Solemn Scene of Great Beauty and Color Enacted at Shishiden in Presence of Entire Court; Age-old Music is Feature

(By Associated Press.)

KIOTO, Nov. 11.—Following the grand coronation ceremony at the Shishiden, the antique ceremony of the "Kagura" dance was celebrated today at the Shinkoden hall in the presence of the whole court.

In the early hours the Shinkoden hall, wherein reposes the imperial sanctuary, was decorated appropriately. At the appointed time the dignitaries of state, high military and naval officers, and titled personages, and their wives, assembled at the waiting hall in the compound of the imperial palace. They wore the same dress as on the ceremony of the previous day.

Not long after, the Crown Prince, the princess and princesses of the blood and other members of the imperial family entered the Gyoden, a hall adjacent to the Shinkoden. A short interval, and then the Emperor slowly made his way from the inner part of the palace, attended by his retinue. His Majesty donned his outer robes and washed his hands, as is usual when worshipping before the deity or holy presence. He then took the bamboo brush and the hisoi fan, which were offered by the chamberlains. The members of the suite who changed their dress.

Officials Unseated In. During this time the senior coronation officials entered the place of ceremony and took their posts. Meanwhile those who had assembled in the waiting hall were ushered to the hall.

GRANDMOTHER SOLD KOREAN GIRL FOR $5?

Man Who Bought Dorothy Yee Wanted to Re-sell Her for $150, Say Officers

Sold by her grandmother for five dollars when only 13 years old, forced to live with and pose as the wife of the man who purchased her, and narrowly escaping being sold again for $150—this is a summary of the experiences of 16-year-old Dorothy Yee, whose intended husband now is in the custody of the local federal authorities on a charge of having violated the "white slave" act.

The story of the girl's experiences were related today by John Woo, a member of the local detective force, who arrested Yee Sung Chin, the defendant. On Monday, the girl's grandmother complained to Captain of Detectives A. McDuffie that her grandchild was about to be sold by Yee Sung Chin, say the police, and asked that the transaction be prevented. Detective Woo was assigned to the case and succeeded in arresting the self-appointed husband.

The police say that when the girl was but 13 years old, she was sold by her grandmother to Yee Sung Chin for five dollars. It is alleged that no marriage ceremony was performed, and that the girl was forced to live with the man. The police further allege that the Korean is a gambler, and that he was in the habit of making periodical visits to the other islands and taking the young girl with him.

Prior to his arrest, says U. S. Marshal J. J. Smiddy, Yee Sung Chin had practically completed negotiations to sell the girl to another Korean for $150.

Yee Sung Chin, who was indicted by the federal grand jury on Tuesday afternoon, was arraigned before Federal Judge Sanford B. Dole yesterday afternoon. The case was continued until November 13 at 10 o'clock in the morning for plea. Bail was fixed in the sum of $500.

Heaviest Rains of Years Saturate City But Help Crop Over Islands

Plantations on Oahu Report Soaking Downpour—Other Islands Benefited—Streets Awash in Honolulu Last Night and Some Damage Done—Old-timers Say Nothing Like It for Many Years—Indications of Further Rains

Although the heaviest rain in years, which occurred in the city last night, did considerable damage to local property owners, it was of great benefit to the large areas of canefields over Oahu and the other islands as well. The rain has been general over the entire territory. Honolulu streets have been considerably torn up as a result of the storm, Nuuanu avenue between the Country Club road and Laimi street having suffered most. Water found its way under the pavement and rushing down with terrific force tore the asphalt pavement up for two blocks. The torn portion covers half the width of the street. Engineer Whitehouse estimates considerable cost in repairing the damage.

Paloalo bridge was attacked with a stream of water five feet in depth which tore out the underpinnings of the bridge and left it tottering. Until temporary repairs can be made the structure has been closed to traffic.

Laimi road which branches off from Nuuanu also suffered from the storm, according to the engineer, though just how much the damage is has not been estimated. Every catch basin and storm sewer in town was flooded by the downpour, and practically all of the lowlands in Kalihi and Waikiki are under water. Past Kamehameha schools this morning a stream of water two feet wide and even with the

YUAN SHIH-KAI'S NANKING TROOPS JOIN REBELLION

Officers Lead Move to Desert Cause of President Who Wants to Be Emperor

(Special Cable to Liberty News)

SHANGHAI, China, Nov. 11.—The second revolt against Yuan Shih-Kai in two days occurred today when the troops of Yuan in Nanking and the Kowloon province deserted to the National party. All of the troops centered in this section followed the move of the troops in Hunan which rebelled yesterday, and the section below the Hwang Ho river is now entirely controlled by the revolutionary party.

For days there has been a feeling of unrest among the officers and men stationed in the barracks at Nanking and a spark was all that was needed to set them aflame. When the news reached Nanking that the troops in the Hunan party had gone over to the revolutionary party, the army officials in the Kowloon province decided to follow in the steps of the military officials in Chang Sha.

For days the citizens of this province had been convinced that the sentiment among the soldiers was in favor of the revolutionary movement, but as the officers were appointed by Yuan's staff it was not certain that

GUARD SMOKER FOR RETURNING TEAM POSTPONED

Various developments have necessitated the postponement until Monday, November 23, of the National Guard smoker, which was to have been held in honor of the rifle team on November 27. The home-coming welcome to the team will be held the night following the regimental review, which will occupy the whole day Sunday, November 23, when Governor Pinkham, Col. Samuel I. Johnson and Lieut. W. C. Whitener will review the Oahu guardsmen in Kaplani park.

Lieut. George Baker, Sgts. Jas. Ho, Sam Pinao, John Stone and Cpl. James Kekahuna were the members of the rifle team who arrived here yesterday on the Matsonia. Next of the team to arrive will be Capt. Henry P. O'Sullivan, who is on the Lurline, due to arrive here November 16.

Capt. O'Sullivan remained in San Francisco to settle accounts of the team, the government system requiring this. He settled everything for the men who have already come over, and also paid all transportation, hotel bills and other items for the men who are still on the mainland. Reports that some of the men called for money are denied at headquarters.

Those of the team now in the United States are on leave of absence for two weeks, and until this expires are paying their own expenses, so the cost for them will be no more than for those who returned earlier.

Sgt. Thomas J. K. Evans and a party in which are Desha, Miles, Smoot and Cushingham were last heard from at Niagara Falls, but are now probably en route west, as they are due to sail from San Francisco on November 17.

TWO SUICIDES, ONE SHOOTING, RECORD OF DAY

Alfred G. Kaiser, City Fireman, and T. Nakanishi, Japanese, Take Lives This Morning

POLICEMAN SHOTS TWO YEAR OLD SON; ACCIDENT

Automatic Revolver Goes Off While Father is Cleaning It; Bullet Through Neck

Two deaths from suicide, and one little baby lying at the point of death at Queen's hospital with a bullet wound in the neck inflicted accidentally by his father, is the record of tragedies here this morning, all within a few hours. The two suicides died within half an hour of each other. Two-year-old Ernest Meyers was shot through the throat this morning by a bullet from an automatic revolver which accidentally went off while the child's father, Policeman William F. Meyers, was cleaning the gun before breakfast at his home on 10th avenue near Pakul.

Late this afternoon physicians at Queen's hospital said that the baby had a fighting chance for life. Meyers dropped his revolver in the mud last night and this morning was sitting in a chair cleaning it when the child crept unnoticed in front of him. The safety catch had been knocked off when the gun fell, and when the boy was within a few feet of the end of the barrel the revolver exploded and the bullet penetrated the front of the baby's neck and came out at the back, just below the base of the skull.

The child was rushed at once to Queen's hospital, where every effort to save its life has been made during the day. Quarreled With His Wife. Drink and quarrels with his wife led Alfred G. Kaiser, fireman with fire company No. 3, to place the muzzle of a .38 calibre revolver in his mouth this morning at 11:30 and send a bullet into his brain. He killed himself sitting on the side of his bed, in his residence at 1131 Fort street.

According to statement of Mrs. Kaiser, her husband has been drinking hard for the last four days, and has not been at home much of the time. This morning he came home in an ugly mood, and after some words she left the house when he began to handle a revolver, and went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Macy nearby. From there she sent a call for a policeman.

BIG ISLAND HIGHWAYS AND RAILROAD WASHED OUT BY HEAVY RAINS

(Special Star-Bulletin Wireless.) HILO, Nov. 11.—Tremendous rains which have poured down upon the Hamakua and Hilo district during the last several hours are doing much damage to railroads, public highways and other property.

Hilo, in its entire lower portion, is flooded by the downpour and Oriental shacks and their inhabitants are suffering much as a result. At Honohi the belt road has been washed out and rendered impassable. At Waikaka a large section of the railroad track has been torn away by the flood of water. Traffic throughout the entire Hamakua district is blocked on both the railway and the public roads, a total of 11 inches of rain having fallen in the last 12 hours.

At Papakou 41 inches have been registered in the last 11 days. Waikaka is a miniature Venice, inhabitants rafting about from place to place on rafts in order to get about at all. Figures show that the present downpour is the heaviest that has occurred in this section in the last 14 years.

All of the Kona district is receiving a similar drenching with considerable damage resulting to buildings in this section. Pahala, the home of the Hawaiian Agricultural Company's plantation, has a record from the present rain of 24 inches in 36 hours. All mail communication between Honouliuli, on the southern end of the island, and Hilo is cut off by the damages resulting from the storm.

ARMY SURGEONS WILL NOT FORCE TEST IN COURTS

Some May Practise Without Territorial License, Then See What Will Happen

Army surgeons are still dissatisfied with the treatment which has been accorded them by the local board of examiners, and although many of them do not want to engage in any private practice, they are all interested in the outcome of the board's action.

Rumors that a "test case" might be brought to ascertain the right of army surgeons to engage in private practice are said by army medical men to mean that any of them are to take action. Col. Rudolph G. Ebert of the Medical Corps, Hawaiian Headquarters, says that he has not heard even a rumor of any action by army surgeons.

Army surgeons who engage in private practice, it is said, do not try to encourage practice and do not establish any offices, but merely treat such people as come to them through preference. Whether any of the local physicians or ex-members of the local examining board will take action to prevent surgeons who have been refused licenses to practise from receiving patients cannot be positively stated. If they do this it will have to be through the arrest of one of the army surgeons, and the preferring of a formal charge that he has practised medicine without a license. There is no examining board in existence here since Governor Pinkham asked for the resignations of the three men who formerly composed it and hence it is not thought probable that any action will be taken.

When a new board is appointed several army surgeons will probably appear before it and take an examination for license to practise, and if the new board "plucks" them, a fight of some kind will certainly follow. Until a new board is established it is not probable that any action will be taken by either side to the contrary.

WILL BEGIN DELAYED JAPANESE PROGRAM AT 1 O'CLOCK ON SUNDAY

Announcements made from the Japanese consulate today state that the program which was yesterday postponed until Sunday afternoon on account of rain will be carried out on Sunday as planned, unless rain again interferes. In that case the program will probably be postponed again, though this is not known definitely as yet. Members of the consulate and the committee having the affair in charge are hoping that the present spell of stormy weather will be broken by that date.

Wrestling, sword-play, jiu-jitsu, geshu dancing and theatricals and speeches will form the features of a four-hour program which is to begin at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The speakers for the event have not yet been announced.

Complete census returns show a total population in New Jersey of 2,844,242.

CALIFORNIA COACH HAS RESIGNED; CRITICISED FOR TEAM'S FAILURES

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 11.—As the result of severe criticism against the coaching of the University of California football team, Coach Jimmy Schaefer has resigned. The defeat by University of Southern California and the crushing beating at the hands of University of Washington brought on the criticism, the critics declaring that it was useless for a Rugby coach to try to teach the American game.

Stanford and Santa Clara will play on Saturday, these teams continuing the Rugby game. Stanford is a 10 to 7 favorite.

COPENHAGEN TELLS OF HEARING TERRIFIC CANNONADING AT SEA, GIVING RISE TO REPORT OF NORTH SEA ENGAGEMENT—ACCIDENTAL EXPLOSION AT FORT KILLS MANY GERMANS—U. S. AID TO BELGIANS AROUSES INTENSE GRATITUDE

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless) LONDON, England, Nov. 11.—That the Italian liner Ancona had halted before it was torpedoed in the Tyrrhenian sea by an Austrian submarine is the declaration of survivors who have reached various ports in the small boats in which they took refuge when the liner was sinking.

They declare also that the submarine, after firing many shots at the liner when it was being halted, continued its shelling, though not directly at the liner, and that a panic was caused thereby which led to many deaths.

The survivors say that the submarine when five miles away opened fire with its guns, sending shots across the bows of the Ancona. The fifth shot destroyed the chart-house of the liner and the Ancona stopped. The submarine came alongside and ordered that the liner be abandoned, everybody taking to the boats, and while this was in progress the raider's guns continued their firing. The passengers, frightened into a panic, rushed for the boats and many fell overboard.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 11.—U. S. Consul White of Naples has reported to the state department that the Societa Italia, after an investigation of the Ancona sinking, reports 347 saved and 149 lost.

LIVE WIRES AT ROTARY CLUB'S WEEKLY LUNCH

Two territorial officials and two visiting brethren were the "speaking guests" at the lunch of the Rotary Club today, held in the upstairs dining room of the Young hotel, and it was an interesting session featured by the informal talk of Col. Samuel I. Johnson, adjutant-general of the National Guard. He told simply but impressively how in a few weeks the guard has been recruited from five hundred men to 3703, from less than one regiment to three full infantry regiments, an engineer company, a machine-gun company and a cavalry company.

The visitors were Rotarians Upson of Cleveland and E. F. Eichler, who has recently come from San Francisco to become associated with the Lord-Young Engineering Company. He brought a message of greeting from the San Francisco Rotarians, and Mr. Upson brought that and more—he suggested a plan for constructive work by the organization which was greeted with enthusiasm and adopted the engaging in the "Big Brother" work of helping along boys through individual supervision. He said it had proved a big success in Cleveland and the club voted for its adoption here.

Mr. Forbes spoke briefly of his trip to Washington, and declared he would be glad to keep the club posted on matters of territorial or community interest he takes up there. With over 3500 men already enlisted and with companies on each of the four main islands, Col. Samuel I. Johnson said that he would not attempt to organize any more companies of National Guard after his return from Hawaii. Instead, he will devote his entire attention now to perfection of the organization as it stands, and to getting companies fully equipped. Already the National Guard has

The other territorial official who spoke was Superintendent of Public Works Forbes and Chairman Paxson in introducing him referred to Forbes' talk to the Chamber of Commerce yesterday and declared that the present territorial administration is the first that has come before the businessmen of Hawaii with a concrete program and that therefore it has won confidence.
