25th Infantry Startle Fans By Great Playing

Colored Soldiers Outclass St. Louis in Every Department of Game—Jasper Keeps Hits Scattered Throughout, Blanking the Locals for Nine Innings—Lang Akana Makes Big Circuit Catch in Seventh Inning, Stopping Sure Homer—St. Louis Presented Changed Lineup

When you come to sum it all up it is mighty difficult to find an alibi for an 11 to 0 game. It is mighty hard to make people believe it was an exciting game, and the fact of the matter is it wasn't. Twenty-fifth Infantry 11, St. Louis 0. That was the score, and that just about represented the difference in the two teams that were out for the championship yesterday afternoon at Athletic park.

It was unfortunate that the fans who gathered in great numbers could not see the game, as the ball field was so close to the stands that the bleachers were packed. It was worth a trip out to the ball field yesterday to see the 25th Infantry team in action. There is no way of getting around the fact that they outclassed the locals in every department of the game and there was as much difference between the two aggregations as there is between Boston Americans and the Baltimore Federals.

Twenty-fifth Play Great Ball.
You don't find much better ball playing anywhere than was given the fans by the colored team yesterday afternoon, and the way they held the St. Louis team down proved that they are the one best bet for any championship that is hanging around these parts. Jasper was a big star. He sent some of the heavy hitters back to the bench and kept the hits scattered. He isn't much with the stick. In fact he couldn't hit a farm with a hay rake, but when he mounted the hilltop he came into his own.

Capt. Rogan kept up a running fire of talk that had the boys on their toes throughout, and the fans were treated to some mighty fast holding. Smith, Willis and Fagan made a number of good plays around the infield and Swinton held down the initial sack in the fashion. Crafton Johnson and Willis were the demons with the brazier, securing three singles apiece. Franco and Janssen secured two apiece during the fray.

While the fans are hanging around the laurels to the men who starred, take a big piece of the same and hand it to Lang Akana. Willis had been hitting the ball hard all day and in the seventh he hit one toward the fence that looked like a sure homer. The ball sailed and sailed and then refused to sail. Akana started with the crack of the bat and raced after the ball and making one wild stab with his gloved hand as the ball was going over his head reached it and saved the homer. The crowd cheered him and when he came back to the bench the 25th Infantry rooters gave him the credit due by cheering justly.

Barney Joy was on the hilltop for the locals for a period, but wandered far out into left field when the big gins of the 25th got in action and Janssen took the firing line, but was also received in like manner. Neither mousing artist stopped the hitting to any extent, and the game became a contest of figures not class.

Plenty of Scoring.
The 25th scored in the second when Johnson and Smith singled. They scored in the second when Willis singled. Crafton tripled and Johnson doubled. They scored two more in the fourth when Gollath walked, went to third on Willis' hit and then stole home while Barney was standing in the box. Willis scored on an error. Three runs came across in the fifth on a walk and three hits. Crafton singled in the sixth and scored on two infield outs. In the eighth Rogan doubled, Crafton singled, Fagan doubled and two more runs made a total of 11.

Barney Joy singled in the second, Janssen singled in the third, Franco singled in the fifth, Albert Akana hit safely in the sixth and no chance for a run. Jasper was keeping his hits scattered throughout and the holding of the colored soldiers was the best seen here in some time. The score:

BOB MICHAELS NOT ON CRUISER MARYLAND

When the crew of the U. S. cruiser Maryland heard the report that "Big Bob" Michaels had returned to Honolulu on the big warship, a loud horse-laugh went up.

Michaels is not with the Maryland any more. He has not been for nearly two months. The big fellow, who was acknowledged the best boxer on the ship, was transferred to the H-2 when the Maryland reached San Francisco for the purpose of bringing the K fit to this port.

"Big Bob" has his new station at San Pedro, where the H-2 is located, with other submarines of the H flotilla. Michaels was an electrician of the third class on board the Maryland. His brother, Fred Michaels, a gunner's mate of the third class, is on the ship yet. "Bob" was on the Maryland nearly three years when transferred.

than once and more than twice only a single point stood between Johnson and the championship, but Mac fought him off. It was wind and muscle, not heart, that failed.

Maurice McLoughlin virtually defeated himself in the final round of the Seabright invitation tennis tournament.

There is such a thing in tennis as a "McLoughlin model" racket, for which the Titan-haired Californian is sponsor, inasmuch as he always uses this model; and its efficiency is attested to by the many triumphs the coast star has gained with this self-same model.

Karl Behr used a "McLoughlin model" racket in beating McLoughlin for the high honor of meeting Richard Norris Williams in the challenge round.

The next time McLoughlin faces Behr he may use a "Behr model" racket, even if he has to rename his own "bat."

Austin White Has Low Score In Manoa Play

"The first shall be last and the last shall be first." That expression will answer for the play of yesterday at the Oahu Country Club. Austin White, who was the first winner of the Manoa Cup tournament is the last winner of the same cup. In the play of yesterday White defeated Willard Grace over the 36 holes, making the same score as in last Sunday's play, the two rounds in 159.

In the first 18 holes yesterday the golfers were playing a sterling game, and White turned in a score of 78 while Grace had 83 for the first round. White continued to play a steady game throughout and his driving and putting was up to the standard of last week. In this round Grace was far off his game. He went into the rough and smashed his approaching masher and with a new club failed to play anywhere near up to form, and turned in a score of 93 for the last 18.

White Plays Sterling Game.
White is to be considered one of the best golfers in the islands on the result of his last two matches. He has played consistent golf throughout, and considering the fact that he has not played over the course more than four or five times in the last two years his scores in the last two tournaments have been remarkable.

Grace started off well in the first round, but in the second round was off his game and could not get going. White was playing his shots nicely throughout the game, and was never in danger of defeat after the first round. A large crowd was present yesterday, and much interest was taken in the final match of the play for the Manoa Cup.

CHINESE DEFEAT P. A. C. TEAM AT ATHLETIC PARK

The Chinese baseball aggregation won the first leg in the race for the championship yesterday afternoon in the first game of a double header at Athletic Park. The Portuguese had the gate open all afternoon and infield hits went bobbing back and forth and the Chinese ran around the bases. The game ended 7 to 4 in favor of the Chinese.

Easter was out of season and did not remain long in the box and Blundy Williams attempted to stop the slugging, and for a while the P. A. C. aggregation made a sport, but it was short-lived and the Chinese pitchers held them safe. Had the losers fielded as well as they hit, they might have been winners, but their loose fielding was responsible for their defeat.

So Sue first up for the Chinese, doubled. Kai Luke singled, Kan Yen singled, and two runs were scored in the first. They scored one in the third on a hit, two in the fourth, one in the fifth, and one in the seventh. P. A. C. did not score until the sixth, when Flier singled, Easter singled, and M. Ornelas tripled, scoring two runs. In the eighth they annexed two more on three safe hits.

FEDERAL BENCH?

"Would Take It if Offered," He Says, But is Not Here to Displace Anyone

That Hon. Sanford B. Dole, the veteran judge of the local United States court, will retire upon the expiration of his term next month, and that he will be replaced by Horace W. Vaughan, former congressman and now assistant U. S. district attorney for Hawaii, is the summary of a rumor which is making the round in local legal circles these days.

When the first news of Mr. Vaughan's coming was published in the Star-Bulletin it was persistently rumored that the former Texan would sooner or later succeed Jeff McCann as U. S. district attorney. This rumor, however, has given way to a report that Mr. Vaughan is slated to succeed Judge Dole.

It was with a broad smile that Judge Dole greeted the information regarding the rumor.

"My term expires in November," he said, "but I know nothing about this rumor. I have not heard it."

Only recently Judge Dole, in a statement to the Star-Bulletin, said that, were it offered to him, he would accept a reappointment as senior judge of the federal court.

He reiterated that statement today. Like Judge Dole, Mr. Vaughan also smiled broadly when told of the rumor. "Not trying to Displace Anyone."

"I am not undertaking to displace anyone," he declared. "I was requested to come here by the attorney-general, and, as far as the government's having any views toward putting me in any other position, I know nothing about it."

The assistant district attorney went on to say that he knows Attorney-gen-

Punahou Wins Easily From Mills Bantams

Heavier Team Marched Down Field for Seven Touchdowns at Alexander Field—Mills Makes Hard Fight Against Overwhelming Odds, Running Off Many Clever Plays—Napahaa, Correo and Kauhane Make Big Gains for Punahou—Score Ends 47 to 0 in Favor of Punahou

The old story that beef and speed will beat speed alone was exemplified Saturday afternoon when the light team from Mills School was defeated by the heavier Punahou eleven by a score of 47 to 0. The score would lead one to believe that the game was featureless, but the Mills players fought hard throughout, and surprised their opponents on many occasions by working out clever plays. Fumbling was much in evidence Saturday, which cost the lightweights several points.

Mills made fumbles at critical times and twice Kauhane picked up the piskin and raced down the field for a touchdown. Mills' line was also very weak, and time and again Baldwin, Kauhane and Stephens would break through and block a kick. Punahou got the ball in the middle of the field but lost it again when Liberato caught a forward pass. After making a successful pass, Mills lost the ball on downs, and Punahou kicked. Mills fumbled and Napahaa made a run of 15 yards. Mills was penalized five yards for holding and Correo made a touchdown. Punahou kicked to Mills' 15-yard line and after a number of bucks Mills kicked off-side. Punahou tried a forward pass, but it was caught by Mills and the game ended with the ball on Mills' 25-yard line. Score, Punahou 47, Mills 0.

YOUNG BRAVES WIN CLOSE GAME FROM YOUNG PACIFICS

The Young Braves defeated the Young Pacifics in a fast game at Punahehu Crater yesterday afternoon by a score of 9 to 8. Neither side had an advantage throughout and the game was in doubt until the last inning was played. John Silva pitched for the winners, and kept his hits well scattered. The lineup of the victors were:

DENTIST PROTESTS JURY PRICE FOR KISSES TOO HIGH

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Dr. Louis J. Chayes, a dentist, objects so strenuously to paying for kisses at the rate of $125 a minute that he has filed in the supreme court notice of an appeal from an award made to Miss Alice Bennett 17 years old, and once his assistant. Moreover, he asserts he never got the kisses.

Miss Bennett asserts that in 1913 when she was but 15 she went to work for the dentist. One day, she testified, the doctor clasped her in his arms and kissed her.

The jury wanted to know how long she had been kissed.

"Two minutes," answered the plaintiff.

"And how many times did he kiss you?"

"Twice."

Miss Bennett wanted $10,000, but the jury figured that $125 a kiss would be sufficient and awarded the plaintiff $250.

Dr. Chayes denied ever having pressed his lips to those of Miss Bennett.

College of Hawaii Has Advantage Over McKinley

Austin Stars in Game at Moliili Field When He Scores Two Touchdowns for College—Melim and Sam Carter Play Good Game for McKinley—College Shows Best Work in Back Field and Leads Throughout Contest—McKinley Improves Their Play Over Last Saturday.

With a superior backfield that tore holes through their opponent's line and smothered the ends, pushing back the secondary defense, the College of Hawaii eleven defeated the McKinley High School team at Moliili field Saturday afternoon and left a score-board that read 17 to 0.

Two times Austin, from last year's Punahou team, carried the ball over for touchdowns and then Brown dropped back for exactly 28 yards. The high school had only one chance during the entire game of really scoring, and this was thrown away by the poor pass of McKinley's center.

The game was a good, clean and at most times a fast one. The spirit between the two teams was of the best, and at no time was there any element of crabbing which has at times marred the enjoyment of the local football games. Lionel Brash was seen in action for the first time arrayed against his former teammates of last year, and although the very best of feelings prevailed nevertheless he played his old job of fighting game and tore his hair through the line for repeated gains.

Both back fields looked strong, fully lost the lines were also just as well organized their defense. It was also being everything its own way and in first downs were made by both teams and have been made in an interesting game for many a day.

The local High School Starts Strong.

At the kickoff High School chose to receive and what followed showed their good judgment. For with a back after another, time after time Mr. School backfield tore around right of gains. This continued until the High School was getting under the shadow of the College goal. At this juncture Austin appealed to his line to hold the crush. Here the joker in the game occurred, for as Austin glanced along his left line it looked undersize and as he counted off, men he found he was one short. This was called and Pratt was called for the sidelines to make a tulized team.

College Has Good Sidelines.

A good sized crowd gathered to see the game. The College of Hawaii is represented by a group of young sportsmen who, without the formality of section leaders, cheered on their teammates with several original yells. The High School, as always, displayed their loyalty to their team in organized roars of cheering. The spirit of the High School in the game seemed the best it has been in a long time. Too much credit cannot be given to Harry Melim, who works in his limit every minute, now encoy today, aking, now inging on, always playing. McLoughlin's Coat McLoughlin, with his long, white coat falling from the shoulders that are usually so square, but that then drooped a little, was watching Teddy Fall and another enthusiast as they carried Billy Johnston, his head high with the glory of victory and of youth, from the green grass carpet of the field. The old omen was fading, and tennis worshippers were turning to the new star.

McLoughlin was tired. He, who had fought those masters of the game, Brookes and Wilding, with the fierceness and agility of a red panther and an endurance which appeared inexhaustible, and had beaten them and then bounded joyfully from the court, was weary. So he stood quietly, with a half smile on his lips and the look in his eyes that many a beaten champion has worn as he listened to the cheers for his successor.

Suddenly his hands clutched him. Startled, he was swung into the air and then made his exit, borne by his admirers, more as a conquering hero than as a warrior leaving the field of his defeat.

Then, how the crowd did cheer! It is always a wonderful thing to see the making of a new champion. We are a conservative people. Never do we admit that the new is better than the old until we have been shown. No matter what the record or the claims of the challenger may be, we always send the champion to raise his favorite. Bitterly we mourn his fall and blithely we turn to his successor, ever again hailing the unbeaten as the unbeatable.

The Same Fighting Spirit

The same fighting spirit whose flame made the California Comet the marvel of the tennis world burned brightly in his recent match. More
