

SEVEN FAT LITTLE PIGS GONE; HOLMES PLANNED LUAU FOR POOR

Fat little pigs ready to roast for luau would have been distributed in Camp 2 to those in need of them for New Year's feasts if Edwin S. Holmes, discharged soldier who was formerly post barber at Shafter and at Schofield Barracks, is to be believed and if the police had not interfered.

Seven candidates for luau were in a pen back of the store of Leong Wo, Hotel and Mauakea streets last night, but were missing this morning. The police began a search and found John Scott, who came voluntarily and told them a pig had been given to him. Another pig was discovered in the yard of Detective Alfred F. O'Connell, two were reported from a home in the Camp 2 district, and Holmes had the rest in sacks when arrested with James A. Kennet, Battery D. 1st Field Artillery, who is charged with complicity.

"This is the best joke I ever knew," Holmes told the detectives. "Here I am trying to feed the poor and you come and arrest me. I hope the judge sees the joke tomorrow."

Holmes says he alone is responsible for stealing the pigs and that Bennett had no part in it.

"I intended to keep one to luau for myself tomorrow," Holmes said, "and I had provided for cabbage to go with it. I hope I get a good New Year's dinner in jail."

TREASURE HUNT FOR BOYS BEGINS AT TEN O'CLOCK

Tomorrow morning sharp at 10 o'clock begins the second annual treasure hunt of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. This is the day that all the boys turn sleuth and go after the prizes that are hid in uncharted places.

The boys are not, however, to start blindly out in search of something they know not what nor where. The routes will all line up on Hotel street this year and just before the starting pistol each one of the boys will be handed a sealed envelope in which are instructions as to how to proceed. These instructions will run out before the young detective has gone very far, however. But just as they run out he finds a new set tucked under some sign board or in the roots of some tree or up some telegraph pole.

This set, in turn, is exhausted and he gets another set. It is known that this year there will be three sets of instructions. It is also known that the boys will not travel the distance they did last year but will do more hunting in the down-town districts.

NEW THOUGHT LEADERS APPLY FOR PASSPORTS

Dr. Julia Seton, founder of the New Thought church and school, and Sarah Elizabeth Cannon, Garvin and Lily Freeman Carpenter, M. D., who are traveling with her, made application at the federal court clerk's office today for passports to travel in Australia and New Zealand, where they intend to give a series of lectures on New Thought. Dr. Seton is now lecturing in Honolulu.

Specifications for the equipment of the Kahako sewer station are being revised today by the Oahu loan fund commission following the throwing out of the five bids on the work yesterday. They will be ready for re-advertising within a week.

Acting Superintendent of Public Works A. C. Wheeler said today that the specifications will be arranged so as to call for separate contracts on the electric and steam engines.

When preparing to attend the Governor's ball on New Year's Eve, do not neglect your evening slippers. We have a large line of Muzie slippers in bronze, kid, patent and white, and some of the popular satin pumps in black and white, also the bronze beaded Genesta pumps. # PACHECO FAMILY OF EIGHT DROWN IN CLOUDBURST

News reached Honolulu indirectly yesterday of the drowning of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Pacheco and their five children and Mrs. Pacheco's sister last Sunday near Kahului, Maui. Meager details indicate that the drowning occurred when the people were crossing a gulch while out driving, and it is indicated a cloudburst filled the gulch with water and caught them before they could drive to higher land.

Bodies of all of the eight persons were found later lower down the gulch. The horse was found alive and the wagon was not damaged. All of the bodies were buried in one grave in the Catholic cemetery at Kuan.

Pacheco was a fireman employed with the Kahului railroad. If investigation proves he died before his wife his relatives will receive $1500 from the Sociedade Lusitania Beneficente de Hawaii, and if it is concluded Mrs. Pacheco died first $400 will be added to this sum.

Pacheco's brother and father-in-law live on Maui and his father is in California.

NEWTON'S SONGS OF HAWAII LATE GETTING TO HIM

After many weeks Byron R. Newton is going to receive his book of Hawaiian songs he purchased while he was in Honolulu a few months ago, inspecting the various sites for the federal building.

Mr. Newton was enchanted with the music of Hawaii, both vocal and instrumental. He bought a ukulele for his daughter, and a book of Hawaiian songs. The latter he wrapped up and addressed to himself in Washington. The ukulele he took along in his trunk when he left.

Inadvertently, the assistant secretary of the treasury forgot to affix postage to the songbook package. It consequently lay around the office of the local music store where he purchased it until today, when Collector of Customs Malcolm A. Franklin heard of the matter, rescued the book, slapped some stamps on it and mailed it.

"Byron loves Hawaiian music, but I don't think he could play an ukulele any better than I can—which is not at all," commented Mr. Franklin this morning, as he licked a couple of stamps to go on the package.

LEILEHUA BEER GARDEN ORDERED TO CLOSE DOORS

"Volcano House," decided to suspend the license to take effect January 1, 1916.

That is midnight tonight. Letters Show Stand of Officers.

The correspondence in the case shows clearly the stand of the officers that the Leilehua Beer Garden as it has been conducted is objectionable to the army post. The first letter, dated December 24, says:

"Headquarters Schofield Barracks, H. T., December 24, 1915.

"The Board of Liquor License Commissioners, City and County of Honolulu, Honolulu, H. T.

"Gentlemen: I am directed by the commanding general to inform you that the regimental commanders at this post are no longer in favor of the saloon known as the 'Volcano House' near Dowsett station, and that he recommends that the license of the place be not renewed.

"CARL REICHMANN, Lieut.-col. 25th Infantry, 'Executive Officer.'"

The board, to get the technicalities of the license grant before the army authorities, replied as follows:

"Honolulu, T. H., Dec. 27, 1915.

"The Commanding General, Schofield Barracks, Oahu.

"Sir: In reply to your favor of December 24, 1915, referring to the liquor license at Leilehua, known as the 'Volcano House,' I am instructed to call your attention to an apparent misunderstanding.

"The license does not expire until June 29 next. However, it was granted on the understanding that it could and would be cancelled whenever the commanding officer at Schofield Barracks felt that it was not best to continue it.

"The fee for the license is payable every six months, in advance, the next payment being due on December 31 next.

"Under the conditions on which the license was granted, it can be suspended at any time by the board, on your request. Are we to construe your letter above referred to as such a request?

"The board will be glad to give the matter immediate consideration. Yours very truly, FREDERICK D. LOWREY, Chairman, Board of License Commissioners."

Asks Immediate Suspension.

The letter which brought definite action is as follows:

"Headquarters Schofield Barracks, H. T., December 29, 1915.

"The Board of Liquor License Commissioners, City and County of Honolulu, Honolulu, H. T.

"Gentlemen:

"In acknowledging receipt of your communication of the 27th instant, the commanding general directs me to inform you that the communication from these headquarters of the 24th instant was based on the idea that the license of the Volcano House expired at the end of the calendar year.

"2. Since the license expires at the end of the fiscal year, the commanding general requests that the license be suspended to take effect January 1, 1916.

"CARL REICHMANN, Lieut.-col. 25th Infantry, 'Executive Officer.'"

In response to this the board met today and suspended the license of the beer garden.

The board has had complaints recently of quarrels and near-riots in and around the Leilehua Beer Gardens and public sentiment has steadily grown against the saloon, which is near the military reservation and designed for the use of soldiers, they being unable to secure liquor on the reservation.

CLAIM SATO MAKES LIVING BY MAKING FEROCIOUS THREATS

Arrested for assault on a Japanese cab driver and vagrancy, and charged by the prosecution with going about the town threatening Japanese and demanding money, O. Sato, a Japanese, pleaded guilty to assault and denied the other charges in the police court today. He was fined $20 for the assault, and the vagrancy case went over to Monday.

On the stand Sato admitted that he went to a Japanese about 12 years ago and demanded money and when he was refused shot and killed the man. He served a term of 10 years in prison for this and has been out about two years, most of which time he spent on Hawaii and during all of which he has been idle.

Detectives say Sato is a dangerous character and several times recently complaints have been made of his threatening to kill Japanese if they did not meet his demands for money, but there has never been enough positive evidence to convict him. The Japanese, it is said, are afraid of Sato and it is hard to get evidence against him.

ONLY FEW OF INSIDE ROOMS ON HILL LINER LEFT FOR FEBRUARY 26

A radiogram received today by Fred. L. Waldron, Ltd., Honolulu agents for the Great Northern, stated that only a few inside rooms are left for the big liner's trip to the coast from here February 26, after the Mid-Pacific Carnival closes.

As there are 110 first cabin outside rooms and 18 outside second cabins this means all of them have been taken by round-trip passengers, who will come here to see the Carnival and return on the steamer after the big pageant and celebration for 1916 is over.

'KING' ROUGIER BUYING A NAVY FOR CHRISTMAS

plies and handle the work of my pearl fisheries.

"Yes, I suppose I am sort of a ruler, although at present I have only 20 subjects. There is no government on the island save mine, as I own it outright. It is under British protection, but they maintain no officers on the island. Maybe the population will increase some time, but there are only two occupations, pearl fishing and raising coconuts, so I don't imagine that I will ever be over-crowded."

Father Rougier is an inveterate reader and familiar with current literature on the South Seas. "I think the best of the writers who have taken the South Sea Islands for their stories is Louis Beck, he said. 'Robert Louis Stevenson was not practical enough. His head was in the clouds all the time and he idealized the situation too much. I have seen Mr. Beck on several occasions and one of his books deals principally with Christmas island.'

Father Rougier says that there is no place like an island for a man to read and think. "I have plenty of time for reading and thinking there," he said. "That is why I like it as a place to live. I am not fettered down and can go back to France when I feel like coming in touch with civilization again."

"But France, it doesn't seem like the same country now. Everywhere you go you are reminded that war is there. Women in black, maimed soldiers, or maybe a train load of young men going singing to the terrible trenches. But out of it all good will come. It is the end of war. Once Germany is conquered the nations can lay down their arms, for there will be no more need of them. All France feels this and all believe it. Their spirit is unconquerable and they will never cease until Germany is defeated."

"There is no war on my island, however. All is peace there and I will be glad to go back. I am not there to seek for the money for myself. I rather regard it as a trust for my brother's children, and he has seven. It will all be left to them and I consider myself their guardian."

"The 'navy' will not be very warlike. It will be a big power schooner."

CITY EMPLOYEES GET CASH IN JEANS FOR MORROW'S SPENDING

This has been decided for all employees of the city and county, a special arrangement having been made beforehand for both laborers and salaried men to receive their cash before New Year's Eve. Two sets of men were sent out today around the island, one going over the Pah road and the other by Halewa, to pay laborers on the windward side. It is believed by placing two sets of paymasters on the route the work of two or three days will be completed by this evening. More than 800 warrants were issued to complete the payroll.
