PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—California 5, Philadelphia 4. That is the way they are marking the score in the Quaker City today. Harry Hooper of Santa Barbara, Cal., and "Duffy" Lewis of Los Angeles were the real bonafide "day in the wool" heroes this afternoon when they won the game and the world's title for Boston by a score of 5 to 4.

It was a game of thrills throughout, and the spectators packed like sardines in a can were wild with enthusiasm. It is a hard game to describe. There were moments of joy, despair, comedy and real tragedy mixed into one. Boston had played its best bet when Carrigan sent George Foster to the mound against Erskine Mayer, and Foster had failed to stop the Phillies up to the eighth inning, while Mayer was taken out for Rixey, the Virginia southpaw.

Philadelphia fans had seated themselves back in their seats in the first of the eighth inning, satisfied that the Quakers would win. The score was 4 to 2 in favor of the locals, and the most rabid Boston fan hardly hoped for a victory. But they had not reckoned on two Californians on the Boston team.

The Red Sox got one man to first in the first of the eighth, and "Duffy" Lewis, a "Native Son," came to the bat. Eppa Jephtha Rixey, F. F. V. was on the mound. The spirit of the game was uppermost in "Duffy's" mind and, as the ball sailed toward the rubber, the left fielder reached for one of the Virginian's shots and lifted it far over the right field wall. The two runs came across the plate and Boston had a chance to win.

As Lewis reached the rubber the Boston players lifted him up and carried him to the bench amid the wild cheers of the Boston rooters. The Philadelphia fans had not yet given up hope, but Quaker stock had declined a few points. In the Phillies' half of the eighth, Foster was sending them back to the bench with his cross fire ball, and the Quakers failed to score.

HOOPER'S BIG HOMER.
When the first of the ninth came around it looked like an extra inning game, but the critics had not seen the last of the great work of the men from the Golden State. Harry Hooper wanted Santa Barbara to go down in baseball history with Los Angeles. As he walked to the plate the Boston fans urged him to get on first. Rixey towered above the Boston outfielder as he shot a fast one toward the waiting batter. Hooper swung, and as the bat hit the ball, the crowd realized that California had come into its own, and Cravath gave just one look, and the ball sailed far over his head, and Boston had secured a lead.

With a one-run lead, Foster went out on the hilltop in the last of the ninth and proved Carrigan's judgment in keeping him in the game by sending three dished-out Quakers back to the bench without a run.

EIGHT TARGETS FOR PUNCHBOWL TARGET RANGE

Frame Buildings, With Shower Baths and Reading Rooms, Part of Equipment

Active work on actual construction of the National Guard rifle range, parade ground and training camp on Punchbowl hill and in the crater will start tomorrow, as the result of inspections made today by Col. Samuel L. Johnson, the adjutant-general, and Capt. Charles R. Forbes of the engineer company, and yesterday by these two officials and Governor Lucius E. Pinkham.

Preliminary work, which consisted of clearing the site of brush, weeds and trees which obstructed clear vision, has been completed after three weeks of labor performed by a gang of 24 territorial prisoners. The first work to be done on the range will be the digging of rifle pits, or trenches, from which the guardsmen will shoot.

Governor Pinkham is very enthusiastic over the site and believes it can be made one of the finest rifle ranges and parade grounds in the islands or the states," said Col. Johnson this morning before starting out on a second visit to Punchbowl in company with Capt. Forbes of the engineer company, which company will supervise the actual laying out of the range and permanent quarters there as a part of its first activities in solving engineering problems for the National Guard of Hawaii.

"Our present plans are to set up eight targets, sufficient for an entire battalion to shoot at at one time," said Col. Johnson today. "We have secured the targets already from the war department. They are the regulation army target frame, the same as those used in the regular army. Add More Targets Later."

"Later on, as more new companies are mustered in, more targets will be added. The targets will be placed on the hill end of the site, with bulkheads and a terraced bank 30 feet high back of them. If any guardsman does such poor shooting that he misses the target, that 30-foot bank back of it will act as a backstop. If he shoots over that he is such a bad marksman that we don't want him."

Much of the rough work will be (Continued on page two.)

ANOTHER MATSON VESSEL IS BEST PLAN FOR HAWAII

Chamber of Commerce Committee of 15 Also Urges That Great Northern Be Asked To Come Here

BOOKING SYSTEM USED HERE IS GIVEN RAP

All Further Attempts to Work for Coastwise Suspension Should Be Dropped, Says Report

Submitting its report on ocean traffic conditions to the committee of 15 of the Chamber of Commerce, the subcommittee of five today offered four general recommendations, which were adopted by the parent body, and which will be submitted as the report of the committee of 15 to the Chamber of Commerce. The four recommendations are published in full in another portion of today's paper.

Briefly outlined they are as follows: First: That in view of the fact that the reports submitted to the committee by the Matson company show a good business, and that the company has done much in the unbuilding of ocean traffic to and from the islands, that the matter of building another Matson should be taken up with the company by the Chamber of Commerce.

Second: That if anything can be done toward bringing the Great Northern to this port for a six months' trial the question should not be dropped.

Third: That discussions of the coastwise suspension law should be dropped.

Fourth: That the present faulty system of booking in common use in Honolulu should be remedied, and that the matter of putting more stringent rules on booking, with higher deposit fees, should be taken up with the local companies. In closing his report Chairman A. L. Castle, who delivered it for his subcommittee, expressed his thanks for the hearty cooperation which was granted him by the steamship companies that complied with his request for passenger and freight data.

Nine members of the committee of 15 were present when the meeting was called to order by Chairman L. Tenney Peck who stated the purpose of the meeting and at once asked Mr. Castle to report.

Chairman Peck through the authority voted him by the other members signed the report following its reading by Mr. Castle. The subcommittee's report will go complete to the Chamber of Commerce, as the report asked for from the committee of 15.

(The report of the committee of 15 is published on page 7 today.)

BROWN THINKS ASHFORD INFLUENCED BY PLEA

Says Grand Jury Committee Secured Leniency By Presentation of Statement

Louis Abrams, erstwhile secretary and a director of the Hawaiian Trust Company, who, with Frank L. Hoogs, was yesterday sentenced to pay a fine of $1000 and costs after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement returned to Honolulu to face the charges at the instance and expense of the trust company, and not entirely upon his own volition, according to a statement made today by John R. Galt, treasurer and manager of the company.

Manager Galt said that while Mr. Abrams was in San Francisco certain shortages were discovered in his accounts, and that indications were that such shortages could be accounted for only by Abrams. The company's attorneys also were confident that Abrams was responsible, Mr. Galt added.

When confronted by the charge of alleged shortages by Finckler detectives in San Francisco, who had been advised of the circumstances by the Hawaiian Trust Company, Abrams expressed a willingness to return to Honolulu, stating that he could make satisfactory explanations, the manager continued.

Resignation Asked For. Shortly after his arrival in Honolulu, Abrams' resignation as secretary and a director was requested by the officials of the trust company. Abrams complied with the request, Mr. Galt concluded.

By a deed of trust, what is believed to be all of Abrams' property has been (Continued on page two.)

THREE NEW T. K. K. VESSELS TO CALL GOING TO JAPAN

Asano Asks Government Permission for South American Liners to Carry Passengers

S. Asano, President of the T. K. K. Company.

(Special to Hawaii Shingo) TOKIO, Oct. 13.—At the urgent request of President S. Asano of the T. K. K. Company, the department of communication of Japan has given the company permission to make Honolulu a port of call for three of its steamers plying between the Orient and South America. The three steamers which will carry passengers between Honolulu and Japanese ports are the Inyo Maru, Koyo Maru and Seiryu Maru.

It is understood that the boats will make the trip from the Orient to South America, but will not carry any passengers between Honolulu and South American ports. No date has been set for the first call at Honolulu, but it is probable that the company will at once take advantage of the permission granted by the government and the next boat will probably be routed via Honolulu.

Greece insists that she will maintain armed neutrality, adding that she does not consider the situation as purely Balkan, affecting only the Balkan nations, and that therefore she is not bound by the treaty with Serbia to aid the Serbs against the Bulgarians. This treaty, negotiated after Bulgaria broke with the other Balkan states near the close of the Balkan-Turkish war, is held by Greece to be applicable only when the situation does not extend in scope beyond the nations which at that time participated in the treaty.
