

NEWS THAT'S COMMENT THAT'S NEWS

The Star-Bulletin Page of Sport Edited by LAURENCE WEDDINGTON

FAST PLAYING IN FINAL GAME OF THE SERIES

Mid-Pacific League Ends Its Season with Snappy Game Between Chinese and Hawaiis

Chinese 5, Hawaiis 0. The Mid-Pacific Winter Baseball league closed its season yesterday with one of the fastest and most interesting games of the entire series.

The play was fast and every man was out to win for his team, and this scrappy spirit led to one regrettable mix-up among the players.

There was a lot of real baseball during the game and some of the fielding stunts were very nifty.

The Chinese got one in the first. En Sue singled to center, and then stole second as usual.

Table with columns: CHINESE, AB, R, BH, SB, PO, A, E. Rows for En Sue, Akana, Lai Tin, etc.

Table with columns: HAWAII, AB, R, BH, SB, PO, A, E. Rows for Moriyama, Chillingworth, etc.

Hits and runs by innings: Chinese: Runs, 1 0 0 0 0 2 2-5. Hits, 1 0 0 0 1 1 2 2-8.

SERVICE TEAM ALMOST WINS A RED-HOT GAME

Chinese 7, All-Service 6. (11 innings.)

Starting a batting rally in the ninth which netted three runs before the smoke lifted, the soldier players changed certain defeat into possible victory and made Saturday's game at Athletic Park one of the best of the series from the spectators' viewpoint.

The All-Service aggregation has come along fast, and showed great improvement Saturday over former appearances.

The Chinese put three men across in the third, and the soldiers came back with a pair in the fourth.

Kent then hit a grounder to Markham, who juggled it a moment and tossed to first, the soldier just beating the throw.

Each got a run in the tenth. The Chinese were playing desperately now and in their half of the inning looked to be almost beaten—not quite.

The soldiers were blanked in the eleventh. Ayau in this inning emerged in his old place at shortstop, having batted for Alvin Robinson in the tenth.

After one man was down, En Sue hit to right field for a single, slapping the ball against the bank.

The sun helped the Chinese in the eighth, and fielding errors due to the glare gave them two runs.

Table with columns: CHINESE, AB, R, BH, SB, PO, A, E. Rows for En Sue, Akana, Lai Tin, etc.

Table with columns: HAWAII, AB, R, BH, SB, PO, A, E. Rows for Moriyama, Chillingworth, etc.

Nothing Like This to be Found On Gentle Slopes of Tantalus

SKI EXPERT IN MIDFLIGHT

The national skiing tournament to be held this month at Eveleth, Minn., will attract the ablest stars of the country in this dangerous sport.

The Healanis soccer eleven once more demonstrated to the fans of the city that they are about the strongest aggregation in the field when they defeated the Beavers Saturday afternoon on the Kamehameha field.

The final period opened with the players in a furious mood and the playing for a while almost led to a scrap.

Owing to the fact that the National Guard team did not have half of its team on hand to play the Mailles they were allowed to fill in with outsiders.

The team work of the rivals was of a superb nature and the players put up their best brands of football in all parts of the game.

The Healanis were playing minus one man on the forward line, they put up the best sort of a game, and every man was playing in stellar form.

The mud did not prevent certain amount of putting in a bit of rough work now and then and a couple of the players carried away a good load of clay on their uniforms as well as their shoes.

The Beavers took the ball at the start and through fast team work carried the leather well into their opponents territory where it stayed for five minutes until Sinclair sent it to the goal.

Table with columns: HEALANIS, AB, R, BH, SB, PO, A, E. Rows for Swinton, Hixenbaugh, etc.

J. B. BRYAN WINS MAUD TROPHY ON THE GOLF LINKS

J. B. Bryan of Rochester, N. Y., was the winner of the handsome trophy presented by Mrs. C. E. Maud for golf competition at the Oahu Country Club last Saturday and Sunday.

Captain Benjamin Watkins, with 91-18, a net 73, and William Woon, with 85-12, net 73, were tied for second place, and this pair will play an 18-hole match sometime this week.

Thirty-six players took part in the tournament during the two days on which play was allowed.

PUNAHOU BEAT CAVALRY TEAM

The Punahou Athletic Club journeyed to Schofield Barracks Saturday, and played a game on the cavalry diamond against the team of the 4th Horse.

K. L. Andrews made his initial appearance as a Punahou pitcher, and twirled a nice game, allowing six hits, and not walking a man.

Table with columns: PUNAHOU, AB, R, BH, SB, PO, A, E. Rows for Early, Duncan, De Swan, etc.

Total runs, 29 1 6 27 16 6. Punahou—29 1 6 27 16 6. Brewer, lb—5 0 0 11 0 0.

The 25th Infantry team won a game on its home grounds yesterday, taking the Portuguese Athletic Club down the line 10 to 6.

The 25th used two pitchers, Phillips and Jasper, both being effective, Medeiros pitched for the Portuguese, but one bad inning, in which he allowed five hits, spelled disaster.

DRIBBLES

Coombs had a pretty spill when he landed in the mud. He took more than his share of dirt on his back.

The Beavers have one of the heaviest teams in the league. Their weight did not seem to bother the Healanis bunch.

Referee Waldron of the Beaver-Healanis game on Saturday found it hard seeing the fouls, there were so many of them.

Why does Walker insist on playing almost as far back as the goalkeeper most of the time?

Trotter surely got in some good head work during the different parts of the match. Some have asked him what his head is made of.

McCOY BEGAN CAREER AS FITZ'S DISHWASHER

Graduated from Kitchen and Became Fitz's Sparring Partner—Quit Camp When He Learned the Fine Points of the Game

By ROBERT EDGREN.

We've had cowpunchers, miners, boiler-makers, horsehoers, rolling mill men, cab drivers and bank clerks among the champions and near-champions.

Back in the early '90s there was a youngster beating his way around the country by the various brake-beam routes, occasionally dropping off at some tank town to look for a boxing match.

When this interesting person had been circulating through the outlying districts for a couple of years, taking on a fight whenever he could find any one willing to hand him a couple of dollars for mingling with anything from a feather to a heavyweight, he found that at 19 he was already developing a good pair of shoulders and a rather surprising knack of hitting.

At that time Fitzsimmons was already famous, for he had knocked out Jack Dempsey for the world's middleweight championship, had beaten McCarty and Maher, and many others of almost equal reputation.

When freckled Bob's training camp had been established a tall, slender, handsome youngster with dark eyes and curly hair came up one day and asked for a job.

"What's your name?" asked Fitzsimmons. "My name? Oh, Kid McCoy," replied the boy. His name was Norman Selby, but he was just at the age when youngsters with wanderlust inclinations make heroes of outlaws and pirates.

"Well," replied McCoy, "I can wash dishes—and I can cook." "Can you box?" ask Fitz, whose stable of sparring partners wasn't overcrowded.

"I might try. I've boxed a little with the boys," said McCoy, with his most innocent look.

Fitzsimmons decided that a dishwasher and cook's helper might be worth a small salary, and he put McCoy to work.

From that time on Kid McCoy was the busiest youngster in half a dozen states. He soon graduated from the kitchen force and became a regular sparring partner and every day he learned some new things about the ring cunning of Fitzsimmons.

Although McCoy, with his own natural foxiness, tried to conceal what he knew about fighting, and learn everything that he could from Fitzsimmons, Freckled Bob soon began to regard him as almost a rival.

While all this was going on McCoy managed to get the sympathy of every one in camp but the enthusiastic Fitz. Even Mrs. Fitzsimmons, who never interfered with what Bob thought was right in the matter of training, protested to Bob that it was a shame to hit that poor, slim boy so hard, and the "poor, slim boy" rolled his fine eyes pathetically and said he didn't mind if only he could learn how to box.

March 2, 1893, Fitzsimmons fought Jim Hall in New Orleans and knocked him out in four rounds. McCoy watched Fitz in real action and decided that he might as well start out and apply some of the things he had learned from the master.

SCHOOL RUNNER DEFEATS KING

Nearly 30 boys lined up at the start of the Kamehameha cross-country try-out over a course of three and a half miles on Saturday afternoon.

By a margin of 100 yards Wright, one of the new men, won the race. He followed close on the heels of Soldier King, who also ran, until the last 50 yards when he sprinted and beat the veteran runner across the tape.

The runners came in as follows: Wright, Awana, Smith, Brandt (captain), Woolsey and Hoopli.

LOCAL SWIMMERS TO WELCOME COAST MEN

The Healanis swimmers will turn out in force tomorrow morning to welcome the men who are coming from the coast to take part in the carnival swimming events.

TONIGHT'S BAND CONCERT.

Under the direction of Kapellmeister Henry Berger, the Hawaiian band will give a moonlight concert at the Liliuokalani school, Kaimuki, this evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Two Games in School League

Mills Vs. McKinley High school at Athletic park, and Punahou vs. Kamehameha at Punahou, are the games which are scheduled to be played this afternoon.

Two Games in School League

Two Games in School League