GRAND OPERA SEASON ON TONIGHT AT BIJOU, 'LUCIA' INITIAL BILL

Umberto Sacchetti, primo tenore, who will be heard to good advantage in "Lucia di Lammermoor" opening bill of the Bevan Grand Opera Company, at the Bijou theater tonight.

All of the old standard grand opera successes and many of the newer creations of Puccini, Lehar, Lochnund and de Liebes are included in the repertoire of the Bevan Grand Opera Company, which presents its initial opera "Lucia di Lammermoor," at the Bijou theater tonight.

The list of artists who will appear during the engagement of the Bevan company is a guarantee of the excellence of the opera, while a glance at the popular prices is convincing that a strenuous effort is being made to give to Honolulu the best that can be secured at the lowest possible price. From 50 cents to $1.50 is the range of prices and at these figures there has been a steady demand for reservations at the Bijou, a large number of the music-lovers of this city having subscribed to the entire season.

Among the artists who will appear to advantage tonight are Mme. Emilia Vergari, dramatic soprano and prima donna of the Bevan organization; Mme. Hazel Sanborn, the youthful American coloratura soprano, whose ability in the "mad scene" from Lucia has won for her the unstinted praise of the critics. Miss Bernice Holmes, mezzo soprano, who is well known to all who have been in San Francisco during the past several years, where she appeared with the Tivoli organization for many seasons. Miss Holmes also enjoys the distinction of having created in English a number of grand opera stellar roles, under the management of Henry W. Savage. Among the prominent male voices might be mentioned those of Umberto Sacchetti, primo tenore, who has been favorably compared with those leaders in the grand opera world whose name and fame are known around the globe: Michaele Giovacchini, primo baritone, who will be remembered in Honolulu as having been a member of the last grand opera company to visit here—whose prices, incidentally, were just double those being charged for the Bevan organization. Several others will be heard in minor roles tonight, who will essay star parts in later offerings.

Tomorrow night the bill will be "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci," while at Saturday's matinee, at which prices will be cut in half, "Lucia" will be repeated, with "Il Trovatore," the bill for Saturday night. It is the request of the management that the audience be seated by 8:15, at which time the curtain will be raised. Smoking is prohibited at the Bijou during the engagement of the Bevan company.

MAKING PLANS TO ENTERTAIN CONGRESSMEN

The committee appointed to prepare plans for the entertainment of the visiting congressional party met at the governor's office, approved the itinerary as already outlined, and selected the following sub-committees: Finance—W. W. Thayer, H. L. Holstein and C. F. Chillingworth. Transportation and accommodation—Norman Watkins, C. F. Chillingworth, C. A. Rice, P. J. Goodness and Dr. G. H. Huddy. Entertainment and reception—J. L. Coke, C. F. Chillingworth, J. H. Coney, H. A. Baldwin and S. L. Desha.

CHAMBER DIRECTORS HEAR COMMITTEE REPORTS

The membership committee of the Chamber of Commerce reported to the board of directors yesterday that five new members have been added to the rolls. They are P. M. Pond, W. D. Westervelt, William Thompson, J. W. Bergstrom and C. S. Holloway. All names were approved and ordered posted. A report from the reception and entertainment committee was that May 17 has been set as the tentative date for a dinner which will be given by the chamber to the visiting congressmen. The committee on legislation has investigated more than 250 bills offered in the present legislature, according to a report by the committee chairman. The committee on public schools and vocational training requested that it be allowed time to confer with Superintendent H. W. Kinney before any action is taken on the proposal to establish an agricultural high school in connection with the College of Hawaii.

HAWAIIAN PINE DAY DATE STILL IS INDEFINITE

The Hawaiian Pineapple Packers' Association has informed the Promotion Committee that any time between November 14 and 20, 1915, will be suitable for the observance of "Pineapple Day," the annual Hawaiian festival established two years ago.

While the Promotion Committee advocates that some Sunday be set aside for the day, the pine packers believe the selection of the date should be left until the return to Honolulu of the majority of the members of the association who now are on the mainland. In part, the association's letter to the committee is as follows: "If you intend to make it a local affair your selection of Sunday, November 14, may be satisfactory, but if it is to be a national day some other day may be more suitable."

Last year "Pineapple Day" was made a national day, with the result that the Hawaiian-grown fruit was advertised from one end of the United States to the other. It probably will be made a national day this year.

On a complaint sworn to by U. S. District Attorney Jeff McCann charging them with having committed a statutory offense, Joseph Quini and Mrs. Julia Borges were arrested Tuesday by Marshal J. J. Smiddy. At a hearing of the case today before Commissioner George S. Curry, the defendants were released on bond in the sum of $500 each. The case will be given further hearing Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. The woman is the wife of Manuel Borges, who now is serving sentence in Oahu prison for embezzlement while a clerk at the Young hotel.

The Lexington, Ky., Commissioner of Finance ordered the preparation of papers necessary to enable the city of Lexington to borrow $17,000 from the Cleveland Reserve Bank.

NEW WOLTERS BUILDING TO COST $75,000

Work has been commenced on the construction of the new Wolters building in Union street near Hotel, the contract having been awarded to Freitas & Fernandez. The contract price is $75,000 and the work must be completed in 200 days.

Aside from furnishing the largest building to be awarded in Honolulu in several months, the new structure, it is believed, will mark the beginning of a new building era in that section of Honolulu. When Mr. Wolters first announced his intention of putting up the structure, he said he had enough faith in the section as a business center to invest $100,000 there. The excavation work was completed about a month ago.

Plans for the new building were drawn by Architect H. L. Kerr. It will be constructed of reinforced concrete and be three stories high. The first floor will be used for store-rooms and the remaining stories for offices and apartments.

The house committee on agriculture, forestry, promotion and immigration will hold a public hearing at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the hall of representatives, Capitol, for the purpose of discussing and considering H. B. 310, introduced by Representative Lyman, and which is entitled "An act to prevent, suppress and eradicate bovine tuberculosis and to provide for the indemnification of owners of cattle destroyed under the provisions of this act."

NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE IN NEW YORK.

Feb. 18, 1915.

Mr. William G. Cooke, Alexander & Baldwin, Ltd., 82 Wall Street, City. Dear Mr. Cooke:-

I thank you for your courtesy in sending me a copy of the Panama Canal Number of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, which I shall be greatly interested in looking over.

From what I have heard and read of Hawaii, the territory must be a most interesting place to visit, and I HOPE SOME DAY IT MAY FALL MY WAY TO GO OUT THERE AND SEE ITS MANY INDUSTRIES AND ITS FASCINATING SCENERY.

With kind regards, I am Very truly yours, (Sgd.) J. A. ALEXANDER, President.
