TOMORROW IS 'AD CLUB' NIGHT AT THE BIJOU—BETTER ATTEND

"Ad Club Night" at the Bijou theater will be tomorrow. Honolulu's Ad Club knows how to do things and it is to be expected that the usual standard will be maintained at the Bijou theater. This will not be the first appearance of the Ad Club before the footlights—or rather behind them—and it is anticipated that the usual Ad Club spirit, Ad Club stunts, etc., etc., will produce the usual Ad Club riot of fun. Of course there will be a performance, the Juvenile Bostonians appearing in "TIPS," that musical comedy with the race track flavor. The play is the big thing and the Juvenile Bostonians are too well known to need an introduction to Honolulu or to need "press-agenting" on the "Ad Club" performance. Suffice it to say that the hard-working young ladies will be up to their usual standard of perfection. It will be a big night—will tomorrow—and all who miss the show will miss the performance of their lives. Ad Club spirit—not spirits—is the best possible cure for the blues or any other form of malady that may be in the air or in the system. This—together with the offering of the Juvenile Bostonians—is a combination that cannot be beat this side of—well the place has no name. Thursday evening, August 20, is the time—the Bijou theater is the right place, and the Juvenile Bostonians and the Ad Club the fun-makers of this auspicious occasion. Be on hand.

ATTORNEY OLSON GARDEN ISLAND ACCIDENT VICTIM

Attorney C. H. Olson of the local law firm of Holmes, Stanley & Olson, returned to Honolulu from Kauai Sunday, where he suffered an accident which necessitated his postponing an address which he was to have delivered at a banquet given Saturday evening by the Chamber of Commerce of the Garden Island. The accident occurred between Lihue and Nawiliwili Friday evening, Mr. Olson having suffered a fall which caused painful injuries and necessitated immediate medical attention. Mr. Olson and a party of friends were returning by automobile from a meeting at Kapaa, where the attorney had made a speech. Between Lihue and Nawiliwili a fire was discovered in a canfield and, as far as the members of the party could see from the road, no one was on hand to fight the flames, and Mr. Olson got out of the machine and started to walk down the railway track to ascertain whether firefighters were in the vicinity. Across the track, a few feet from the road, was a wide cattle guard, which could not be seen in the darkness. Mr. Olson evidently made a few steps over the guard and then stepped between the ties. He stumbled and fell, his head striking the loose rock on the stone wall which had been cut away at the time the railway was put through. Mr. Olson's friends soon reached him and it was found that he was suffering from a deep cut across the upper part of the neck, as well as many painful bruises. Medical attention was quickly obtained, and it was found necessary to take several stitches in the cut beneath the chin. Mr. Olson had planned to address the Chamber of Commerce banquet and to remain on Kauai until yesterday afternoon. Two thousand Greeks witnessed elaborate ceremonies when the battleship Kilgus, formerly the Mississipp, was officially turned over to Greece at Newport News. It took five persons to drag John Spencer of Paterson, N. J., from a sewer when police sought to arrest him on charges of disorderly conduct and drunkenness.

FOREST RESERVE TO BE OPENED IN SHORT TIME

Within the next two or three days the governor will sign proclamations setting aside the Kipahulu forest reservation on Meui and the Oha forest park reserve on the island of Hawaii. At a public meeting attended this morning by the territorial executive and members of the board of agriculture and forestry the projects were finally discussed and no protests developed against either one. The reservation at Kipahulu and Kaupo, Maui, will set aside as forest reserve approximately 10,600 acres, of which 5000 acres belongs to the territory. The chief purpose of this is to retain intact a number of streams which may later be utilized for power development. One of these already is in use by the Kipahulu plantation. Much of the land involved lies between Kaupo gap and the boundary of the old Hana district, and includes the entire area above the 2000 foot level in the mountain district. The Oha forest park reserve, which has received the approval of the Hilo Board of Trade, proposes to protect for tourists and sightseers generally the magnificent groves of dense tropical vegetation along the road from Hilo to the volcano, lying above Glenwood. It contains 520 acres and consists of three sections: One between 24- and 25-Mile, a small grove of koa trees at 29-Mile and the so-called forest reserve strips between 18- and 24-Mile.

THROAT Troubles ARE Dangerous because the swollen glands and inflamed membranes often affect other tissues and impair their healthy action. Scott's Emulsion stands alone as nature's corrector of throat troubles; its cod liver oil is speedily converted into germ-resisting tissue—the glycerine is curative and healing, while the combined emulsion up-builds the forces to avert the weakening influence which always follows throat troubles. SCOTT'S EMULSION is best for throat troubles because it relieves the trouble; it prevents a relapse; it is not changed with alcohol or stupefying drugs. Shows substitutes and insist on Scott's.

JAMES O'NEIL MOVIES STAR AT POPULAR THEATER

James O'Neill in "The Count of Monte Cristo" made his debut at the Popular theater at this afternoon's matinee. He will repeat this evening and each evening throughout the week—with a special matinee Saturday afternoon. James O'Neill is one of America's foremost actors—he is well known in Honolulu and throughout the English-speaking world. "The Count of Monte Cristo" has delighted the theatergoers of the last three decades—with O'Neill in the title role. In the silent drama this sterling actor is seen for the first time. It is his initial appearance in Honolulu in the movies and it is anticipated that he will score a success that has been unequalled in this city in the motion picture world. Special scenic effects were used in the motion picture production of this play, making it far superior to the staged version of the story. Supporting O'Neill were the foremost actors and actresses of the present-day stage. It is introduced here with a reputation that it is the good fortune of but few plays to receive.

MAUI NEWS

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] WALLUKU, Maui, Aug. 17.—The Maui Library Association last week received from the Atherton Estate sixty-five fine volumes. The donation was one of the largest received since the inauguration of the library some two and a half years ago. The volumes are mostly in sets, and are beautifully bound, so that the gift is in value the most generous ever made to the library. The sets are Waverley Novels, "The Making of America," Victor Hugo works, Stevenson works, "Message of the Men and Religion Movement," Winston's Encyclopaedia, "The Story of France," Motley's "Dutch Republic," American History, "Story of the Navy," "Handy Andy," and "Land of the Wine." That a new theater is soon to be built on Market street in Walluku is no longer merely a dream of a few interested parties. Plans are now actually down on paper, and James C. Foss, Jr., has been awarded the contract of supervising architect in seeing that the building is erected according to the elaborate specifications already drawn up. Local and Honolulu capital is behind the project, stock is subscribed already, and plans are so far along that space is already being cleared on the upper side of Market street for the new building. Miss Alona Whisler, who has just completed her sophomore year at Oberlin College, and who has had special work in primary school instruction and comes with highest testimonials from her professors, is to open a small private school in Walluku for little children. The school will begin in September. Miss Whisler is living at the William and Mary Alexander Parsonage. Clarence G. White of Haiku with his family sailed on yesterday's Manoa. Mrs. White with the two children will remain in Berkeley, but Mr. White goes east to Cleveland for two months. He will spend Christmas with his family on the Coast. He expects that they will be gone from Maui nearly a year. H. E. Savage of Puunene, who recently resigned as chemist, will leave in about two weeks with his wife for Honolulu. Their plans for the future are not certain. Had it not been for the war, they would have gone to South America, where Mr. Savage had expected to go into business. Miss Beulah Drinkle of Oskaloosa, Iowa, arrived on Thursday morning last week. Miss Drinkle comes to take charge of the kindergarten work at the Alexander House Settlement. She is a cousin of the Misses Crickard of Walluku. Miss Garnie Rosecrans was a passenger yesterday on the Manoa, and will be away for an extended visit, which will be spent largely in Denver. Miss Olive Lindsay is visiting Miss Dorothy Guild in Honolulu. Her sister, Miss Margaret Lindsay, is also a summer visitor in that city. Miss Mary E. Hoffman is visiting Mrs. Geo. Schrader of Honolulu. Both ladies are at Waialua, Oahu, for a few weeks.
