THE TIME TO MAKE YOUR WILL

It is a great mistake to put off the making of your Will until it is either too late to be done at all or the document has to be drawn up in such a hurry that the best interests of those most concerned suffer.

Our Trust Department makes a feature of assisting in the drawing up of Wills and when named as Executor under the Will no charge is made for safeguarding it in our fire and burglar proof vaults.

Remember that under all circumstances a Trust Company is in every way the most satisfactory and reliable Executor under Will.

LAST CHANCE TO SEE 'UNAFRAID'

The last opportunity afforded to Honoluluans to witness Rita Jolivet and a splendid supporting company in "The Unafraid" will be tonight at the Liberty theater. This beautiful and clever actress has become a strong favorite with local photo-play fans during her short initial visit.

This dramatic romance is from the pen of Eleanor M. Ingram, and, prior to its picturization, proved a success on the legitimate stage. With the extended action of the picture and the wonderful Montenegrin scenery as added attractions it is "going big" in the silent drama.

Associated with Miss Jolivet is an excellent cast, including House and Page Peters.

The "Adventures of Kathlyn," also showing for the last time tonight, are thrillers that border on the melodramatic. They grip and hold the attention from start to finish.

NO SUNDAY NIGHT FILM AT POPULAR

There was a good attendance at the matinee at the Popular theater this afternoon, where "Jack Chanty," the great American photo-drama, featuring Max Figman and Lolita Robertson is holding the boards. This production will be shown again tonight, but there will be no special performance at the Popular Sunday night.

The members of the Knights of Pythias are making great preparations for the presentation of the picture entitled "Damon and Pythias" at the Popular, opening next Tuesday and running until Thursday, inclusive. This engagement will be under the auspices of the local lodges of the Knights of Pythias, the members of which are selling tickets, exchangeable at the theater for reserved seats. In view of the fact that the film was secured by the lodges at heavy expense, the Pythians have made the scale of prices commensurate with the magnificence of the feature. Already the sale of seats has been large.

JONES GETS INTO TROUBLE GALORE

When George Broadhurst strayed from the paths of heavy drama he gave to the stage and to the films a genuine comedy. During the present week Honoluluans are seeing "What Happened to Jones?" and appreciating his comedy efforts.

Last night was amateur night at the Bijou and six local acts, all bidding for theatrical fame, braved the good-natured audience which was satisfied with "What Happened to Jones?" These amateur performances are bringing out some local talent and acts that promise better things for the youthful artists.

There are still a number of laughs remaining in "What Happened to Jones?" and it will be shown again at the Bijou theater tonight.

Young Actress Out of Danger

Miss Jane O'Roark, the young actress who has been seriously ill at the Queen's hospital, and who is now reported to be entirely out of danger. A monster vaudeville bill has been arranged as a benefit for Miss O'Roark, to be presented at the Bijou theater next Wednesday evening. Tickets are now on sale at numerous places around the city. Many Ad Club members also are handling tickets for the affair.

GREEN UMBRELLA RIDDLE IS SOLVED

Another of the fascinating Alice Joyce series of features comes to the Empire theater today. It is "The Riddle of the Green Umbrella." Alice Joyce will enact the difficult role of Madeline Mack, a girl detective, in this story. She assumes the difficult task of solving the mystery of the death of Professor Helmer. The suspects are Professors Lloyd and Reynolds, both suitors for the hand of Dorothy, the daughter of the murdered man. How she runs the criminal to death, and how Reynolds endeavors to inflict a terrible fate upon the detective, brings the two-part photoplay to a startling climax. With Miss Joyce in the great story are Marguerite Courtot, a 17-year-old actress; Guy Combes, Jere Austin and James R. Roma. "The Curing of the Cook," a comedy produced by Will E. Smith, is "assumed to be a sure cure for the worst attack of blues." It deals with the trials attendant on suburban domestic life.

Arthur V. Johnston and Lottie Briscoe have collaborated in a comedy drama, "The Belated Honey Moon." The Empire program today will close with the presentation of a fine type of Broncho Billy drama, "Broncho Billy and the Vigilante" will feature G. M. Anderson in the leading role.

PASS FROM WONDER TO WONDER IN ONE HOUR'S TIME ON BIG ISLAND

Flaring in the eastern window of the Promotion Committee's rooms stands an oil painting of "The House of Everlasting Fire" at night, and below it a photograph of Halemaunau in the day time taken by Prof. F. A. Porrett. And between the two stretches a pleasant pastel of Cocconut island.

"The arrangement," said L. W. de Vis Norton, publicity agent for Hawaii, "indicates better than words could do the range of scenery in the island of Hawaii. Within a radius of one hour's traveling lie every possible modification of the landscape. For the lovers of the grand there is the 'House of Everlasting Fire'; for those who appreciate soft suggestion there are the unsurpassed beaches embraced with coral reefs, and for those who wish the inspiration of the picturesque, there is the crowning glory of Pololu gulch.

"Many people do not know that in the Pololu gulch there is a waterfall which indicates better than words wide fame. The trouble is that people only admire and wish to see that which they have been forewarned is beautiful. They even read the guide books to find the adjectives with which they can talk of Walkiki and the Pali when they return to their homes. But if they see Pololu gulch and Halemaunau, I'll wager that they will forget memorized adjectives when they try to describe the latter."

Flanking the three central pictures in the display, Mr. Norton has arranged views of the lava of Kilauea, a corner in Hilo, Maui Bay, the beach at Hilo, and other attractive pictures in color. On the whole the display catches the atmosphere of the Big Island admirably.

WANTS TWO NEW BUILDINGS ON CAPITOL SITE

Plans for improvements to the capitol grounds calling for an expenditure of from $125,000 to $150,000 have been made by Charles R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, and will be sent to the territorial legislature when it next meets, accompanied by a request for an appropriation of this amount of money.

The plans provide for concrete buildings, two in number, on the Ewa side of the grounds. One of these will be two stories in height, and will be just makai of the road which runs in from Richards street. The other, a three-story building, will be erected across the road mauka of the first. The first building will be used as a place for meetings of various territorial boards, the second will house the department of public works.

By the final adjudication of the estate of Miss Ellen Dyer, in the orphan's court at Bridgeton, N. J., today $30,000 is awarded to Helen Campbell of Denver and Elizabeth West-dorf, of Boston to be used "in the broadest interpretation of metaphysical thought."

Population of the canal zone has decreased 20 per cent, or 7,780 persons within a year.
