

HONOLULU WILL BOWL 'FRISCO'S NAVAL 'Y' TEAM

Captain Stayton Picks Fives Which He Thinks Gives Local Men Good Chance

Honolulu's biggest opportunity in the bowling line begins tonight. The local Y. M. C. A. has been given a place in the California State Y. M. C. A. bowling league, which includes the largest cities in the Golden State.

In a wireless dispatch received yesterday the Honolulu schedule calls for the opening match tonight against the San Francisco Naval Y. M. C. A. Captain Stayton, who was unanimously chosen by the six captains in the Honolulu "Y" league to pick the best 12 men for the local team, made his selection yesterday.

Stayton is out to win the championship of the Coast league, and figures that with the best of the civilian and army bowlers in the city belonging to the Y. M. C. A., and a keen interest in bowling, a combination can be selected from the 12 bowlers named that will roll high totals against the strongest teams in the California associations. Only men have been chosen who are consistent in their practice, as the team will have to roll a 900 average or better to come up to expectations.

The choice of men who will bowl on the first team tonight will doubtless meet with the approval of the local bowling fraternity. The team average is only a point or two below 130 per man, and both Reed, who will lead off, and Moeley, as anchor man, have averages over 180 in the Y. M. C. A. league. Benson and Mills have been rolling a consistently high average all season and J. C. Chamberlin won the high average prize last year for the entire season.

The second team men who will bowl against the first team is almost as good, and several of the men have a good chance to make the first team for next Friday's match against Oakland by bowling a high total this evening. The best five men of the evening are picked for the next match according to the rules of the league.

Rateman will lead off and Goebig will be anchor man for the second string team. These two, with White, have averages well over 170, while Soares and Treptow are only a fraction below that figure. Wikander and Emmans are the first six men tonight and Stayton announces that both will be given a try-out on the second team next week, taking the places of the two lowest men this evening.

Play begins at 7:30 tonight and spectators are welcome. Captain Stayton wants to meet all the men on the Honolulu squad just before play starts to explain all the league regulations and to put the necessary pep into the men that will give them a flying start toward the championship.

Captain Stayton's selection for the Honolulu team in the California State Y. M. C. A. bowling league and the averages follow:

FIRST TEAM—George C. Reed, 181.46; Frank Benson, 177; George K. Mills, 176.72; J. C. Chamberlin, 174; Andrew Moeley, 182.8; team average, 178.4.

SECOND TEAM—William A. Rateman, 174.14; Walter Treptow, 169.32; Oliver P. Soares, 169.38; Henry White, 172.86; Henry White, 172.86; Charles E. Goebig, 176.22; team average, 172.51.

SUBSTITUTES—Carl Wikander, 169.67; Floyd Emmans, 164.5.

The Hawaii Promotion Committee is receiving many letters from various points on the mainland telling of the programs that were arranged for Pineapple Day. ## KAPAHULU ROAD PAVING MAY BE BUILT BY CITY

Beginning today bids are being asked for on the curbing of Kapahulu road, which lies between Waiolalo road and Kapoloa park. This is a portion of road that property owners having land alongside were requested to curb some 60 days ago.

Approximately 7450 feet of straight curb and 710 feet of curved curb will be laid. The engineer says that he is calling for tenders on the work in order to get competitive bids, as the property owners might claim the city has set a high price upon it, in case the work was carried out directly by the city.

Several streets in Auwalohu tract come under a similar provision of law, the property owners having failed to lay curb as ordered by public notice. Now that the time is up these men are beginning to express their willingness to lay the curb at their own accord as requested. # FAMOUS SINGER HELD IN SWEDEN AS RUSSIAN SPY

Suspected of being a Russian spy, Miss Inga Orner was held in detention for four days by the military authorities of Sweden just after the outbreak of the war last year. In the high state of excitement and wave of general suspicion which was sweeping over Norway and Sweden at the time, she narrowly escaped heavy court martial, though thorough examination failed to disclose any incriminating evidence in her possession.

Miss Orner, the Norwegian operatic soprano and recent prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who is to give a recital at the Hawaiian Opera House Monday evening, narrates her experience laughingly and seems to consider it a joke at her expense.

"The Swedish authorities were correct in one respect," she says. "There was a Russian woman spy, who had made quite a complete tour of Norway on horseback, visiting the various forts, captivating gallant Norwegian army officers and getting pretty thorough plans of the country's defenses, and she had been seen at two forts in Sweden just before they discovered me."

"I had finished a tour of Norway with a large singing organization of Norwegian-Americans and was taking a two-weeks' vacation at a place near Gottenberg, Sweden. I was in the habit of going on long horseback rides alone during the fine midsummer days. I suppose it was only natural the officers should suspect me, since my personal description agreed fairly accurately with that of the Russian woman."

"Two officers came up behind me when I was riding one day and without granting any explanation commanded me to accompany them. I luckily knew better than to offer objection. They took me to a house at the fort at Gottenberg, where a woman took me in charge, led me into a room, divested me of clothing and made a minute search that extended from the soles of my shoes to my hair.

"But she found nothing that was not my own," Miss Orner added, smiling, "not even my hair. Nevertheless the authorities refused to let me go. They permitted me to cable my relatives, however, and in four days' time a cousin, who is an officer in the Norwegian army, and my father, a well known merchant of Christiania, came to my rescue."
