ADVERTISING IS SPECIAL FEATURE OF AD CLUB TALK

A rousing meeting of the Honolulu Ad Club, with "advertising" as the day's special, was held round the luncheon table at the Young hotel this noon. A number of clever stunts had been arranged by E. W. P. St. George, who had charge of the arrangements, the opening feature being the singing of a song on the gentle art of advertising, written by St. George himself and sung by Miss Hazel Kellogg, dressed to represent a well known figure in the advertising pages of the magazines.

Prof. A. L. Andrews of the College of Hawaii gave a short talk on the psychology of advertising, pointing out how the "buying impulse" could be started by intelligent ad writing.

The ad of a local concern, appearing in this afternoon's issue of the Star-Bulletin, was taken under consideration and suggestions as to its composition and make-up were offered by the members present.

The vigilance committee of the Ad Club, which had been asked to report on the official Carnival program as an advertising medium, reported that 5000 programs had been the original order, but that 6000 had been actually printed and 4200 actually distributed.

Judge Heyward of Utah, Mr. Schilling of Idaho and Mr. Douzel of San Francisco answered to the "roll call of the states" with brief talks.

A bill being urged by the Board of Retail Trade, to come before the present legislature, to prevent the circulation of false information in advertisements, was presented to the Ad club and referred to the committee on judiciary of the club.

DEATH SUMMONS 'GRAND OLD MAN'

George Wood Ainoa, called "The Grand Old Man of Hawaii," died yesterday at his residence in Wai'aleale. He was born in 1840 at the place now known as Alinahau. He was in line with the ancient high priests, his father, Lono Kaunili, being a brother of Hevahewa, Kamehameha's great priest. The day Ainoa's father was born was the day that King Kamehameha II overthrew the tabu, which brought out the expression "Ainoa," meaning "the tabu on food is lifted." Because of that fact he was given the name of Ainoa.

DR. E. C. RHODES, WAHIAWA HOMESTEADER, IS DEAD

Dr. E. C. Rhodes, a former resident and property owner in Honolulu, died in Long Beach, California, according to word received here today. Dr. Rhodes was here on his annual visit only two months ago and at that time appeared to be in good health. The cause of his death is not known.

Dr. Rhodes came to Honolulu in 1897. He was for some time company physician at the Ewa plantation. Later he was one of the Wahiawa homesteaders and up to the time of his death held property in that district. He leaves a wife.

LICENSE FOR CHAUFFEURS OF AUTOMOBILES TO HIRE PROVIDED IN SENATE BILL

Driving of rent automobiles will be drastically regulated by law if senate bill No. 21, introduced by H. R. Makelaui of Hawaii, is enacted. This bill would compel all chauffeurs of machines engaged in traffic, carrying either passengers or freight for hire, to get a license from the county treasurer. Before receiving the license the driver would be required to deposit a $5000 bond, approved surety, and persons injured by the chauffeur later would have the privilege of receiving damages under this bond.

The hearing of Chai A. On, charged with a statutory offense, will be continued before United States Commissioner George S. Curry tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

HOUSE DECLINES TO TAKE SIDES ON FEDERAL SITE

knowing that the forces working back of this cablegram are, we are voting in the dark and I would like to have this matter deferred until we find out what these forces are."

As soon as Rawlins had concluded, Representative Crockett of Maui demanded to be heard and in a five-minute speech he branded the efforts to have the matter deferred as against the progress of the city of Honolulu and the territory. He declared that the matter has been deferred for so long that it continued further the city may lose the building entirely. He urged that the house "take the bull by the horns and tread the whole business out at once." When Crockett finished members of the house and spectators applauded vigorously.

Representative Lyman arose and said that his views were the same as Rawlins, to which Speaker Holstein replied:

Object to Delay.
"We have been deferring this matter for six or seven years, and we have elected a delegate to Congress whom we are bound to rely upon. He knows what is needed at Washington more than any of us and I urge that this resolution be adopted at once."

Holstein called for the question and Temporary Speaker Coney, Holstein having relinquished the chair previous to the debating, put the resolution to a vote. Watkins cast the only negative vote. Rawlins did not vote.

Holstein then moved that the governor's message be placed on file and Temporary Speaker Coney so ordered. It is believed that the memorial resolution will go through the senate without debate, as members of the upper body have expressed themselves as opposed to any legislative interference in the selection or recommendation of a site for the federal building.

The resolution introduced by Holstein is as follows:

The Resolution.
"Whereas, The government of the United States has for a number of years by legislative action recognized the need of a federal public building located at Honolulu in the territory of Hawaii; and

"Whereas, delay in the erection of such a public building has largely been occasioned by the local differences of opinion as to the site for the location of the building; and

"Whereas, the people of the territory of Hawaii believe that the plain intent of any act of Congress of the United States providing for the erection of such a building should not be defeated or delayed by any further local contentions as to the location of the site therefor; and

"Whereas, under recent legislation passed by Congress, the secretary of the treasury of the United States has full and ample authority to purchase the site for and begin the construction of a public building in Honolulu; and

"Whereas, the secretary of the treasury of the United States has been fully advised as to the various sites proposed and is in possession of all necessary facts to enable him to arrive at a proper determination; and

"Whereas, the members of the legislature of the territory of Hawaii have confidence that the secretary of the treasury of the United States will properly decide as to the best available site upon which the said public building shall be erected; now therefore be it

"Resolved by the house of representatives of the territory of Hawaii, the senate concurring, that the secretary of the treasury of the United States be and is hereby memorialized to determine as soon as possible upon which available site a public building in Honolulu shall be erected; and to institute upon purchase such site; and to institute for the acquisition of such a site proceedings necessary to have the construction of such building begun and completed; and be it further

"Resolved, That a certified copy of this resolution be forwarded to the secretary of the treasury."

The cable from the delegate is as follows:

"Speaker Holstein, Honolulu:
"Secure resolution whereby choice of federal building site is at the discretion of the secretary of the treasury. This will expedite the selection. Otherwise another delay."
