THEATRICAL OFFERINGS

'KILMENY' IS LIBERTY WINNER

The special all-star cast with which the Oliver Morosco Photo-play Co. has surrounded Lenore Ulrich in her first debut in "Kilmenny" constitutes a delicate compliment to the intelligent taste of film audiences. Such a cast in a stage play would be the talk of the town. It includes such notables as Myrtle Stedman, one of the famous beauties of the screen; Herbert Standing, who plays leads with Sir Henry Irving, and Sir Charles Wyndham; Victory Bateman, who was leading woman for Edwin Booth and Tommaso Salvini in her teens; Howard Davies, who was long connected with Wilson Barrett in England and the Lieblers here; William Desmond, a famous matinee idol of both America and Australia; while down to the least member "Kilmenny" represents one unbroken piece of sheer managerial good luck.
 Lenore Ulrich herself is known the country over as the star of Oliver Morosco's sensational stage success, "The Bird of Paradise." "Kilmenny" is the attraction on the Liberty theater program for the last half of the week.
 Chapter 14 of "The Diamond From the Sky" promises thrills galore.

'AFTER DARK' ON SCREEN TONIGHT

"After Dark," William A. Brady's stirring photo-play built around the days of the Spanish-American war and in which Brady personally appeared in the leading role upon its stage presentation many seasons ago, will be shown at the Liberty theater tonight for the last time.
 "Old Tom" is the character made famous by Brady and it is a picturesque character. Tom is a soldier of Uncle Sam and while on the battlefield is shattered in mind and body through the news of the unfaithfulness of his wife. Old Tom goes to the bad, while his only child, a daughter, marries a wealthy and wild "man about town." The husband turns out to be a scheming villain with the girl in his power. He endeavors to drown her, leaving her for dead. Old Tom saves the child.
 In the end, as in all melodramas, justice triumphs, the villains are repaid in their own coin, Old Tom mends his ways and becomes a respectable and picturesque member of society, happy in the love of his only daughter.
 The drama is from the pen of Dion Boucicault and Alec B. Francis is seen in the leading role.

MAUD POWELL IN SECOND CONCERT

The world's greatest woman violinist and the greatest of all American violinists, Mme. Maud Powell, will this evening give her second and last violin recital at the Hawaiian Opera House, assisted by Arthur Loesser, the pianist whose work made so favorable an impression at the Monday evening recital.
 Grieg, Mozart, Chopin, Beethoven—these are a few of the composers whose masterpieces will be rendered this evening by the greatest woman violinist the world has known. Monday evening's storm kept many people away from the concert that night, but a large attendance will be on hand this evening.

NEW YEAR'S EVE AT YOUNG HOTEL

The management of the Alexander Young cafe is at present booking dinner parties for New Year's Eve. The serving of a special dinner will begin in both the cafe and rathskeller at 6:30, and no tables will be received for later than 7 o'clock.
 Special musical features will be introduced, similar to Christmas Eve, and the three entertainers who have now become favorites with the Honolulu public will appear at the rathskeller from 6:30 to 9 o'clock. After that hour the program will be transferred to the roof garden and will be continued until 12, when the birth of the New Year will be celebrated.
 Anticipating that many of the guests will desire a light supper, the musical program will immediately after midnight be resumed in the rathskeller, where the festivities will continue until 2 a. m.
 The patrons of the hotel, tourists, townspeople, and officers of the army and navy and their ladies, are cordially invited to be present.—Adv.

If you go to the Governor's New Year's Eve ball, and you surely will, you will want to be up-to-date in the matter of slippers particularly. We have a large variety of the stylish Mazie evening slippers in bronze, kid, patent and white, as well as satin pumps in black and white, and bronze beaded Genevieve pumps. Manufacturers' Shoe Co., Fort street.—Adv.

LAUDER'S SONG FOR HONOLULU NOW PUBLISHED

With cover in tropic green and the countenance of Harry Lauder greeting his many friends in Hawaii with a merry twinkle of the eye, "I Love You, Honolulu," the song that Scotch Harry wrote, sung and has made famous, is on sale at Cunha's Music Store on King street.
 The enterprise of James A. Dunbar has brought out this song by his old friend Harry, who made his local appearance under Mr. Dunbar's direction. Mr. Dunbar has added two verses to the one which Lauder wrote. Next week it will be on sale at all the music stores, being published by Mr. Dunbar.

IRONY OF FATE

 Mr. W. A. Taylor of San Francisco, now a guest at the Young Hotel, held the lucky number, received the certificate, presented same yesterday afternoon, submitted to examination by Dr. Clemmens, who was forced to pay Mr. Taylor $10 because he could find no dental work required.
 Mr. Taylor is now a big booster for Dr. Clemmens, stating that the work performed on him was absolutely painless. Was the operation also painless for Dr. Clemmens?
 Ask him only during office hours, at the Blaisdell block, Fort street. After 5 p. m., and holidays, he is at Young Hotel.—Adv.
