

EXCITEMENT

THE largest and most important affair of the week was Col. and Mrs. Charles Bromwell's dance given at the Oahu Country Club, in honor of Miss Catherine Harlowe of Washington, D. C. The Country Club, always a pretty setting for the dance, was at its best and needed very little in the way of decoration, though the little "hug-me-tight vine" that twines itself around the pillars and chandelier looked very fetching. The moon was nearly full and with the sweet strains of a Hawaiian quintet and the beautifully gowned maids and matrons flitting in and about the reception room, the occasion was long to be remembered. The gowns were most remarkable for their beauty and simplicity, each carrying out some one of the latest fads.

About nine out of ten of the ball gowns were short to the extreme and while the very décolletage has passed its popularity the sleeves and bands of the dresses were made mostly of soft tulle. Much to the delight of Honoluluans gloves were not worn with the sleeveless gown. So minus gloves on Wednesday night, Col. and Mrs. Bromwell were charming hosts, sparing no exertion to give their guests a good time. Mrs. Bromwell, gowned in soft white satin, received with Miss Harlowe on her right. Mrs. Bromwell's only ornament was a rope of exquisite pearls. She carried a bouquet of lavender orchids and maidenhair fern. Her hair was pulled away from her face and coiled in a becoming French twist. Miss Harlowe was becomingly gowned in a girlish dancing frock of striped taffeta over white lace. Her brown hair was done high and she wore white ballet slippers laced with ribbon to aid in her graceful dancing.

Dancing commenced at 9 o'clock, when nearly all of the half a hundred guests had arrived. The informality of the affair was marked, but then formal affairs are quite on the wane now.

Among the invited guests were Governor Lucius Pinkham, Gen. and Mrs. W. H. Carter, Admiral and Mrs. C. B. T. Moore, Judge and Mrs. William Whitely, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Averil, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit P. Wilder, Judge and Mrs. Arthur Wilder, Col. and Mrs. Reynolds, B. Ellis, Col. and Mrs. F. P. Reynolds, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Maj. and Mrs. E. V. Smith, Maj. and Mrs. Arthur S. Conklin, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dillingham, Col. and Mrs. E. W. Atwood, Maj. and Mrs. Frank Coe, Lieut. and Mrs. Jerome Pillow, Lieut. and Mrs. Daniel Reardon, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Case Deering, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harlowe, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Armour, Jr., Capt. and Mrs. Richard Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Armstrong, Capt. and Mrs. J. B. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kauffman, Capt. and Mrs. Jay D. Whigham, Lieut. and Mrs. Julius A. Brown, Lieut. and Mrs. Douglas T. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dowsett, Lieut. and Mrs. James Jones, Capt. and Mrs. James D. Donoherty, Capt. and Mrs. John R. Donoherty, Jr., Capt. and Mrs. Douglas McCaskey, Capt. and Mrs. L. J. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Doris, Mrs. C. L. Boddy, Miss Harrison Hall, Mrs. Ayers, Miss Anna Alexander, Miss Lila McDonald, Miss Ruth Harrison, Miss Josephine Macintosh, Miss Lois Brundred, Miss Virginia Leitch, Miss Catherine Lenha, Miss Betty Case, Miss Rogers White, Miss Elizabeth Taylor, Miss Lowell, Miss Nora Swany, Miss-Bath, Miss Allen Cooke, Miss Ruth Mackler, Miss Peggy Cantey, Messrs. Robert White, Albert Horner, Bert Clark, Philip Spalding, Lieut. Ellis Lando, Otis K. Sadler, Lieut. Leo W. Walsh, Maj. William S. Guigard, Col. Samuel Sturgis, Lieut. Nicholas W. Cammenola, Mr. Reamy, Mr. Latimer, Lieut. Charlie Lyman, Lieut. Albert Lyman, George Corvayn, Harold Brewer, Guy Buttolph, Maj. Herbert O. Williams, Lieut. Kelley, Lieut. W. W. Pallas, Ensign Bernard O. Villa, Ensign Nott, Philip Spalding, Edward Rossing, Lieut. Guy Chipman, Capt. Barry C. Williams, Fred Ort, and others.

Mrs. Philip Armour, Jr., was very attractive in a soft white satin. The gown was cut low and sleeveless, but beautiful of white muslin caught at the neck was draped about her in a soft and most alluring manner. Her golden hair was caught in a French twist with a rain-stone comb and she wore a number of the blonde's stone diamonds.

Miss Ruth Harrison wore a full blue chiffon that was very short. She wore blue slippers with the smart French heel and a butterfly of maline was caught in her hair and at her wrists. The popular psyche knot was the style Miss Harrison chose for her hair.

Mrs. Herbert Dowsett was striking in an American beauty taffeta made in the three ruffle style. It was cut low but had the tiny puff sleeve of maline. Her hair was high on her head and she wore silver French heel slippers.

Miss Betty Case was in pink crepe de chine. The gown was draped on one side and fastened with a tiny cluster of roses. Miss Case was her usual charming gay self. Her hair was coiled low at the neck.

Miss Lila McDonald was in soft white satin with a bodice of shadow lace which was very fetching. Coiled in a soft knot at the nape of the neck her hair was most becoming.

Miss Lois Brundred looked charming in black crepe de chine, with a long cape elaborately appliqued. Her hair was done in a fetching knot at the back of the head.

Mrs. Jay D. Whigham made a pretty picture in soft blue accordion pleated chiffon relieved by touches of pink. The low pompadour and psyche marked her attractive coiffure.

Mrs. Richard Ivers was handsome in a creation of cloth of gold with passementerie trimming. She wore no noticeable ornaments but her hair was done in a becoming French twist.

Miss Catherine Lenha looked pretty in a blue accordion pleated silk trimmed with shadow lace. She wore a blue band in her hair.

Mrs. F. P. Reynolds wore a short dancing frock of pink chiffon and she danced with her usual grace.

Miss Josephine McCaskey was lovely in white satin. Caught at her arm was a "tango" corsage of little rose d'amour which was very attractive. She wore a deep girle of white velvet and her hair was fashioned in a becoming French twist.

Mrs. J. D. Reardon was attractive in a simple but elegant costume of white satin. It was made with the fashionable high waist and short full skirt.

Mrs. Frank Armstrong was in rose-colored taffeta, made in the latest White begonias and maidenhair fern marked the simple decorations. Covers were laid for Mrs. Sam Baldwin, Mrs. James Judd, Mrs. Albert Afong, Miss Clifford B. High, Mrs. Alfred Castle, Mrs. Harold Castle, Mrs. Frank Thompson, Miss Helen Alexander, Miss Alice Cooke and the hostesses.

Famous Author Writes of Little Book. It is curious what widely varying mental pictures can be induced by the same word in different environments. For instance, anywhere, on the mainland the word "coral" always brings to the mental eye a picture of dainty pink and white twigs and branches of satin polished and delicately twisted. But in Honolulu the picture is—different! It is a sensation rather than a picture, and is felt more strongly in the soles of the feet. However, when Rufus Steele, author of "The Fall of Ue," the 1912 Bohemian Grove play, which was published in book form and has attracted attention all over the world, made the following declaration of Katherine M. Yates' book, "A Tale From the Rainbow Land," it is needless to say that he had in his mind the mainland picture of coral and not the Honolulu idea.

Wedding Soon to Be Celebrated. The date for the wedding of Mr. Charles H. Norton of the Advertiser and Miss Erminia Cross has been set for April 5. It will take place in St. Elizabeth's chapel. Mr. Norton's father came out recently from Quebec to attend the wedding, which will be very quiet.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Armour, Jr., Entertain. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Armour, Jr., of Chicago, entertained at a delightful dinner before Col. and Mrs. Charles Bromwell's dance for Miss Harlowe at the Oahu Country Club on Wednesday night. The table was prettily decorated with pink sweet peas and maidenhair fern and a corsage of the same flower was placed at each cover. Mr. and Mrs. Armour are here on their honeymoon and have both entertained and been entertained extensively by the smart set. Though the affair was quite informal, it will long be remembered by the guests. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dowsett, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Castle, Miss Lois Brundred, Mr. Dixon Nott and the hosts.

Businessmen Are Dined. Former Governor George R. Carter, retiring president of the Chamber of Commerce, entertained the retiring officers and directors and the retiring officers and directors at a dinner at the Country Club on Thursday evening. Community affairs were discussed informally. Mr. Carter's guests included W. R. Farrington, A. W. T. Bottomley, Willard E. Brown, Edwin Paris, Emil Berndt, E. I. Spalding, A. Lewis, L. A. Thurston, H. H. Walker, F. L. Waldron, E. F. Bishop, F. E. Blake, G. P. Wilder, R. W. Shingle, J. L. McLean, S. S. Paxson, Raymond C. Brown, L. Tenney Peck, F. M. Swany and T. M. Church.

Judge and Mrs. Quarles Entertain. Judge and Mrs. Quarles entertained at dinner last Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Bartels of Denver, Colorado, who are visiting in the city. Covers were laid for ten. The dining-room was tastefully decorated for the occasion. Mr. Bartels is a member of one of the leading law firms of Denver.

Capt. and Mrs. Hinkle to Entertain. Capt. and Mrs. Francis Hinkle are worth was pleasing. Mrs. Worthington was stunning in a creation of gold-passamenterie trimmed white chiffon over a sea-green charmeuse.

At the Country Club. A coterie of Manoa residents who have met informally for dancing during the winter chose last night the Country Club as time and place for merriment. And again they met informally and danced. Members of the coterie with their friends who were present were Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Blake, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Church, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Nowell, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gignoux, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Petrie, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Noble, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Lyser, Mrs. Philip Frear, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drew and Mr. Harold Brewer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bellina Are Guests of Honor. Dainty little name cards with aloha and across the corner, where was fastened little yellow leis, against a background of the same color, were features of the dainty tea which followed the cards at the afternoon given by Mrs. Charles Foster and Miss Edith Foster yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Charles Bellina of Honolulu.

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Clark entertained with a dinner at their home in Claremont Manor, making Mr. and Mrs. Bellina their complimented guests last evening. There were 14 in the congenial little company and the table decorations were in the daffodils and fern, with name cards of the same spring blossoms, hand painted. The home throughout was a bower of greenery and the yellow bloom.

Today Mr. and Mrs. Bellina left for Santa Clara for a short week end visit and later will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McGill in San Francisco, from where they will sail for their island home the coming week, accompanied by Mrs. Bellina's son, Virgil Nahl, who has been with relatives in this city for the past six months or more.—Alameda (Cal.) Times.

Returning to Honolulu. Mr. and Mrs. J. Langford Stack (Elizabeth Modini-Wood), who are spending their honeymoon in Honolulu, will return to San Francisco on April 12, for the exposition polo tournament. From here they will go to Los Angeles for a short visit and will then leave for their new home in Wheaton, a suburb of Chicago.—San Francisco Bulletin.

Miss Bernice Kelley to Wed Frederick Kirchoff. As the culmination of a pretty campus romance at the University of California, Miss Bernice Kelley, daughter of Mrs. Kelley and the late Dr. E. A. Kelley, and a niece of the late Admiral Miller, will announce her engagement to Frederick Kirchoff of Honolulu this afternoon in Claremont. The prospective bride is a charming girl, who was graduated from the University of California with the class of 1910. While at college she was prominent in various activities and was president of the Prystan honor society and of the English Club during her junior year. She was one of the prominent workers on the Blue and Gold year book, and is president of Delta Delta Delta Alumnae. Mr. Kirchoff is prominent as a civil engineer of Honolulu and is at present connected with the city and county engineer's office stationed there. The wedding is to take place early this summer, after which the couple will reside at Honolulu. About 35 of the nearest friends of the bride-elect are bidden to her attractive home in the Tunnel road this afternoon.—San Francisco Examiner.

The date of the flower show, has again been changed from the 7th to the 9th of April. Arrangements for the affair are now being made and no effort will be spared to make this a brilliant success. The dancers, of whom there are to be 16 couples, are being selected, the idea being to have a "dance of the flowers" open the general dance. The parlor of the Hawaiian hotel will be used for this occasion. Mrs. F. E. Blake of Manoa valley is chairman of the committee for the candy booth, and has appointed for her assistants Mrs. A. J. Gignoux and Mrs. Horace Johnston. The candy corner will be the only booth at the show.

Mrs. Reed Smoot, wife of the Utah senator, will be among the ladies of the congressional party soon to visit Hawaii.

Marion Dowsett Worthington is Heard in Concert. Mrs. Marion Dowsett Worthington was heard in concert last night at the Young Hotel. The audience, among them being many of her friends, were delighted and thrilled by her sweet notes. Mrs. Worthington consented to give this concert only after a great deal of persuasion by a host of friends who wished to hear her just once before her departure from Hawaii and they now declare that her voice was never in such good condition.

The decorations added a charm to the evening's entertainment. The stage, banked with immense tubs of fish-tail ferns was a pretty setting for the artists, at either end being huge containers of white chrysanthemums and Shasta daisies, the artistic effect which may be attributed to Mrs. A. E. Taylor and Mrs. Charles Chilling-
