Mrs. Hubert Vos Entertains for Judge and Mrs. Gary.
Mrs. Hubert Vos, who returned from the mainland this week after an absence from the island of a year or more, has always been known as a most charming and delightful hostess. Mrs. Vos seldom entertains at elaborate affairs but her little informal dinners and luncheons are among the loveliest of the society affairs. This week, on Thursday, she entertained informally at luncheon in honor of Judge and Mrs. Elbert Gary, who came to Honolulu in the Matsucia, and for the Prince and Princess Kalaniana'ole and Mrs. McNeill. A dainty arrangement of flowers ornamented the table where covers were laid for the guests.

Mrs. C. S. Holloway a Hostess.
One of the very delightful affairs of this week was the pot luncheon at which Mrs. C. S. Holloway entertained on Wednesday, honoring Mrs. C. L. Wight and Mrs. E. A. Reception at Washington Place.
Judge and Mrs. Elbert H. Gary, who arrived in Honolulu this week, were received informally by Queen Liliuokalani at her home, Washington Place, on Wednesday. The affair was very quiet. The guests included Prince and Princess Kalaniana'ole, Judge and Mrs. Elbert Gary, Mrs. Hubert Vos, Mrs. McNeill and Mrs. John Dominis.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson's Dinner.
Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bradley, who are visiting Honolulu and are guests at the Moana hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson entertained at a prettily appointed dinner on Tuesday evening. The table was handsomely decorated with vari-colored hibiscus interspersed with maiden-hair fern. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Campbell, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. High, Senator and Mrs. Charles Chillingworth and the host and hostess.

Women Taking the Place of Men.
With the great European war taking the men from all forms of occupation in the European business world the women of the belligerent countries are fast taking their place in stores, in the fields and in many other places. Only recently despatches from London have said that a municipal school has been started in the western part of the city where girls can learn to become efficient grocery clerks in six weeks and that a class of 30 young women is working diligently in the course. Tuition at this school is free and the girls must support themselves on $3 a week from the Prince of Wales fund.

In other cities the women are railway conductors and motormen and have proved themselves quite as efficient as their brothers and fathers, in fact in this business they are so capable that there is some question of allowing women to hold the positions even after the war. In Germany the women are operating trains and are doing their part towards keeping the business world in running order.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Matson Here.
Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Matson, whose marriage in Australia was a surprise to the many friends of the groom here, arrived in Honolulu this week on the Niagara, and will make their home here.

Mrs. Matson was Miss Esther Gwendolyn Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gould of Carnegie, a suburb of Melbourne. Mrs. Matson is an Australian girl but lived in the states for seven years with her family, and received a large part of her education in Cincinnati. The family afterward moved to Seattle, residing there three years. Her two brothers are with the Australian expeditionary force at the Dardanelles.

Mr. Matson met Miss Gould in Seattle, when he was a member of the editorial staff of a Seattle paper. Several months ago he left Honolulu for the south but so successfully had he kept his secret for two years here that it was not until he wrote to local friends that there was even a hint of the romance.

They were married in the Christian church at Carnegie, on July 3. After a few days of sightseeing in Sydney they sailed for Honolulu. At present they are stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Will Wayne, and expect to begin housekeeping shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Thompson Entertain.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bradley, who are visiting in Honolulu, were guests of honor at an elaborately appointed dinner on Wednesday evening at which Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Thompson entertained. The table was very prettily arranged with Chinese baskets and tall silver vases filled with Cecil Bruner roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley have been in Honolulu about two months and have been entertained at a number of social affairs during their stay in the islands. Mr. Bradley is regarded as one of the foremost mining engineers in the world. He has been in Honolulu regaining his health, which has not been good for some time. The Bradleys are leaving for their mainland home in the Matsucia next Wednesday.

Miss Shirley Foster, who has returned to Honolulu from Hilo to spend the summer.

Mrs. E. A. Jones has invited a large number of Honolulu's younger set to a dance at the Country Club on Tuesday evening honoring her three daughters, Helen, Margaret and Catherine. The affair will be a Calico ball, and each guest is to be attired in a calico garment.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph of Charleston, South Carolina, arrived in the Matsucia to visit Mr. Randolph's sister, Mrs. R. W. Adams, wife of Lieutenant-Colonel Adams of Fort Shafter. They will remain during the remainder of the summer months, with perhaps a trip to the Volcano House on Hawaii.

De Witt Gibson, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Gibson, is expected to return to the islands the latter part of this month, after an absence of about five years. He is a graduate of Punahou Academy and Culver Military Academy, Culver, Indiana. For the past two years, however, he has been in St. Paul, Kansas. He will visit Indianapolis and the fair before returning to the islands.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hastings Howland are among the passengers expected in Honolulu in the Lurline next week. Mr. Howland, who resided here some years ago, was assistant superintendent of public works. He is a member of a prominent Boston family and his wife, who is a talented musician, is well known in musical circles both in the East and West. While in Hawaii Mr. Howland was prominent in musical circles, as he has a splendid bass voice.

Informal affairs have been the most prominent and popular of entertainments this summer among the younger set. Just why no one knows excepting that they are all "in" and of being stiff and formal. They like to go to a shirtwaist dance (a matter of personal taste and one which the host or hostess decides) and they like the impromptu affairs. Breakfasts at the beach are reviving as they did last summer. A crowd of young people walk or motor to Waialae, the Outrigger Club generally, at about 8 o'clock; indulge in an early dip and then breakfast in their bathing costumes. An easy form of entertainment to say nothing about the healthful advan-

Every woman owes it to herself to look more beautiful and of course Style and Proper Figure-Support are equally important considerations. Correct corsetting is naturally essential to the attainment of these three ideals.

Redfern Corsets are the maximum of correct style. They are also so constructed that every pair will have in every part the maximum of value at its price. For instance, each pair has either a ground top or a reinforced front clasp. In all corsets the boning wires and steels are sewed into interlinings.

Just imagine wearing dull, almost drab, corsets with dainty laces and delicate lingerie! Yet for a long time women wore corset cloths that would not be endured in any other garment. NOW, in Redfern Corsets, any beautiful cloth that will stand the test of quality and wear is used. There are white cloths that are PURE WHITE, and there are brocades and silks that will harmonize with the daintiest of lingerie.

We carry all styles in Redfern Corsets. Fashion dictates that corsets shall be higher yet, but there is still a big demand for the low-bust corset.

Warner's Rustproof Corsets.

All Warner Corsets are guaranteed not to rust, break or tear. In gaining this durability neither lightness or flexibility have been sacrificed.

Warner boning is double. Warner corsets are strong, but not stiff. One Warner style has a liberal number of rubber sections—a corset designed for the athletic woman who requires great flexibility in such a garment, yet without sacrificing the ability to stand the strain of active wear.

Our new Warner models are the last word as to style and comfort. $1.00 to $5.00

No woman should have less than two pairs of corsets. Alternate wearing is ultimately cheaper and always better.

We should like to show you, Madame or Miss, the style most appropriate for your figure. Will you permit us to, and soon!
