ALLIES MORE CONFIDENT TODAY

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 3.—The second great battle of the European war and the engagement that will decide whether the history of 1870 is to repeat itself and a German army again besiege Paris, is still raging over hundreds of miles of territory.

Despite the forced change of the seat of French government from Paris to Bordeaux, due to the approach of the invading hosts, the Allies are strangely confident today. This confidence is all the more significant because the German west wing is now within 30 miles of the outer fortifications of Paris.

The Allies seem to believe that the marvellous German offensive strength is tiring and wavering against the Allies and that the elastic resistance of the Allied armies has been so effective that the Germans are breaking under the superhuman strain.

The London Chronicle's correspondent at the front has telegraphed his paper:

"A few more days of battling such as those of Sunday and Monday, and the German army will destroy itself. Whole divisions of infantry have been blotted out, shattered to pieces. No army could survive the terrible losses of the last few days.

"In the latest assaults the Germans have manifested an unmistakable unsteadiness, they wavered, broke and fled confusedly.

"The net result of the prolonged battle is a few miles of gain but no marked advantage."

SAYS GERMAN AEROPLANE BROUGHT DOWN

GERMAN WOUNDED ARRIVE IN BERLIN

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 3.—A despatch from Copenhagen to the Evening News says that great numbers of wounded are arriving in Berlin daily from east Prussia, where they have been disastrously engaged with the Russians. The trains bearing the wounded are declared not to be unloaded until after dark.

An undated despatch to the Times says: "The valley of the Somme has been abandoned. Laferre was taken after a bloody contest. Were obliged to retire Saturday evening."

A despatch to the Daily Mail says that Amiens, France, has been occupied by the enemy without opposition, after three days of fighting. The German troops marched through singing "Deutschland Uber Alles." They were hastening toward Paris, leaving only a small guard behind. The French retired eight miles on Ploigny.

German Aircraft May Soon Make Attack Upon The British Fleet

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 3.—An American mining engineer returning to Roumania via Berlin says that in Germany near Berlin he saw 100 aeroplanes and 50 dirigibles drilling in organized combined maneuvers. It is believed that they are to make a concerted attack with the German navy upon the enemy's navy when it is thought wise.

DECLARES PRINCE IS A SUICIDE

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 3.—Lady Randolph Churchill says that the truth of the story of Prince Frederick William of Lippe's death is that the prince committed suicide, fearing the kaiser's wrath at a blunder he made. She says he was commanding a cavalry regiment and in the darkness mistook a German infantry regiment for Belgians, attacking and almost annihilating the regiment. The princess, Frederick's wife, is a personal friend of Lady Churchill.

BENEDICT XV NAME CHOSEN BY NEXT POPE

Cardinal Della Chiesa's Election as Successor to Pius X Proves Surprise

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
ROME, Italy, Sept. 3.—Cardinal Della Chiesa has been elected pope to succeed the late Pius X. He will assume the name of Benedict XV. Four ballots have been taken since Monday evening to determine the new pope.

He has been a cardinal since last May, is 60 years of age, has been Bishop of Bologna for seven years and secretary to the papal secretary of state.

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
ROME, Italy, Sept. 3.—The new pope was inaugurated later today. He blessed the populace.

That the conclave of cardinals in Rome swerved from the usual custom when it selected Cardinal Della Chiesa as pope to succeed the late Pius X, was the opinion expressed by well-known members of the Catholic clergy at the local Catholic mission this morning when informed of the contents of patch.

"It is nothing short of extraordinary for a person to be elected pope who has been appointed cardinal by the late pope," said a well-known priest. "I have never known this to happen before. Former popes, as far as I know, have received their appointments as cardinals from the pope preceding the last one. For instance, the election of Della Chiesa would have been in accordance with the usual custom had he been named Cardinal by Pope Pius IX instead of Pope Pius X."

Della Chiesa, or Benedict XV, as he will be known from now on, held the office of archbishop of Bologna, Italy, at the time of his appointment as pope. He was born in Pegli, diocese of Genoa, November 21, 1854, and was ordained priest December 21, 1878. On May 28, 1883, he was nominated chamberlain and from 1883 to 1887 served as secretary to the nonce of Spain.

In 1887 he was appointed attache to the secretary of state in Rome, serving as secretary to Cardinal Rompolia. On July 18, 1900, he received his appointment as prelate. In the early part of 1901 he served as substitute to the secretary of state in Rome, and on April 23 was appointed secretary to the number, a branch of the court of the pope. On May 30 of the same year he was appointed advisor to the Holy Office, another branch of the administration, being elected to the same office in December, 1905. On December 22 of the same year he was consecrated by Pope Pius X in the private chapel of Sixtine. He was invested February 23, 1908, to succeed Cardinal Svampa as archbishop of Bologna.

Benedict XV was appointed cardinal at a meeting of cardinals held in Rome May 15, 1914.

BUDGET OF FAT DIVIDENDS FROM C. BREWER & CO.

Announcement Causes Ripple of Excitement Among Stock Brokers on Exchange

Hawaiian Agricultural Co., $2 a share monthly for four months, first payment September 20.
Honolulu Sugar Co., $2 a share monthly for four months, first payment September 5.
Pepee Sugar Co., $3 a share monthly for four months, first payment September 15.
Walluku Sugar Co., $2 a share for the quarter ending September 30, payable on that date, and $1.50 a share for the following three months, payable on the 10th of each month.

C. Brewer & Co., Ltd., this morning communicated to the stock exchange the budget of fat dividends scheduled above.

"These dividends are for the balance of the year," said Ernest A. R. Ross, treasurer of the Brewer corporation. "Should the high price of sugar continue over that period, dividends will go on for the new year but there will be a revision of the list. It is hardly likely that the companies can pay dividends so large as these for the coming year."

Honolulu last paid a dividend in June, a quarterly one, and the one now announced is the first under the change from quarterly to monthly payments.

Walluku's decision to pay a quarterly dividend of $2 as stated is a reaffirming of what was previously decided but not publicly announced. Its transition to a monthly dividend basis in October represents an increase of 83 1-3 per cent per month.

Pepee's new dividend is an increase of 1 1/2 per cent over former dividends this year.

Today's announcement by the Brewer agency caused a ripple of excitement among stock brokers, as it had not been expected that dividends would be declared on the part of any group of plantations until the returns from sales in the higher sugar market had been received toward the end of the year.

GERMANS WOULD END LIFE BEFORE FIGHTING AGAINST FATHERLAND

Five men are absent without leave from the 2d Infantry. These men are all of German extraction and, according to soldier talk, they have shipped on the numbers.

The feeling among the United States soldiers of German birth was recently voiced by one of them stationed on Oahu. When asked by an officer what he would do in case of war between the United States and Germany, he replied:

"I would shoot myself. I could not in honor abandon the uniform I wear, but again, I could not fight against the Fatherland. Death would be the only remedy."

A rumor current in Honolulu today is that 15 enlisted men of the army deserted on the Nurnberg. Eight of these, according to report, came from the department hospital at Fort Shafter. This is emphatically denied by Lieutenant-colonel F. P. Reynolds, commanding the hospital, who stated this morning in answer to a query, that not a man was missing.

Georg Rodiek, consul in the Hawaiian Islands for Germany, said this morning that subscriptions continue to come in toward the $7500 fund which the German residents of the territory are raising and which, when complete, will be forwarded to the Fatherland to be added to that nation's Red Cross fund. It is estimated that at least $5000 will be pledged by the German employes on plantations on Kauai.

The funeral services of Lui Oliver Kane, 36 years old, who died Tuesday at his home in Puna valley, were held yesterday afternoon from the undertaking establishment of H. H. Williams. Kane was an employe of the shipping department of Castle & Cooke.
