

HAWAIIAN MUSIC MAKES HIT IN THEATERS OF MINNESOTA CITY

Hawaiian music and the dancing of the "Aloha Twins" who are appearing in Minneapolis, is, according to the Minneapolis Journal, delighting the patrons of the theaters.

"The Twins," says the Journal, "formerly starred on the Orpheum and Pantheon circuits, are playing their first season in burlesque and are the highest priced artists seen at the Washington avenue theater this year. Both are wonderful swimmers and they can scarcely wait until summer comes to return to their native islands for the sport.

"Their act is wonderfully staged, with special scenery. The feature is the 'Pahu' dance, given once a year in Hawaii. The maidens plant flowers in groups and hold a festival when the plants bloom. After the festival it is customary to toss the goods and flowers on the decks of outgoing steamers.

"Both of the young ladies are wonderfully adept with the ukulele and the 'taropatch' guitar.

"The 'Bird of Paradise' is also making its fourth successful appearance in Minneapolis this year, according to the Journal, and drawing bigger houses than ever. A new heroine is offered in Carlotta Monterey, a young actress from California.

HENRY J. LYMAN FOR ROOSEVELT, BUT WILL WAIVE

This is correct if it is understood in the proper sense. Roosevelt has stood for more good American ideas than any president since Lincoln. When he was in the White House he gave Hawaii the best government since annexation. He is a cowboy in fact as well as in spirit and this makes him a favorite of the paniolos in these islands. If he came to Hawaii he would go straight to the big ranches and take part in roping contests. He has made good in everything he ever started out to do. He was a good governor in New York, a good soldier in Cuba, a good president in Washington and a good sport everywhere. At present the Hawaiians are killing our citizens on the border and our people are being drowned in the war zone. If ever we needed a president with lots of sand and ginger we need him now. I believe that the country at large and Hawaii in particular needs Roosevelt; in this sense I am a Roosevelt man.

"I want to go to the Chicago convention as a citizen and take part in the biggest thing any American citizen can do, that is, the selection of a candidate for president; but if I am sent I do not want to go as our delegates did four years ago. In the March convention of 1912 our delegates took a very solemn and a very foolish oath to support Mr. Taft as long as his name was before the convention. At that time Mr. Taft was the only man whose name was prominently before the people. Between March and June Roosevelt and half a dozen others came to the front as possible candidates, any one of whom might have been president. Our delegates were tied hand and foot and sent on to Chicago in much the same way as cattle are sent with the shipping tag showing the name of the owner. Our six men sat in their seats and watched the big fight, but took no part. On the choice for chairman Roosevelt was the candidate of the Taft forces, and when our men voted McGovern there was a howl which was heard out on Wahaihi avenue. That was the last ever heard from the Hawaii delegation.

"The Democratic delegation in 1912 were wiser than ours. They went uncommitted. On the early ballots they stood 3, 2 and 1 for various candidates. As Clark, Underwood or Wilson seemed to gain strength the votes were switched, and in the finals all were for Wilson, with the result that ever since Hawaii has stood well with the administration.

"My own choice would be Roosevelt, but in this matter I shall have Hawaii in mind and if any other candidate seems to be more favorable to our territorial interests I would support him as against my own choice.

"Thanking you for your space.

"Yours truly,

"HENRY J. LYMAN."

Politics Warm Up.
Both Republican and Democratic politics are warming up. Republican primary nominations last week launched the spring-summer-fall campaign in which the free and untrammeled electorate of Hawaii will indulge.

From Maui comes word that Harold H. Rice may be put forward by the Valley Isle as its choice for delegate to Chicago. Col. Harry A. Baldwin, who was strongly favored by Republican leaders a couple of weeks ago and who is popular with the voters at large, may not care to accept, says word from Maui, and Rice will be a logical choice. Charles Wilcox is spoken of as a possibility for alternate.

The first formal Democratic move will be next Saturday, when nominating petitions for six delegates to go to St. Louis must be filed. The Democrats elect their delegation by direct primary, the primary election being held April 15. Dr. J. H. Raymond is most prominently mentioned as Maui's candidate, with Eugene Murphy, T. B. Lyons and Morris Keohokale as candidates for alternate.

CHICAGO DOCTOR SANDBAGGED AND ROBBED IN CITY

Slugged with a sandbag and robbed of jewelry and money, Dr. A. Lenahann, a visitor from Chicago who arrived here on February 15, was picked up unconscious by a soldier last night near the Honolulu Iron Works.

Dr. Lenahann had a bruise at the base of his neck, and received a blow on the jaw that had cut his lip against his teeth. He lost a ring valued at $200, a watch, and some money. The doctor thinks that he was attacked from behind.

The soldier who picked him up told him that he had seen two other soldiers running away as he came up. Dr. Lenahann had been to the beach for the afternoon, and remembers having come home on the car, but later than that his mind is a blank as to what happened. He does not know how he got in the vicinity of the iron works.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon, the American-Hawaiian steamer Mexican will sail for Kahului, Kanae and Hilo, to load 13,500 tons of island sugar for San Francisco. General Agent C. P. Morse expects she will be ready to steam from Hilo about March 23.

AGED KOREAN WOMAN WEARS COAT OF DEAD HUSBAND INTO COURT

Wearing the old gray coat of her dead husband, Sarah Lee, mother of little Mary Lee Young, sat in Circuit Judge Stuart's court this morning and saw justice dealt out to her daughter.

Mary was granted a divorce from You Chii Yong, who is alleged to have shot and killed her father last week. Judge Stuart also ordered You to pay Mary alimony in the sum of $10 a month until $300 had been paid. Mary was allowed to resume her maiden name.

Owing to the death of her husband Sarah Lee is said to be in desperate financial straits. Only recently she sold her bed to obtain money on which to live.

Mary has a good home at the girls' industrial school. You is charged with first degree murder and is confined at Oahu prison.

Further hearing on the mandamus suit brought by Manuel Pacheco, a minor, against the Lusitana Society, will be had in Circuit Judge Whitney's court Thursday morning. Pacheco, who was dismissed from the society, is seeking to have his membership rights restored to him.

CITY DADS MAY DECIDE TO SNUB MEN OF EIGHTH

Opinion among the members of the board of supervisors as to the advisability of attending the meeting of the Eighth Precinct Republican Club of the fourth district, to be held next Monday night for the purpose of making the city administration over the costs, is divided. Some of them think that they should wait until an invitation to defend themselves is extended, others that it is up to them to attend the meeting in order that the voters present may have both sides of the story presented to them.

Lorrin Andrews, president of the club, told me yesterday that the members of the club, who are mostly Portuguese, thought they had not been fairly treated in patronage matters," declared Ben Hollinger. "If that is the only kick they have coming, I won't worry. But you can never tell what false information a group of disgruntled spellbinders may hand out. I am going to that meeting and see that the supervisors' side of the story is told. I fall to see where the board has violated any platform pledges."

Supervisor Daniel Logan holds an opposite opinion. He doesn't think that Andrews merits a reply. "I won't attend unless I am asked to," he declared. "No one will pay attention to charges preferred when only one side has an opportunity to present its views."

Supervisor Horner attacked Andrews, who is chairman of the Republican committee, for his "attempt to cause a split in the party," as Horner put it. "It is up to him as the nominal head of the party to dig in and help out, not to create discord," he said.

ACCIDENT BOARD ON MAUI MAY GET CASH BY FINING SEVERAL

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.]
WAILUKU, March 15.—The Maui industrial accident board thinks it sees a way to augment its rather meager expense fund by putting the screws on employers who have failed to obey the law in the matter of taking out compensation insurance for their employees. The law provides that a fine of $1 per day for each employee may be recovered from employers who have neglected to secure insurance or other form of compensation, and moreover that any money so collected shall become a special fund for use of the board.

At a meeting of the accident board on Tuesday a list of about a dozen names was compiled of employers who have paid no attention to the law nor to the fact that the board had announced that it would proceed against all who had not complied by January 1. The police department is to be called upon for assistance in rounding up a lot more—garage owners, dairies and contractors. In cases where an employer defaults in payment of the penalty imposed, the board has the power to enjoin him from carrying on his business.

FOUR SAILORS GIVE BEATING TO SALOON MAN

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.]
WAILUKU, March 15.—W. G. Scott, proprietor of the Kahului Saloon, was the victim of a vicious assault on Tuesday afternoon by four former sailors from the American-Hawaiian freighter Alaskan. As a result Scott was taken to the Malianai Hospital in Wailuku, suffering from numerous cuts and bruises. Although his injuries are not believed to be of very serious character, his face was scarcely recognizable after the quartet had finished beating and kicking him.

Scott's assailants, who were arrested shortly after they had wearied of mauling their victim, are all Hawaiians, or part-Hawaiian. Their names are Hill Kaimoku, S. Lincoln, J. Lindsley, and William Iona. They arrived at Kahului by the Claudine last Saturday, having missed their ship when it left that port for Hilo. They intended to rejoin it here, but the captain, who had shipped other men at Hilo, refused to take them aboard. It is said that they had some trouble at the saloon several days before, and finding Scott and the Japanese bartender alone on Tuesday, proceeded to do their worst. A Japanese barber who ran into the place to remonstrate, got a crack on the nose and was pitched out on his head for his trouble.

MAGAZINE HERE HELPS BOOST 'BETTER BABIES'

"Better Babies, Better Citizens," will be the subject of an article to be published in the next issue of the Honolulu Home Journal, published by the Nippo Jiji. This magazine deals with the woman and the home, and has urged all mothers interested in the welfare of the child to give their views on the care of the baby.

In addition to covering the topic in the magazine the Nippo Jiji has been compiling a series of articles contributed by prominent Japanese women of the city. In each article the mother takes up a different phase of the life and the care of the infant. The campaign for "Better Babies, Better Citizens" has created unusual interest among the Japanese people of the city.

An early arrival this morning was the inter-island steamer Shoshone, which came from Kawaihae, Hawaii, with 3700 sacks of Honokaa sugar, 240 tons of corn, 25 cattle and 23 hogs from Parker Ranch, and other cargo. It reported strong northeast winds both outward and inward trips, making it difficult to discharge and freight. S. W. Kekuewa is pur-

BARGAIN MADE IN LIQUOR CASE, FENNEL ADMITS

five cents and they didn't make much profit. It seemed to me that they were doing it more for sociability's sake than anything else. I thought the arrests would be good warning."

Some weeks ago Fennell told the Star-Bulletin that the law was being "flagrantly and knowingly violated" on the German ships, and that he intended to get evidence and push the prosecution to a finish. He was reminded of this.

"But I found after further investigation that the case wasn't as bad as I had thought," he said.

"Did you consult the city attorney's office or Judge Monsarrat before promising the suspended sentences?"

"No, neither of them was consulted."

"Why did you believe that you could get suspension of sentence?"

"I had done it on previous occasions and knew that the court had never turned down a request from the prosecution for such suspension."

Fennell was asked about the report that he found his evidence against the men weak and for that reason compromised the cases. He said the report was untrue.

"I had evidence enough to convict the men all right," he asserted.

After the hearing last Saturday Deputy City Attorney Carden made a statement pointing out that Fennell had entered into the compromise arrangement without consulting the city attorney's office.

WHY GASOLINE PRICE INCREASES

"Supply of crude oil increasing 6 of 1 per cent; consumption of gasoline increasing 27 per cent."

Put very briefly, this is the why and wherefore of the advance in gasoline prices, say oil men. It is the working of the inevitable law of supply and demand. In California oil fields last year there was an actual falling off in crude oil production of over 14,000,000 barrels. The United States geological survey shows that the total 1915 production of crude oil increased only 4 of 1 per cent over that of the previous year, and yet 500,000 automobiles were put into use in the United States in 1915 and increased the gasoline consumption, for automobiles alone, fully 27 per cent over the consumption in 1914. Meanwhile thousands of gasoline engines and tractors are being put into service on our farms and ranches and depleting the available gasoline supply.

The January issue of the National Petroleum News—the organ of the Independent Producers—estimates that at least a half million new automobiles and trucks will be sold this season so that in a few months not less than three million cars will be consuming gasoline. That will require a 30 per cent increase in gasoline production in order to maintain even the present balance between supply and demand.

Thus far this year production has run considerably less than normal. Just as was the case last year the United States government suits against operators on unpatented lands are greatly limiting production and the severe January storms which wrecked hundreds of rigs in the California fields have further retarded production. The California State Mineralogist estimated a daily average loss in production of 40,000 barrels as a result of this storm damage.
