RAWLINS FAILS TO IDENTIFY SOLDIER SUSPECT

In search of a soldier who may or may not be involved in the theft of $96 and a valuable watch and a gold chain from the Moana bath house, Detective W. T. Rawlins, who was on duty this morning and when the men were lined up at morning drill, looked for a possible culprit. Attorney W. T. Rawlins, who was a soldier at the Moana yesterday, was hurrying away and acting rather nervously, also visited the post at the suggestion of Chief of Detectives M. Duffie and looked for the man he had seen the day before. The suspect, however, has not been found, according to latest reports.

While Gray was examining at Walkiki, his metal member-check for the safety box in which he had left his valuables at the bath house office was taken from his dressing room, presented at the post, and the contents of the box turned over to the thief.

The only clue Rawlins obtained as to the identity of the thief has been furnished by Rawlins. He says that as he was approaching the bath house he passed a soldier going the opposite way. The latter seemed, he says, to be in a great hurry, to be excited, and a number of ways acted suspiciously. Rawlins describes the soldier as being of medium height, weighing about 160 pounds and red-headed. He says he wore a khaki uniform.

Rawlins met Gray as the latter was leaving the bath house. Gray had just discovered his loss. It occurred to Rawlins immediately, he says, that the hurrying soldier he had observed was probably the thief. He had at that time thought that another fight episode had taken place between some of the Hui Nalu boys and soldiers, and that the red-headed private had been worried in the fight on the beach, and was attempting to avoid arrest. "Can you identify the man if I see him again," said Rawlins.

Fort Ruger this morning no man seen answering the description of the suspected soldier.

COMPETITION IN PROMOTION JOB ON THE COAST

Sidney R. Jordan, assistant secretary of the promotion committee, who was recently named as the selection of the committee to take charge of the branch office which is to be opened in San Francisco in October, is likely to meet with competition in securing this position if letters recently received from other applicants are seriously considered by the promotion organization.

Shortly after the secretary of the committee returned from his recent trip to San Francisco, he submitted a report to the organization in which he set forth the plans which he had made for opening a branch office and information bureau in San Francisco. The matter of a competent representative was taken up, and Jordan, who has been named for the position, although not definitely appointed, in a recent quarterly report to the committee, the name of Jordan was mentioned as the committee's choice, and from this it was taken to believe that Jordan would be the man to go to San Francisco and represent Hawaii there.

At a meeting of the committee last Friday, a letter, which had been received by Chairman Waldron from Will J. Cooper of Haku, Maui, applying for the position of representative, was read. The letter was ordered to be filed, and no further action taken on it. Whether the committee intends taking action on this matter is not known, but it is evident that Jordan is going to face some competition in securing the position in San Francisco.

LEWERS & COOKE BLDG. REPORTED PRACTICALLY SOLD TO GEORGE WILCOX

Reports during the last few days of a big deal pending in local realty circles have come to the point of a general street rumour that negotiations are under way for the sale of the Lewers & Cooke building on King street between Bishop and Alakea streets to George Wilcox of Kauai. The interested parties decline to discuss the sale, but in real estate circles it is regarded as certain. The price is said to be in the neighborhood of $250,000. No change in the operation of Lewers & Cooke Ltd., will otherwise be made, it is said. The deal, when consummated, will be the largest here for many months, and one of the most notable of years.

POLICE RULES CONSIDERED BY THE COMMISSION

Final approval was given to the rules and regulations of the civil service commission by that body at its meeting last evening in the chambers of the supervisors. With only a few amendments, making changes or additions to the tentative draft drawn up by Chairman A. J. Wirtz, the rules and regulations were adopted.

Aside from this work, the commission at its meeting last night settled the question of fire badges, and ordered that a drawing of the proposed badges be made and presented to the commission. These badges, which will permit the holders of them to pass the fire lines, will be given to officers of the law, insurance men, inspectors of the water, sewer, light, gas, etc., systems, to representatives of the press, etc.

There now remains only one more set of rules and regulations for the commission to adopt. That will have to do with the police department. A good bit of interest is manifested in the rules of this department. It is hinted that there will be a few regulations put in which will affect police officers financially.

MAYOR FERN IS LAUGHSMITH AT JOKE ON BOARD

Mayor J. J. Fern knows a joke when he hears one. He is known to laugh even when the joke is on him; but of course he laughs more heartily when it is not on him. If it is, say, on the board of health, which has refused to bury the county's indigent dead, the mayor allows himself to laugh unrestrainedly.

It happened the other day that a Chinaman went to the mayor and asked for a police license. It seems that the Chinaman makes pol somehow or other and needs a license to get rid of it. Before going to the board of health, and from there he was referred to the city and county clerk for the license.

WOMAN FAILS IN EFFORTS TO END LIFE

With her decree of divorce issued less than two weeks ago, and believed by neighbors to be despondent, Mrs. Viola A. Doyle, formerly the wife of Joseph A. Doyle, proprietor of the Argonaut hotel and a bartender in a local saloon, attempted suicide shortly after seven o'clock Tuesday morning by taking poison in her room in the Argonaut hotel.

Boarders at the hotel were attracted to Mrs. Doyle's rooms by her screams, and a physician was summoned, who took the woman to the Queen's hospital in his automobile. The hospital authorities this morning reported Mrs. Doyle to be in a fair way to recovery.

Mrs. Doyle, who was married to her former husband in the fall of 1912, secured a divorce from him August 19 last on the grounds of ill treatment, stated to have begun some two months after the marriage. According to persons residing near the Argonaut hotel, the married life of the Doyles was anything but tranquil. Wordy wars, they say, were frequent between the two. The case of the attempted suicide is now in the hands of the police, having been reported yesterday afternoon, according to the hospital authorities.

Rapid Transit Franchise Will Be Introduced Says Delegate

John F. Colburn, treasurer and manager of the Kapikian estate, received the following cablegram this afternoon from Delegate Kuhio in Washington: Governor's confirmation uncertain. Rapid Transit franchise will be introduced.

KUHIO. The Rapid Transit franchise bill was passed at the last session of the territorial legislature, and requires the approval of Congress. It is an extension of time to the granting of a number of important changes, and the new franchise will run to 1950 instead of 1930.

Though the bill went forward many months ago, it has not been introduced in Congress, and meantime contemplated improvements have been delayed. Joanna Tavares has filed a petition in circuit court asking a divorce from John Tavares, whom she accuses of desertion. The Oahu Loan Fund Commission met at noon today in the office of the chief engineer, Young hotel building, at which time some discussion ensued as to the buying of new school desks. The matter of granting an extension of time to the contractor now engaged in completing the belt road was among other matters taken up.
