POPE ENDEAVORS TO GET CHRISTMAS TRUCE

Allies Pour More Troops into Balkans and Kitchener is Getting Permission to Use Other Ports Besides Saloniki

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless]

LONDON, England, Nov. 27.—It is believed that the German leaders of the Turk armies will resume the offensive at Gallipoli in order to secure political effect with Rumania and nullify the efforts of the Allies to win Rumania to their side.

Reports from Constantinople indicate that the opposing forces on the desolate peninsula of Gallipoli are locked in furious battle. Constantinople reports that many have been killed.

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands, Nov. 27.—An official despatch from Constantinople says that in a surprise attack on the Allies at Ariburnu, Gallipoli, the Turks captured much material and a section of trenches.

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 27.—That the Teuton and Bulgarian invaders of Serbia may carry their invasion into Greece, pursuing the hard-pressed and retreating Serbs, is now more than a possibility. The Serbians are likely, it seems now, to become an army without a country, driven entirely off their own soil. Unless the French defeat the Bulgarians in their struggle around and west of Strumitza, it is likely to go hard with the Serbs. The Serbian forces are now retreating southwesterly. They may not find rest even on Greek territory. It is reported the invaders will not hesitate to follow them across the line.

NEW EXPEDITION PORTS SOUGHT

MILAN, Italy, Nov. 27.—It is reported here that Lord Kitchener, who has recently gone to the Balkan arena, has secured from the Greek government permission to land troops at other ports besides Saloniki, so that several new expeditions may be launched.

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 27.—News has come that after hard fighting the Serbs have recaptured Krushevo.

ALLIES RUSHING BIG NEW ARMY TO BALKANS; SLAVS MOBILIZING AT ODESSA

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] LONDON, England, Nov. 27.—It is reported here that 125,000 well-equipped troops of the Allies have been landed at Saloniki and that 45,000 more are en-route, to be rushed into the Balkans.

The Russian mobilization at Odessa has given rise to various reports and just what is happening is obscured.

SAYS 101,000 SERBS HAVE BEEN CAPTURED

BERLIN, Germany, Nov. 27.—The Overseas News Agency estimates that the total number of Serbians captured by Teutons and Bulgarians is 101,000.

LONDON, England, Nov. 27.—With the Balkans rapidly becoming more and more important as the theater of major operations, the Allies are pouring men into the new arena as fast as possible. They are landing 4000 daily at Saloniki, where big transports are lying filled with new troops.

"Only artillery duels occurred yesterday on the French front."

MAINLAND R. R. LINES CONGESTED

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 27.—There is a tremendous congestion of freight on many transcontinental lines, particularly those coming here. More than 6000 cars from the West are in the Lackawanna system's yards, turning the terminals into a storage warehouse. Some cars have been standing for 80 days. The same conditions are everywhere reported.

Oliphant, Former Purdue Star, Makes All Points For Cadets

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless] NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 27.—Before a tremendous crowd which was brilliant with color despite unfavorable weather, the Army football team lived up to advance expectations today by defeating the Navy eleven by the score of 14 to 0.

The Army's showing and the result of the game were consistent with early-season scores and advance expectations. The Cadets made a touchdown in the first quarter, kicked the goal, rolling up seven points, and in the third period scored another touchdown and goal.

Oliphant, the former star of Purdue University, was the shining light in today's contest. The Army halfback scored every point for his team, making both touchdowns and kicking both of the goals from touchdowns. In other departments of the game he played splendidly, being a power on the offense and defense.

Rain fell during a large part of the morning and there were sprinkles during the game, causing the field to be slow and preventing much "open" playing. The rain and mist largely prohibited fast and brilliant playing.

The Navy fumbled in the first quarter and the Army, getting the ball, converted the blunder into a touchdown. From this on the Navy seldom had a chance.

The betting was 10 to 7 on the Army when the game opened. The gathering of social and official leaders was a notable one. President Wilson and his fiancée, Mrs. Norman Galt, sat in a brilliantly-decorated box, and there were present members of the cabinet, army and navy "higher-ups" and a galaxy of officialdom.

The Army's victory over the Navy was well received by the Army officers around the city. The great runs by Oliphant and the playing of the Army team caused unusual joy among the officers in Honolulu and at Schofield. The alumni are planning on having a rousing meeting in celebration of the victory at Heinle's Tavern this evening. Most of the officers expected a victory and yesterday the odds down town reached 2 to 1 in favor of the West Point team. Lieut. Otis Sadtler said:

"The Army has a good team. It is good news. The Army closed a season with a victory which makes the tenth win. The Navy has won nine victories in the last 25 years. The 1905 game was a tie, and no games were played from 1894 to 1898 inclusive."

TAKES POLICE TO CACHE OF DRUGS STOLEN AT FORT

McDuffie Recovers 23 Bottles of Cocaine, Heroin and Morphine at Schofield

What may be the beginning of the unraveling of a ring of drug peddlers in Honolulu was taken this morning by Edward B. Jones, Hospital Corps, Schofield Barracks, of the theft of large quantities of drugs from the quartermaster's warehouse at the post and the subsequent recovery of about half of the "dope" by the police.

Summoned by Col. Keefer, Medical Corps, and Capt. Samuel S. Creighton, Medical Corps, Schofield Barracks, Chief of Detectives A. McDuffie last night went to the post, where Jones led him to a cache of cocaine, heroin and morphine in which were 23 of the 40 or more bottles which had been stolen.

J. H. Duvall, private in the hospital corps at Schofield, was arrested with Jones several days ago, and has been held while investigation was being made. Yesterday Jones confessed and implicated Duvall and two other soldiers at Schofield.

FORD SEES CARDINAL GIBBONS ON PEACE PLAN BUT FAILS OF APPROVAL

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] BALTIMORE, Maryland, Nov. 27.—Henry Ford, the auto manufacturer and peace advocate, today visited the venerable Cardinal Gibbons and laid before him his plan for a "peace ship" to sail to Europe with a delegation of pacifists aboard. The cardinal echoes Ford's peace sentiments, but is adverse to giving formal recognition or approval to the trip, feeling that the difficulties in the way are too numerous.

All the governors that Ford has thus far invited to accompany him on his trip have declined to accept, giving various excuses.

SERBS LOSE VITAL POINT

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] LONDON, England, Nov. 27.—Late today news from the Balkan area says that the Serbians have been unable to hold Katchanik pass, and that the Germans, in occupying the heights above the Sitnika river, took 2500 prisoners. ANOTHER PEARL HARBOR TRACT FOR DEFENSES

Government Files Condemnation Suit for More Than 20 Acres at Waipio

Another step in the carrying out of the government's Pearl Harbor defense scheme was taken this morning when a condemnation suit involving 26.03 acres of land situated at the north end of the Waipio peninsula, Waipio, and Waikale, this island, was filed in federal court by the United States government today, it being the purpose of the government to secure the land for the erection of a military post and fort and army station for the public defense.

The suit, which was filed by District Attorney Jeff McCann, names the following respondents:

A. Haneberg, the John H. estate, E. C. Peters, J. A. Magoon, Kam Shee, Yong Tau, See Sung Wai, the Oahu Sugar Company, Hing Chong, the Territory of Hawaii and 10 other persons with seemingly fictitious names such as Mary Roe and Richard Doe.

The petition, among other things states that the land is wanted for "the military protection of the harbor and the city and county of Honolulu."

PONTOONS CUT LOOSE, F-4 NOW SINKING IN MUD

What is probably the last chapter in the career of the ill-starred F-4, the hoodoo submarine of the first division, has just been written. Work of disconnecting from her battered and sawed-up bulk the six pontoons which raised her from the harbor floor and floated her back to Pearl Harbor after the second naval board of inquiry had learned all they could of the disaster from the hulk, was completed a few days ago.

It is the consensus of opinion, according to a naval official who was here yesterday, that the submarine's hull will be left where it now is, resting in a mudbank between the Oahu railway tracks and Magazine Island at Pearl Harbor.

Several days ago the giant 150-ton nagal crane lifted the six cylindrical pontoons out of the water, after the chains connecting them with the hulk had been unfastened. Each of the pontoons was lifted bodily from the water, until they were all safely deposited alongside the forge shop, to be kept there for use in case another grim tragedy of the F-4 variety should happen.

The F-4's hulk is not visible now that the pontoons have been removed, and the craft allowed to sink to the bottom. Navy men who are in a position to know, think the hulk will be allowed to rot to pieces where it now lies and that nothing further will be done with it.

The post office at Laconia, N. Y., was entered by thieves, who escaped with $2125 in cash and stamps.

BRIEF REPORT SAYS SHERIFF IS NEGLIGENT; MILD REPROOF FOR OTHERS; BLAME IS SCANT

"Unable to Find any Act of Criminality," Say Territorial Investigators ---No Drinking by Officers Is Found

After weeks of investigation, the territorial grand jury today made public a brief report on its probe of conditions at the county jail—the probe resulting from the charges made by Fred Gough, ex-prisoner, whose story was published by the Star-Bulletin.

The grand jury finds "carelessness and laxness" at the jail; reproves the sheriff for negligence, though with little severity of censure; makes brief recommendations, and says that the condition of affairs at the county jail should be corrected.

It is a very short report and one lacking in sensation. At 10 o'clock the grand jury assembled in Circuit Judge Ashford's court and Foreman J. H. Fiddes presented the following document, which Judge Ashford read aloud:

"Judge G. W. Ashford,
"Judge of the First Circuit Court of the Territory of Hawaii,
"Honolulu, T. H.

"Sir:—The territorial grand jury have investigated certain rumors circulated in Honolulu, more particularly through the newspapers, concerning conditions at Oahu county jail, and beg to report that we have carefully inquired into every phase of rumor, in so far as has been possible; we have examined all witnesses that were presented or could be secured, and have arrived at the following:

"Summing up the findings, we are of opinion that there is carelessness in the county jail. Visitors should not be permitted to go to the jail, at will, as has, beyond question of doubt, been the practice and is the practice. We are of opinion that there has been no drinking or drunkenness in the jail by the officials. We are of opinion that the sheriff should devote more attention to the conduct of the jail. No reports are made to him so as to keep him in daily detailed touch with all affairs of the jail, but such daily reports should be made and all passes to visitors to the jail should be signed or approved by him and no person or persons should be permitted to visit the jail without permit so signed or approved. We are unable to find any act of criminality on the part of the sheriff or his deputies or the jail officials. We are of opinion they perform their various duties as from their standpoint they see them, but that standpoint is not the best for there seems to be carelessness and laxness in the jail which should be corrected.

"Respectfully submitted,
"By order of the Jury:
"J. H. FIDDES,
"Foreman."

It will be noticed that while the grand jury finds "no drinking or drunkenness in the jail by the officials," the report says nothing whatever concerning the specific charges that the McGrath gang, including Jack McGrath, who escaped last April on the eve of sentence, "Bert" Bower, P. H. Boggs and others, had indulged in wild orgies in the jail in which booze flowed free and women from the Iwilei district were present.

No act of criminality has been established on the part of any of the officials involved, says the report. The document goes into none of the details whose publication in this paper started the investigation.

City Attorney Declines to Make Comment On Grand Jury's Report

City Attorney A. M. Brown declined to express his opinion regarding the grand jury's report when asked to do so by the Star-Bulletin today. He stated that it would hardly be proper for him to make any comment.

After the report had been filed and the jury men dismissed, Attorney Brown and James H. Fiddes, foreman of the grand jury, had a lengthy conference with Fred Gough, whose story given the Star-Bulletin was largely responsible for the grand jury's investigation of conditions at the city jail.

Just what passed during the conference was not made public, although Attorney Brown mentioned something to a representative of the Star-Bulletin about Gough being "hard up."

Reports in circuit court circles early this morning were to the effect that the grand jury's report on its investigation would be a lengthy one. From other sources the rumor came that it would be brief and to the point. Various officials had expected to see a lengthy document filed at 10 o'clock and no little surprise was manifested when Judge Ashford read the report in some 200 words.

City Attorney Brown today referred to the jail investigation as being "all through." Asked regarding a rumor that Gough might be called up to face charges of perjury, he answered that there was little likelihood of this. Gough having made a frank statement to the jury, there is no disposition to punish him for having testified differently when he was still a prisoner in the jail.

The members of the grand jury which made the investigation are J. H. Fiddes, foreman; C. P. Iaukea, W. H. Heilbron, J. T. McCrosson, W. H. Charles, J. D. McInerney, J. T. Taylor, Lester Petrie, Edward Dekam, E. C. Winston, R. C. Brown, H. T. Hayesden, H. F. Bertelmann, F. K. Archer, William McQuaid, John Smithies, William Henry, W. A. Coon, F. A. Potter, A. F. Wall and O. A. Blerbach.

CHARLEY CASH GIVEN YEAR AT PRISON LABOR

Penalty for Stealing Automobile on Night of Assault at Riedel Home

Not less than one year at hard labor in Oahu prison was the sentence meted out by Circuit Judge Ashford today to Charley Cash, former inmate of the city jail, who pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with having stolen John Lucas' automobile on the night of October 30.

Cash now is serving a sentence of three months for an assault on Mr. and Mrs. Hans Riedel on the same night that the machine was stolen. Cash used the machine to convey himself and Sylvester Cullen, former traffic policeman, to the Riedel home, Riedel having been a witness before the territorial grand jury during its investigation of the city jail scandal. Cullen was also a party to the assault. He pleaded guilty and now is serving a sentence of three months.

Asked if he had anything to say this morning, Cash told the court that he had had two drinks before he stole the automobile. Judge Ashford said that the liquor undoubtedly was the cause of the commission of both crimes. Cash's sentence will run concurrently with the one he is now serving. He may be paroled at the end of one year, or he may have to remain in jail for 18 months under the indeterminate sentence law.
