METRO MOVIES
By CLINTON PEDRICK.

Pippin! That's what they all said when they saw Hazel Dawn in "Niobe." As "Clarissa," Hazel appears again next Thursday on the Paramount program. With Mary, Marguerite, Blanch and Hazel, what better entertainment may we ask for? And all in one month.

Hazel Dawn was posing before a millionaire's big palace on Fifth avenue, New York, when a former musical comedy associate riding by on top of a bus exclaimed, "Gee, look at Hazel! Didn't think she made enough money to buy that place. Me for the moving picture game."

Five actors in succession resigned from the new Pallas-Paramount picture, "The Gentleman from Indiana," starring Dustin Farnum, on learning the part each was engaged for called for a 25-foot dive from the roof of a house into a street crowd. Daring actors were secured, however, and no accidents are recorded.

Victor Moore was hit on the foot by a wad from a revolver recently while taking a scene for "Chimmie Fadden" at the Lasky studios. Several cowboys were trying to make the easterner dance in western fashion, when a misdirected wad landed just astern of the star's pet corn. Mr. Moore contributed to the film a number of neat and nifty but unrehearsed dancing steps.

Blanche Ring is wearing some stunning frocks in the new Oliver Morosco-Paramount picture, "The Yankee Girl." While Pasadena folk seemed much enthused when she appeared at the fashionable Hotel Huntington in her smart riding togs and the Santa Monica devotees of the surf thought her a dream in her bathing suit, yet, it is the three evening gowns she uses in the play that put all others to shame.

"The Diamond from the Sky" came near losing its villain, William Russell. Big Bill was devoting himself to the quiet pastime of bronch-busting, when he was pinned by his steed against a jagged, sharp pronged barbed wire fence. One of the prongs pierced the flesh of the left arm of the actor cruelly. Inflammation set in and for a time it was feared Mr. Russell would lose his arm, but the efficient work of Santa Barbara physicians saved the valuable member.

Lottie Pickford and Eugenie Forde, who play Esther and Hagar, respectively, in "The Diamond from the Sky," have taken up the ancient and honorable game of golf. The two engage in daily combat on the Santa Barbara links. Their popularity has become well established. They were invited not long ago to appear before a woman's club in Santa Barbara to tell how it feels to be idolized by thousands of unknown friends. Fellow actors and actresses sat up all the previous night assisting them in writing the speeches, and they were a howling success.

Mary Pickford, who has been called America's sweetheart by an affectionate public, because of her delightful representations of the Occidental girl in motion pictures, has been provided with John Luther Long's classic, "Madame Butterfly," as the vehicle of her first screen excursion into Orientalism. So great was her interest in this forthcoming Famous Players Paramount picture that when Miss Pickford was informed that she was to represent the screen embodiment of Cho-Cho-San, she immediately engaged a Japanese maid in order to study her mannerisms, her walk and her gestures. This little daughter of Nippon is now acting as advisor-in-chief to Miss Pickford in the matter of selecting her Oriental wardrobe and in the arrangement of her coiffure. Little Mary is frankly apprehensive over her first digression from the type of character which she has always presented to the public. "I feel almost as nervous about Cho-Cho-San as I did about the first picture I ever played in," said Miss Pickford. "When one has been playing a certain type of character almost exclusively the public seems to resent a departure from that particular type of impersonation. Cho-Cho-San is such a universally beloved little personage that I am particularly nervous about the Pickford version of the character which has become familiar to the public through the medium of opera, novel and play; and if it does not succeed, I shall probably commit hari-kiri." When Little Mary is presented in Honolulu in "Madame Butterfly," the Liberty will doubtless be monopolized by the local Japanese of this city, for they will all be anxious to see this delightful little star in the interpretation of a role they all love so dearly. The advance photographs of Miss Pickford in her Japanese make-up would defy the most expert Japanese in detecting her from one of his own race.

IRELAND'S REVENUE NOW ALMOST LARGE ENOUGH TO KEEP UP EXPENSES
(By Associated Press.)
DUBLIN, Ireland.—Ireland is gradually becoming self-supporting in a political sense, the latest revenue returns showing that for the past year the taxes come within $1,300,000 of equaling the expenditures. For 1913 the deficit was $6,100,000, and for 1912 it was over $7,000,000.

Mr. W. Somerset Maugham, the English novelist, being asked, "How do you pronounce your name?" responds: "My name is pronounced exactly as written. It rhymes with shaugham, as in 'with trumpets also and shaughams,' vide Psalm xxviii. Likewise with waugham, as in waugham weather."

PARTITION OF UNITED STATES IS SUGGESTED AS WAY TO END WAR

Repetition of Crime Against Poland Would Split Country Amongst Belligerents

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, France.—The subjoined curious communication written on thick, official-looking folio paper without any indication of its origin, has been delivered by messenger at the office of the Agence Havas, the principal news agency in France:
"The United States as the Prize for Settlement of the Present European Conflict."

"It is stated on high authority that suggestions have been made in the diplomatic circles of European chancelleries declaring that the easiest solution and the one most acceptable to all the warring nations would be the partition among them of the United States of America. The United States of America are a most inviting prize as compensation for the sacrifices rendered by these nations, and an arrangement on the basis of the respective relations of the different nations is surprisingly practicable.

"So far from being a visionary scheme for a solution of this great world conflict, the fact is only too apparent that only a small part of the effort expended in the sanguinary struggle now raging would have sufficed to satisfy all nations in their respective ambitions.

"A noted diplomat declared his surprise that this idea of the partition of the United States had not emerged sooner, because the land is so largely made up of the constituency of all the warring nations.

"The tentative plan to satisfy thus the national ambitions of the European countries at war, instead of prolonging the interminable struggle, is broadly outlined as follows:
"Great Britain is to occupy New

STORY OF F-4 READ TO WOUNDED MEN RESTING IN IRISH HOSPITAL

Lady Godfrey Writes to Star-Bulletin of Interest Aroused By This Paper's Accounts

Lady Helen G. Godfrey of Ireland, writing from Cork on October 22, tells the Star-Bulletin that she has followed with close interest the accounts of the raising of the submarine F-4, as told in the news columns of this paper. "Lady Godfrey," through local friends, follows closely the news of the island. She writes:
Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

Sir: On October 1 last, I took advantage of an opportunity to write a letter to your contemporary newspaper in Honolulu noting my appreciation of the fact that I gained occasional glimpses of your earthly Mid-Pacific "Paradise." Permit me now, if you please, to acknowledge the great interest created by reading the graphic accounts presented in the Star-Bulletin of the successful raising of the sunken submarine F-4. In my usefulness in connection with a recuperating hospital located here, to which many of the suffering brave have been sent for treatment, after their being placed hors du combat on firing lines and trench service, I have passed the Star-Bulletin on to my "boys." It would make you, I am sure, sir, feel pleased if you could note the great interest taken by them in the accounts given so vividly of how Americans "do things." Certainly your U. S. naval people spare neither trouble nor expense and are most ingenious.
A few years ago there was a sorrowful drowning accident in Killarney lake and some rich Americans lost their lives there. I was a resident of the lake region at the time, and I remember that in the effort to recover the bodies some American divers came over and were working with our naval Irish divers on the lakes for many days.
I learned that our professional man expressed the greatest wonder and admiration at the way the American divers worked in spite of the many difficulties encountered in strong water currents and deep rock fissures. I only mention the incident en passant to inform you that we had a previous knowledge of the skill and daring of the American divers, the world record of the United States naval divers being again very vividly presented in the Star-Bulletin's excellent recital of the raising of the sunken submarine, the unfortunate F-4.

FRANCE FORESEES PENSION LIST AS LONG AS THAT OF AMERICA

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, France.—"Our pension laws will necessarily develop an importance equal to those of the United States after the American Civil war," says Deputy Pierre Masse, reporter for the pensions committee of the chamber. "Those laws," he adds, "will carry such heavy appropriations as to exercise a greater influence—social and political—than all the social legislation of recent years."
Two important reforms are proposed in pension bills that the committee has reported favorably. The pensions of widows are to be increased proportionately to the number of orphans and pensions will be granted to mothers for the loss of sons who were their main support.
The rates provided for the new law are from 563 francs ($112) for widows of private soldiers running from that figure through the various grades up to 5250 francs ($1050) a year for the widow of a general of division; these figures being subject to increase in the case of orphans. If the soldier or officer died of wounds not received in
