NEED VAST SUMS
TO PUT HARBOR
IN GOOD SHAPE

This money is not sought in the form of a direct appropriation, but is to be taken from the customs or internal revenue receipts, $250,000 annually until the total expenditures have been made.

Referring to the purchase of the Allen & Robinson property, an area of about 1.8 acres, Superintendent Forbes says, in part:

"The property would be better adapted for other purposes than as a lumber yard, and would afford additional space for deep-sea vessels and the construction of modern wharfs, and, in addition, it is desired for the right-of-way for the proposed belt railroad. Honolulu is in a cramped and crowded condition as regards shipping and shipping facilities."

Trade Bound to Grow.

Increased shipping in coming years and the need of additional wharfs are the facts upon which the superintendent will base his argument for the purchase of the marine railway site, the proposed wharf on this site to be used for handling freight from large deep sea vessels.

Mr. Forbes will propose the establishment of a harbor railway about 2.3 miles in length, to greatly facilitate the handling of freight. Need by the army of such a road is one of the arguments which will be presented to Congress.

PLAN TO WIDEN NUUANU AVENUE
GETS CITY PLANNING BODY O. K.

Surfacing of Kalakaua Avenue at Earliest Possible Moment Urged on Engineer

City and County Engineer Whitehouse has been given backing on his street widening projects by the city planning commission, that body in a meeting this morning approving steps whereby Nuuanu avenue from its junction with Beretania street will be sliced off in portions necessary to provide a street of regular width.

Walter F. Dillingham made the motion which gives official backing to the widening plan, following an explanation from Engineer Whitehouse of the widening process, and a report submitted to the commission with blueprints and figures. The motion carried unanimously.

"The junction of Beretania street and Nuuanu is actually dangerous in its present condition," said the engineer. "Hacks are generally standing on the street so that when the cars make the turn traffic is blocked and it is a wonder that someone has not been hurt before this."

According to the plan the city buys the land necessary for houses or stores to move back upon, moves the houses, and builds the sidewalk in front of the building. Members of the commission stated that they believed street widening under these conditions should not be an especially heavy burden upon property owners who have buildings jutting out into the street.

It is the plan to begin work on the widening at once, getting exact property specifications, and ascertaining the legal steps necessary to get the work accomplished.

Kalakaua avenue's new dressing of coral sand is also to be laid in the near future, the engineer announced today. He was urged to carry out the work in preference to all others if possible.

Would Drive Horse Himself.

"Why I would even drive a horse myself," exclaimed Mrs. F. J. Lowrey, member of the commission and prominent Outdoor Circle worker, "if this work could be accomplished any sooner."

A. F. Wall, secretary, and a member of the Promotion Committee, as well, urged also that the road be fixed in the best possible condition before many more steamer loads of tourists arrive here. He called the attention of the commission to the fact that the Great Northern will arrive early in December.

Mrs. F. J. Lowrey was appointed a committee of one at this morning's meeting to confer with the city engineer and with Supervisor Benjamin F. Hollinger tomorrow morning at Central grammar school and decide what can be done toward putting the lawn in shape again. This is one of the bits of work that Mrs. Lowrey has been urging since the first meeting of the commission.

Next Friday afternoon the entire commission will pay a visit to the park along Nuuanu stream between Kuukini and School streets, there being a probability that the city will take charge of this piece of property.

Mrs. Lowrey reported for a committee consisting of herself and Mrs. J. M. Dowsett on a recent visit to Kalia-waena park, recommending a certain definite plan to follow in regard to the laying of sidewalks. She also recommended the painting of benches and the bandstand at Emma square in colors to conform with the buildings of St. Andrew's cathedral which are near by. The setting aside of a certain portion of Alaia park next to Beretania street for a playground for small children was also suggested. The report was adopted.

WOULD LIKE TO BRING HEARST
BACK TO HAWAII

Farewells were said to Alexander Hume Ford at the Pan-Pacific luncheon today at the Y. M. C. A. by many of the members present. Mr. Ford stated the object of his trip and asked that the members of the club call upon him at any time for information or assistance while he is on the mainland. With Mr. Ford will go S. Sheba, editor of the Hawaii Shipho, who will work with Mr. Ford in promoting the interests of the Pan-Pacific Club on the mainland.

Dr. W. H. Fry praised the work that Mr. Ford has been doing, and stated that Honolulu has not really appreciated the work of a man who has done so much to make the Pan-Pacific Club a success. S. Sheba stated that he was going to the coast and would look after Mr. Ford, and said that the two local men were going to make an effort to bring William Randolph Hearst back to Honolulu to show him that the citizens of the different nationalities here are not scheming to fight each other.

J. A. Beaven, in a short talk, told of the work that Mr. Ford had done and suggested that the members of the club work together while Mr. Ford is absent, and show him that the other members can work without the present leader. G. F. Castle, in a few remarks stated that at times Mr. Ford's ideas did not meet with his approval, but he was gradually beginning to realize that the work of the head of the club had been worth while.

Harry L. Strange told of the work that had been done, and the appreciation of the Pan-Pacific Club in other cities, and stated that during his time as a member that he had begun to realize that the work was one of the big things of the Pacific. On behalf of the members of the club, Mr. Strange presented Mr. Ford with a gift, a jeweled badge of Hawaii.
