Money talks! Naturally. But it has to be present in person, not in promises, to talk loud enough to be noticed. The way to have money present when its presence is necessary, is to have previously saved something every week. Some time in the future you are going to see opportunities that require money for their securing—"Start Saving NOW!"

NATIONAL GUARD NEWS

Assignment of company rooms in the new armory has been made by Colonel Arthur Coyne, commanding the 1st Infantry. When the building is entirely completed the companies will be well fixed with a large store room in the basement, an assembly and arm room on the main floor, and locked room above. Only five sets have been finished as yet, though, and it is necessary for the companies to double up, without having the use of the basement store rooms, which are unfinished. This will mean some crowding, but it is hoped that the $30,000 or thereabouts needed to completely finish and equip the armory will be available before very long.

Colonel Coyne's arrangement puts the 1st battalion on the Ewa side of the building, and the second on the Waikiki side. Company A has the first upper room on the left, counting from the main entrance, with Company C below it. B has the upper room on the second set, with D below. On the right of the entrance, Company K has the first lower room, with F above. Company H has both floors of the next set, Company G has the lower floor of the mauka set, and Company E the upper room. The reason for assigning two rooms to H is that it is the intention of the militia authorities to recruit this company up to 150 and divide it into two organizations, which will then divide the quarters.

The companies of the 1st infantry will not move into their new quarters in the armory for some days, as the rooms have still to be painted, and the furniture and lockers put in. When the companies move, the arm racks will be bolted to the floor, as provided by regulations. As soon as the lockers are installed, the men will be required to keep their uniforms and equipment at their armory, and will not be allowed to leave the building wearing any portion of their uniform.

The consignment of 800 uniforms recently received by the quartermaster-general, is being unpacked today, and will be ready for issue within a few days. The 1st infantry will turn out spic and span for the parade on February 23. The guardsmen, however, will not be able to turn out with leather waist belts and cartridge boxes, the regiment being shy on this part of the equipment. The men will wear the web cartridge belts instead.

The 2d battalion was to have drilled at Atkinson park next Sunday morning, but Major Rose has decided to postpone battalion drill until after the military tournament, at the urgent solicitation of some of the company commanders, who want to give all their drill time to the tournament events.

The 250 additional rifles turned over to the guard from the regular army reserve supply, arrived this morning, and will be issued as soon as possible.

There will be an officers' meeting at the armory at 8 o'clock this evening, to consider matters connected with the military tournament.

Company musicians are getting special instruction, a general practice being called for every Thursday evening.

The appointment of two new officers of the national guard is announced in special orders No. 19, issued today.
Sergeant W. Huffman Young, Company L, is made captain and assigned to command of L company. Victor C. Schoenberg is made 2nd lieutenant and assigned to L company. Wm. K. Kaluakini, the present 2nd lieutenant of the company, will probably be promoted to 1st lieutenant. L company is stationed at Lahaina.

Under the charter of Mystic Lodge, K. of P., Oahu Lodge and Mystic Lodge are soon to be consolidated, an approval of the supreme chancellor of the order having lately been received. The enlarged body will have a membership of more than 250. Oahu Lodge was established in 1871 and the Mystic Lodge in 1882.
