One world's record broken, one world's record equaled, one world's record established, and four Hawaiian records, bettered was the net result of the Carnival swimming meet this morning, held under the auspices of the A. A. U., which will make the records official. With no wind and the water in the navy slip as smooth as glass, conditions were ideal for record breaking, while the entry of six speedy swimmers from the Pacific Coast provided inter-sectional rivalry that has been lacking in former meets. The real sensation of the day was the defeat of Duke Kahanamoku in the 50-yard event, by E. R. Small, formerly of Pittsburg, but now a San Franciscan. Small covered the distance in superb style, winning by inches from Duke in 23 3/5 seconds, which equals the world's record held for several years by Wickham, of Australia, and breaks the American and Hawaiian records for straightaway in open water, of 24 seconds flat, held by the local champion. As Small and Duke passed under the wire almost arm for arm, the pair trod water and exchanged salutes, while the crowd gave the new champion a great reception, first for his win against the hitherto unbeatable Hawaiian, and again when the record breaking time was announced. "Someone had to win," said Duke, when he climbed onto the penton and congratulated his rival, "and I don't feel a bit bad about being beaten in world's record time."

Probably the most exciting race of the day was the relay, in which Duke just managed to beat out George Cunha, after the latter had a start of several yards. Duke put up a superb race, and it is a pity that he was not officially clocked for the lap, as he seemed to be swimming it in faster time than in the 100 yard race. The Coast swimmers showed their good sportsmanship in this race, for they were not allowed to enter as representatives of any one club, being a pick-up organization. However, it was agreed that if they won they would take the cup, although the Olympic Club would not be credited with the points. They were not over-anxious to swim, but went in so as not to disappoint the crowd. Both McWood, who swam the first lap, and Schultz, who swam the third, got off the course and lost considerable distance. Leary swam a magnificent lap as No. 2, making up all the distance lost by McWood, but Small couldn't catch the flying Duke on the final sprint. The mile was another spectacular race, as to second place. Walter Pomroy won by more than 100 yards, lapping both Keaweamahi and Bushnell, his only opponents, on the twelfth lap. The former kept about six yards ahead of Bushnell until 1600 yards had been covered, when the latter spurred and for 160 yards held level with his opponent. The finish was like the end of a 50 yard sprint, instead of a mile grind. Duke wasn't pressed very hard in the 200, winning by eight yards from George Cunha. Lincoln Johnson, the game San Francisco man, who can swim about twice as fast with only one leg to kick as most people can with both pedal extremities, was a good third. The swimming of Miss Ruth Stacker in the 50-yard event for girls was splendid. She won as she pleased, with Miss LeGros second and Miss Lane third. Miss Kibling got off the course before she had gone a dozen strokes. Miss Stacker's time was 1-5 of a second slower than her own American record of 31 seconds flat, but she seemed to be swimming in better form than last year, and in the Views of Big Crowd at Harbor Races, Stars Speeding Through Water, and Some Winners

A perfect morning and ideal water conditions greeted spectators and contestants at the harbor races this morning. The two large pictures show the crowd at the navy slip. The lower one shows Duke Kahanamoku speeding far into the lead in the 440-yard swim. At the upper right is Miss Ruth Stacker, winner of the 50-yard race for women, and below is Champion Kahanamoku and his smile. The Hawaiian champion was hard-pressed this morning and for the first time in many a day lost a sprint race. The Mid-Pacific Carnival races proved a great success and will be probably repeated, perhaps with Australian entries, at the 1915 Carnival.

NEW RECORDS.
50 yards straightaway—E. R. Small (U), 23 3/5 sec. This breaks the Hawaiian record of 24 sec. held by Kahanamoku, and equals the world's record held by A. Wickham, of Australia.
100 yards straightaway—D. P. Kahanamoku, 54 4/5 sec. This breaks Kahanamoku's own world's record of 55 1/5, and is within one-fifth of a second of the world's tank record, held by the same swimmer.
880 yards—Walter Pomroy (O), 13 min. 24 sec. This breaks the Hawaiian record of 13 min. 26 4/5 sec. held by Vincent Genoves.
One mile—Walter Pomroy (O), 26 min. 49 1/5 sec. This beats the Hawaiian record of Frederick Wilhelm, of 27 min. 45 sec.
400-yard relay—Hui Nalu team, 4 min. 5 3/5 sec. This probably establishes a world's record, as the distance and conditions are unusual.

JAPANESE LANTERN PARADE BIG EVENT OF THIS EVENING

Along the streets of the city this evening the Japanese lantern parade will be seen. It bids fair to be one of the most interesting and unique features of the program. The committee of Japanese who have managed this affair have gone into it on a large scale, and its success is a thing assured. In addition to the march with lanterns, there will be several prettily decorated and illuminated floats entered by Japanese. The paraders will assemble at Aala park, marching up King street to Palace square, crossing through and turning back to King street, from there returning to Aala park. Twenty-five thousand regulars are now surrounding the bandit and his men in a strongly entrenched position but the regulars show every disinclination to move on to the attack. The bandits have modern rifles and are ready to die before being taken.

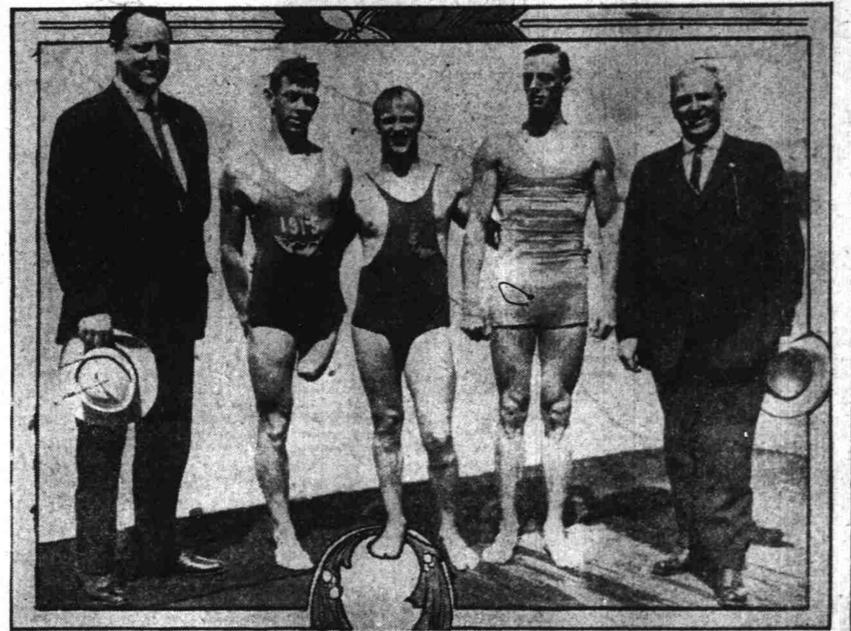

WHITE WOLF AND BANDIT FOLLOWERS MURDER 1300 —ARE NOW SURROUNDED

PEKING, China, Feb. 21.—Reports made here by the military authorities now trying to hunt down White Wolf, the Chinese outlaw, say that on January 29, when the bandit and his men sacked Lieuchow, they massacred 1,300 men, women and children, including the father of a rich Jesuit. They still hold two foreigners for ransom. The government's estimate of 13,589,171 bales of cotton ginned to January 16 exceeded all expectations, notwithstanding the fact that private estimates forecasted gainings of approximately 13,550,000 bales.

6 CALIFORNIA COUNTIES FLOOD-STRICKEN; WITH ALL COMMUNICATION HIT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 21.—As a result of the floods, the cities and towns of six counties of southern California are now without light, power, telegraphy or telephone service and the trolleys and railroads are almost entirely at a standstill. Five persons are dead of exposure and prostration and many orchards and businesses are an absolute loss. The government's estimate of 13,589,171 bales of cotton ginned to January 16 exceeded all expectations, notwithstanding the fact that private estimates forecasted gainings of approximately 13,550,000 bales.

BRITAIN IS AROUSED BY 'EXECUTION'

Killing of William Benton, British Subject, by Mexican Rebels, Raises Storm in Empire
AMBASSADOR ORDERED TO INVESTIGATE FULLY
Foreign Office Wants to Get the Fullest Details—May Mean Aggressive Action

LONDON, Eng., Feb. 21.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, Great Britain's ambassador at Washington, was today given emphatic instructions to obtain fullest details as to the killing of William Benton, British subject and wealthy Mexican landowner, at Juarez last Tuesday by rebel soldiers. The news of the "execution" and its sensational developments of protest from American citizens and others partially acquainted with the facts has created a storm of comment throughout the British empire. It is likely to arouse public opinion to demand that the British government take a more aggressive stand to protect its subjects in the southern republic. The London Standard this morning says that Benton's execution emphasizes the fact that some kind of international compulsion will soon be necessary to stop the Mexican government in the city of corruption and cruelty. Official utterances are moderate and cautious, as well as markedly friendly to the United States.
