A. P. Taylor Tells of Reception He Received from Rosarians and Others

Portland will send a big and enthusiastic delegation of Royal Rosarians, wives and friends to Honolulu during the Carnival season, according to a letter received by Ed Towse this morning from A. P. Taylor, director of the Hawaii Promotion Committee. Director Taylor went to Portland in the course of his present mainland trip and there found keen interest in Hawaii and a definite movement to encourage closer relations between the Northwest and the islands. Through letters of introduction he met Dean Vincent, prime minister of the Rosarians, who at once took him in charge and enabled him to meet many prominent Portland businessmen. He was entertained by the Chamber of Commerce, Royal Rosarians and Rotary Club. At the Chamber of Commerce dinner he was a fellow-speaker with Ex-Governor Oswald West of Oregon and leader Jacobs, the California packing man who has several times been here on business. Applause greeted Taylor when he referred to the effect of the Seaman's bill on Hawaii traffic and commerce. Taylor reports that already 150 people are booked certain for the Rosarian excursion here and that the committee in charge is now negotiating for the charter of a special steamer. The steamer Great Northern had been virtually secured until the ownership company decided to put it in the winter run between San Francisco, Los Angeles and Hawaii.

MRS. LORILLARD SPENCER GOING TO TEACH MOROS

Widow of Wealthy New York Man Gives Up Newport Villa to Become Missionary

Forsaking her magnificent home place, Chastellux, at Newport, and renouncing the prominent position she has always held in New York and Newport society, Mrs. Caroline S. Spencer, widow of Lorillard Spencer, is a passenger on the Shinyo Maru today, bound for Manila, where she is going into missionary work among the Moros, in the Philippines. A grand-daughter of the famous Stephen Whitney, Mrs. Spencer is a woman of refinement, culture and intellect. Why she was moved to give up the civilization and advantages of the Eastern states and devote her life to bringing Christianity to the Moros, one of the most unenlightened tribes of the Philippine islands, has been a matter of much discussion among the Shinyo's passengers. Mrs. Spencer's husband died March 14, 1912, prior to which date they had spent much time in foreign travel. Lorillard Spencer was commissioner from Rhode Island to the Chicago exposition, and was formerly proprietor and publisher of The Illustrated American. He was a member of numerous patriotic organizations as well.

'I NEVER TASTED ANYTHING FINER' WRITES DANIELS

The Hawaii Promotion Committee is receiving many letters from various points on the mainland telling of the programs that were arranged for Pineapple Day. From east to west and from north to south the statements read the same. "Hawaiian Pineapple Day was a success." That has been the meat of the many congratulatory letters received. Joseph Daniels, secretary of the navy, writing to the Promotion Committee says: "I have received your esteemed favor of the 15th advising me that you have sent me with the compliments of the Hawaiian Pineapple Packers' Association and Hawaii Promotion Committee, a crate of Hawaii's most choice product. I quite agree with you that they must be the choicest for I never tasted anything finer. They arrived in ample time for us to celebrate with your Hawaiian Pineapple Day, and my entire family join in expressing our heartfelt thanks."

EIGHTEEN YEAR OLD BOY ADMITS RAISING CHECK

Fred Raymond, an 18-year-old boy from Maui, confessed today that he had altered a check given him by Dr. Charles Paul Durney of the Kula Sanitarium, Waiakoa, Maui, from $12 to $20, and will be charged with forgery. Crude work in trying to raise the check attracted the attention of the cashier of the First National Bank when Raymond tried to pass it several days ago. The boy, who was held and questioned by Detective McDuffie, said the check had been forwarded to him by Dr. Durney. In payment of his wages, just as it appeared. Today when a message came from Dr. Durney saying that the check had been given the boy for work at the Sanitarium and was for only $12, Raymond confessed.

Raymond has been an inmate of the Kula Sanitarium, and after almost recovering from consumption was given light work about the place. The check which he altered was given him recently when he left Maui. He is an American-Hawaiian, and has relatives on Maui.

FAMOUS SINGER HELD IN SWEDEN AS RUSSIAN SPY

Suspected of being a Russian spy, Miss Inga Orner was held in detention for four days by the military authorities of Sweden just after the outbreak of the war last year. In the high state of excitement and wave of general suspicion which was sweeping over Norway and Sweden at the time, she narrowly escaped hasty court martial, though thorough examination failed to disclose any incriminating evidence in her possession.

Miss Orner, the Norwegian operatic soprano and recent prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who is to give a recital at the Hawaiian Opera House Monday evening, narrates her experience laughingly and seems to consider it a joke at her expense.

Money is also provided for masses for the souls of the deceased's mother and father, $30 for masses for his late wife and $15 for masses at San Miguel "for the soul of my first wife, Maria d'Oliveira."
