'PEOPLE WOULD COME FOR $5; WHY NOT COME FOR BENEFIT OF SOUL?'

Evangelists Brown and Curry Draw Larger Attendance at Second Evening of Revival Services—Brown Says Red-Nosed Man Does "Not Smell Like Christian"—Sometimes Hard to Tell Saints From Sinners

The second big meeting of the Brown-Curry evangelist campaign was held in Central Union church last night and was more largely attended than the first one. Dr. Doremus Souder, Rev. Alafko Akana, Col. Blanche B. Cox, Amor A. Eberole, William Waterhouse and Rev. L. L. Leof-brown were on the platform. A song service, led by C. P. Curry, opened the meeting, this being followed by a solo, "Somebody Cares," by Mr. Curry. A feature of the song service in connection with the meetings is that Mr. Curry seldom asks the audience to stand while singing. By letting the audience remain seated, he is almost always sure to get more music out of the people, he says.

After prayer had been offered by Col. Cox a collection was taken to help defray the local expenses of the campaign. Evangelist Brown paid a pretty tribute to Col. Cox when he said "Honolulu is very fortunate in having Col. Cox here. I knew her in the States."

"Skillet" Are Passed. Evangelist Brown said that the "skillet" would be passed. Then he laughed. "I used to call them collection boxes or baskets," he explained, "but now I call them skillets. A man down South said that every time I called them skillets he put in 50 cents extra. I have called them skillets ever since."

"I want everyone here to smile—and give a dollar. Those who can't smile, give two dollars," he went on. "Now, brethren, come on and let's see what you can do."

At this point Evangelist Brown volunteered a list of kindly criticism regarding the attendance at the morning meeting yesterday.

"If I were to advertise that I was giving away five-dollar gold pieces at those meetings, the place would be crowded," he said. "If the people will come here for five dollars, they ought to come here for their souls' benefit."

The topic for the evening was "God's Call to Honolulu: Who is on the Lord's Side?" The text was taken from the 29th verse of the 32nd chapter of Isaiah. Evangelist Brown gave a preliminary resume of Moses' 40-day conference with the Lord and his journey to the camp of the children of Israel.

When Moses got to the camp, he said, he found that the children of Israel were worshipping a golden image. Moses called out to those who were on the Lord's side should gather about him.

"And if Christ were to come to this island tonight," said the evangelist, with emphasis, "if he were to walk into this church and up to your seat, would he find you waiting?"

"He would find you where Moses found the children of Israel—worshipping the god man has made."

"How soon we forget Calvary's cross, the Damascus road, the mountain of transfiguration. If you are talk of transfiguration, let's stand together for Jesus Christ. You will never conquer an inch of this earth unless you fight for it. Let us call for volunteers to cross the line and go in and win the greatest victory this city has ever known."

Evangelist Brown then pointed out three steps which will have to be taken if the Honolulu campaign is to be a success. These are steps toward separation, action and unity, he explained.

Found One Man Dazing. At this juncture the evangelist called the audience's attention to the fact that a man in the audience had been dazing.

"I won't preach to a sleepy audience," he declared. "If we are going to sleep we might just as well discuss the meeting and go home and get a good night's rest."

"It may pay some persons to keep awake," he added. "I might say something worth hearing."

Speaking of separation, the evangelist said that that was the first thing Moses called for. He asked that those who were on the Lord's side separate from those who were worshipping idols and the gods which men had made.

"To win its battles, a church has to come clean for Jesus Christ in its own life," he declared. "There have to be some lines drawn between the world and the church. Sometimes it appears as if these lines have been nearly wiped out. Sometimes it is impossible to go into a crowd and tell who are the saints and who are the sinners."

"You cannot take the world by the hand and lift it up to God until you have climbed up to God yourself."

Too Many "Professors." The evangelist declared that there are a lot of "professors" in the church. He met a man one day, he said, whose nose had been tinged a dull red by John Barleycorn.

"Are you a Christian?" asked Brown by way of saying something. "Yes," answered the man. "God bless you—you don't smell like it," answered Brown.

"Get that sort of thing out of your church," urged the evangelist. "The men who play cards and drink booze and dance on Sunday. They are humbugs. Get them out."

"If you are going to stick to the devil, stick to the devil. But if you are going to stick to God, stick to God."

"If you cannot come clean for Christ, then stop pretending that He is something."

The evangelist went on to say that the church of Jesus Christ is united today as it has never been before, yet it has a long way to go.

IN WAR ARENA

ITALY STANDS BY PAST; WITH ALLIES TILL WAR ENDS

ROME, Italy, December 2.—Whatever hopes the central powers may have entertained of securing a separate peace between Italy and Austria, which was reported to have been the main object of the Kaiser's recent visit to the Austrian emperor, were ended last night when Baron Sonnino, minister of foreign affairs, made a statement before the Italian parliament, outlining the position of the Italian government.

Italy, he informed the members, has signed the agreement previously entered into by Great Britain, France and Russia, whereby these allies pledge themselves to enter into no peace negotiations and conclude no treaty of peace without including each other in the negotiations and the treaty.

TEUTON ALLIES INVADE MONTENEGRO; FIERCE FIGHTING

LONDON, Eng., December 2.—An official announcement at Sofia yesterday states that with the capture of Prizrend the Bulgarian campaign in Serbia has been concluded and that Bulgaria will not follow the Serbians into Albania or Montenegro.

This is taken here to mean that Bulgaria has concluded not to occupy Monastir, from which city the Serbian government has withdrawn, for fear that the occupation of that city and district might precipitate a clash with Greece.

The Austrians are continuing their attacks upon the Montenegrins, having crossed the border. The Montenegrins are in strong positions in the mountains and are vigorously resisting the Austrian advance, claiming victories at a number of points. In the region of Poteha, in Bosnia, where the Montenegrins are in Austrian territory, they have defeated the opposing Austrians.

Some heavy fighting is taking place in that portion of the Sanjak of Novi-bazar, taken by Montenegro in the last Balkan war. Here the Montenegrins are opposing a force of Austro-Germans, who have invaded the territory south from Sienica.

The quartermaster at the fort is having the roads through the main garrison oiled and repaired, and when the engineers complete the repair of the roads in the caoutment and across the gulch they will be in a better condition than ever before. Capt. Howell has about completed an excellent drainage system in the caoutment so the roads and walks will not be as impassable as heretofore during the rainy season. At present motorists and pedestrians are using the back road.

PAN-PACIFICISTS TO HAVE EXHIBIT AT SAN DIEGO

Alexander Hume Ford Named Chairman; Invites Tourist Heads to Visit Hawaii

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 2.—The Pan-Pacific Club, under the leadership of Alexander Hume Ford of Honolulu, is to have a Pan-Pacific building at the California Exposition at San Diego, the offer having been made yesterday by Secretary Penfold of the San Diego Exposition and promptly accepted.

A Pan-Pacific luncheon was given at the exposition grounds yesterday by Mr. Ford, attended by representatives of the various commissions of the exposition and a number of other guests. Mayor Capps of San Diego was among the speakers, inviting the club to take advantage of the fact that the San Diego exposition would continue during next year to carry on their campaign for a Pan-Pacific sentiment there.

Secretary Penfold of the California exposition, who was introduced by H. P. Wood, chairman of the Hawaiian commission, made the club an offer of a building at San Diego, which was accepted by unanimous vote and a Pan-Pacific exhibit will be installed.

Chairman Ford was instructed to appoint a committee to carry the project through to success. Mr. Ford announced later that all the states and Pacific nations having separate exhibits at San Diego would be given space also in the Pan-Pacific building.

At the luncheon, Mr. Ford extended an invitation in the name of the Pan-Pacific Club of Hawaii to the heads of all tourist and promotion bureaus to attend the Pan-Pacific convention to be held in Hawaii in 1916.

At one time a large proportion of the mess boys and others of like grade were Japanese and Chinese. This is no longer the case.

'Y. W.' VISITORS TO SEE COLLEGE OF HAWAII NEXT

The third visit to an institution of learning included in the schedule of Saturday afternoon outings which are being conducted by the Young Women's Christian Association will be made this week to the College of Hawaii. Some acquaintance with the work of this institution should be of interest both to residents and to transients who desire more than a superficial, sight-seeing knowledge of island life.

In addition to this acquaintance with the college, however, the class will learn much of scientific interest regarding the island, especially with reference to the insect and plant life. The activity of insect life here is such as to awaken the interest of the most indifferent, and the entomological collection which Professor Illingworth will show the class is made up in greater part of Hawaiian forms especially such as are of economic importance. Similar, the plant life peculiar to the islands is of interest to all who live here for a longer or shorter period, and this Professor Rock will show to the class by means of the college herbarium.

Professor Clarke will accompany the class on a tour of inspection about the farm if the present good weather contains, and Professor Chipman will demonstrate the work of the domestic art department by means of a special exhibition similar to that which the department sent to the Panama-Pacific exposition.

Altogether the afternoon will undoubtedly be of great interest and profit to all who are able to accompany the class. It is requested that advance registration be made at the office of the Young Women's Christian Association either personally or by telephone.

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 2.—Representative Spearman, chairman of the house committee on rivers and harbors, stated yesterday that he did not believe Congress at the coming session would take up for consideration any new projects, but would confine itself to considering the extension of the projects already under way.

PUBLICITY FOR CRIMINALS

Judge Charles A. Appleton's subject was "Publicity as a Deterrent to Crime." He said in part:

Publicity is the strongest weapon that can be used in securing a vigorous administration of the criminal law and in discouraging persons from committing crime. It is often said, and it seems to be a fact, that a person is more afraid of public opinion than of the law. Every one is afraid of the opinion of his neighbor.

Public opinion is based upon what the people think they know of the facts. If the public is properly and truthfully informed, then its opinion is much more forceful. So, therefore, to create a sound public opinion it is necessary to give full publicity to all matters in which the public should be interested.

There are some, I know, who claim that publicity in criminal matters induces the young to enter the life of crime—that it is made to appear romantic and exciting. With that I cannot agree because the more one knows of the criminal the more certain he must be that the life of crime is one of shame and degradation, of sorrow and misery.

To be let alone to pursue their evil ways is all the denizens of the underworld want. To have the public know of their activities is the worst blow that can be struck at them.

J. R. Parsons, advertising manager of Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., one of Chicago's largest department stores, said:

"There are four things about a newspaper which should count with an advertiser and do count with most shrewd advertisers who analyze the situation before they invest a dollar in any newspaper space. In their respective importance, they are (1st) circulation figures, (2nd) buying power of the readers, (3rd) their responsiveness and (4th) their loyalty."
