HONOLULU, TERRITORY OF HAWAII, SATURDAY, JANUARY 22, 1916.

NINE

TO say that the Army Relief Society ball held at the armory on Tuesday evening was a success is mere words. It was something brilliant, fascinating, and only those who partook of the festivities realize the truly successful character of the affair.

It was greatly regretted that the officers and their ladies from Schofield and those from Kamehameha were unable to attend on account of the general downpour and floods. However, Armstrong, Ruger and Shafter were represented and the local society folk were there to help make the affair one long to be remembered.

Unusually good music was furnished during the evening by two bands. Through the courtesy of Mayor Lane the services of the Hawaiian band were secured for both evenings, as the 25th Infantry band was unable to come in from Schofield.

In the reception line and heading the committee were Mrs. John P. Wisser, representing the Hawaiian department; Mrs. Walter Chaffield and Mrs. Benjamin W. Atkinson of Fort Shafter, Mrs. James B. Houston, Quartermaster, and Mrs. Wilmet E. Ellis and Mrs. Frank W. Coe, artillery post.

Those who had reserved boxes included, box 1, Admiral Boush; 2, Governor Pinkham; 3, Gen. Wisser and Col. Atkinson; 4, Col. F. P. Reynolds; 5, Gen. Strong and Col. Gullfoyle; 6, Col. Houston and Col. Ellis; 7, Capt. Phisterer; 8, Mrs. Morris; 11, Mr. Shuffler; 13, Mr. Williams; 15, Maj. Dashiell and Capt. Cochran; 17, Mr. F. M. Swany; 19, Mr. C. W. C. Deering; 21, Mr. George Ahlborn; 23, Mr. Blackman; 24, Sachs & Co.; 25, Gen. Johnson; 26, Mr. Albert Horner; 27, Mr. C. C. von Hamm; 28, Mr. Williams; 29, Mr. E. D. Tenney; 30, Mr. Arthur Wall, Mr. Raymond Brown, and Mr. J. M. Riggs, and 31, Judge A. A. Wilder.

Among the handsome gowns noticed during the evening were:

Mrs. J. Morley Riggs wore a gown of black net over old-rose satin and was very charming.

Mrs. George Beckley wore an elegant costume of white satin with an overskirt of spangled lace.

Mrs. Warren Oakes appeared in a black tulle gown which made very short and full, was very attractive.

Mrs. Paul Malone wore an attractive costume of black net over a foundation of black satin.

Mrs. George Collins' gown was of black net over old-rose satin and was very charming.

Mrs. E. J. O'Hara wore a stunning costume of corded-black net over a deep red satin.

In a gown fashioned of rose-colored tulle, made very short and full, Miss Marion Chapin looked quite a picture.

Miss Dorothy Harker looked very pretty in a gown of delicately tinted pink lace over white satin.

Mrs. G. Fred Bush wore a handsome gown of blue satin combined with lace.

Miss Muriel Thiden wore a turquoise blue satin and taffeta made short and low which was most becoming.

Mrs. David L. Stone wore a pretty costume of turquoise blue taffeta made in a late fashion.

Mrs. M. J. Lenthin wore a combination of black satin and tulle which was very striking.

Miss Hazel Beckland wore an old rose and white combination of tulle and satin which was very pretty.

Mrs. Samuel L. Johnson's gown was of dainty pink satin with rose-bud trimming.

Mrs. H. H. Zornig wore an attractive gown of blue and white tulle.

Mrs. C. B. Cooper's gown was of blue charmeuse with a bodice of white lace.

Mrs. Charles E. Frazier wore a gown of white net with a corsage of pink sweet peas.

Mrs. Charles Heiser's gown was of yellow taffeta, and was very becoming.

Miss Enid Sutton wore one of the fashionable "square" dresses of black silk contrasted with green.

Miss Mary von Holt looked lovely in a white embroidered net over white satin.

Miss Betty Case's gown of white lace with a dainty corsage of pink rosebuds was very becoming.

Miss Harriet Hatch wore a gown of black net over satin which was very striking.

Mrs. Charles A. Ragan's stunning costume was of purple and gray velvet and with a court train.

A black lace gown made with a long train was the gown chosen by Mrs. Raymond Brown.

Miss Helen McLean wore a pink confection which was charming.

One of the prettiest gowns was that worn by Mrs. Frank Alexander Sloan. A black lace with green sequins made full with long taring chiffon sleeves.

Black net with silver embroidery made in a simple but elegant style was the gown worn by Mrs. C. W. Case Deering.

Mrs. B. W. Atkinson was gowned in a soft white net with a court train of nile green satin, which was very effective and becoming.

One of the charming costumes was that worn by Mrs. A. N. Campbell. It was a purple creation of cut velvet and very becoming to Mrs. Campbell's style.

Miss Ruth Anderson wore a com-ination of blue rose chiffon and white brocade.

Mrs. S. D. Barnes' gown was fashioned of yellow taffeta with touches of white lace.

Miss Bertha Young wore a gown of white satin made in the latest fashion, full in the skirt and very short.

Miss Rose Hebert wore a fascinating gown of black tulle and silver, with the barest excuse of tulle sleeves.

Mrs. F. M. Swany looked charming in a gown of white brocade satin.

Mrs. E. E. Dodge was gowned in a soft black net with silver passementerie trimming.

Morning Musicals at the Home of Mrs. Richard Ivers.

Mrs. Richard Ivers has invited a number of her music-loving friends to her home every Wednesday for an hour of music with Herr Fritz Scavenius, the Danish pianist who is making his home in Honolulu.

On each morning, Mr. Scavenius interprets the work of one composer, opening with a short talk on the life and work of the master, and then plays selections taken from the different stages of the man's work. Sometimes it is Beethoven, sometimes Bach or Grieg or Chopin.

Those who attend find the hour very enjoyable and are glad of the opportunity of hearing the artist.

Among those who attend Mrs. Ivers' musical mornings are Mrs. Gerrit P. Wilder, Mrs. George Castle, Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Mrs. Will Whitney and Miss Harriet Hatch.

Ball of Nations to be Unique.

Although not an exclusive social event, speaking in the ordinary terms, the Ball of Nations that will be one of the opening Carnival features will attract undoubtedly a very large number of society folk.

The open-air dancing in the most cosmopolitan of surroundings will afford a unique opportunity for the social elite to vary their usual programs and attend, as individuals or in parties, this gay Mardi Gras. In fact, already a number of parties are planned by the young folk who will go either to dance or to look on from the bleachers.

James A. Dunbar, chairman of the Ball of Nations committee, announces a number of projected features. This bill will be on the opening night of the Carnival, which is Ad Club night. The capitol grounds will be the center of attraction. Three bands have been secured, so that dancers on every part of the broad pavements can hear the music above the various noises of the Mardi Gras crowds.

Four sets of bleachers will be put up. At the apex ends, near the executive building, the bleachers will be designed particularly to accommodate seat-holders. In the past there has been some complaint that the bleachers were too far from the center of interest directly in front of the capitol. This will be avoided now.

The present bandstand will be utilized for a sort of theatrical and musical entertainment. A Hawaiian quintet club will be secured and either a picture show or special vaudeville acts will be staged. This entertainment is expected to take away the congestion from the dancing pavements and leave more room for the merry-makers there.

On the other side of the main avenue Chairman Dunbar will have another stage erected, according to present plans, where Hawaiian hula dances will be given, or perhaps a dance of nations, which has proved attractive heretofore.

He also plans to have refreshments served by an expert caterer at a nominal figure, and arrangements made for men's and women's rest-rooms either on the grounds or in the building.

Prima Donna to be Honor Guest.

Judge A. A. Wilder will give a pot supper at his Walkiki residence on Monday evening in honor of Mademoiselle Johanna Kristoffy, the noted Austrian artist, whose birthday falls on Monday, January 24, 1916.

The guests who will be present, besides the guest of honor, are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Hine of New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Oakes of Denver, Mr. and Mrs. James of Denver, Mr. and Mrs. Tomkins of Denver, Mr. and Mrs. Niles of Kansas City, the Chief Justice and Mrs. Robertson, the Mayor of Honolulu and Mrs. Lane, Judge and Mrs. Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Childingworth, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Wilder, Mrs. Alice Schultz, Mrs. Eben P. Low, Miss Alice Macfarlane, Miss Ruth Chase of Minneapolis, Mr. Malcolm A. Franklin, Mr. Richard Ivers, Mr. James D. McInerney, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Shingle, Mr. Van Tassel.

In honor of the natal day of Mademoiselle Kristoffy the Hawaiian Band will play during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham Entertain at Mokuiaia.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham entertained delightfully at a week-end party at their beautiful home, Mokuiaia, last week. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kimball and Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder were their guests.

Mr. R. W. Perkins' Dinner Party.
Mr. R. W. Perkins gave a dinner party on his birthday Thursday evening at the Pleasanton hotel. The table was decorated with purple asters and violets. The place cards were artistic photo cards of Mr. Perkins and "Dutchy," his Boston terrier. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Beiser, Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Monsarrat, Mr. and Mrs. George Angus, Mr. Don Gilmore, Mr. C. D. Wright, Miss Lissak, Mrs. R. B. Selbie.

Honeymooners in Petrograd.

The following item from the Oakland Tribune of recent date will be of interest to the many Honolulu friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wakefield. Mrs. Wakefield, who was formerly Mrs. Edith Spreckels, made a number of friends in the islands during her stay here prior to her marriage to Mr. Wakefield:

"Recent letters from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wakefield told of their plans to spend Christmas in Petrograd. They sailed from Japan early in December and took the trans-Siberian railroad from Vladivostok to the Russian capital, where very likely they arrived for the holidays.

"Petrograd is really gay this winter, in spite of the war. Of course, the war does make a difference. But when the Russians are not in the tragic mood they are spirited and brilliant, and society in Petrograd has always been exceedingly gay. This year it is only a few degrees less so, with many war relief fetes, and a fashion for nursing in hospitals set by the Czarina.

"Mr. Ray Baker has written interesting accounts in letters home of the winter in Petrograd, where an interesting group of Americans is gathered. Countess Artamonovitch, who was the first Mrs. Webster Jones, is among them, and Mrs. George T. Marye is giving much of her time to serious work of relief.

"The intrepid spirit of the Frank Wakefields seems admirable. They had planned a honeymoon abroad, and were not deterred from a tour of Europe by the war. However, they will not enter the zone, but head to the north and to Denmark and Norway. Whether or not they will go to England or return to Vladivostok to sail across the Pacific in the spring is undecided.

"Mrs. Wakefield was Mrs. Edith Huntington Spreckels (Mrs. "Jack" Spreckels) before her marriage to Mr. Wakefield, and she is a cousin of Mrs. Brockway Metcalf of Berkeley and the Huntingtons of San Francisco. Mr. Wakefield formerly lived in Piedmont."

Simple Ceremony to Unite Rev. Doremus Scudder and Miss Mabel Boshor.

A very simple ceremony will unite in marriage Dr. Doremus Scudder, pastor of Central Union church, and Miss Mabel Boshor, retiring principal of Kawahalo seminary, next Tuesday night, January 25th. The ceremony will take place at Alherton Hall, Kawahalo, beginning at 9 o'clock. Rev. John L. Scudder, brother of the groom, will perform the ceremony, having come from the mainland for this purpose.

At the wedding ceremony itself there will be present only the relatives of both parties, the "official families"—that is, the managing board of Mid-Pacific Institute, the officers of Central Union church, members of the Hawaiian board, and their husbands or wives, as the case may be.

At 8:30 o'clock the trustees and faculty of Mid-Pacific Institute invite their friends to a reception to meet the newly married couple.

Neither of the principals will have attendants. A chorus of Kawahalo girls will sing at one point in the ceremony.

Mr. George Ahlborn a Host.

Transvaal daisies in slender silver vases were the attractive table decorations at the dinner at which Mr. George Ahlborn entertained at the Country Club last evening prior to the club ball. The party of young folks was chaperoned by Mrs. Dora Ahlborn, mother of the host. Covers were laid for Mrs. Ahlborn, Mr. and Mrs. Fuyker, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Miss Mary Lucas, Miss Bertha Kopke, Miss E. Kopke, Miss Marian Chapin, Miss Florence Hoffman, Messrs. Francis Brown, Robert Purvis, Ed Hedemann, Stanley Kennedy, Bob McCriston, Percy Deverill and the host.

For Mainland Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Williams, who are visiting here from Chicago, were the guests of honor at an informal dinner last evening at which Mr. and Mrs. James Dole entertained before the dance at the Country Club. Mrs. Williams is one of the most beautiful women who has ever visited the islands, and she and Mr. Williams are being entertained extensively during their stay here. Mr. and Mrs. Dole's guests of last evening were Mr. Niles, Mr. H. Blumlein, Mr. Max Blumlein and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barnes.

Before the Country Club Dance.

A very charming dinner which preceded the dance at the Country Club last night was that at which Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hawes entertained. Flowers and ferns in attractive arrangement ornamented the table at which covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit P. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Jack London, Mrs. Morill, Mrs. James Wilder and Mr. and Mrs. Hawes.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Armstrong Entertain.

At an elaborately appointed dinner Mr. and Mrs. Frank Armstrong entertained a number of friends at the Country Club last evening prior to the moonlight dance. A basket filled with exquisite American Beauty roses and tied with pink and blue tulle ornamented the center of the table, and attractive hand-painted cards marked the covers for each guest. Places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Atkinson, Mrs. A. Schultz of New York, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tenney, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mrs. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Giffard, Mr. and Mrs. George Rodiek, Mr. Fred Wichman, Mr. J. D. McInerney, Judge A. A. Wilder, Mr. Scrutcheon and the host and hostess.

Miss Grace Parsons a Bride of this Week.

A very quiet marriage solemnized this week was that of Miss Grace Parsons and Mr. Will Clark. The wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon in the parlors of the Methodist Church, the Rev. L. L. Looft-bourou reading the service. At six o'clock the bridal party motored to the church and there, before a few intimate friends, plighted their troth.

The bride was very charming in a smart gown of white taffeta made in the short length, and she wore a very becoming white hat. Her bouquet was a shower of white orchids. Miss Luella Clark, a sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore an attractive frock of white taffeta and carried a bouquet of white violets and bride's roses.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Clark motored to the country, where they will spend a short honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Agnes Entertain Informally.

A pleasant affair of the past week was the dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Agnes entertained on Tuesday evening prior to the Charity Ball at the Armory. The table was prettily decorated, for the occasion, with dainty flowers and maidenhair ferns and attractive hand-painted place cards marked the place of each guest, including Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Buchly, Miss Butler, Miss Rodman, Mr. McElroy and the host and hostess.

Miss Alice Cooke to Return.

Among the Honolulu society folk who will return to the Islands in the Matsunia in February is Miss Alice Cooke. Miss Cooke has been visiting friends on the mainland for some time and she will be eagerly welcomed by her friends here.

Guests at the Pleasanton.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Whitley are guests at the Pleasanton. Mr. Whitley is a prominent businessman in Los Angeles and one of the largest land developers of southern California.

Among the other guests at the Pleasanton: Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Harvey and maid, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Kelley, Mr. Laurence and Master Kelley and valet, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sufel, Master Sufel and nurse, Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Williams, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Lawrence, Chicago; Mrs. J. H. Calvert, daughter and maid, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Carpenter, Jack Morrill, Esq., Medford, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. G. Podenzana, Master Podenzana, Mrs. Prescott, Sydney, Australia; Mr. and Miss Rogers of Gardner, Maine; Mrs. R. B. Selby, San Francisco; Mr. Lindsay Scrutton, Mrs. E. L. Turf and child, San Francisco; Mrs. E. E. Rombauer, Miss Bertha Rombauer, St. Louis; Mrs. L. E. Schmidt, Miss O. Schmidt, New York; Mrs. L. G. Phelps, Mrs. C. J. Belden, Pitchfork, Wyoming; Mrs. A. Q. Emery, Miss G. C. Emery, Boston, Mass.; Mr. E. S. Van Tassel, New York; Mr. and Mrs. L. Banigan and child, San Juan, Porto Rico; Dr. Lester Cox, Los Angeles; Mrs. J. E. Raymond, New York.

Pacific Club Dance.

An affair of the season to which society folk are looking forward with a great deal of anticipation is the dinner-dance at the Pacific Club next Saturday evening. It is a custom at the club for the president to give an annual ball at which the members of this exclusive organization entertain their friends. This year the event will be a dinner followed by a dance and supper.

The Pacific Club ball is counted among the season's most exclusive affairs, and it is a function for which the ladies make extensive preparations. A number of handsome gowns have been ordered and the scene at the club house will be a brilliant one. During the dinner hour there will be entertainers, and for the dancing of the evening a Hawaiian quintet club will furnish music.

Dutch Treat Dinner at the Country Club.

One of the most enjoyable of the dinners which preceded the moonlight dance at the Country Club last night was that in which a number of the younger members of the smart set participated. It was a subscription affair, each of the young men preparing a place for himself and a fair partner. Flowers and ferns ornamented the center of the table at which covers were laid for Miss Muriel Thidon, Miss Gertrude Winslow, Miss Ruth McChesney, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Miss Hazel Beckland, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Blanche Soper, Dr. George Braly, Mr. Harry Hoffman, Lieut. Charles Lyman, Lieut. Witzel, Mr. William Warren, Mr. Watson Ballentyne, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clark, who chaperoned the young folks.

FT. SHAFTER SOCIETY

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] PORT SHAFTER, Jan. 21.—Lieut. and Mrs. Raymond Wheeler entertained at an enjoyable dinner last Thursday evening at the Moana hotel. Around the attractively decorated table places were reserved for Lieut. and Mrs. Carl A. Har-digg, Capt. and Mrs. C. J. Taylor and the host and hostesses. Later Lieut. and Mrs. Wheeler and their guests attended the transport hop at the hotel.

Lieut. McDonald, recently appointed to the Philippine Scouts from the 2d Infantry, was a passenger on the transport Sheridan when it sailed for the islands last Saturday.

Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln's the house-guest of Capt. and Mrs. George H. Jamerson in the main garrison while Capt. Lincoln is on his annual tour of inspection of the National Guard of Hawaii. Capt. Lincoln sailed Thursday for Kauai, and will probably return in a week.

The regular meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Sewing Club was postponed this week on account of preparations for the charity ball. The next meeting of the club will be on Tuesday, January 25, at the home of Mrs. John B. Richardson in the cantonment.

Lieut. and Mrs. Clyde R. Abraham entertained at a delightfully informal dinner last Saturday evening in their quarters in the cantonment in honor of Capt. and Mrs. Paul B. Malone.

Capt. Patterson of the Aviation Corps, a passenger on the transport en route to Manila, P. I., entertained at luncheon last Saturday at the Alexander Young hotel in honor of Lieut. and Mrs. John S. Sullivan.

According to news received from the mainland Miss Jessie Gibbs, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. George S. Gibbs, was recently operated on successfully for appendicitis. Capt. and Mrs. Gibbs were recently stationed at Fort Shafter where Capt. Gibbs was in command of the Signal Corps Company until last August when he was ordered to Washington, D. C., for duty in the office of the chief signal officer.

Lieut. Rockwood, who has been a patient in the Department hospital for the past week, has fully recovered from his recent illness and has returned to his quarters in the cantonment.

Capt. and Mrs. Albert Clark were host and hostess at a delightful dinner last Monday evening in their quarters in the cantonment when they entertained for Lieut. and Mrs. A. H. Hobbly and Lieut. and Mrs. H. C. K. Muhlenberg.

Mrs. Ralph Holliday, who has been a patient in the Department hospital for the past week, returned to her home in the cantonment Wednesday and her many friends hope it will not be long before she can move to be able to join in the social activities of the post.

Mrs. George H. Jamerson entertained very informally at tea Thursday afternoon at her quarters in the main garrison.

Word has been received that Maj. H. O. Williams, who has been on leave in the states for the past two months, has been admitted to the Army and Navy hospital at Hot Springs, Ark. Maj. Williams will return to Fort Shafter on the March transport.

Lieut. and Mrs. John B. Richardson entertained very informally at dinner Friday evening for Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln.

The charity ball given on Tuesday evening at the armory in Honolulu for the benefit of the Army Relief Fund, was well attended although the inclement weather kept many away. A large crowd was expected from Schofield Barracks but due to the heavy rains and washouts none were able to come. However, Honolulu's smart set and all of the surrounding posts were well represented and those who ventured out in the storm felt amply repaid, for a most enjoyable evening was spent by all. Although no statement has been given out as to the number of tickets sold it is assured that a goodly sum has been raised for this worthy cause. On Wednesday evening the enlisted men had their ball and over 1000 tickets were sold. Gen. and Mrs. Wisser and Col. and Mrs. Atkinson led the grand march.

Among those present from Shafter on Tuesday night were Col. and Mrs. Atkinson, Maj. and Mrs. M. J. Lenthin, Capt. and Mrs. George H. Jamerson, Capt. and Mrs. Paul B. Malone, Capt. and Mrs. W. B. Cochran, Lieut. and Mrs. D. J. Greene, Dr. Deiber, Lieut. A. K. R. Lyman, Lieut. Charles D. Lyman, Miss Dorothy Harker, Miss Catherine Lenthin, Lieut. and Mrs. Raymond Wheeler, Lieut. and Mrs. Clyde R. Abraham, Lieut. and Mrs. John B. Richardson, Lieut. and Mrs. F. F. Black, Lieut. Cohen, and Mrs. Cochran, Lieut. Witzel, Lieut. and Mrs. Camp, Capt. and Mrs. Robert Howell, Lieut. and Mrs. Sloan, Lieut. and Mrs. Calder, Miss Chase, Lieut. and Mrs. Barker, Capt. and Mrs. A. C. Knowles, Capt. and Mrs. Hartshorn.

One of the largest parties of the past week was the bridge given by Mrs. Robert Calder on Thursday afternoon in honor of her house-guest, Miss Chase of Minneapolis. The card tables were placed on the main and Miss Catherine Lenthin having the highest score won the prize, while Miss Chase received the attractive guest prize. Among Mrs. Calder's guests were Mrs. Douglas T. Greene, Mrs. George Haloran, Mrs. Roswood, Mrs. T. J. Camp, Mrs. Clyde R. Abraham, Mrs. Carl A. Har-digg, Mrs. Raymond Wheeler, Mrs. John S. Sullivan, Mrs. W. G. Jones, Miss Chase, Miss Catherine Lenthin, Miss Dorothy Harker, Miss Elizabeth Rosenbaum and others.

Three men were asphyxiated in the Kane, Pa., lockup by escaping sewer gas.

In the hunting season in Maine, ending December 15, about 19,000 deer, several hundred bears and at least 11 human beings lost their lives.
