PLAYS 'GIRL THAT HE FORGOT'

"The Girl That He Forgot," which will be the feature picture at the Popular theater during the coming week, opening tonight, carries a plot that is out of the ordinary and full of interest. The story was written by Beulah Poynter, who also is the star in the production, and the scenes have been laid in a lumber camp.

The leading character in the play is June Holly. She is accused of the murder of her baby and after a trial is convicted and sentenced to the gallows. The governor refuses to commute the sentence and there follows in the death cell all the incidents and agonies a young woman would have to pass through who had to face the gallows.

The principals in the play are June Holly, a young lumberjack and a city youth, the son of the president of the lumber company. The city lad falls in love with the girl and although he seems to forget her when she returns to the wilds the love is still there. Her child dies while the girl is returning to her old home and she leaves the body in the woods, where it is found. Then follows the murder charge, the trial and the condemnation. However, everything turns out in a happy manner.

Miss Poynter is a clever actress. She resembles Mary Pickford in manner and appearance. There will be a matinee tomorrow afternoon. Comedy and scenic films round out the program.

BIG FIGHT AGAINST INTemperance

Driving booze from the railroad industry is merely a matter of legislation on the part of the company officials as is demonstrated in "Rule G," the thrilling railroad drama now being offered at the Liberty theater. "Rule G" preaches a temperance sermon but does so in a manner that is most interesting and thrilling.

Aside from its moral recommendations this picture is most exciting. The entire equipment of a railroad company—one of the largest in the West—was donated for the making of this picture. Ancient engines were supplied for the purpose of reproducing wrecks and experienced railroaders were loaned to the producing company to carry out the desired effects. There is a "punch" in every foot of this film, with a moral running from end to end. It is Rufus Steele's first offering to the screen.

"The Exploits of Elaine" are also thrillers, the "Clutching Hand" being uncovered during the present episode and proving a genuine surprise. "The Later Exploits of Elaine" will commence next week and the story will continue to appear in the Saturday Star-Bulletin.

AUSTRALIA WILL SEND MUNITIONS TO WAR FIELDS

[Associated Press] MELBOURNE, Aus.—Steps are being taken by the Commonwealth government, state governments and by firms and individuals to try to supply the imperial Government with munitions, in view of the enormous importance in this war of unceasing provisions of shells and the like.

The general idea is to organize the facilities of Australia in this direction, and to this end the minister for defense, Senator George F. Pearce, has named a special committee to go into the correlative questions of the amount and character of the war material being furnished to the federal government by Australian manufacturers; the government's own manufacture of war material; and the contracts now in force between the British War Office and the Australian manufacturers. This committee, which will be almost a departmental body in its functions, will cooperate with committees which are to be chosen by commercial bodies.

MAUI NEWS

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) WAILUKU, Aug. 6.—County Engineer Hugh Howell moved a few days ago from Wailuku to his Kulaha home. His mother and children are to live with him there, and he has given up his Wailuku home. The house he occupied in Wailuku has been taken by Angus McPhee, who is expecting his mother and sister from Wyming to come to Wailuku and spend some time with him.

At an important meeting of the Alexander House committee held this morning at the home of the workers, it was voted to begin the repairs on the building immediately. A board will be used on the walls, and the verandas will be renewed, and other improvements that are greatly needed begun.

Leroy Baker, formerly with the Met-calf Clothing Company of Honolulu, arrived on Maui last week Wednesday to begin work as bookkeeper for Honolulu Ranch. Last Saturday Mrs. Baker came up from Honolulu and the couple have a cottage on the ranch premises just below the coffee warehouse toward the sea.

Mrs. Kawahoe Kamahele, an aunt of M. C. Ross of Wailuku, died on Sunday night at the age of 60. She was well known on Maui. The funeral was under the direction of burial associations of Maui.

Gaby Deslys drew large houses on Maui this past week, and it is expected that "The Hypocrites" will make record nights while the show is on. It is booked for three different playhouses on Maui.

Miss Carolyn E. Church, who has been visiting Maui friends, returns tomorrow on the Claudine to Kamehameha Schools, preparing the work for the coming year.

The friends of Rev. and Mrs. J. Charles Villiers left for the coast on the Lurline Saturday. They were much pleased with the beauties of Maui scenery.

Repairs on the Maunaolu Seminary under the direction of Miss E. A. L. Heuser, principal, are about completed. The building is now in excellent condition.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Field are spending a few days at the Waihee Beach house. They will probably be gone in all about two weeks.

EDISON SOLVES TIMING PROBLEM

Edison's kinetophone is each evening causing surprise among the patrons of the Bijou theater where this, the latest addition to the motion picture world, is being given its initial trial in Honolulu. That it is a success the name of Thomas A. Edison guarantees; that it is a popular innovation the crowds at the Bijou guarantee.

A number of years ago an effort to produce speaking motion pictures was instituted in the large eastern cities but failed of success for the reason that it was not then possible to gauge the time of the talking machine to the time of the picture. The voice was consistently a trifle ahead or a trifle behind the picture, and as a result numerous ludicrous situations were developed. With comedy following closely on the heels of tragedy the tragic lines were spoken as the comedy was acted and the reverse; as a consequence the promoters were compelled to abandon their plan and await the pleasure of Edison—the Wizard.

A nicely varied bill is being presented at the Bijou for the first half of the week with an entire change for Thursday night.

A FALSE STANDARD OF CULTURE

has gained ground in this century which looks upon the bearing and rearing of children as something coarse and vulgar and to be avoided, but the advent of eugenics means much for the motherhood of the race. Happy is the wife who, though weak and ailing, depends upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore her to health, and when headaches and backaches are a thing of the past, brave sons and fair daughters rise up and call her blessed.—adv.

The government of India has placed restrictions on the exportation of hides. Exports to practically all neutral countries except the United States will be greatly hampered.

President Wilson pardoned Robert E. Hicks, of New York, who, after dodging for twelve years imprisonment for violating the Postal Code, gave up business and surrendered himself.

For YOU, Mr. Retailer

There are hundreds of stores in Honolulu, but how many of them are making more than a meagre living for the proprietors?

How many men are satisfied with the business they are doing?

If you answer these questions HONESTLY, Mr. Retailer, you will be forced to admit that YOU might do more business.

You can delude yourself by blaming it on the war; tactics of your competitors or even on hard times, but are YOU blameless YOURSELF? Are you making an effort to get business, or do you content yourself with Grouching over the lack of it?

Granting that general conditions are not of the best, are you preparing for a struggle against odds, or are you going to lie down and let the steam roller run over you?

The people must eat and they must buy clothes. If you want their business you must hustle for it. The man who advertises in the Star-Bulletin has more than five thousand boosters every week-day. If you have bargains to offer, let the people know about it, don't lock up your store and hide behind the counter. That's what you are doing when you refuse to advertise.

It is OUR business to promote YOUR business.

THINK it over, then arrange to TALK it over.
