SCHOFIELD SOCIETY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Jan. 28.
The hop in the Mounted Service club on Wednesday was a thoroughly enjoyed one, the cavalry-artillery garrisons being well represented in attendance. The attractive supper given by Lieut. and Mrs. Swift Martin preceded the hop, all their guests motoring to the club later and finding the dancing a delightful termination of a pleasant evening. Yellow was used artistically in decorating the various small tables at which the supper was served, brown wicker baskets holding clusters of brightly hued nasturtiums making pretty centerpieces, while miniature wicker baskets, the handles tied with yellow toilet bows, held the nuts. Soft light was afforded by the yellow-shaded candle sticks on each table, while the place cards were unusual little watercolors of Japanese character. Those present were Major and Mrs. Francis E. Lacey, Col. John McMahon, the Misses Carlie and Esther McMahon, Maj. Charles Taysman, Capt. Thomas, Capt. and Mrs. William Chitty, Maj. and Mrs. John O'Shea, Capt. and Mrs. Clarence R. Day, Capt. and Mrs. Pelham Glassford, Lieut. and Mrs. William McCleave, Lieut. Frederick Stewart, Mrs. Henry Lantry, Mrs. Joseph Daly and Lieut. and Mrs. Martin.

On the same evening Lieut. and Mrs. Harold Vandever entertained at dinner for Capt. and Mrs. Americus Mitchell and Lieut. and Mrs. W. E. Shedd. The effective decoration of this dinner table was a wicker basket filled with brilliant red lilies.

Capt. and Mrs. William Browning were dinner hosts on Saturday evening last when they entertained for eight. Pink and yellow transvaal daisies in graceful arrangement made an effective central decoration for the round table, around which were seated Col. and Mrs. Frank Keefer, Maj. and Mrs. John O'Shea, Lieut. and Mrs. Swift Martin and Capt. and Mrs. Brownings.

Capt. George De Grasse Catlin has the sympathy of the garrison in his recent bereavement. Capt. Catlin sailed for the coast on the Wilhelmnia on Wednesday, going to settle the affairs of his father, General Catlin, who passed away at his home in Brooklyn on the nineteenth of the month.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. Robert Cheney gave a two table bridge in honor of Mrs. John O'Shea, who is among the many cavalry people to sail for home in February. The guests were Mesdames O'Shea, William Renzlehausen, Rawson Warren, James Fechet, George Callender, Alexander Milton, Phillip Kieffer and William Nalle. After playing the pivoting game of auction for a number of rubbers, the prizes were awarded to Mrs. O'Shea and Mrs. Renzlehausen who had the high scores, the prizes being dainty silk stockings. The afternoon was brought to a close with a delicious "tea."

On Saturday evening last Capt. and Mrs. Harry Knight gave a dinner for 10, at which the color scheme was carried out in pink in all the dainty accessories. Those present were Miss Welcome Ayer, Lieut. and Mrs. Charles H. Rice, Lieut. and Mrs. Charles Bonesteel, Lieut. and Mrs. Walter Greacen, Lieut. Otis Sadtler and the hosts.

Lieut. and Mrs. William Nalle entertained for Capt. and Mrs. James Fechet and Lieut. and Mrs. Robert Cheney at dinner on Tuesday evening, the table being decorated with yellow marguerites.

Mrs. William McCleave was hostess at a very pleasant auction party of five tables on Friday afternoon, those present being Mesdames Frank Albright, Lewis Sorley, Frank Keefer, John O'Shea, John Hunt, Swift Martin, Clarence Day, William Chitty, Percy Deshon, Livingston Watrous, Mrs. Hunt, Arthur Cassels, Walter Frank, John Fair, Edward Carey, W. E. Shedd, Joseph Daly, Henry Lantry, Madame McCleave and Miss Norma Mason.

Captain and Mrs. Gordon Kimball gave a charming dinner on Friday evening when they had as guests Mrs. De Russy Hoyle, Col. John Guilfoyle, Lieut. and Mrs. Alexander Milton, Capt. and Mrs. Luetus Habrook, and Lieut. and Mrs. Howell Estes.

Capt. and Mrs. George Kumpfe will give a buffet supper on Sunday evening, entertaining for Capt. and Mrs. Chalmers Hall, Maj. and Mrs. Lewis Sorley, Capt. and Mrs. Clyde Crossan, Lieut. and Mrs. Walter Greacen, Lieut. and Mrs. Charles Bonesteel, Lieut. and Mrs. Charles Rice, Lieut. and Mrs. Fred Pitts, Lieut. and Mrs. Elva Hunt, and Lieuts. Roy N. Jones and Charles Bankhead. White asters used in profusion will beautify the rooms in which the supper is served.

Another very enjoyable supper was given by Captain and Mrs. John Fair on Thursday evening when they entertained for twenty-five guests, the affair being given in honor of those who are soon to leave the cavalry regiment and the islands. Appropriately to the cavalry, yellow was chosen for the color note in the attractive decorations with bowls of fragrant nasturtiums forming the central motif for each table, with candle shades and place cards of the same tint. Those present were Colonel John Guilfoyle, Mrs. De Russy Hoyle, Colonel and Mrs. William Forsyth, Major and Mrs. John O'Shea, Captain and Mrs. Christian Briand, Mrs. Mason, Miss Norma Mason, Miss Marguerite Briand, Captain and Mrs. James Fechet, Captain and Mrs. William Chitty, Capt. and Mrs. William Renzlehausen, Lieut. and Mrs. Alexander Milton, Lieut. and Mrs. Phillip Kieffer, Lieut. and Mrs. Robert Donaldson and Lieuts. Eugene Owen and William Dorman.

On Saturday last at the charming afternoon bridge-tee given by Mrs. Edward Carey, the prizes won during the auction were sandwich baskets of Japanese china and wicker work, which were awarded to Mrs. D. L. Howell, Mrs. William Forsyth, Mrs. William Gance and Miss Edith Batton. Later at the tea hour a number of ladies came in and shared the delicious refreshment with those already present. Among them were Mrs. Wade Ayer, Mrs. Francis Lacey and Mrs. Slater, who has been a guest of Major Taysman.

Major and Mrs. Michael Lenihan of Fort Shafter have been the house-guests for a few days this week of Colonel and Mrs. George Bailey.

On Saturday Miss Welcome Ayer was hostess at a very dainty luncheon which was given in honor of Miss Anne Carpenter. Yellow was used throughout the appointments of the long table, around which covers were laid for the Misses Anne Carpenter, Carrie and Esther McMahon, Dorothy Forsyth, Stella Mayer, Katherine Lenihan and Dorothy Palmer, Mrs. Franklin Rice, Mrs. Henry Knight and Miss Welcome Ayer. After luncheon, the young guest of honor was the recipient of many pieces of daintily embroidered linen, the "shower" coming as a delightful surprise.

Lieut. and Mrs. Seth Schofield have returned to the post, and have taken up their residence in Lieut. Schofield's old quarters in the Cavalry-Artillery cantonment.

Mrs. E. G. Cullum entertained the Ladies' Reading and Current Events Club on Thursday morning, Mrs. Charles Lloyd giving the events of the week.

Mrs. William McCleave was hostess at a much-enjoyed bridge party on Friday afternoon at which twenty ladies of the garrison played the always absorbing game of pivot auction with later delicious refreshments bringing the afternoon to a pleasant close. Those who shared in Mrs. McCleave's delightful hospitality were Mesdames McCleave, Frank Albright, John Hunt, Livingston Watrous, Hunt, Walter Frank, W. E. Shedd, Frank Keefer, John O'Shea, Henry Lantry, Joseph Daly, Arthur Cassels, William Chitty, Clarence Day, Swift Martin, Percy Deshon, Ely Denson, John Fair, Edward Carey and Miss Norma Mason. The prizes were baskets of dainty china with wicker handles.

In honor of Major and Mrs. John O'Shea who leave the islands on the next transport, Captain and Mrs. William Chitty will entertain on Saturday evening with eleven tables of auction bridge. Those invited to meet the guests of honor are Colonel John Guilfoyle, Mrs. De Russy Hoyle, Major Ralph Harrison, Mrs. William Forsyth, Capt. and Mrs. Chalmers Hall, Capt. and Mrs. Clarence Day, Captain and Mrs. Arthur Cassels, Captain and Mrs. William Browning, Captain and Mrs. Pelham Glassford, Captain and Mrs. John Fair, Lieut. and Mrs. Jerome Pillow, Lieut. and Mrs. Rawson Warren, Major and Mrs. Walter Short, Colonel John McMahon, Lieut. and Mrs. Charles Naylor, Mrs. St. Claire Baumgartner, Mrs. W. H. McGill, Capt. and Mrs. Sherrard, Col. Coleman, Mrs. Robert Donaldson, Mrs. Henry Lantry, Mrs. Mason, Captain Richard Thomas, Lieut. and Mrs. Swift Martin, Lieut. and Mrs. William McCleave, Lieut. and Mrs. Alexander Milton, Lieut. and Mrs. Percy Deshon and Lieut. and Mrs. Roland Gauger.

On this evening, Lieut. and Mrs. Harold Vandever were hosts at dinner, entertaining for Colonel S. D. Sturgis and Captain Harry Williams.

Mrs. E. G. Cullum was hostess for the Reading Club on Thursday morning, Mrs. Charles Lloyd giving the week's current events.

Lieut. and Mrs. Charles Bonesteel of the 1st Infantry are very shortly to leave the garrison, much to the regret of their many friends. Lieut. Bonesteel has been detailed instruc-
