NEW SECURITY MEASURE IS IN RIVER OF DOUBT

Congressmen Who Oppose Preparedness Hope Public Demand Will Lessen

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 22.—Stanwood Menken, president of the National Security League, has returned to New York after having spent Saturday in extended interviews with Secretary of War Garrison and Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

"I am convinced that notwithstanding the general interest in the new bills that the entire question of what Congress would do is in a river of doubt," it is apparent that the administration had no positive information as to what Congress is prepared to do that the question of whether there will be any legislation on national defense is uncertain on account of the hope on the part of many legislators that the demand will lessen, and that the army and navy can be dealt with in the usual incidental fashion that is characteristic of past legislation.

Senator Chamberlain and Representative Hay have both introduced bills of their own. Chairman Chamberlain's bill follows the recommendations of the expert advisers in the War College. As to whether Congress will go the full length of that measure remains to be debated, and, as is often the case in the conflict of thought between the advocates of a proper defense, the case will be entirely lost.

"As to the navy, Secretary Daniels has made a report which we are very anxious to analyze and comment upon in the light of the report of the navy general board. And as we have always maintained that we must be guided by expert advice, I do not care to comment thereon, although, from all I can learn throughout the country, it is not felt that the secretary has provided the method for proper protection, it being pointed out that his plan for a five years' program meets with the objection that the ships which he has recommended as necessary for our efficient protection cannot be built until the expiration of 16 years.

"The National Security League intends to hold a great congress in Washington, to which prominent thinkers on the question of our defenses will be invited, and we are anxious that the public should understand the broad approach that is being made by the league in order that the public may fully understand the nature of our military necessities. Many eminent men in all walks of life have already indicated a desire to attend this congress.

HANA PLANS TO GO AFTER SOME IMPROVEMENTS

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) HANA, Jan. 1.—The spirit of progress and enterprise is surely catching. Hana steps into the line of the most favored towns in all the islands. With most commendable enthusiasm a representative company of the most enterprising and progressive citizens of Hana met at the courthouse a few days ago and organized themselves into an association for community betterment.

When it came to an election of officers for the new movement the choice quickly fell upon two candidates, Rev. George E. Lake and W. P. Hala. Mr. Lake gracefully withdrew his name in favor of Mr. Hala, and he was unanimously elected president. The other officers are as follows: H. E. Palakiko, secretary; John Noh, Willie Walehua, I. K. Kaleo, J. K. Naeole and Rev. George E. Lake, committee. The committee is as one man in its determination to boom Hana and put it on the map. The decks are clear for action and soon there will be something doing.

PACIFIC GREAT TRADE WATERWAY SAYS TICHENOR

Urges Hawaii to Advertise, and Do It Now: "Truth in Advertising," Luncheon Slogan

"Advertising Pays," and "Truth in Advertising," were the two slogans that were used at the Ad Club luncheon today at the Alexander Young hotel by the Y. M. C. A. secretaries who had charge of the meeting.

Paul Super presided at the meeting and in his introductory remarks stated that the Y. M. C. A. had followed out an advertising policy that had won. He stated that the association had learned the secret of advertising by experience, and believed in it, but first believed in truth in advertising.

"Affairs of today are centered around the Pacific ocean," said John S. Tichenor, secretary of the army and navy department of the Y. M. C. A., who was called upon to make a few remarks.

"Years ago the affairs of the world were confined to the Mediterranean, and later, up to 50 years ago, business was first in the North Atlantic," he said, "but I am satisfied after my trip to the Orient that the Pacific is the great commercial waterway of the world at the present and now is the time for Honolulu and Hawaii to advertise.

"First you must have something to advertise, and you must have some place for the advertising to settle. Years ago Honolulu did not advertise, because there was no necessity, but today when the great business of the world is on the Pacific, Hawaii should take advantage of the opportunities that are presented.

"I hope that Honolulu can do something for the soldier. We have had experience in handling the enlisted men and know how to do it. It requires $3500 a year to establish an association, and I would like to see the plan adopted. It will mean a $10,000 outlay for the 25th Infantry soldiers, and perhaps $75,000 for an association in Honolulu for the men.

"What you need most in association work for the soldier is a man with a personality. Buildings and other features will come later, but in all my talks on the subject in your city I have found that the first question asked is, 'Where is the man to handle it?' We can furnish a man and when I return to New York I will make my decision for a man who knows if the people of Honolulu will agree to support the movement."

The Y. M. C. A. secretaries made a novel entrance at the luncheon today. President W. R. Farrington had just finished a statement that the Y. M. C. A. men were late, when out of the kitchen came nine men carrying banners with the slogan "100 Men in 100 Minutes. Join on the 5th" printed on them.

Glenn E. Jackson was the first speaker on the Y. M. C. A. program, and the physical director, emphasized over dealings with the public in advertising. He stated that the association had no secrets, and all the books of the Y. M. C. A. are open to the public. He commended favorably upon the value of newspaper advertising, and stated that this policy of display ads had brought good results to the association.

C. F. Loomis, boys' secretary, told of the advantages of outdoor advertising, which included street boards and signs. Jay A. Urice, educational secretary, explained the system of form letters, booklets and other novel ideas in advertising that reach men in a direct way. S. W. Robley, extension secretary, urged the adoption of a well kept plant, which followed out the ideas of the association.

Show Man Where to Get Wife. "If a man wants a wife, we send him across the street to the Y. M. C. A.," said Rolla K. Thomas, an authority on the subject, in his advertising talk. "We are there to serve, and when a man asks for something it is our duty to get it for him if we can. Good service is one of the best advantages in an advertising campaign," concluded Mr. Thomas.

A. E. Larimer told of the work in lining up prospects for the association and stated that a campaign of advertising must continue to get results. Mr. Larimer stated that the campaign today for 100 members was one form of the progressive campaigns that had greatly increased the membership.

Paul Super, general secretary, said that he believed in advertising truthfully. Advertise as you are, and you will get results, was the policy that he outlined. Mr. Super stated that the Y. M. C. A. had been successful in the campaigns because they had lived up to the policies that they had incorporated into their advertising.

Mrs. Taekabury pleased the members of the club with two vocal solos accompanied by Miss Edith Gattfield. Subscriptions to the fund of the Boy Scouts of America now amount to $196,522. their indorsed applications with the party and the central committee makes out the ballots. Upon primary day in each precinct there is direct voting for the candidates for delegate and the candidate or candidates in each district receiving the highest votes win the place on the territory's delegation.

Four years ago the Democrats were presented at Baltimore by M. C. Pacheco, John Effinger, G. J. Waller, all of Oahu; Harry Irwin of Hawaii, John H. Wilson and E. M. Watson of Oahu, some of the Oahu men holding proxies for outside islands.

Several of these men will probably be candidates again—Chairman Paclero of the central committee has some idea of entering the race. It is reported also that L. L. McCandless is anxious to go to the big convention this year.

The Bourbons will not have to make a fight to get their usual quota of six seated in the convention hall. The Democratic national committee has not slashed into the territory's representation as the G. O. P. leaders did. G. O. P. to Act Soon.

"For the purpose of arranging plans and setting a date upon which to hold the territorial Republican convention, a meeting of the executive committee will be called very shortly, probably within a few days, according to Chairman Lorrin Andrews.

"We will set the date of the convention in our meeting," said Mr. Andrews today, "and though I cannot say for sure when it will be placed, it is likely to be in April. The national convention is in June, and we must get things arranged in good time before that."

Six delegates and six alternates is the number which Mr. Andrews will favor for the Chicago convention. "I think we ought to choose this number," says the committee chairman, "for only by a strong fight can we expect to be heard in the big assembly."

"As national committeeman Charles A. Rice has the assurance from Republican leaders that we will be listened to, we ought to take advantage of the opportunity and be present in force."

Officers of the local executive committee are: Lorrin Andrews, chairman; Robert Breckons, vice-chairman; Eli Crawford, secretary, and A. W. Eames, treasurer.

MARRIED MEN WITH $3000 OR MORE NOT EXEMPT FROM RETURN In spite of the fact that notices have been sent out from the office of the internal revenue collector, telephone calls continue to come in daily in large numbers requesting information as to whether or not the emergency tax has been abandoned.

Collector John F. Haley said today that it has not been abandoned and that it is very much alive. All corporation and individual income tax blanks have been mailed and parties not receiving them are not exempt from the penalty placed for non-compliance with the regulations. These are blanks made out for the purpose of filing income returns, and must be filled in and sent back to the office by March 1. Persons who do not have the blanks may get them by applying at the revenue office, the collector says.

COL. KENNON IS TO LEAVE HERE ON SHIP TODAY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Jan. 5.—It was with great regret that the 25th Infantry said farewell to Col. and Mrs. L. W. V. Kennon who leave on the Thomas this afternoon.

An impressive ceremony was held yesterday morning when the non-commissioned staff, the band, the 12 first sergeants, and a hundred or more members of Camp No. 5, United Spanish War Veterans, marched to the colonel's quarters just before his departure for Honolulu.

A line was formed in front of the building, and while the band played an appropriate air the veterans presented their colors.

Col. Kennon then made a farewell address that brought tears to the eyes of the men who have become devoted to their commanding officer during his three years' service with the regiment. Following the address they all passed in single file, and shook hands with both Col. and Mrs. Kennon.

Then with sad hearts the column reformed and was marched back to the barracks by Comrade Camp Commander W. F. Jones. The camp of Spanish War Veterans of the 25th Infantry was organized during the time that Col. Kennon was in command of the regiment, and is known as the Col. L. W. V. Kennon Camp, and will bear this name as long as any Spanish war veterans remain in the regiment.

The 25th Infantry band will be at the transport dock this afternoon to serenade Col. and Mrs. Kennon upon the departure of the Thomas.

Col. Kennon goes to the 26th Infantry on the Mexican border.

RUGER TO HAVE LIGHTS SHORTLY, SCHOFIELD TOO

Work on a permanent underground electric lighting system, through which "juice" for the barracks and quarters at Fort Ruger will be conveyed, will be started within a few days. The system is planned on modern lines, and will give the fort an up-to-date lighting system.

Indications are, from the manner in which the work planned by the quartermaster's department is being carried out, that electric lights will be installed and ready for use in all buildings at Schofield Barracks by May 31. Light has been a question of importance and the cause of much complaint at Schofield, and when the new system is in the garrison will be greatly pleased.

Schofield Notes

(Schofield Barracks, Jan. 4.—The entire garrison was turned out this morning for a general police of the entire reservation west and south of the county road. The order directed that all officers and enlisted men required to attend drill should without exception turn out for this fatigues and remain with it until completed. It completed in one day tomorrow will be a holiday. The task is a big one and includes clearing the old pineapples fields, and clearing the ravines and gulches of weeds and shrubs. Each regiment was assigned an area.

The transport Thomas will take a number of officers away from Schofield Barracks, as well as a large number of enlisted men returning for discharge or to join the army reserve. Forty-nine have been transferred to the reserve from the 1st Infantry alone.

Departing from the 1st Field Artillery are Capt. and Mrs. Roger O. Mason, Lieut. and Mrs. Louis MacKinnon, Capt. Neb. B. Rehkopf, Lieut. C. B. He will be a passenger on the Thomas.

Leaving the 25th Infantry are Col. and Mrs. L. W. V. Kennon, who go to the 26th Infantry on the border, and Maj. and Mrs. Edmund L. Butts. Mrs. R. P. Harbold, wife of Lieut. Harbold, 25th Infantry, is returning to the mainland for a short visit.

Passengers from the 4th Cavalry will be Lieut. and Mrs. William C. Gardenhire and Lieut. and Mrs. Seth W. Cook. Lieut. and Mrs. Staley A. Campbell are leaving the 1st Infantry.

The following named non-commissioned officers that have been on special duty with the recruit companies, have been returned to duty with their companies: Cpl. Julius Waddie, Co. A; Cpl. F, and Cpl. Julian Lerry, Co. G.

A big reception and ball will be given by the officers and ladies of the garrison at the 25th Infantry hall on the evening of January 14, in honor of Gen. and Mrs. Frederick S. Strong.

Announcement has been made that the amount derived from the Army Relief Society by the country dance given by the officers and ladies of the garrison on November 30th, amounts to $371.80. An entertainment given by the 25th Infantry under the auspices of Mrs. L. W. V. Kennon brought in 1455 francs, which has been sent to one of the hospitals for the seriously wounded at Bordeaux, France.

Lieut. Col. George G. Bailey, the post quartermaster, is attempting to lease a strip of the beach on the Bishop estate, northeast of the Haleiwa hotel for the purpose of building a bath-house for the enlisted men of Schofield Barracks. A bath-house at Haleiwa will be very popular with the soldiers of Lellehua, who in warm weather go in large numbers for a swim on the north coast.

Dr. Alfred J. Mason, veterinary surgeon of the 4th Cavalry, will be a passenger on the Thomas, returning to the mainland. Dr. Mason's mother and sister will remain at Schofield Barracks until the departure of the next transport. Dr. Mason has for a long time been in charge of the veterinary hospital and has made himself very popular at the big garrison.

The new swimming pool at Castner has been opened for the use of the officers and ladies of the garrison and placed under the charge of the commanding officer of the 4th Cavalry.

Maj. E. L. Butts, 25th Infantry, has been relieved as summary court officer of the 25th Infantry cantonment and Maj. Vernon A. Caldwell detailed in his place.

Upon the recommendation of his company commander Pvt. Roy Jefferson, Company M, 25th Infantry, has been appointed corporal.

ASK DEPARTMENT FOR $150,000 FOR ROADS AT FORTS

One hundred and fifty thousand dollars approximately was asked for to improve roads at Fort Castner and Schofield Barracks in a message sent yesterday from the quartermaster's department here to the war department at Washington.

In the estimate, worked out and submitted by Capt. David L. Stone, quartermaster, is planned a macadam road from Castner extending through all the cantonments at Schofield Barracks.

Roads at Schofield are now badly in need of improvement, and although there is no certainty the war department will grant the amount asked, it is thought probable the roads will be built.

NO WORD EXPECTED ON BUILDINGS FOR MONTH

No answer is expected by the quartermaster's department from Washington regarding the proposed new buildings at Fort De Russy for a month or more. While the message from here telling the war department that all bids for the work at De Russy were too high went by cable, the usual custom will probably be followed, and the department here may get a letter as soon as it can arrive stating whether or not more money will be allowed for the work.
