SOME PROGRAMME

One performance an evening, beginning with "The Pride of Jennico," at 7:30 sharp.

ELABORATE, SPECTACULAR FILMS OFFERED AT THE POPULAR THEATER

Ways of the Desert Dweller are Well Told; Love and Hate is Theme of Silent Drama

"Some programme" is the way Messrs. Brodhoff and Blair are advertising the current offering at the Popular theater, and "some programme" is correct, even if the "long" spelling is used in the word "program."
For the spectacular it would be hard to conceive of anything that could excel "Fire and Sword." Dramatized and filmed from the stirring novel from the pen of Henryk Sienkiewicz, whose "Quo Vadis" created a great sensation a number of years ago, the picture deals with conditions of the day in the Arabic East. Opening with scenes in Tangiers the action of the film shows the methods employed by "harem fiends" of that far-away land in "returning" his "home." The Grand Vizier of Fez becomes enamored of a beautiful American girl in Tangiers, orders her abduction and listens across the desert to the sacred city of Fez with his fair captive. The Sultan of Fez falls in love with the captive and demands that the Grand Vizier turn her over to decorate the "chief harem."

Reluctantly the Grand Vizier complies and proceeds to institute a revolution and overthrow the Sultan. The revolution is a great success so far as the overthrow of the Sultan is concerned, but the Grand Vizier fails to retake his former captive, both he and the Sultan meeting death, and the American girl being rescued through the efforts of a New York newspaperman who finally claims her heart and hand.

Thrilling is the correct word to describe the fighting that is portrayed during the revolution in Fez. Not the fighting that is now being prosecuted in Europe, but the more romantic hand-to-hand encounter of the less "civilized" countries. The scene in which the Sultan's palace is fed to the flames and during escapes made by the American girl and her rescuers are just about as realistic as anything could be made. It is a big spectacular picture, ably acted and artistically filmed.

"The Pride of Jennico" a pretty story of love and hate a hundred years ago, is another big feature film in four acts, the costuming and scenic effects of which are most elaborate.

With House Peters in the title role and a good supporting cast of efficient actors and handsome actresses "The Pride of Jennico" is a most entertaining picture, incidentally introducing another brand of fighting—duels with the sword. In this picture also, a beautiful girl is abducted and hidden in a gypsy's camp only to be rescued by her lover-husband after a terrific encounter with the outlaws.

The entire ten reels of film provide a highly entertaining and particularly lengthy program, one of the best that has been shown at the Popular theater in some time.

'THE ROSARY,' ANSWER TO GROWING UNREST, AT BIJOU THEATER TONIGHT

The Players All Star Company will tonight present Edward E. Rose's big success, "The Rosary," at the Bijou theater, and the discriminating public will be given an opportunity to see pictured before them a decided answer to the growing unrest and irreligion of our times. Not that "The Rosary" is a decision merely; it is more. It is a faithful picture of the misery and unhappiness that surely come upon man who lacks faith in the supreme good and its inevitable triumphs in our world. A typical American family is taken as a fair example of every day conditions that obtain throughout the United States. The husband, a man immersed in business, the exacting business of Wall street and the Stock Exchange. Little by little he has fallen away from the faith of his fathers, that faith that brought our republic into being. Through all the heart-break and tears moves the wonderful figure of a modern Catholic priest whose life has been dedicated to God and the service of his fellow men. It is his clear spiritual vision that sees through the web that has been woven about the two people whom he loves and it is his faith and God-given power that gets them free.

The tremendous story, powerful in its simplicity, is interwoven with the higher threads of humor. Guy Hitner will be cast as the priest, Miss Florence Oakley in a double role, that of twin sisters, and George Webb, the husband. Cliff Thompson and Miss Helen Carey will be seen in the comedy parts.

'MOVIES' WILL BE MADE OF NEW YEAR'S TRIP THROUGH HALEAKALA

"Movies" will be made of the Trail and Mountaineers during their pilgrimage at New Year's through Haleakala crater and these after being shown locally will be sent out over the Pathe Weekly circuit.

About 100 have already signed up for the Maui exploration trip and there is room for 25 more. Those wishing to join the party are requested to notify the Trail and Mountain Club, P. O. Box 649, at once.

The program calls for the Claudine to leave Honolulu at 5:30 p. m. Thursday, December 31, arriving at Kaupo gap at 8:30 the next morning, when those going through the crater of Haleakala will make an immediate start. Three days will be given to this trip, and the Claudine will leave Kahului at 8 p. m. Sunday, January 3, arriving in Honolulu at daylight Monday morning. The fare on the boat both ways will be $7.50 and through the crater with guides and provisions, to trampers, $1.50. About 30 women have already signed up either for the Haleakala or the round Mauo, on the boat.

Among those who have already signified their intention of making the trip are: K. Alexander, W. A. Anderson, R. F. Baker, R. F. Brown, H. Bicknell, R. C. Blackbear, J. Birnie, F. Atherton, S. E. OFFERINGS FOR TODAY AT THE EMPIRE THEATER

It is a story much out of the ordinary rut that has brought forth the dramatization of "Life's Pathway," a two-part feature to be presented for the first time in this city at the Empire theater this afternoon and evening. Produced at great expense by a director and a capable company of players, the drama may be considered an offering that is worthy of comparison with the season's late successes. "Ginger's Reign" will be found to afford an ideal playlet, combining as it does love, intrigue and the success of a great undertaking. Featuring Alfred Vanbaugh and James Novak the production has to do with a woman who holds complete domain over herself and also a number of men. In the picture it will be shown that her reign is supreme when she conquers herself, assists a deserving man and recognizes the true worth of another.

In presenting a host of amusing complications arising through an interchange of gowns, "The Villain Still Pursued Her" will be found a comedy of high order. It is numbered with late mainland releases. "September Morn" is a ludicrous travesty upon the trials of a loveless swain, perpetrated by an aggregation of sailormen belonging to a man-of-

SUBMARINES END ENGINE TEST OFF THE HARBOR

Shortly after 9 o'clock this morning the submarines F3 and F4 ran into the harbor and tied up to the navy dock alongside the "mother ship" Alert, after 48 hours of continuous cruising. The little divers put out to sea Tuesday morning to complete the semi-annual engine test, and everything went like clockwork during the entire run. Bet-weather was encountered than fell to the lot of F1 and F2, which made the same cruise several days ago, and there was no special incident or accident to mark the trip.

of the year all four vessels and also the Alert will be taken on the dry-dock for a thorough cleaning and overhauling. Probably each boat will not be out of the water more than 72 hours. After the docking the regular diving drills will be resumed.
