

TENNIS TOURNAMENT NEXT YEAR WILL BE EVEN BETTER

President Castle Tells of the Bright Outlook for Other Stars Coming Here

That next year's Carnival tennis tournament will be even more of a success in every way than this year's is proving to be emphasized this morning by A. L. Castle, president of the Hawaiian Tennis Association. From him the Star-Bulletin has received the following letter:

"Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

"Sir: The Hawaiian Tennis Association wishes to express its thanks for and appreciation of the publicity your paper has given the Carnival tennis tournament. Without such newspaper support as we have received this year the tournament would probably have resulted in a financial loss. As it is the tournament has been financially successful, and the success of this tournament assures its repetition for 1917. Mr. Irving Wright of Boston, brother of Beals Wright, has consented to play for us next year; with a strong probability of the appearance also of Richard Norris Williams II, the sensational Davis Cup player.

"The association desires also to express its thanks to Beals Wright, whose advice to the tournament committee and suggestions given as to proper tournament conditions were very valuable. Mr. Wright played yesterday under impossible circumstances, for a cut thumb made back-hand shots unplayable, and forehand shots and service too uncertain to count. Mr. Wright was not willing to postpone the match and disappoint the crowd, although Mr. Edmund twice during the match suggested that play be discontinued and the match started over again another day. As Mr. Wright felt his thumb might be worse today than yesterday he refused to accept the offer of the tournament committee that the match be played another time. He felt that he would prefer to play his match the best he could, rather than run the risk of not playing at all.

"Very truly yours,
"HAWAIIAN TENNIS ASSOCIATION.
"By ALFRED L. CASTLE,
"Its President."

SWIRL OF COLOR ON SCHOOL LAWN

Songs and dances was rehearsed yesterday. A chorus of more than 500 students, carefully trained by Miss Margaret M. Cooke, gave promise of being a distinct feature of the affair. Teachers in charge of the folk dances follow:

Mrs. Longley and Mrs. Black, Liliuokalani; Mrs. Wyatt, Normal; Mrs. Lewis, Miss Al. Mrs. Anahu and Miss Mollie Yau, Kaula; Miss Angus and Mrs. Kekuku, Pohukiana; Miss Cunningham, Palama Settlement; Mrs. Olney, Kalihikali; Miss Armstrong, Miss McCarriston and Miss Lightfoot, Central Grammar.

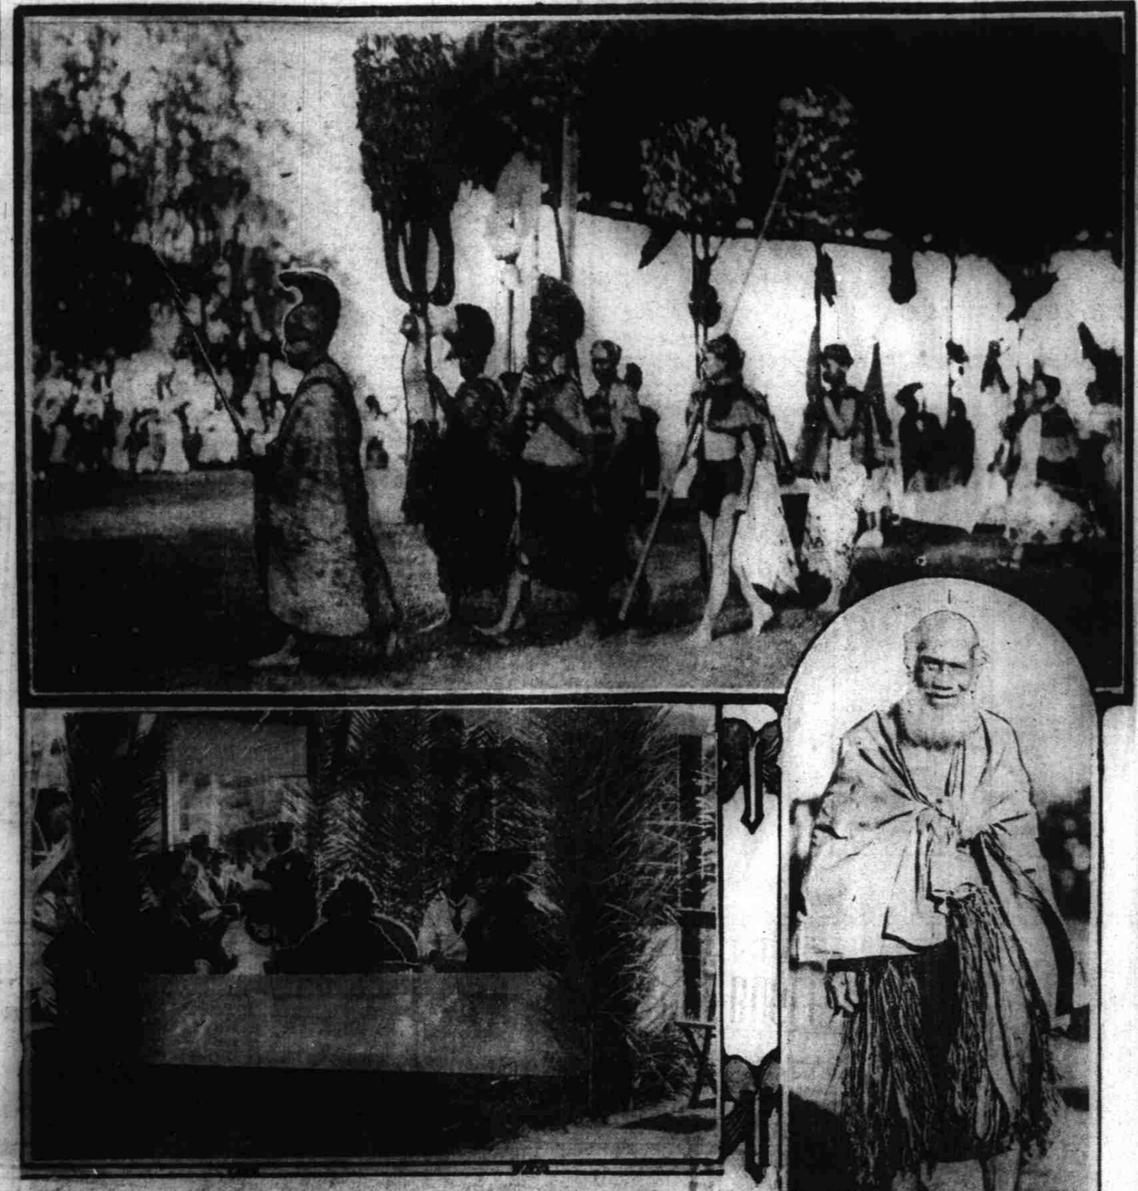

Those to Whom Credit is Due.

The department of public instruction expresses its thanks to P. H. Dodge for the words he so kindly wrote for the patriotic song for the schools of Hawaii; also to E. A. P. Newcomb for the music for his new patriotic song.

The words to the song are as follows:

The stars in the sky that are shining,
In darkness are faithful and true,
Like those that our banner illumine,
The flag of the red, white and blue.
Oh! Happy the people whose banner

In gleaming with symbols of light,
And forth to the world we unfurl it
In honor of freedom and right.
Chorus:
All hail to the flag that we love,
The stars and the red, white and blue!
As light from above, from the heavens above,
For freedom and right, keep it true.

Though gathered afar from the races,
Though bearing a difference in name,
Though language and customs may vary,
One love for this banner we claim.
O! Happy the people united,
Like stars in their splendor above,
So share in the blessings of nature,
And scatter those blessings in love.
Chorus:
The march of the nations is forward,
Each star in the firmament glows,
But brighter by far is the knowledge
The God of all nations bestows.
O! Happy the people that spread it,
Rejoicing their freedom to share!
Arise for the good of all races,
The peace of the future prepare.
Chorus:
The following teachers are also thanked for their kindness in drilling the pupils for the songs sung at the children's song and dance festival, February 25, 1916.

Carnival Rush Grows Greater As Week Closes

Today's and Tomorrow's Programs Leave Departing Guests No Time to Pack

Carnival days are drawing toward a close, and visitors and residents are "running around in circles," trying to see all of the events of the Carnival and still miss none of the regular sights of the island. "Much as I enjoy it all, I'll be glad to get to sea, where there is nothing to do but sit and watch for a whale," sighed one tired tourist today.

When the festival, which began at 1:30, is over those who are "doing" the Carnival will rush to the Pacific courts, where the finals of the tennis singles will be staged.

Those who are lucky will have invitations to the directors' ball at the armory tonight. This is the only purely social affair of the Carnival.

Others will put in the evening on the Capitol grounds. Here the stranger in the islands will get his best opportunity to see something really characteristic of Hawaii. Hulas, choruses and a score of other native events will be on the program.

Tomorrow will come the grand wind-up of the Carnival. Event will follow event as fast as on Tuesday. Tourists leaving on either of the Hill liners will have to stay up tonight to pack and send their baggage to the boat early in the morning if they want to see all of the events. There will be no time to spare during the day.

The finals of the military athletic meet, which has been going on all week, will be held at Alexander field, beginning at 9 in the morning. A marathon race starting at Schofield Barracks will end at the field during the meet. At 9:30 the Boy Scouts rally will be held in the Palace grounds. At 1 in the afternoon the automobile and motorcycle races at Kapiolani track will begin.

The biggest event of the Carnival will be the last—the water pageant and fireworks display to be held in the harbor at 8 o'clock.

The fireworks end of the program is under the supervision of W. E. Priestly, who was superintendent of fireworks at the San Francisco exposition. He promises to put on a repetition of "Edison Night" at the exposition, the greatest display of fireworks ever made anywhere.

As this last event is to take place on the waterfront those who are going out on the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific and those who are ments, rope, poles and cooking pans, bake pans, a cocoa tank, tents and wireless apparatus.

Bake Bread; Pack Mule.

Troops I and V will erect a wireless mast and station, capable of sending 150 miles; Troop III will build hurdles for a temporary bridge, cook for the legion, make bread, give an exhibition of first aid, pack a mule and work the Spanish windlass; Troop IX, Patrol I, will make a banana lean-to, make camp furniture and climb a royal palm by the two-loop method; Troop XV will give an exhibition of knot-tying.

Other features will be a first aid exhibition by Troop II and a day in camp, with scout sports. This will include throwing the javelin, the winner to be awarded $10. Many other interesting features are included in the program.

Officers of the court of honor are as follows:

Scout commissioner, J. A. Wilder, chairman, and a score of experts; William A. Bryan, bird; Inst. W. A. Gilbert, bees; Inst. F. G. Shaner, auto-mobiling; Inst. Lieut. Kimball, U. S. A. legionary drill; Inst. J. A. Wilder, marksmanship; Councilman Gen. Soper, archery; Inst. L. F. Carlisle, radio telegraphy; Councilman G. H. Buttolph, carpentry; Hon. Lionel Walden, sculpture; Ambrose Pattison, drawing, art; Dr. J. S. Pratt, public health; Dr. W. C. Hobby, personal health, and others.

A request for relief of the flood sufferers at Hickman, Ky., was placed with the war department by Senator Ollie James.

An increase of one per cent per hour in the pay of all its machinists is announced by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

Federal Marshal J. J. Smiddy has lost his staff of informers, who, he believes, have gone over wholeheartedly to the side of the law violators because better pay was offered them.

"It's some satisfaction," says the marshal while he is hunting for a new corps of assistants, "to know that they were honest enough not to work for both sides at the same time."
