Many Valentine Parties in Celebration of Happy Day

St. Valentine's Day dates back more than 15 centuries. Saint Valentine was a bishop and church martyr, put to death at Rome during the persecution under Claudius II. Just how the pretty customs now connected with this day got their origin is not definitely known, but it was an old belief that birds began to mate on this day and the traditions of the day were probably associated with some of the bishop's writings.

In early days young people of both sexes began to meet on the eve of his day and draw lots for partners, each thus becoming the "valentine" of another, and from this simple origin a wide diversity of customs has sprung. Even in the early Roman days there were many observances similar to those of the present time.

In Honolulu the shop-windows have been decorated with St. Valentine cards and symbols for a week or more. Many Valentine parties are being held this afternoon and evening. A number of children's parties have been arranged for the afternoon.

ENGELS COPPER KEEPS SHIPPING GOOD TONNAGE

Prospects for future activities at the Engels Copper Company mine in California are excellent, according to a letter received from the company's office at the coast in Friday's mail.

Despite bad weather conditions, and the usual winter difficulties with bad roads, from 12 to 15 tons of concentrates are being delivered to the railroad daily out of the output of the mill which averages from 20 to 25 tons of concentrates every 24 hours.

Prospects for continued high prices for copper are bright. Latest mainland advices report sales of the red metal at 26 cents a pound for July delivery.

SING ME AN OLD, OLD SONG.

By Sergt. John H. Allen.
Sing me an old, old song of Spring;
Of days blood-warm with the year's new wine;
Of lilac blooms and living things a-wing,
And all God's out-of-doors as thine and mine—
Sing me an old, old song of Spring.

Sing me an old, old song of love;
Of rose-warm twilight eyes—the golden field
Where lovers stroll, lost to all but love—
He not so bold to ask; she not so quick to yield—
Sing me an old, old song of love.

Sing me an old, old song of war,
I'm sick of modern ways so seeming wise,
And hellish carnage. Let brave knights, as of yore,
Fight for fair women as the only prize;
Sing me an old, old song of war.

Sing me an old, old song of faith,
Where men believe though they cannot see,
A faith with Christ enthroned above the cross
And God speaking from every hill and tree—
Sing me an old, old song of faith,

RELIGION MUST SAVE BRITAIN, SAYS BEATTY

LIVERPOOL, Eng.—Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, commander of the First British battle cruiser squadron, whose ships defeated the Germans in the North sea, has made a stirring appeal for a great religious revival in England as a necessary step to victory in the war.

In a letter read at the annual convention of the Society for the Propagation of Christian Knowledge, he writes:

"Surely Almighty God does not intend this war to be just a hideous tracas or a blood-drunk orgy. There must be a purpose in it; improvement must come out of it.

"In what direction? France already has shown us the way and has risen, out of her ruined cities, with a revival of religion that is wonderful. Russia has been welded into a whole and religion plays a great part.

"England still remains to be taken out of the stupor of self-satisfaction and complacency into which her flourishing conditions has steeped her. Until she can be stirred out of this condition, until a religious revival takes place, just so long will the war continue.

"When she can look on the future with humbler eyes and a prayer on her lips, then we can begin to count the days toward the end. Your society is helping to this end and so is helping to bring the war to a successful end."

HIGH PRICE OF FUTURES KEEPS SUGAR BOOMING

Sellers Refuse to Make Reduction in Views of Even 1-16; Freight Rates Soar

With August options at 4.01 and 4.02 for Cubans, sellers in New York are not weakening the market by coming down to bid prices, according to the January 28 Sugar Market Review put out by Nevers & Callaghan of 95 Wall Street, New York. The firm's resume follows:

"Following the large transactions in raws last week it was but natural that quieter conditions should prevail in the market during this week. Refiners had bought sufficient supplies to take care of their extensive commitments and export purposes, and their buying during this week was limited to purchases of sugars afloat or in very nearby positions to fill in gaps caused by delays in arrivals.

"These purchases consisted of about 23,000 bags of Porto Ricos for early February clearance bought at the beginning of the week at 4.64c basis 9 degrees c. i. f., and approximately 50,000 Cubas afloat or about to clear bought subsequently during the week at 3 3-4 basis 96 degrees c. & f (4.77c). All offerings of Cubas in very nearby positions were readily placed at the 3 3-4c basis although moderate quantities for February and March shipment held at 3 3-4c basis 96 deg. c. & f. failed to attract buyers. However, while refiners persisted in their attitude of indifference all during the week toward the offerings of February and March at 3 3-4c, yet holders had sold sufficient sugars to make a firm position possible and refused to weaken.

"It was understood that any concession on the part of sellers would have attracted speculative buying, and that refiners might even have become interested at 1 1/16 below the 3 3-4c basis asking price. At the close, the market continues quiet.

"Refiners do not appear to be quite ready to meet holders' ideas of 3 3-4c for Cubas at which basis it is estimated that there is a fair quantity available equally distributed between the February and March positions, with some small parcels of Cubas afloat for which 3 13-16c basis 96 deg. c. & f., is being asked. Some 50,000 bags Porto Ricos for clearance at various dates during February, not later than the 20th, are available at 4.64c basis 96 deg. c. i. f., but are not being pressed for sale.

"The tonnage situation has been and will continue to be an important market factor in limiting offerings from Cuba, not alone on account of scarcity of vessels but also on account of the high rates being exacted. During the week, freight engagements were made for sugar at 45 cents per 100 pounds from north-side Cuban ports and as high as 55c per 100 lbs., from the south-side ports.

"The weekly cable on Tuesday from Cuba reported receipts of 110,932 tons and 164 Centrals grinding, as compared to 71,000 tons and 148 Centrals at work at the corresponding date last year. Today, 168 Centrals are in operation and the weather is favorable.

"The demand for refined was comparatively light in so far as new business was concerned. The domestic trade had placed large orders anticipating their requirements well up into February and on account of the light stocks they had been carrying their withdrawals were liberal during this week. The export trade continued placing small orders during the week and the demand for Cubes for export caused all refiners to advance their lists 10 points on this grade. All other grades remained unchanged on the 5.85c less 2 per cent basis for granulated. At the close of the week, the refined market is quiet with some slackening in the demand for export.

"The trading in options reached a total of 15,200 tons during the week. Closing quotations today are: February 3.78c @ 3.80c, March 3.76c @ 3.77c, May 3.88c @ 3.90c, July 3.98c @ 3.99c, August 4.01c @ 4.02c, and September 4.04c @ 4.05c.

ADMITS STEALING STOCKS

WILMINGTON, Del.—Albert Johnson, one of the two negroes under arrest charged with robbing a registered mail pouch containing $1,000,000 in securities on Christmas Eve, has confessed, according to the police, Johnson and the other negro were mail wagon drivers. They delivered two pouches of mail to a railroad station, and a third they took to their home and cut it open. They took out a half million dollars' worth of stock certificates and checks and then tossed the bag back into the wagon and returned to the postoffice, intending to abandon the wagon and escape. Nearly all the securities taken from the bag were recovered.
