Rumor Has McCarn Backing Ashford, Lightfoot and Humphreys for the Bench

ALSO SLATES KINGSBURY FOR ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Fennell for Marshal—U.S. District Attorney Refuses to Discuss

RUMOR SAYS

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGES: A. S. Humphreys, J. Lightfoot, C. W. Ashford

FOR U. S. MARSHAL: Wm. P. Fennell

FOR ATTORNEY-GENERAL: Judge S. B. Kingsbury

Once more political gossip is on the rampage. New names are thrown into the ring today for high and important places in the territory. A few of them come as a distinct surprise, while others have been expected. Neither Governor Pinkham nor Jeff McCarn, the two men looked to as having it in their power to govern the above appointments, have much to say of the subject. McCarn preferred to let it pass unconfirmed and un denied.

When Mr. McCarn was shown the list of his reported choices for positions on the circuit court, he refused to make a statement. A. S. Humphreys, J. Lightfoot and C. W. Ashford are reported to be Mr. McCarn's recommended men to succeed Judge Whitney, Robinson and Cooper. He also refused to affirm or deny a rumor that he had sent in the name of William P. Fennell, inspector of liquor licenses, for U. S. marshal.

The same report which brought in the names of these men, quoted Mr. McCarn as stating that he had turned down Palmer Woods for the marshalship because he did not wish to see Governor Pinkham the satisfaction of seeing Woods' name sent in. And if this were so, the district attorney said this morning:

"All I have to remark is that there is a big liar loose in town." The rumor of Judge Kingsbury's candidacy for the attorney-generalship was heard yesterday afternoon. At the meeting last night of the territorial central Democratic committee, the rumor was discussed and considered seriously. Judge Kingsbury is the circuit judge on Maui, appointed under Republican administration.

Harry Irwin's chances for the bench are said not to be bright. M. C. Pacheco, chairman of the territorial central committee, says this, and is quoted, before the name of Judge Kingsbury was heard that Arthur J. Smith, deputy attorney-general, said the best chance of succeeding W. F. Thayer. It is felt that Mr. Thayer is in favor of being succeeded by J. Smith, as the latter is familiar with the business of the office, and expected in representing the territory its matters of litigation.

Commenting on the rumor that Humphreys, Ashford and Lightfoot are the choices of Mr. McCarn for the circuit bench, Judge A. A. Wilder said: "I am surprised and, if the rumors are correct, disgusted and am of the opinion that the Bar Association will be heard from in this matter. This will soon arrive at a point when a reputable attorney will be ashamed to practice in this territory. In any event, upon my trip to Washington in the month of March, I shall carry a transcript of the records of the gentlemen mentioned."

Governor Pinkham today denies the rumor which developed yesterday to the effect that he had selected Judge Selden B. Kingsbury of Maui for the position of attorney-general of the territory. He said he could not understand how the story had gained circulation, as he had never had occasion to consider the proposition had not even thought of it and the story as reported to him this morning was the first time he had thought of Judge Kingsbury in that connection.

PACHECO HAS HAD FILL AS SUPERVISOR; NOT OUT FOR RE-ELECTION

M. C. Pacheco, supervisor, announced this morning that he will not be a candidate for re-election. This leaves three supervisors who are not expected to run again, the other two being Supervisors Cox and Markham. Pacheco will be a candidate in a seat in the next legislature, either in the house or senate—he has decided which yet.

"I want to be nearer the gun he said. The supervisor job is all right, but it is too far away from the center of activity."

ESCAPED SOLDIER PRISONER MAKES DESPERATE FIGHT AND ATTEMPT AT MURDER BEFORE BEING CAPTURED

Herman Lewis, Colored, Member of 25th Infantry, Believed to Have Committed Series of Robberies and Hold-ups Since Making Get-away from Schofield Barracks—Now Manacled in Military Prison at Fort Shafter

Putting up a desperate battle, first in the attempt to take the lives of five police officers, followed a short time later in an unsuccessful endeavor to sever an artery with suicidal intent, Herman Lewis, a colored private, member of Company K, 25th Infantry, charged with a series of robberies and hold-ups, now securely manacled, was placed behind iron bars at the military prison at Fort Shafter this morning, after three days' brief liberty, through his sensational escape from custody at Schofield Barracks Saturday night.

In the possession of Sheriff William Jarrett reposes a trinket, about six inches in length, weighing but a few ounces, and made of tin, formed in the likeness of an automatic revolver, which last night was employed with telling effect by the fugitive Lewis, in perpetrating an unique and daring a robbery as ever was recorded in police annals of Honolulu.

That Police Captain Neils Neilson and Officer Kamahu are alive today is a matter of congratulation upon the part of their brother officers and friends.

Lewis, seated in hack No. 44, driven by a Japanese and accompanied by Joe Cadl, was proceeding along King street in the direction of Palama, when, near the fire station, he was accosted by Officer Kamahu. The officer readily recognized in the colored man Lewis, who had succeeded in making his escape, and who was believed responsible for several robberies reported to headquarters within the past three days.

"Come out of that hack," demanded Officer Kamahu. The colored soldier did not speak, but, stepping on the edge of the vehicle, made a quick pass to the officer and grasped his right

INTER-ISLAND OBJECTS TO RATES LEVIED BY HARBOR COMMISSIONERS

Navigation Company Declines to Pay Bill for Wharfage for the Month of March

Declaring, through its attorney, C. R. Hemenway, that the rates now being levied upon it by the board of harbor commissioners for the use of so-called Class B government wharves are unreasonable, the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company this morning informed the harbor board that, under the circumstances, it sees the necessity of declining to pay the bill for wharfage covering March, amounting to $350.

The Inter-Island recently communicated with the harbor board regarding the matter of wharfage charges made against it for the use of the Class B wharves, requesting that the board reconsider the matter and that the company be charged according to the actual use made of such landings. At the meeting of the board March 3, the company's attorneys appeared before the board and at greater length the reasons for the readjustment were presented. In part, the communication from the company read at the meeting of the board this morning was:

"As we understand, the matter was taken under consideration and referred to a committee for report. So far as we have been advised no report has as yet been made by this committee. We have now received a bill for wharfage covering the use of Class B wharves for the month of March, 1914, amounting to $350, this being the amount which we have heretofore paid. Under the circumstances, we are under the necessity of declining to pay this bill."

The service was largely attended, and the interest was added to by a solo by George A. Andrews of the Kamehameha School, in conjunction with the meeting. Rev. A. A. Ebersole, associate pastor of Central Union church, conducted a 10-minute service at the meeting of the Ad Club.

AD CLUB PLANS ASSISTANCE FOR PROMOTIONISTS

Meeting at Noon Hears Report Which May Solve Committee's Finance Question

THOMAS DOANE TELLS OF SAN FRANCISCO AD CLUB

Rev. A. A. Ebersole Tells of the Message Which the Easter Season Holds Forth

A report of the Ad Club special committee to consider ways and means by which the depleted finances of the Promotion Committee may be recouped, was one of several live matters that came before the Honolulu live wire organization at its weekly luncheon at the Young hotel at noon today. The report which is given in full below, gives promise of solving the difficulties of the territory's official advertising machine, and it was adopted unanimously, after an amendment had been added to the effect that the promotion work is not to be considered by the Ad Club as charity or "donation" work, but as a business proposition entitled to be supported on its merits.

Tom Doane, vice-president of the San Francisco Ad Club, brought greetings from his organization, and an invitation to the local body to attend the convention of National Ad Clubs in San Francisco next year. Mr. Doane also, in a very lady-like way, reproached the Ad Club members for permitting roads on Oahu to become impassable so that visitors would be discouraged from seeing the islands by their friends, as had been his experience.

Two delightful songs were rendered by Norman W. Stevens, a representative of the H. J. Heinz Company, of the "57 varieties" fame. A brief address by the Rev. A. A. Ebersole, on the message which the Easter season holds for the man of the 20th century, was roundly applauded. (Continued on page two)

WOULD HANDLE SHIPPERS' WHARF TAX FUND

Merchants Oppose the Present System; Favor Chamber Handling Business

That the fund from the shippers wharf tax should be made a part of the funds of the Greater Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, and not an independent scheme as at the present time, is the gist of a resolution adopted last night at a meeting of the members of the Merchants' Association. The suggestion called for considerable discussion, it being the opinion of those present that the acquisition of such a fund greatly would aid the consolidation in work where finances would be one of the first items considered.

The proposed by-laws for the Greater Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, as compiled by a joint committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association, again were brought up for discussion. The remaining sections were read and in many cases amendments made and accepted, with the result that the association now has completed its task along that line. In keeping with a resolution adopted at the meeting several days ago, at which time the new by-laws first came up for consideration, these amendments are but recommendations to the joint committee, which committee is vested with full power to act.

'McDUFFIE' RING BRINGS $225 AT AUCTION; THE PERAMBULATOR NOT SOLD

They came in scores, men, women and children, from all quarters of the city, to the police station at noon today, there to witness or take part in the first public auction sale of unclaimed property since Sheriff Jarrett has been in office. The auction took place in the stable next to the receiving office. The crowd stood out in the street, some climbed even to the eaves of the structure to get a better view of the sale.

Captain of Detectives McDuffie watched the ring he wore for several months put up. The bidding for it was kept. The price was run rapidly up to $200, and was soon after that purchased by George V. Jakins on a bid of $225. Other things sold were watches, rings, pins, bottles, odd ornaments. But the center of interest was the so-called "McDuffie diamond ring."

FILIPINO PAYS PENALTY FOR BRUTAL MURDER

Simplicio Javellana, Who Killed Sweetheart, Hanged—Meets Death Calmly

With a weak smile of bravado on his lips but the look of terror in his eyes, Simplicio Javellana, a Filipino who cruelly murdered his sweetheart at Paaulo, Hamakua, Hawaii, last July, went to his doom on the gallows at Oahu prison this morning.

The drop fell at 8:05 o'clock. While unconsciousness probably came immediately, the body twirled in the air for 17 minutes before it was put to rest. Less than a dozen spectators besides the physician, priest and prison attendants witnessed the tragic drama.

Though his church vows have sealed the lips of Pater Valentia and the prisoner's final confession to him is not known, it is the general belief that Javellana went to his death unrepentant. He made no statement publicly, walking firmly and jauntily up the steps from the jail corridor to the gallows platform, taking one swift glance around the prison yard and then signifying his readiness for the black cap and the noose.

The absence of the usual crowd of spectators was due to the fact that the man and his crime were not generally known here, though the news of the extreme penalty meted out to him was made public last month, when Governor Pinkham signed the death warrant.

Javellana's crime was particularly atrocious, according to the information sent the attorney-general and the governor by Judge C. F. Parsons of Hilo, before whom the man was tried and convicted.

In July of last year Javellana had been living with Antonia Pastora, a woman of his own nationality. She left him because of his inability to support her; a quarrel followed, and he went to the house in which she was living on the night of July 10, climbed through a window and attacked her with a cane knife. This took place at Paaulo in the Hamakua district.

The woman ran from her and he followed, slashing her as he ran. Outside, she fell to the ground and he continued to cut her, inflicting the wounds from which she shortly afterward died. When arrested later he admitted the killing and his intention to kill, adding that if he had supposed the woman still alive when he left her on the ground he would have returned and finished his work.

Attorney Russell was appointed to defend the man and sought to obtain a verdict of homicide in one of the lesser degrees, upon the theory that the defendant had found the woman in the arms of another man and that he had slain her in a sudden transport of passion. The evidence showed, however, that the room in which she was sleeping was occupied by several persons, men and women, who were awakened by the attack, and who saw no other man with Antonia.

Deputy U. S. Marshal D. K. Sherwood returned from Hilo this morning with Freeman Sylvester in his custody. Sylvester is said to be accused of the same crime, a statutory offense, to which he pleaded guilty several months ago at Hilo and for which he served a month in jail at that time, under territorial laws. Sylvester and his wife also are facing a $10,000 damage suit in the first circuit court, brought by Attorney C. W. Ashford for the parents of the young girl he is accused of ruining. He was released by the federal authorities today on his personal recognizance. The date of his hearing before the U. S.
