Thrift does not mean the mere saving of money—the saving of money helps one in living a thrifty life.

One may be as much a spendthrift with a dollar as with a fortune, and thrift does not require a great deal of money—only wisdom in using it.

But to use it thriftily you've got to HAVE it—and that's where saving comes in.

SAYS PROPOSED QUARANTINE NOT TO HURT HAWAII

That the territory will not suffer because of a new-order of quarantine which may go into effect following the hearing in Washington on March 19 before the department of agriculture, on the fruit and melon flies, is the statement made today by E. A. Back, entomologist in charge of the Mediterranean fruit-fly investigation here for the department of agriculture.

The notice of the hearing states that in order to prevent the spread of these flies many fruits and vegetables, which are named, must not be sent out of the territory. This list is the same as was agreed upon September 18, 1912, when a quarantine was put on all fruits and vegetables then known to breed Mediterranean flies. The only difference is in the exportation of pineapples and bananas, which may be shipped under prescribed conditions.

Mr. Back in discussing this hearing and the order that may be made following it, said:

"It will be remembered that on September 18, 1912, the secretary of the United States department of agriculture, signed the notice of quarantine No. 2 of the federal horticultural board, which prohibited entry to the mainland of all Hawaiian fruits and vegetables then known to breed the Mediterranean fruit-fly. This quarantine was published in your paper, at federal expense, at that time.

"Previous to this time the quarantine officials of the California horticultural commission had permitted the entry of Hawaiian grown bananas and pineapples provided they had been inspected by a competent man in Honolulu, and this work of inspection was placed in the hands of your then existing marketing division. When the federal department of agriculture took up its investigations of the fruit-fly conditions in these islands and relieved the territorial board of the clean culture campaign against the fruit-fly, it also, at the request of the local authorities, assumed the responsibility for the proper inspection of bananas and pineapples. The inspection of pineapples was soon discontinued because of inadequate facilities. The banana inspection, however, was made most rigid, and though continued under federal control was paid for by the banana growers and shippers. While this office found that it could carry on the inspection work 50 per cent cheaper than the marketing division, still the cost to the banana growers and shippers was quite heavy.

"Because the officials of the federal horticultural board feel that the cost of the inspections should not fall upon the Hawaiian banana growers and because it wishes to successfully forestall any attempt on the part of mainland fruit growers to bring about an absolute exclusion from the mainland of fresh pineapples, they have deemed it best to revise the old quarantine so that it will place the Hawaiian fruit interests upon the firmest basis possible. The agricultural interests of Hawaii have absolutely nothing to lose and everything to gain by the proposed quarantine. No intelligent person who is informed regarding the widespread havoc caused not only here but in every land where the Mediterranean fruit-fly and melon fly exists, can question the necessity for some quarantine to protect the mainland states from these two very dangerous pests.

"The banana growers will welcome the proposed quarantine measure, as it places, once for all, the banana industry of these islands upon a firm basis, and relieves them from a heavy yearly tax for inspection. The shippers of fresh pineapples also have everything to gain, and absolutely nothing to lose. At the present time all fresh pineapples shipped to San Francisco are subjected to a heavy, and often ruinous, fumigation. The proposed quarantine provides for such a thorough inspection of export pines that the writer has every reason to believe that his investigational work together with this inspection will soon bring about the discontinuance of fumigation at the port of entry. The pineapple shippers, therefore, will be able to make better profits without additional cost to themselves.

"C. L. Marlatt, chairman of the federal horticultural board, has been in Hawaii and is thoroughly familiar with existing conditions. His wide experience in federal quarantine work and his dealings with many foreign countries, is such that he is thoroughly capable of viewing and acting impartially upon the Hawaiian situation. While it may be well for the territory to have a representative at the meeting of the federal horticultural board on March 19, it is entirely unnecessary. With Albert Waterhouse, acting president and executive officer of the territorial board of agriculture and forestry, now feeling that as long as Mr. Marlatt is in charge of affairs at Washington, Hawaii will not suffer any injustice, there is no cause for further agitation."

The following is the fruit and vegetables put on the quarantine list: Alkalizer pears, bananas, carambolas, Chinese ink berry, Chinese orange, Chinese plum, coffee berries, cucumbers, damson plums, eugenias, figs, grapes, grapefruit, green peppers, guavas, kaniwa nuts, kumquats, limes, loquats, mangoes, mock oranges, mountain apples, melons, Natal or kaffir plums, oranges, papaya, peaches, persimmons, pineapples, prickly pears, rose apple, star apple, string beans, squash, tomatoes.

To clean velvet, use a rag dipped in paraffin and rub the pile briskly, then rub with a piece of dry flannel.

Fireproof dishes which have become brown from baking can be cleaned by soaking in a strong borax water.
