

LITTLE HOPE FOR NEW ZEALAND VISIT

There is little hope expressed for the extension of the Oceanic steamship service to New Zealand, with the return of the liner Sonoma from Sydney by the way of Pago Pago this morning. The report emanating from the coast that the Oceanic company might at no distant date enter into a contract with the New Zealand government for the transport of mails, and enjoy an additional subsidy, was today characterized as an impossibility under existing conditions.

The Sonoma steamed from Sydney to Honolulu in a trifle more than 12 days. The vessel met with the finest kind of weather on the northern voyage.

Pago Pago continues to maintain a quarantine against vessels from Australia, owing to the recent epidemic of smallpox at Sydney and other ports. The Sonoma was supplied with a considerable amount of soap while there. Joining the liner were a number of United States naval officials.

The Sonoma arrived at Honolulu with two cabin and one steerage passenger. The through list for San Francisco includes 63 cabin, and 55 second-class passengers.

The Sonoma sailed from Sydney on the evening of June 6, and arrived at Pago Pago on June 12, remaining at the Samoan port for five hours before steaming for Honolulu.

For discharge at this port, the vessel brought more than 300 tons of general cargo and refrigerated meat.

Joining the Sonoma for San Francisco will be 50 cabin passengers, according to a list booked at the office of C. Brewer & Co.

Among the through passengers are a delegation of 45 theatrical performers.

HARBOR NOTES

A small mail from Australia reached the port this morning in the Oceanic liner Sonoma.

More than 50 cabin passengers have been booked at Honolulu for the steamer in the Sonoma that is scheduled to sail this evening.

Sailing from Honolulu on June 19 the Standard Oil tanker Maverick is reported to have arrived at San Francisco last Wednesday.

The schooner Defender was an arrival at Hana, Maui, yesterday, the vessel bringing lumber and general cargo supplied at San Francisco.

Three hundred tons of Australian products will be discharged from the Oceanic liner Sonoma before that vessel steams for San Francisco at 5 o'clock this evening.

Lumber laden, the schooner Robert Lewers has sailed from Port Ludlow with a cargo consigned to Lewers & Cooke of this city. The vessel is expected here about July 10.

Due to arrive at Honolulu from the island of Hawaii on Saturday, the Inter-Island steamer Waiiale is expected to bring 75 head of cattle and sugar to the amount of 8000 sacks.

To be discharged of a shipment of lumber, the schooner J. H. Bruce from Gray's Harbor, arrived at Port Allen last Wednesday. The vessel is scheduled to return to the coast in ballast.

After an absence of several months spent in Australia, Arthur Turner, superintendent at pier 19, occupied by the American-Hawaiian freighters, is again looking after his duties. Mr. Turner was a passenger in the British steamer Makura.
