GERMANY'S INVASION OF BELGIUM DISCUSSED BY A CORRESPONDENT

He Thinks Uncle Sam Should Have Lodged Instant Protest at This Action

Waiakea Mill, Waiakea, Hawaii, Jan. 24, 1915. Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin, Honolulu.

Dear Sir: Might I further encroach through the following on your valuable space?

It would seem as if there was great danger that the minds of the American people were to be clouded over by a strong effort on the part of the German government to introduce through the press extremely matter of an imaginative nature—(worthy of but questionable consideration)—into the simple conclusion that on her troops marching over the soil of Belgium against the wishes of the Belgian government she broke her treaty engagement to the great powers, thereby awakening the sense of responsibilities devolving on the signatories to the treaty to protect.

Had not America been misrepresented by an administration cabined within in the sordid limitations of cumulative heartless, acquisitive greed for dollars and cents, in other words, "short" on soul inspired courage, but "long" on caution—the cunning of the devil—she would have at once protested—and . . . Ah! What brooked it, though hell and again hell on bells showed big, better the cry for the right. Ah! for a Lincoln, whose spirit possesses this people. "Awake, put on thy strength, Oh, house of David!" Meanwhile we, must, of necessity, settle down to the consideration of barefaced, cold, cruel insinuations.

As to Belgium. Presuming that subsidiary, or eventually treaties I would call such, existed or exist between Belgium and any one or others of the great powers—obligants as signatories to the parent treaty: I dispute the views as stated and the contention advanced by Germany—that infringement on the terms of the parent treaty occurs under such circumstances as Germany states—unassisted by any admission by the principals. Has Germany forgotten her classics—"Falsus in urro, falsus in omibus"—false in one thing, false in everything? So much, then, for Germany's claim—not for the payment of mitigated damages as compensation to Belgium for the terrible results of her self-seeking actions, but of right of delivery and execution by her of a judgment on the falsity, the perfidy of Belgium. She, or those who seek to represent her now state that Belgium was false to her engagements—so putting the wielding of "the arm of the Lord" to the credit of Germany's war lord!

Will the Kaiser not stay his arm, throw to the winds blade and scabbard? He, "brand plucked from the burning"—turning to his God and my God—the Prince of Peace, who will abundantly pardon him and me—to me—the greater sinner the greater pardon.

"Neutrality Guaranteed."

I have yet to learn that a contract of "neutrality guaranteed" ties up the hand of the weaker obligant, annulling his right to the taking of thought for the morrow, as is allowed to any of the contracting great powers—viz., to provide against just such eventualities as have occurred in this violation of the treaty by Germany. In every line of commerce or of finance we have just such understandings, certain eventualities occurring, our business contracts, arrangements or agreements become inoperative, connections cease and a change of front, possibly all round ensues; poor business to neglect provision in advance against the probable or possible. Do existing contracts, arrangements or agreements preclude the honorable preparing in advance of operative utilities to secure the even tenor of commercial or financial operations? Much is said and written, day in and day out, by our would-be German "educators" respecting the location of Belgian fortresses. Where I would ask was an independent, free and wise people to place their fortresses, but where, as in the case of the fruit ranches with his wind-breaks, raising those up against and facing the direction from whence the storm wind blows, or is likely to blow its enticing influences, as in the case of her fortresses did little Belgium do in the light of day and for the better maintaining and perpetuating her independence, and against eventualities now "fait accompli"? Still she fronts her enemy, though stricken,azing, looking still in hope toward the East, in strong faith of seeing Germany driven out of the soil, which to her people is now doubly hallowed. The cloud confronting our own country slowly assumes the form of a pillar, a some

LABOR UNION MEN ARRESTED IN COLORADO

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] DENVER, Colo., Feb. 2.—Vice-President Eli Gross and Secretary-Treasurer William Hickey of the Colorado Federation of Labor were arrested here yesterday following their indictment by the grand jury, in session at Walsenburg, in the mine strike region. Their arrest is the outgrowth of recent labor troubles in the strike zone.

HARD GALE BLOWING OFF PACIFIC COAST

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 2.—A severe gale is raging all along the Pacific coast and extending up to 900 miles to sea, according to wireless reports received last night from various steamers from 500 to 900 miles out.

thing more than that of "salt" in these rumors, which will not down, that Germany has had the impertinence to approach, to broach the subject of consulate relationship in her hell-effected evanescence. What can humanity say as to the longevity of the situation the German occupies on the soil of Belgium?

Sherman's Dictum.

Yes, the world bears on its torn "proportions" hot hell. In every deed we are experiencing a "hell of a good time," such "good" as is the outcoming of the Father of Lies. Let us all lie back to that Love "which maketh not ashamed, eternal in the heavens"—our president, senators and congressmen and all such as aspire to being "men of light and leading" with plebeian stream-prostrate, looking to the author and finisher of our faith. Speed up! Is not the hellishness of a good time, the still more hellishness of good times to be staged in leafy May? Get up, Mr. President, with the halo of love's furrowed glow from off that prince of president's monumental, furrowed features—Lincoln's, resting forever within the memory's chamber of an agitated people and do something worthy such a people. Ever remembering that for the right they are in their right of right behind you. Hasten Peace.

Our world is all right—this world of mystery, awe, beauty—intelligence with man, whereby with God's blessing he can winnow a yield from the earth of material blessings enough for all and to spare would but the most of us "love our neighbor as ourselves." Get busy, gentlemen: get down to business! "Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul and with all thy might and thy neighbor as thyself," so hasten the good time when men will beat their swords into ploughshares, their spears into pruning hooks and learn the art of war no more. Ah! today—without war—what crowds "man's inhumanity to man"—mean—crows in every land dejected and forlorn through weary life the lesson learned that man was made to mourn. Still we are marching under Love's banner. Is not the highest ideal of the human, love God? His cry, His call, "Come unto me all ye who labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest. Learn of me for my yoke is easy and my burden is light."

"Like 'Topsy,' but in the practice of this higher thought, we will grow a little, a little a little more each brighter day.

ALEX COCKBURN.

FEDERAL OPIUM LAW IS UPHOLD IN TEST CASE

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 2.—The constitutionality of the federal statute which makes the possession of opium prima facie evidence of a violation of the law against the ownership of unstamped, and therefore smuggled, opium, and which places the burden of proof otherwise upon the defendant, was upheld in the local federal circuit court yesterday. A test case had been brought, in which the defense argued that the burden of proof should be upon the government, which should be obliged to prove that the opium is smuggled and therefore illegally possessed. The court decision is that the one found with the opium must prove the legality of the possession.

TWO BATTLESHIP PLAN FAVORED BY PRESIDENT

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 2.—The two-battleship program should be carried out this year, in the opinion of the president, who has made his views known to Senator Tillman, chairman of the senate naval committee. Senator Tillman had appealed to Congress to suspend all battleship building for this year, in order to be able to authorize the construction in 1916 of four battleships, to be built in the light of whatever program naval lessons of the present war might teach.

THREE DROWNED IN OHIO RIVER FLOODS

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] PITTSBURGH, Ohio, Feb. 2.—Flood conditions appear to be approaching the danger point in the Ohio valley. The Ohio river and its tributaries are rising rapidly. Already reports have been received of the drowning of three persons in flooded creeks.

MORGAN SAYS HIS POWER IS OVERESTIMATED

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] NEW YORK, N. Y., February 2.—J. P. Morgan, testifying before the federal industrial commission, which is investigating the causes of the industrial unrest throughout the country, denied that his banking firm dominated half the railroad systems in the country. He denied the truth of the statement to the contrary made recently by Samuel Untermyers.

UNDERWOOD DENIES SHIPPING BILL WOULD MENACE NEUTRALITY

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 2.—One of the main defenses of the administration's ships purchase measure yesterday was made in the house by Floor Leader Underwood, who replied to the charge made that the passage of the ships purchase bill might involve the nation in war, should the government, under the provisions of the act, purchase the interned German ships and despatch them to Europe. The contention has been that the seizure of one of these ships by a belligerent would have to be regarded as an act of hostility against the American nation and would have to be met as such. Representative Underwood declared that this was raising an improbable point and not crediting the administration with ordinary prudence. Replying to Underwood, Representative Humphrey, Republican, declared that the bill is "a most crude and socialistic scheme, without a precedent in the legislation of any nation."

SEVERE STORM BLOCKS TRAFFIC IN MIDDLE WEST

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 2.—A great storm, accompanied by snow and sleet, prevailing all over the entire Middle West, has halted train traffic and destroyed all telephone and telegraph communication. Foot traffic in the cities is almost impossible on account of the icy and slippery condition of the streets.

A number of New York banks have formed a syndicate for the purpose of buying acceptances drawn by the Russian government in payment for commodities purchased in this country.

DIAZ-HUERTA FOLLOWERS DECLARED PREPARING TO PUT ARMY IN FIELD

Combine to Resurrect Dictator's Regime; Claim It is Only Sure Road to Peace

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 2.—A new faction has joined in the complex situation in Mexico and a new army will soon be in the field, ready to fight either the Carranza or the Villa forces, or both. The new faction is made up of the former close followers of Porfirio Diaz and of Victoriana Huerta, the two deposed and exiled presidents. The faction is, in reality, a rebirth of the Cientifico party, and is being backed and joined by many of the principal landowners, who see a chance for internal peace in Mexico only in the resumption of power of a dictator, such as Diaz or his lieutenant, Huerta.

The launching of this faction and the formation of a new army, opposed to both Carranza and Villa, may serve to reunite these latter factions against a common danger.

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Feb. 2.—Reports received here yesterday at Gen.
