'ARISTOCRACY' SEEN AT YE LIBERTY

"Aristocracy," a Paramount Famous Players masterpiece, opening at Ye Liberty today, is a dramatized study of society and its shams. It would be difficult to locate more fitting talent to handle the characters of Mr. Stockton, the railway magnate, and his daughter, Virginia, than that of Tyrone Power and Edna Mayo. They have so cleverly carried their parts in this production as to arouse storms of comment, not only in America, but abroad. It cuts deep into the snobishness of the "knickerbocker aristocracy." It drives some hot shots at titled foreigners seeking to pay off their hopeless obligations through marriage to American heiresses. The story, told in pictures, is a present-day narrative that has its fascinating grip on the spectator, and its chain of finance, love and hypocrisy links the glooms and joys together to a pleasant ending.

'ANTONY AND CLEOPATRA' A BIG FILM

A crowded house last night greeted "Antony and Cleopatra," the Glens feature, that was presented at the Popular theater for the first time yesterday afternoon. The matinee, too, was one of the largest in recent weeks at the Popular, the crowd being composed principally of students and school children, whose interest is naturally aroused by this great educational picture.

ed the living things, so vividly were they brought out on the screen last night. Opening with Antony leading his army, the story reels itself into the emotions with fascinating variants of movement, big, gentle, intoxicating and inspiring. The daughter of the Ptolemies is superbly enacted by Gonzales, the great Italian star, while Antony is depicted by another gifted Italian.

From this it should not be judged that "Antony and Cleopatra" as shown at the Popular cannot be understood even by those of ordinary intelligence; a knowledge of the history of the times of which the picture tells is not even necessary, for the spectacular features are so well brought out so strikingly acted that they hold the interest of every one from the first to the last of the eight reels required to tell the story.

Words are not necessary in telling this story of "Antony and Cleopatra." The actors in this spectacular picture do not say things, but do them in a way that cannot help but be understood.

THIN FOLKS WHO WOULD BE FAT
 Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More.

A Physician's Advice.
 "I'd certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass through the body as waste.

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, April 22.
 Troop B broke the tie yesterday which has existed in the Cavalry League by winning from M, 1 to 0.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy normal amount of fat the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a scientific combination of six of the best strength-giving, fat-producing elements known to the medical profession. Taken with meals, it mixes with the food and turns the sugars and starches into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect is remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless.

Score by innings: — R. H. E.
 Troop M 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 3 3
 Batteries—Duncan and Ernest for B Troop, Grice and Colvin for M Troop. Two basehits, Murphy; stolen bases, Murphy; bases on balls, of Duncan, 2; struck out, by Duncan, 9; by Grice, 10. Umpires, Grammuth and Stacey.

The game was won in the first inning when Murphy drove out a double, stole third and scored on Bakes' single. Grice, the M Troop twirler, then settled down and allowed no more hits. But as his teammates were unable to put over any runs the game went to B.

'LA TRAVIATA' OPERA TONIGHT BY BEVANI CO.

'La Favorita' Given Last Night and Pleases Many Music-Lovers

The Bevani Grand Opera Company will be heard tonight in "La Traviata," one of Verdi's greatest works and justly popular wherever grand opera is sung.

The story is similar to that of Camille. It has been heard here once or twice but never loses its charm and the Bevani Company would give it an excellent rendition. The orchestral work at the Bijou has improved noticeably under the painstaking care of its conductor and each night music lovers are more and more pleased with the company.

The case of Mrs. Emma Quni against Joseph Quni, an action for divorce, will go to trial in Judge Whitney's division of the circuit court April 29 at 9 o'clock a. m.
