Krupp Guns Against Men—and Human Flesh Cannot Stand Conflict

ANTWERP, Belgium, Oct. 8.—It is the Krupp guns against men. Antwerp, opposing her soldiers to the furious bombardment of the Germans, is being reduced by the terrible fire from their huge guns.

After battering down four outer forts, the German forces succeeded in crossing the River Nethe. Some estimate that it has been at the cost of 20,000 lives that Germany crossed the Nethe at four o'clock this morning and placed her formidable siege guns within reach of the inner defenses of the city.

The number of the besiegers is unknown. It is estimated at from 150,000 to 200,000. The city cannot expect succor until the battle of Aisne is decided.

King, Queen and U. S. Legation Stay in Antwerp, Despite Danger

LONDON, England, Oct. 8.—The German forces in Belgium and France are estimated at 23 corps, exclusive of the Landstrum and Landwehr. Five corps are besieging Antwerp. Though the Belgian government has been removed to Ostend, King Albert, the queen and the American legation remain in the bombarded city.

The inhabitants have mostly taken to the cellars. An Amsterdam despatch to the Central News Agency says that six Zeppelins flew over Antwerp last night, dropping bombs everywhere. The damage is unknown. The Palais de Justice has been struck.

PARIS, France, Oct. 8.—(Official)—“On our left center the enemy is making no progress. North of Arras, the Germans have moved back.

“Opposing cavalry operations have extended the battle-line until it almost reaches the northern seacoast.

“In the center, between Rheims and the River Meuse there is no change in the situation.

“Between Verdun and St. Mihiel the enemy has retired to Hatton-Chatel.”

DR. WADMAN AND J. H. MAGOON UP IN SUNDAY CASE

Hearings in Police Court Held—Judge to Give Decision Tomorrow Morning

Construction of the “Sunday-closing” law, brought to public attention by the Anti-Saloon League's Sunday services at the Popular theater on September 27 and by the Consolidated Amusement Company's show at the Bijou theater on Sunday night, October 4, is now up to Police Judge Monsarrat.

The district magistrate, at the end of an hour's hearing of the two cases this morning, took the matter under advisement, announcing that he will deliver judgment tomorrow morning.

The hour's session today was of unusual interest and the public attention given to the cases resulted in the presence of a notable audience. The hearings, begun with considerable solemnity, later developed, while J. C. Cohen of the amusement company was on the stand, some unexpected humor. Cohen's eloquent plea that he was running the Sunday night show at the Bijou in order to elevate the morals of the community was received with audible laughter throughout the courtroom and even Judge Monsarrat was forced to join in the general smile when Cohen said that the Bijou Sunday entertainment was run at expense to the theatrical concern as a “moral and instructive” show.

Two Cases Heard. Two separate and distinct cases were heard before Judge Monsarrat today, though pleas were entered at the same time. The first case was that of Dr. John W. Wadman, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League. As the

PRIMARY LAW IS NOW ON TRIAL IN SUPREME COURT

Clarence H. Cooke Seeks to Compel Territory to Acknowledge His Election

For two hours this morning the supreme court heard arguments by Attorney-General I. M. Shainback and Attorney Robert W. Breckons on the question of law reserved to that tribunal by Circuit Judge W. J. Robinson in the mandamus action brought by Clarence H. Cooke, who seeks to compel the territory to acknowledge his election to the house of representatives at the recent primary.

An early decision by the supreme court is expected. On it depends the validity of the new primary law as well as the question whether the four Republican candidates to the house from the fourth district were really elected or whether they must take their chances again in November.

Attorney Breckons, representing Cooke, argued that the new primary statute is constitutional, does not conflict with the organic act as amended in 1905 in relation to territorial elections, and that the territorial secretary should be required to open the ballot bags and determine the number of voters voting in the fourth district for the particular office of territorial representative.

He admitted the new primary law is flimsily constructed but said that did not disqualify its intent, which was very plain, and that the effort must be made to fulfill its provisions. One the question of flimsy construction, he excused the lawmakers by saying that new statutes upon new

PRONTO PLACES MEDICINE ORDER IN THIS PORT

British and Japanese Consuls May Protest Sailing of Ship of Mystery

CAPTAIN SAYS STORES ARE NEEDED AT NAURU Vessel is Believed to Have Accompanied German Cruisers Within Past 60 Days

Deeper grows the mystery surrounding the Norwegian steamer Pronto and its mission, following the large order for medical supplies, provisions and coal, placed today by the representatives of the vessel with local firms.

That E. L. S. Gordon, consul for Great Britain, and H. Arita, consul general for Japan at the port, may unite in a protest to the federal authorities against the despatch of the Pronto for a destination yet unknown is today possible, following the train of recent developments which during the past 24 hours have been brought to light through the activities of Captain T. Seeborg and H. Spaets, the German representative who reached this city some days ago as a passenger in the Pronto.

The colony of British, German and native islanders at Nauru are in dire straits for the necessities of life, if the report brought by the officers in the Pronto are to be believed. Captain Seeborg states that when he left the headquarters of the Pacific Phosphate Company the slender store of supplies had run to its lowest ebb.

The Pronto was therefore despatched on an errand of mercy and hastened to Honolulu, where it was hoped that stores and medical supplies might be secured without delay, in the substance of a statement made by the representatives of the Pronto in

M'CARN CASE IS NOW NEARING HANDS OF JURY

Witnesses Placed On Stand to Give Testimony Against Repute of Claudius McBride

The defense in the trial of United States District Attorney Jeff McCarn rested its case at 10:20 o'clock this morning. Judge William L. Whitney has called a special session of his court for Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and, in case the rebuttal and surrebuttal is completed tomorrow, the argument of the case will be heard at this time. It is expected that the time limit of arguments will be two hours, and if the special session is continued after 12:30 o'clock, the case probably will go to the jury late Saturday afternoon.

Counsel for the district attorney this morning called John H. Soper, W. R. Castle and Dr. E. V. Wilcox on the witness stand for the purpose of proving the allegation that the general reputation of Claudius H. McBride, at whose instance Mr. McCarn was arrested, is not good in the community in which he now resides. The defense's manner of questioning at times met with strenuous objection from the prosecution.

General Soper stated that he had known McBride for several years and, when asked whether he knew his reputation in this community, an-

MURDERER TRIES TO BURY VICTIM WHILE NOT DEAD

Pick-ax Plunged Into Brain of Japanese—Filipino is Accused of Crime

This afternoon Captain of Detectives Arthur McDuffie reported that Bas had confessed to having murdered another man and agreed to lead the police to the burying place of his former victim tomorrow morning. He gave as his reason for killing Takashima the fact that the latter was annoying him at his work.

Plunging a pick-ax into the brain of his victim inflicting a mortal wound, and attempting to bury the yet living evidence of his brutal crime, Akopito Bas, a Filipino, who for about a year past has been employed by a Hawaiian named Paawelo is today charged with the murder of Takashima, a local Japanese junk merchant.

A mound partly filled with earth situated at the edge of a rice field between Maunaloa gardens and Fort Shafter marked the spot where Deputy Sheriff Julius Asch and Captain of Detectives McDuffie hastened this morning at the summons from a Chinese gardener who declared over the telephone that the murder had been committed and the murderer was at large in the district.

The motive that incited the crime yet remains a mystery. The Japanese was last seen by several Chinese residents at whose places he had called for empty bottles and other junk.

Deputy Sheriff Asch discovered the

JARDIN SENT IN FOR POSTMASTER AT KOHALA, HAWAII

[Special Star-Bulletin Cable]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.—Casear R. Jardin was today nominated for postmaster at Kohala.

C. S. ALBERT.

The confirmation of the above nomination will settle a fight for this office that has been prominent with the several Bourbon factions for many months. Jardin, at present assistant postmaster at Kohala, is the choice of the Democratic Central Committee and was a visitor in Honolulu about two weeks ago, at which time he was interviewed by Postmaster Young and Inspector Knight with the result, it is believed, that the recommendation for his appointment was at once forwarded to Washington.

J. M. Souza was originally appointed to this office but resigned last February, following internal Bourbon trouble.

GRAFT PROBE REPORT GOES TO PINKHAM

Drastic Changes in Hawaii County Government are Called For

COMMISSION SUMMARIZES WORK, PROPOSES CHANGES

Points Out Weakness in Government Structure; Recommends Striking Remedies

A review of more than a year's work in probing Hawaii county graft, a statement summarizing Hawaii county finances from July 1, 1905, to March 31, 1913, and reconstructing a tremendous mass of confused data and conflicting statistics, and recommendations for what amounts to a revolution in the form of Hawaii county government—these are the salient features of a report presented to Governor Pinkham today by the Hawaii County Investigation Commission.

The long-awaited report of the commission has at last arrived and shows that the three commissioners, Dr. H. S. Elliot of Hilo, William Williamson and E. A. C. Long of Honolulu, have not only straightened out the apparently hopeless financial tangle of Hawaii county but have evolved a scheme for better government that presents many striking aspects.

Commissioner Williamson presented the report to the governor this morning. The chief executive acceded to the request of a Star-Bulletin reporter, who appeared at his office a few minutes later, to permit its immediate release for publication, saying he had not yet read it himself but was willing the public should have the privilege of reading it at the same time that he does.

Salient Features.

Here are some of the big features summarized:

The discrepancy between the county auditor's and county treasurer's statement is brought down to $53.45.

The amount of $46,257.45 is shown to have been recovered to Hawaii county.

About $25,000 more may reasonably be expected to be recovered.

County act is declared unsatisfactory for county of Hawaii.

Officials are shown to have been either grafters or weak.

Waste of money is pointed out.

Failure to examine properly books of county proved.

New County Government.

Radical changes in county government are urged. These include:

Division of Island of Hawaii into seven districts—Puna, South Hilo, North Hilo, Hamakua, Kohala, Kona and Kau—each district to elect a board of local overseers, each board's chairman to be a member of the county board of supervisors.

Board of supervisors, under proposed system, to appoint county clerk, treasurer, attorney, engineer and two sheriffs, one for each judicial district on the island.

Suggestion of a territorial civil service commission to have jurisdiction over all public officers in Hawaii, susceptible to the application of civil service rules.

The commission urges a law absolutely prohibiting local authorities from spending public money in anticipation and in advance of getting the revenue.

Bureau of Accounts.

Strong emphasis is laid upon the advisability of forming a territorial bureau of accounts. On this point the commission recommends the expanding of the territorial bureau of accounts, and in part recommends:

“The present methods in use in the county of Hawaii have failed lamentably in every purpose of municipal accounting. They have failed to check or discover dishonesty and wastefulness; they have failed to supply supervisors and officials with accurate and informing statements that are absolutely essential to the proper conduct of public business; they have failed to equip the citizen with knowledge of the facts of government that is in-
