INSURRECTION IN PORTUGAL UNDER CONTROL, REPORT

LONDON, Eng., May 16.—A Lisbon dispatch transmitted by wireless to Madrid, asserts that the revolution in Portugal has been squelched, but that President Manuel d'Arriaga has disappeared.

After a conference with King Alfonso, the Spanish premier announced last night that Spain will refrain from any interference in the affairs of Portugal, and will confine itself strictly to the protection of the lives of Spanish subjects and their interests in Portugal.

It is declared the army is split in two. Part has remained loyal to the government of President Manuel d'Arriaga, who is reported to be in hiding, and part of it has gone over to the revolutionaries.

There has been house to house fighting in the streets of the capital, but artillery fire has been suspended for lack of ammunition.

Many buildings are said to have been burned and hundreds killed and wounded.

Whenever the revolutionaries gained control of a house occupied by royalists, it is declared to have been pillaged.

Madrid, Spain, sends a despatch that the royal general in command is gathering a force of 3000 men with which to storm Lisbon.

SENATOR UPHOLDS WILSON'S STAND IN WAR CRISIS

President Wilson's stand in both the Mexican and European war controversies was sustained and hope for its maintenance was expressed by Senator Robinson of Arkansas in an address at Central Union church last night.

"On the Christian church," he said, "the responsibility of the present war crisis is placed. The statesmen brought about it. We must have war when the world is in the world, who can prevent it when the people under him demand it."

Senator Robinson made the statement that had America gone to war in Mexico, history would have held the United States responsible for the European war, on a pretext, of course. He declared that it would take 250,000 soldiers to 50 years to conquer and subdue Mexico.

Dr. Robert M. Green of the Boston City hospital, says all cases may be classified in two groups—those that have behind and those that lack it.

The former are bad. The latter may be good, provided they are healthy women and equipped with gamma rays.

Big Increase in Port Tonnage is Handled Without Any Increase in Local Customs Force

Honolulu can take pride in the remarkable showing made in an increase of overseas tonnage that has visited the port since the beginning of the year. The Panama canal has brought much new business, due to the peculiar situation in a cross-roads of the Pacific, coupled with the fact that the facilities offered in the dispatch of vessels are pronounced by visiting shipmasters as the best. Early in May will equal that of the former month of April. The opening of the great waterway has diverted a constant stream of traffic to the port of Honolulu which formerly paid tribute to the coffers of the Suez canal. The coaling of steamers has added fresh impetus to the importation of fuel. Not the least is the added receipts to the territory from harbor pilot dues and wharfage fees. Some remarkable records have recently been made in applying visiting freighters with coal.

May imports of lumber from domestic ports give early indication of exceeding figures for April, when six vessels were discharged of 4,555,000 feet. Crude oil, which comes to this port from the California coast, totaled 95,000 barrels, brought to the island in three steamers. According to figures made available today, three cargo steamers landed 11,906 tons of coal supplied at either Australia or Japan in April. 14 steamers landed 29,273 tons of general cargo from American ports. The total passengers from domestic ports numbered 1252.

In addition to regular duties imposed on the local customs staff, its members during April readmanned one ship for certificate. Seven vessels were examined, to comply with the federal passenger act. Four violations of federal navigation laws were investigated and four cases of opium smuggling were reported and convictions followed. The local staff made exhaustive search on four transpacific steamers for contraband opium.

There is every prospect that the deepest arrivals for May, June and July will number many freighters now engaged in the transportation of supplies and munitions to the battle-front by the way of the Siberian coast. Reports from the mainland indicate that a heavy tonnage has been chartered.

RETURNED TOURIST TELLS HOW TO HAVE HAWAIIAN DINNER ANYWHERE

How "Hawaii evenings" can be given by tourists after they return to the mainland is suggested in a letter received by a Honolulu woman recently from a friend who has original ideas as to entertainment. It is pointed out that with a very few arrangements to make, a characteristic Hawaiian evening can be furnished in one's own home. Here is the letter telling how one woman did it:

"Two weeks ago I gave a luau and it was a howling success. Indeed, I think you would have been proud of me could you have seen my table. I had it covered with ferns and I used the elephant ears instead of t-leaves for my fish and under my food. I had leaping chickens, lona salmon, baked sweet potatoes, baked bananas, kukui nuts, roasted and mashed up with salt. Opihi which I had brought from Honolulu, also little red peppers from there for a garnish. I made pot from four, which I brought home and served it in coconut shells, and my pudding made of coconut and pot and brown sugar looked and tasted very much like the pudding they sell in the market there. I used sole for my fish. We had coconut milk to drink and I had peacocks with tiny legs on them and a nice lei on

MARINES SENT TO HUNT-DOWN YAQUI RAIDERS

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 16.—With an expeditionary force of American marines on board, the United States cruiser Colorado sailed from this port yesterday to the relief of 50 American men penned-up by marauding bands of Yaqui Indians in a valley of the State of Sonora.

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] NEW YORK, N. Y., May 16.—Since the Lusitania episode attained such grave international proportions, the number of Germans here taking out naturalization papers has tripled.

BERLIN PRESS REGRETS LUSITANIA TRAGEDY; BLAMES 'STARVATION' POLICY OF BRITAIN FOR DEED

Germany Thought Willing to Drop Under-sea Warfare if Britain Mitigates Blockade

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] BERLIN, Germany, May 17.—The Overseas News agency says that the German press expresses regret for the heavy loss of American lives in the Lusitania, but charges up the responsibility for the starvation tactics undertaken by the British navy. Heartfelt sympathy is professed for the relatives of the victims. No comment is made on the American note.

Mutual Concessions Must Be Made

The very guarded proposals made at Washington are that Germany might consent to suspend her unwarmed submarine attacks on merchant shipping if the United States were to renew its informal proposals to Great Britain that foodstuffs consigned to German civilians be given unrestricted passage by British cruisers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17.—Germany may consent to modify the rigor of her submarine warfare if the United States can prevail on England to mitigate the severity of her blockade against Germany.

THE ONLY ASSURANCE OBTAINABLE HERE LAST NIGHT WAS THAT, IF GERMANY SHOULD GIVE HER FULL AND UNSERVED CONSENT IN THE AMERICAN PROPOSALS, IT WOULD BE THE NATURAL DISPOSITION OF AMERICA TO PRESS FOR THE RIGHT TO SHIP FOODSTUFFS TO GERMAN CIVILIANS.

WALALUA IS CHOSEN AS FRESH AIR CAMP SITE

The Palama Settlement's fresh air camp will open July 1 and last two months, and this year it will be held at Walalua instead of Kalaupapa. Two hundred women and children will receive rest and recreation at the camp. They will go in parties of 20, each party remaining two weeks. The settlement will welcome donations toward the upkeep of the fresh air camp, and 2 cents, says Headworker James A. Rath, will give some woman or child a day of sun and fresh air at the camp. About five acres of land has been leased at Walalua for the camp.

AUSTIN OF TENNESSEE FOR TARIFF ON SUGAR

"I voted for free sugar, but today I am strongly in favor of an extension of at least two years before that clause is put into effect," declared Representative R. W. Austin of Knoxville, Tenn., as he boarded the transport Thomas, Manila bound, Saturday afternoon.

"Within two years," he continued, "the Republicans will be back in the saddle, and will repeal the present tariff bill. Meanwhile the government needs the $50,000,000 sugar revenue—a tax which would be more popular than the present war tax."

THE SECRET OF BEAUTY—FREE.

A Masterpiece in Color by C. Allen Gilbert the Well-known Artist.

We will be glad to send to all users of Gouhram's Oriental Cream a copy of Mr. Gilbert's beautiful painting, entitled "The Secret of Beauty," in panel form, 11x22 inches. It is a splendid reproduction, on highly coated paper, of one of the girl's figures Mr. Gilbert is noted for, and is not marred by any printed matter which would prevent framing. Send 10c in stamps to cover wrapping and postage. We are confident you will be highly pleased with the picture and calendar and find it a valued addition to your library or den.

DANIELS LAUDS NAVY IN AFTER DINNER SPEECH

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] NEW YORK, N. Y., May 16.—Ship for ship and man for man no better navy floats than the American navy. So Secretary Daniels told the officers of the Atlantic fleet last night, quoting Admiral Dewey, at a banquet given them by Mayor Mitchell and the citizens' committee of entertainment.

"The efficiency of the fleet is steadily progressing," wrote Admiral Dewey. "Never has it been so high as it is today."

"Except in size, it is unexcelled by any navy afloat."

"The officers are the equals of any, and the enlisted men, in training, physique, devotion to duty and education, are the superiors of any."

"But we need more ships, more officers and more men."

Secretary Daniels, Maj. Gen. Wood and Admiral Fletcher were the speakers at the banquet.

JACK LONDON AND HIS WIFE WRITE FOR MID-PACIFIC

The Mid-Pacific Magazine for June is on the stands with its usual run of highly illustrated articles on Pacific lands in general and the Hawaiian islands in particular. Mrs. Jack London continues her narrative of the cruise of the Shark, and Jack London contributes an article.

More and more the Mid-Pacific Magazine is taking a serious phase of usefulness to the Pacific, and with the growth of the Hands-Around-the-Pacific movement it is drawing in its pages the able and thoughtful writers of the Pacific.

The following is the list of articles and contributors in the June number:—The impossible Traverse, by Churman Kittredge; London, New Zealand and the South Sea, by J. M. D. McLenon; The beginning of New Caledonia, by Raymond Blomfield-Brown; Vegetable Crockery of Old Hawaii, by William T. Brigham; A New Zealand Lesson in Japanese, by T. Myaso; The Caves of Haena, by J. M. Lodge; Seaside Wonders of the Philippines, by P. J. Bryson; Throwing the Bodmerer, by Joseph B. Stickney; More About the Patriotism of the Pacific, by the editor; The San Diego Expedition, by S. N. Vancouver; The Mighty Columbia River, by E. C. Gilmer; Big Game in Malaya, by Theodore R. Hubback; Tramps of the Trail and Mountain Club, by Alexander Hume Ford; The Hilo Wonderland, by Fred C. Govers; Lost on Lanai, by R. H. Lambert; The House of the Sun, by Jack London.
