

UNKNOWN YOUNG WOMAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE BY DRUG

Gives Name as "Mary Smith," Recovers Soon and Disappears From Police Ken

A woman's cleverness got the best of the police department early this morning and Deputy Sheriff Julius Asch is still pondering over the manner in which it was done.

"You have a handbag that belongs to me," said a little, demure, well-dressed woman walking up to the clerk's desk.

"Who are you?" inquired Deputy Sheriff Asch, who had reached into the safe for a handbag and handed it to the claimant for identification.

The woman lost no time in opening the purse and eagerly looked over the pages of a manuscript of a short playlet, "School Days," to be given tomorrow night in connection with an entertainment for Leah Home.

Again the officer asked the woman her name. The woman seized the bag. "Thank you very much. Please forget it," she was out of the sheriff's office, down the steps, and soon lost in the crowd that thronged the vicinity of the post office.

The bag came into official custody after Police Officer M. H. Sanders answered a call from the Moana hotel at 10:30 last night. It was reported a woman had attempted suicide.

He found a young woman lying under a hau tree apparently unconscious. Nearby was a small vial that had contained chloroform. The girl was rushed to the hospital and immediate treatment applied. She regained consciousness while on the way to the institution.

She declined to give her name to the police officer. When questioned by a hospital attendant she said it was "Mary Smith," and that she was formerly of the Samoan islands.

The woman was out of all danger shortly after midnight. She left the hospital at daylight and lost no time visiting police headquarters for the return of the precious manuscript. The bag is said to have contained about everything save money. A five-cent piece represented its total wealth.

The woman, who Deputy Asch says descended upon him and snatched the purse from his outstretched hand, was small, with rather dark hair and might weigh about 95 or 100 pounds.

The following letter was found in the bag, signed "Roberta L. S.": "Dear Carol: If anything should ever happen to me let Nana know. It is very beautiful here and Waikiki by moonlight is wonderful, but not so beautiful as my own Samoa.

"I can't stand things any longer, dear. I am so homesick, my heart is just breaking and I'll never see Samoa again. I haven't the money for one thing.

"When I look at the water here I am just thinking it's the same ocean as ever home. One day I went down to the wharf to watch a steamer leaving for home and they all looked so happy, though they were just tourists and didn't love the thought of going there.

STOCKHOLDERS OF HIDALGO TO HEAR STATEMENT

E. A. Knudsen and C. G. Heiser Return From Investigation of Mexican Proposition

Hidalgo Rubber Company stockholders will probably get a definite report within a few days as to the prospects of the big Mexican investments, which, including the rubber company and allied propositions, run up to about $4,500,000.

About $1,000,000 of stock is held in the territory or by people elsewhere who became interested through those in the territory. Recently E. A. Knudsen and C. G. Heiser, Jr., went to the coast, the latter being employed by representatives of the local shareholders in a consulting capacity. Other representatives came up from Mexico to meet them. Knudsen and Heiser returned this week from San Francisco and a report is expected soon.

While neither has intimated what it will be, the expectation is that it will give some satisfaction to those here who are worrying about their investments.

A committee composed of Knudsen, Georg Rodiek, W. H. McInerney, J. M. Riggs, and D. P. R. Isenberg will meet soon to discuss the situation and draft a report for the stockholders.

Two or three months ago there was a proposal that a mortgage of $1,150,000 on the Hidalgo property be taken up for $160,000 gold, conditions in Mexico being such that the company's indebtedness could be reduced on the basis of paying approximately 10 per cent of its face value.

and couldn't understand it was just pastime.

"Much aloha nui to you, my Felicia, and you know I mean that very much. You have read the 'Garden of Prosperity,' haven't you?"

Friends of Miss Madeline Smith, Pensacola and Lunallo streets, a member of the "School Days" cast, were busy on the telephone today inquiring as to her welfare, according to one of these friends. The Star-Bulletin was unable to get in touch with Miss Smith, but one of these friends telephoned the young lady in the presence of a Star-Bulletin representative and to him she denied any connection with the attempted suicide at the Moana hotel grounds.

She asked that a statement to that effect be given out. Dan Weber, a member of the cast presenting the benefit performance for Leah Home, said he knew of a girl member whose first name was Madeline, but whose last name he didn't know. Later Mr. Weber telephoned the Star-Bulletin and declared he knew that it wasn't Miss Madeline Smith who last night attempted suicide.

The New York court of appeals upheld the contention of Attorney-general Egbert E. Wodbury that Indians are amenable to the fish and game law and liable to prosecution for violating it.

$7000 A NIGHT FOR CARUSO IN BUENOS AYRES

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Gullo Gatti, Casazza, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company, received a cable from Enrico Caruso in Monte Carlo stating that the famous tenor has been engaged for ten appearances late in May at Buenos Ayres Opera House, Argentina, at $7000 a night.

This is said to be the largest individual salary paid any artist of his profession and makes Caruso the highest paid singer in the world. He receives $2500 an appearance at the Metropolitan.

According to the cablegram Caruso will sail for Buenos Ayres from Genoa, April 21. He will finish his season at Monte Carlo April 6. The cable stated that the season thus far had been successful in every respect. Caruso will probably return to America in midsummer, spending his vacation in the United States with many other songbirds of the metropolitan forces who are forced to remain here on account of the European war.

CLUB FEATURES ON FINE PLATES OF OAK-BRONZE

On display in the windows of Wall & Dougherty are two of the handsomest ornamental plates ever seen in Honolulu, designed for the Commercial Club and the Oahu Country Club, and secured by Wall & Dougherty from eastern manufacturers.

Both of the plates are of heavy, finely-colored oak, with the ornamental designs in massive bronze. The designs are appropriate. That for the Commercial Club shows a railroad and speeding engine and a sugar mill in operation. Blank plates are left to be filled in with the name of the club presidents, the names of presidents up to date now being engraved on the spaces. The Country Club plate is designed to carry the names of golf champions. The headpiece is a reproduction in bronze of an actual photograph of the clubhouse with several golfers standing in front.

The Commercial Club ordered its plate. That for the Country Club is a gift from the firm, Wall & Dougherty. Members of the two clubs are much pleased at the handsome ornaments.

GOVERNOR MAY NOW NAME FOUR NEW BOOSTERS

The appointment of the four new members of the Promotion Committee, one each from the islands of Oahu, Hawaii, Maui and Kauai, is now in the hands of Governor Pinkham and the supervisors of each island.

The Chamber of Commerce has adopted the amendment to its by-laws providing for making the additional membership of the Promotion Committee. Acting Secretary Taylor of the Promotion Committee has notified the chambers of commerce on the other islands of the action. Secretary Brown formally notified Governor Pinkham of the chamber's action yesterday.

It is not expected that Governor Pinkham will make the appointments before he leaves for the mainland next week. Kauai is understood to have a man lined up for the appointment from the Garden Island, but nothing is known of the other islands.

SUMMON THIRD SPECIAL VENUE IN SCULLY CASE

Three special venues in as many days is the record which has been established by the local federal court for summoning jurors. When the prosecution and defense can get 12 men into the box who are satisfactory to both sides, the trial of John T. Scully, charged with transporting and otherwise handling opium, will proceed.

When the case came up for retrial Monday there were 14 available jurors. This panel was exhausted and on Tuesday a special venire of 25 per cent, to be secured from the bystanders, was ordered by the court. This morning another special venire of 15 persons was ordered and when today's session came to a close at 12:30 o'clock Deputy Marshals Harris and Heine had orders to rustle up a third special venire of 10 persons.

The 15 persons summoned on the special venire this morning were George A. Brown, A. Leouison, John Lennox, J. A. R. Vieira, A. B. Arleigh, J. L. Cooper, A. T. Clark, M. Wahn, C. A. Mackintosh, C. C. Cunha, Ed. Towse, E. C. Wilder, C. B. Hall, Charles Crane and G. W. Farr.

Once a jury is secured the trial probably will be brief. District Attorney Jeff McCann said today that the prosecution can get its evidence in one day, as it is familiar with the rulings of the court in the last trial, which doubtless will eliminate considerable argument.

The members of the third special venire will report in court at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Fortified Tires Now in the Light

The supreme test of a tire is to hold top place—the place in the sun—and for years. Goodyear tires have done that. Long they have led, both in sales and prestige.

Men expect much of the top place tire. They look for a super-tire in it. Any seeming fault, due to mishap or misuse, becomes a defect in this glare.

Men expect much of the top place tire. They look for a super-tire in it. Any seeming fault, due to mishap or misuse, becomes a defect in this glare.

But Goodyear Fortified Tires, after years in this light, hold higher place than ever. Last year men bought 1,479,883 Goodyears of the pleasure-car type alone. That's about one tire for every car in use.

Who is Wrong?

Is it the Goodyear user, whose choice is confirmed by some 400,000 others? Or is it the man who still assumes that another tire is better?

Isn't best average service, as proved by Goodyear supremacy, the right way to judge a tire?

Lower Prices

On February 1 Goodyear made the third big price reduction in two years. The three total 45%.

Yet the tires are constantly bettered. In five costly ways—each exclusive to Goodyear—our Fortified Tires excel any other tire built. And each is a great trouble-saver. They mean for you tire content. They mean most for your money, because of our matchless output. For your own sake, try them. The following Goodyear Service Stations will supply you:
