THEATRICAL OFFERINGS
MARY PICKFORD
IN FILMS ONCE
MORE IN CITY
LYNE CONCERTS
WINNING FAVOR
OF MUSIC FOLK

Mary Pickford is once more in Honolulu. She arrived in the Matsioia this morning and will open a limited engagement at Ye Liberty theater tomorrow in "Behind the Scenes." No one telling who Mary Pickford is or how well she does her work. Honolulu has now become one with the mainland in proclaiming this charming little actress "America's Little Sweetheart." Margaret Mayo, author of "Behind the Scenes," has a number of excellent stage successes to her credit.
Chief of these is the famous farce comedy "Twin Beds."
The balance of the bill commencing tomorrow includes the ninth episode of "The Million-Dollar Mystery," and a late Pathe Weekly.
Tonight will be shown for the last time in Honolulu the great drama of the home, "Mother," also the Honolulu film in which Queen Lilikala and the members of the senate are "starred." This has proved the most popular picture ever taken in this city and will be shown in the Hawaiian building at the San Francisco exposition after it concludes its engagement at Ye Liberty.

'QUO VADIS' TO
BE BIG FEATURE
AT THE POPULAR

Beginning with the matinee tomorrow afternoon "Quo Vadis," admittedly one of the most spectacular productions ever staged, will be the feature at the Popular theater. There are nine reels in this story and two hours and a half are required to take one from the beginning to the end of what without doubt is one of the greatest pictorial presentations of the days of Rome, when Nero ruled and the Christians were being put to death. The play will continue at the Popular for an entire week. There undoubtedly will be a heavy demand for seats and those who contemplate attending should make their reservations at once.
This is declared to be the most marvelous achievement up to date in photo-drama and visualizes a story with the broadest appeal imaginable.
"What's His Name" with Max Fligman in the leading role is the title of the star film of the bill that has been running since Saturday. Tonight will mark its close, as well as the close of the up-to-date Pathe Weekly that has been a feature of this new program.

COMEDY LEADS
ON PROGRAM AT
EMPIRE TODAY

James Dwiggins, whose generous physical proportions would readily suggest another John Bunny, has an important role in a clever and genuinely funny farce-comedy, "Lillian's Dilemma," to be shown at the Empire today. Thanks to the acting of all the principals in the cast, the comedy goes with a refreshing dash through two parts. Lillian Walker, Wallie Van, Paul Kelly and Kate Price appear in this production.
The story is by George Ridgewell, whose sketches have always met with success. It has to do with a lively girl who has been attending a finishing school. Returning to her home she makes life interesting for her parents and friends until she is brought to a realization of impending peril.
Maurice Costello, a favorite with moving-picture patrons the world over, has seldom been cast in a more congenial role than that of "Father" in "Dr. Smith's Baby." Associated with Costello are Robert Galliard, Harry

WHY?
Why Not

The concerts to be given on April 10 and 19, at the Hawaiian Opera House by Felice Lyne, the American prima donna, are attracting much attention. Not only is she an artist of great ability, but according to newspapermen, she has an unusually attractive personality.
"To meet Miss Lyne," wrote an interviewer, "is to meet the daintiest little lady possible. She is a bright, clever American girl, with that attractive vitality which means so much to a career. Chatting to Miss Lyne is an easy task. Her words seem to scamper out of her pretty mouth. She is always ready with a reply without the slightest reservation.
"How did I get my start? Through a woman friend in Paris, who knew me when I was studying there. I made my debut in a little French opera, and then after singing eight weeks I was taken to London for the Grand Opera season. My opening was in 'Rigoletto.' The critics were extremely kind, and that about all there is to say, except that they have continued to be kind in every one of the dozen or more other roles I since have sung.
"No! My very first appearance was not in America, but in Spain, at San Sebastian, where the King of Spain always goes for his holidays. And then it was as an orchestral concert.
I sang 'The Polonaise' from 'Mignon,' I sang 'The Shadow Song' from 'Dino-rah,' and as I had never sung with an orchestra before, the test was rather severe. But I got through it all right. Luck, I suppose." Miss Lyne's "pittiness" is a characteristic which cannot fail to attract. Nothing big, I might whisper, except a wondrous sense of humor, and her voice, which carried London by storm.

Morey, Theodore Mills and Mary Charleston. Costello has a comedy role which he handles with droll effect. It is good for many laughs.
"Sophie Gets Stung," a comedy, is pleasing in point of costuming, acting and setting. Ben Wilson is the leading funmaker. It is a travesty on the suffragette movement. The drama, "Carlyle of the Mountains," will close the program.
