Singapore Chinese Receive Embassy of Sun Yat Sen With Open Arms, and Raise Fund to Aid Revolution

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji.) TOKIO, Nov. 5.—The Japanese government has sent a note to the Peking government asking that the Chinese president guarantee Japan that there will be peace in China.

The note states that Yuan Shih-Kai must bear the responsibility of any uprising in China that may follow his plans for establishing a monarchy—a plan of which Japan has expressed disapproval.

Count Okuma was called by the emperor yesterday to discuss the Chinese situation. After Count Okuma left the Palace he immediately called the Japanese cabinet together and the Chinese question was discussed.

It was at this meeting that the cabinet decided to demand of Yuan Shih-Kai a guarantee of peace in the Chinese republic.

That the Chinese of Hawaii should join together in the movement to aid in preserving the republic of China, is a statement made by Chan Bak Kong, president of the national party in Singapore. Kong also states that the Chinese in foreign possessions are opposed to Yuan Shih-Kai becoming emperor. In a letter to the Liberty News of Honolulu, the writer reviews the situation in Singapore.

When the Chinese in Singapore heard that Yuan Shih-Kai was endeavoring to set himself up as emperor, they began a movement to collect funds to send to the revolutionary party in southern China. There are about

CATTELL IS MAN CHOSEN TO MAKE NEW VALUATION

Well Known Expert From Coast on Matsonia to Testify in Rapid Transit Suit

W. B. Cattell of San Francisco, who is an expert in determining the value of street railways, is the man who has been retained by the Honolulu Rapid Transit and Land Company as a witness in the injunction suit which has been brought by the territory against the company.

This information has been received by L. Tenney Peck, president of the Rapid Transit, in a wireless message from the expert who is aboard the steamer Matsonia on his way to Honolulu. Mr. Cattell will investigate the plan of the Rapid Transit and testify in court regarding his findings as to the physical valuation and cost of the company's property.

Mr. Cattell, it was learned today, has determined the valuation of numerous large railroad systems in California for public utility commissions and bonding firms. He has also constructed and maintained street railways. His active work as an expert on valuations covers a period of many years.

A bit of humor was injected into today's hearing of the case, which doubtless proved a real relief to those who have been following the trial.

William Barringer, an expert on valuations, and a witness for the territory, was on the witness stand. He was testifying to the cost of the property of the Rapid Transit, according to his own findings.

Several years ago, it seems, Clinton G. Ballentyne, manager of the Rapid Transit, bought a bath tub at an auction sale. He paid just $10 for the appliance, it was learned today on good authority.

When Mr. Barringer was taking an inventory of the property of the Rapid Transit, he espied the ancient bathing receptacle, listed it and placed a value on it—of $25; at least, that is what was testified to this morning.

Manager Ballentyne was asked today if it would not be more profitable to sell the bath tub at Mr. Barringer's figure than to leave it lying around the Rapid Transit plant.

Among other things, Mr. Barringer testified that, according to his findings, the various buildings owned by the Rapid Transit cost about $145,930. Equipment and tools, he said, cost about $26,837.16, and the office furniture about $8454.80. The fixtures in the employees' clubhouse cost approximately $2258.90, he added.

Russia Getting 15,000 Autos For Use in War Zone

Captain of Hyades Says Railroads at Seattle Congested With Big Shipments

War munitions of every kind, consigned to the Russian government for use by its army, are awaiting shipment by the railroad at Seattle and Tacoma, according to Capt. Troel Smith, commander of the Matson steamer Hyades, which arrived this morning from Seattle and docked at Pier 20 with a 6000-ton cargo for this and other island ports.

"While we were at Seattle we saw a tremendous shipment of armored automobiles for the Russian army," said Capt. Smith. "They were loaded on big flat cars, cased. Trains of the autos and other war supplies covered miles of railroad tracks there. The shipment was part of an order for 15,000 autos and motor trucks for the Russians. They were big, costly machines, Packards and Pierce-Arrows among them."

Capt. Smith says British and Japanese boats are making an average of one trip a week carrying the motor cars and munitions of war to Vladivostok from Seattle and Tacoma. Capt. Smith says he has been notified to take command of the Matson passenger and freight boat, Manoa, Sunday, when the ship returns from Kahului and Hilo. It is expected that he will have permanent command of the Manoa, succeeding Capt. Henry F. Weeden, who is no longer in the service of the Matson Navigation Company. Capt. William F. Rind, now in charge of the Manoa, will assume command of the Hyades after Sunday.

THREE K BOATS START FOR TRIP TO PEARL HARBOR

Take Big Store of Supplies to New Base, Leaving K-3 Tuning Up at Dock

Promptly at 8:45 o'clock this morning three submarines of the K flotilla, the K-4, K-7 and K-8 backed out from their slip at the naval wharf and headed for Pearl Harbor to pass the day there, preliminary to making their permanent base at that place. "When will your division be located at Pearl Harbor permanently?" a Star-Bulletin reporter asked Lieut. Joseph V. Ogan, commander of the third division while he was giving sailing orders from the bridge of the K-7 as it began to pull out.

"Oh, I don't know," he answered with a smile. "We are liable not to be back at all."

The K-8 was the first of the three submarines to cast off and move out into the harbor stern first at 8:45. She was followed in a minute by the K-7, and the K-4 was third. The K-3 did not make the trip, as her engines, while able to take her there, need more tuning up.

The submarines were followed by the submarine tender Alert, which has not been outside the harbor since last May, when she assisted in the P-4 salvage operations. Both the tender and the three submarines carried a good-sized quantity of their stores to Pearl Harbor from the naval station warehouses here. On successive trips they will move the remainder to their new base.

Lieut. F. J. Lowry, executive officer of the Alert, said the submarines and tender would return here about 4 o'clock this afternoon. He added that the trip is for the purpose of taking formal possession of the new submarine base at the harbor.

Shareholders of the Pepeekeo Sugar Company will participate in the cutting of a large round melon on November 15, when an extra dividend of 5 per cent will be paid in addition to the regular monthly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent, making 6 1/2 per cent this month.

The regular dividend will amount to $11,250 and the "extra" totals $37,500, making a grand total for the shareholders this month of $48,750. Pepeekeo has a stock issue of $750,000, divided into 7500 shares of a par value of $100 each. The last recorded sale was at $150.

President's New York Address Is Signal For Attack By Nebraskan

Former Secretary Calls Preparedness "Reversal of National Policy and Menace to Peace" of U. S.

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 5.—President Wilson's declaration of national military policy, based on thorough preparedness as the guarantee of freedom from foreign aggression, has brought a rejoinder from William Jennings Bryan which heralds a bitter fight between the Democratic leaders.

This bitter fight will be carried to Congress, it is confidently expected in Washington circles, and may play a large part in the next presidential campaign.

The president's policy, as outlined last night in the notable speech he delivered at the Manhattan Club, New York City, is, according to Bryan, entirely unjustified by the facts and places the United States in the light of a militaristic nation. Today in answer to the president's statement that he was supporting the plans for army and navy expansion, Mr. Bryan issued a formal statement in direct opposition to the president's attitude.

"The president's policy of defense is a departure from the traditions of the United States. It is a reversal of our national policy," declares the former secretary of state.

"The plans for military expansion he proposes constitute a menace to the peace and safety of the country. They challenge the spirit of Christianity which teaches us to influence others by high example instead of by fear."

Referring to Mr. Wilson's comment that "we are arming solely in preparation for the defense of liberty should the time ever come when it may be threatened," and his further comment that "our work is only that we may have an army adequate for the times while working always for international peace," Mr. Bryan's formal statement says:

"Preparedness as a means of defense is a false theory. Preparedness leads nations to use force of arms upon the slightest provocation. A man carries a pistol ostensibly for purpose of defense, but will more readily engage in a fight than one who goes unarmed."

In reply to the president's declaration that the country is asking how far prepared the United States is to guarantee against interference with national development, Mr. Bryan says:

"The country is not threatened. We are friends with the entire world and have nothing to fear from aggression," and added that the international situation does not justify the United States in arming for possible war.

The statement of the former secretary of state has produced a distinct sensation in official and semi-official circles. It is regarded as the opening gun in the fight to line up members of Congress for and against the elaborate army and navy expansion program which has been worked out by military experts and endorsed by the president, the secretaries of war and the navy, and other administration leaders.

TO SUPPORT BILL FOR MILITIA PAY AT WASHINGTON?

National Guard Circles Hear That is One of Chief Motives of Governor's Trip

That the "Militia Pay Bill," which will be introduced before Congress early in the session which opens at Washington next month, will receive the backing of Governor Pinkham of Hawaii, is the report in National Guard circles today—in fact it is reported that the governor is going to Washington with that as his principal object.

The so-called "Militia Pay Bill," though not any more definitely framed than other proposed "preparedness" measures, is expected to provide for pay from the national treasury for officers and men of the National Guard on a basis of one-fourth that received by officers and men in the regular army.

Governors of many states will go to Washington to back the bill, say mainland reports, and it is expected here that Governor Pinkham will join in their efforts. The governor plans to leave Hawaii for the national capital early next month.

SUSPENSION FOR OFFICER GUILTY OF STREET BRAWL

That is Intention Sheriff Rose Announces; Say Row Arose Over Dispute in Duties

Witnesses who saw the scuffle outside the Mint saloon in which four officers are said to have engaged Wednesday night at 6 o'clock, were called before Sheriff Rose this afternoon, and after hearing them the investigation was postponed until other witnesses could be summoned.

Sheriff Rose says he intends to suspend one of the officers found guilty of misconduct. It was discussion of intricate points of a police officer's duties, involving the right of an officer to go into a private house and arrest a man when he was engaged in restoring order in his household by beating his wife, that led to the row in which Officers Manuel Barboza, Robert Akoe, Joseph Perry and Abraham Kawaihoa mixed Wednesday night in the Mint saloon.

"We were all off duty," one of the officers said today, "and went into the Mint, where over a glass of beer we were talking of police work. Barboza took the ground that an officer did not have the right to go into a house and stop a fight between a man and his wife and when he was opposed by others, became vehement in upholding his side. Finally he got mad and went out, coming back later, with nothing on the upper part of his body but a coat."

RUSSIANS HARD HIT IN ATTACK, GERMANS ASSERT

Declare Riga Campaign Continues With Hindenberg Punishing Slavs Heavily

The following cablegram from official German sources has been received: "German Headquarters Report, Nov. 5:

"Germans conquered a trench northeast of Lemnau, mentioned in headquarters report of October 26. The French counter attack against positions conquered by Germans south of Messines failed with heavy losses. The number of prisoners reached three officers, 80 soldiers, eight machine guns, 12 small mine throwers. "Field Marshal French is officially reported as saying: "It can be deduced from the casualty lists of seven German battalions which participated in the Loos battle, that their losses were 80 per cent of their effectives."

"This affirmation is pure invention. "On the east in spite of extraordinary losses of Russians between Swentzen and Ilsen assa and near Gatoni they made repeated useless attacks. "Von Linsingen's army northwest of Czartorysk ejected the Russians, after brief advance, into their former position. North of Komarov Russian counter attacks failed. Germans advance east of Budka. Gen. Bothmer's attack is successful against the Russians defending a part of Slemkovec, 2000 more Russians captured. "Balkan arena: General advance made, 2700 Serbians prisoners."

COLD CAUSING SUFFERING IN HOMES OF POOR

Associated Charities Issues Appeal for Clothes and Bedding to Meet Urgent Need

Because of the fact that a large number of cases have been found in the poorer districts of the city, where parents and children are actually suffering from lack of sufficient clothing in the day time and of sufficient covering at night, the Associated Charities issues a call for gifts, and states that the gifts may be brought to the bungalow office in the capitol grounds. Mattresses, blankets and clothing are especially needed, and of the clothing probably the most needed is underwear for children. The donations may be brought or sent at any time during the day to the charities office.

"While it may seem queer at first thought that people should suffer from cold in Honolulu," said a worker in the organization today, "it is true that the wet weather and the wind of late have brought much suffering to people in the poorer districts. Many of them lie on hard floors beside windows which have no glass or doors that are doors no longer. Even a thin sheet seems appreciated by some of the families, and a mattress would be a blessing. We shall appreciate gifts of all sorts and sizes, and the givers may rest assured that their donations will be put to immediate use."

GREECE FOR NEUTRALITY; KING IS SET

Though Vote of Lack of Confidence in Zaimis Has Been Passed, He Will Not Resign Ministry; Won't Join Allies

RUSSIANS ON OFFENSIVE BUT GERMANS SAY FUTILE

Berlin Claims Advance of Slavs Results Only in Heavy Losses and Positions Can't Be Held Against Defense

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) LONDON, England, Nov. 5.—With King Constantine insisting upon neutrality and upon keeping in office a cabinet which aims to promote neutrality, there seems little likelihood that even the vote of lack of confidence will unseat the Zaimis ministry.

The king is expected to continue the Zaimis ministry in office rather than to take the only other alternative which has presented itself, that of restoring former Premier Venizelos, whose resolve to enter the war with the Allies is openly recognized.

King Constantine has called the leaders of the ministry into a conference and has made Minister Yanakitsas, of the war portfolio, his aid-de-camp. Thus the breach between the war minister and Venizelos finds the king supporting the war minister.

GERMANS DENY RUSSIAN OFFENSIVE SUCCEEDING

BERLIN, Germany, Nov. 5.—The official bulletins today admit that the Russian forces have taken the offensive southwest of Dvinsk, where Gen. von Hindenberg's army has been vainly endeavoring to make progress in the Riga campaign, but the official announcements deny that the Slavs have succeeded in their attacks, saying that the charges broke down under German fire and the enemy suffered heavy losses.

RUSSIAN ADVANCE IS CHECKED; THEY RETIRE

BERLIN, Germany, Nov. 5.—The Berlin bulletins say that the Russians made a temporary advance northeast of Czartorysk but met such determined resistance that they were forced to retire into their former positions.

TERRIBLE COLD STOPS ITALO-AUSTRIAN BATTLES

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 5.—The terrible cold of winter in the Alps is paralyzing offensive and defensive moves in the Italo-Austrian campaign. Heavy snows and great avalanches are reported from the Carnic Alps and the encounters between the hostile troops have been stopped, each side devoting its energies to building winter quarters in the advanced positions. Much suffering from cold is reported among the troops.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 5.—Latest reports from the Serbian arena show that the Bulgarian army is within six miles of Nish and steadily reducing the outer defenses of the capital city. Its fall is now regarded as certain.
