

POLO

This year the polo people have been elaborately entertained. There has been some form of merry-making for the visiting players and their parties nearly every moment of their stay in Honolulu. Tuesday at Heine's Tavern was reserved as "polo night", and many dinner parties were given at the tavern that night. The tavern was very elaborately decorated with ferns and flowers and the colors of each of the teams were in evidence. Over the "Polo Table," at which Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham presided, and at which 25 guests were seated, hung three large baskets draped with the colors of each team and the table was decorated with miniature polo sticks and balls, again showing the colors of the teams. Sweet peas and African daisies also graced this table. Among the hosts at dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Col. and Mrs. Charles Bromwell, Miss Lila McDonald and Miss Harriet Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. C. Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Matheson, Lieut. and Mrs. Harold Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Waterman, Miss Butler, Lieut. and Mrs. Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macfarlane.

Polo Dinner at Heine's Tavern.

One of the largest subscription dinners ever given at Heine's Tavern was that at which Mrs. Charles Bromwell was the hostess. The affair came on Tuesday evening, when there were no many polo parties. The table was elaborately decorated with red African daisies, which formed an attractive centerpiece, and the bright flowers were strewn the length of the table with fronds of maidenhair fern. The guests were Colonel and Mrs. Charles Bromwell, Colonel and Mrs. B. W. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Randolph, Colonel John McMahon, Major W. S. Guignard, Captain and Mrs. G. H. Accompanying them is their daughter, Mrs. Williams of Greenville, Mississippi. Another daughter, Mrs. Clinton of Greenville, will also be here, and there will be a family reunion at the home of the James Howells, who will entertain extensively for them.—San Francisco Bulletin.

A Trip to Ginger.

The Misses Marguerite Briand, Dorothy Winter, Helen Center, Gertrude Ripley, Effie Briand and Mildred Chapin, motored up Nuuanu Valley to a favorite swimming pool called Ginger in their bathing suits. After a swim they opened up a picnic lunch and returned to the city in time to make up a polo party.

Pleasant Swimming Tea on Tuesday.

Miss Anne Atherholt and Miss Margaret Sisson, who are house-guests of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Baird for the summer, entertained at an informal swimming tea on Tuesday afternoon for a few of their friends. The party donned their bathing costumes at the Baird home at Walkiki and walked up to the Outrigger Club, where they had a swim, after which they returned and were served refreshments on the cool lanai. Among those present were Miss Elizabeth Carter, Miss Phoebe Carter, Miss E. Scott, Marie Ballentyne, Miss Maud Ballentyne, Miss Catherine Johnson, Miss Jere Berg, Miss Lila McDonald, Miss Dorothy Guild and Miss Bertha Kopke.

Dance at the Pleasanton Hotel on Monday Night.

A large dance at which the members of the visiting polo teams and members of the local teams were the guests of honor took place at the Pleasanton hotel on Monday night, the affair being given by the hotel management. It is said to have been the most successful dance given in the history of the hotel's gayeties, there having been about 200 of the representative men and women of the city present. A large number of the service set were there. Several dinner parties, some informal, others more elaborate, were given, among them being parties at which the hosts were H. B. Weller, Bert Clark, Miss Margaret Looney, Maj. and Mrs. B. D. Case, W. A. Prausnitz and others.

The interior of the hotel was gaily decorated in the colors of the polo team—black and gold for Maui, blue and white for Oahu and red and black and blue and gold for the Army. Polo sticks and balls were also added to the effectiveness of the decorations. This dance was one of the largest and best attended affairs of the week.

Captain and Mrs. James H. Brown Entertain.

Captain and Mrs. James H. Brown entertained last week in honor of Admiral and Mrs. C. B. T. Moore, who departed on Tuesday of last week in the Moana. The dinner was given on the deck of the Thetis, which was decorated for the occasion. A dainty centerpiece was formed of a basket of pink roses tied with graceful bows of blue tulle. Place-cards which marked the cover of each were hand-painted vignettes of the Thetis. An Hawaiian quartet furnished music throughout the dinner. There were present: Admiral and Mrs. C. B. T. Moore, Colonel and Mrs. Frank Cheatham, Colonel and Mrs. Charles Bromwell, Admiral Boush, Lieutenant and Mrs. W. H. Munter, Mrs. Wilson, Stanley Parker, Captain and Mrs. Stanley Guild and Miss Bertha Kopke.

ABOUT GIRDLES.

Girdles which used to encircle mid-ady's dainty waist are not to be found in that region this season. They have moved upward, most of them, to give the new high-waisted effect. From this high position they are apt to wander in and out of drapery, often creeping under the full skirt to be in a part at the front or back of the hem. One pretty girdle had three long loops falling directly under each other, and in the end of each loop was caught a full-blown pink rose. Another girdle of sulphur yellow was completely hidden by the chiffon waist that you could only see at its presence on the floor.

Mrs. Harold E. Nichols, wife of Lieut. Nichols of Fort Ruger, who leaves next week for an extended visit on the mainland.
