A PARABLE ON WILSON AND HIS MEXICAN POLICY

The Mexican Mining Journal numbers several readers in Honolulu and one of them draws attention to the following rather bitter satire on the Wilson administration so far as it concerns Mexican affairs:

TOM AND JERRY. Once upon a time, long time ago, about the time the Peerless Leader blew up and just after a sovereign and neutral nation almost nominated a president on the platform, since become obsolete and moth eaten, of "You gotta quit kickin' my dawg around," there lived in the ancient city of Bulconibus two very wise men, Tom and Jerry. Tom was a professor in the schools and had much wisdom. Jerry had been a renowned colonel of militia, for patriotic and other purposes, stationed at an inland city while his country was waging war in a distant land. Having suffered the perils and privations of his profession at the inland city while the bloody strife was being waged over seas his terrible experiences showed him the horrors of war and he has been lecturing on peace ever since. Both Tom and Jerry were the wisest of men in the age in which they lived and they became rulers of the city and lived in the Town Hall.

Many interesting and instructive legends have come down to us through the ages from the remote times in which the two wise men lived which illustrate the simplicity of their minds, their profundity of wisdom and the alacrity with which they sprang to the aid of their neighbors, even when their aid was not requested nor expected.

Among the many tales which are told by the old people of the great wisdom of Tom and Jerry is that of the boy and the apple tree and how the two wise men, Tom and Jerry, eliminated the boy from the apple tree.

The Boy and the Apple Tree. One day, the story runs, while the two wise men, Tom and Jerry, were rubbing the grape juice can back of the Town Hall in which they lived and were concocting brilliant strokes of diplomacy with which to startle and please the neighbors, they observed a husky looking urchin in the neighbor's apple tree. Had not Tom and Jerry been gifted with the great wisdom which made them the wonder and delight of their neighbors they probably would not have noticed in at this particular time and place, seeing that the apple tree belonged to the urchin. But being wise men, as we have seen, they lapped the urchin with the bilious slant of superiority and decided to make him hard to catch. So they called their faithful pet, Ole, and commissioned him as their personal representative to rush over in the Town Hall bus and tell the kid to fade away or they, Tom and Jerry, would come over and pluck his crust, or words to that general effect handed out in the diplomatic speech of those ancient times.

Ole steamed off in the bus. Also he immediately returned. "Well, Ole," says the wise men, "did you deliver the ultimatum?" "Ay did," answered Ole. "Ay tank not."

"Did you scare him much?" "Ay tank not much," says Ole. "He tal me ay skal go to hal."

"Jerry," says Tom, "we have won a notable victory. The statesmanship we have displayed in eliminating the kid from the apple tree will go thundering down the corridors of Main street and all the people will know that it was us who done it. While he hasn't really gone, not so you would notice it, we will now consider that he got scared and beat it."

"Some eliminating to that," says Jerry.

"Some class to us," says Tom.

DID CHILD WAKE UP CROSS OR FEVERISH? Look Mother! If tongue is coated give "California Syrup of Figs" to clean the bowels.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign, its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside cleansing." Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Counterfeits are being sold here. Don't be fooled!—advertisement.

Cheesecloth is excellent for dust-ers because it may be washed frequently.

When boiling new potatoes, place them in boiling water to which a little salt and milk have been added. This prevents them from turning black.

With the BOY SCOUTS OF HAWAII

SCOUT BULLETIN, No. 5. As promised at the Moanalua rally, a new scout game will be played next Friday night, commencing at 7 p. m., and ending at 9 p. m.

This is called the Stranded Aeroplane, and is by two Sea Scouts of the Second Southward Ships Company, England, M. A., and H. H. Robinson. It has been slightly altered to suit local conditions.

General Idea. A desperate train robber, William Sykes by name, has escaped from Hilo jail, procured an aeroplane and has flown off in the direction of Oahu.

Special Idea. It is reported, but on doubtful authority, that an aeroplane has landed in Kona district, Oahu, owing, it is supposed, to a shortage of gasoline. Suspicions are confirmed by the appearance of a rakish-looking lugger off shore, thought to be manned by some of Sykes' old gang. A sharp lookout is kept on Diamond Head Bay, as the local authorities have decided that if an aeroplane is stranded it must be detained at all costs.

Details. The aeroplane will be represented by a green and two red lanterns, the airman Sykes by the commisser. The landing party will consist of the highest ranking registered scouts, in the proportion of one to eight watchers, each to carry a tin of gasoline (empty varnish cans painted white and containing a loose marble), who will be posted on the beach, somewhere. Four of these tin must reach the aeroplane before it can mount.

The watchman, remaining troops, will be posted on the hills or elsewhere, this to be determined by the commisser.

E. R. ADAMS GUEST AT GATHERING OF THE PACIFIC TENNIS CLUB

E. R. Adams of Seattle, formerly a resident of Honolulu and prominent member of the Pacific Tennis Club, was the guest of honor of the club members at a quiet little gathering Saturday afternoon. Mr. Adams, while a member of the club, was prominent in the game throughout the islands, finishing in the lead in the doubles championships four successive years.

SELF-RELIANT HOME DOCTORS

It is what women are called who all over this broad land make their annual collections of roots and herbs, and rely upon recipes which our pioneer mothers found dependable for different family ailments. In one of these recipes, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had its origin and so successful has it proved that there is hardly a city, town or hamlet in America where some woman who has been restored to health by its use does not reside.—advertisement.

GERMANY HAS PLAN TO CHECK AUTO-SPEED FIENDS

BERLIN—Germany and France, commencing March 1, will communicate to each other the names, residences and other details in regard to all automobilists who have been convicted for violations of the traffic regulations in the respective countries. An agreement to this effect was reached on Germany's initiative.

TONIGHT'S BAND CONCERT.

Under the direction of Kapellmeister Henri Berger, the Hawaiian band will give a moonlight concert at the Liliuokalani school, Kamuku, this evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Following is the program:

- March—The National Guard (new)
- Barnhouse
- Overture—Rosamunde.....Schubert
- Introduction—Carmen.....Bizet
- Selection—Martaana.....Wallace
- Vocal—Cavalleria Rusticana (5y request) and The Holy City.....Bergner
- Selection—Harry Lauder's Scotch Songs.....Hume
- Waltz—Sunset.....Waldteufel
- Finale—American Melodies.....Berger
- The Star Spangled Banner.

Remember that milk served in large quantities is sometimes nauseating to the weakened stomach. Better fill the glass the second time than to antagonize the invalid.

patrol leaders in council, Friday, Mar. 11th, 5 p. m., Adobe house.

When ready, say 7 p. m., two red rockets will be fired by the airman from a point not far distant from his machine. Two answering green rockets will be fired by the landing party on the beach. After an interval of one minute these signals will be repeated.

The watchmen must look out for the rockets, judge from where they were sent up, and quickly place themselves in extended order between the two points to intercept the gasoline carriers.

Time Limit. 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Area. West ridge of Palolo to east ridge of Nuuanu; the beach from the garbage incinerator to Moana pier.

Boundary. Watchmen must not approach the aeroplane nearer than 220 yards. Two watchmen, each touching the (a, may capture it. It must be cached at the spot of capture.

The gasoline men cannot take prisoners, but must run for it.

Other Conditions. This game is for regularly enrolled scouts, so the troops not regular paid up members of the Scouts, must get busy. This is only fair.

Scoutmasters. In this and other schemes to follow, the scoutmaster must accompany his troop but the actual carrying out of the work should be left to the patrol leaders. Scoutmasters may direct their boys only when necessary to prevent serious mistakes, themselves acting as umpires.

Maps of the area can be had of the Promotion Committee.

For further information, consult headquarters, 2 to 3 p. m. daily.

BIG PINEAPPLES NO LONGER ARE REAL STYLISH

Big pineapples are going out of fashion. No more will the great, luscious 10-pounder be considered in good form by the style arbiters who guide the destinies of Hawaii's canned fruit industry. The tabu on little pineapples was announced some weeks ago when it was decreed that nothing under 3 1/2 pounds in weight would admit a fruit into the best pineapple society, designated in trade circles as No. 1 grade. Any pineapple under this weight must go into grade No. 2 class, and be considered as only one-half as valuable. The day of the big pineapple seemed to have dawned, and growers were laying their plans accordingly to produce only "big ones"—the bigger the better.

But now it is rumored that the fashion makers who preside in the canneries, are about to issue an edict that will make the extra large fruit an object of reproach—and a loss to its grower. Only "twixt and between" pineapples will be really in favor.

Waste in Big Fruit. The reason that big pineapples are not in favor with the canner is that there is an excessive amount of waste incurred in getting them into cans. The standard No. 2 can is about 3 1/2 inches in diameter. Every pineapple of first grade is "sized" to fit this size can, and the ideal fruit from the canner's standpoint is the one which will just nicely make this size when the peel has been removed. In the larger fruits, of course a greater amount of fruit must be sized off with the peeling, and must go into grated or crushed pineapple, a less valuable product.

Overly large pineapples have always been a bummer to the packers, but up to the present there has never been any limit fixed in this direction. With a big pack in prospect and an uncertain market, it is understood that at least a number of the packing companies are planning to penalize extra large fruit.

Just what maximum weight limit will be decided upon is not yet determined, and experiments are being made to ascertain just how much waste occurs in different sized fruit. The ideal weight for canning purposes is between four and five pounds. It is possible that six pounds will be made the maximum. It is said that it has not yet been decided how much deduction in rate shall be made for excess weight, but that the price will have to be made more equitable to the packers.

FIVE MINUTE CURE IF STOMACH IS BAD

When "Pape's Diapepsin" reaches stomach all Indigestion, Gas and Sourness disappear

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; it's certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.—advertisement.
