JAPAN'S DUAL NATIONALITY BILL.

CITIZENSHIP WORK ELSEWHERE.

Honolulu's Y. M. C. A. work for citizenship among the alien populations is part of a pioneer movement which is discernible in various parts of the country.

Up to recently this work among the immigrants was undertaken entirely by private organizations, but Rochester, New York, started education as a part of its school system, and now the United States bureau of education notes that the state universities are beginning to recognize the duty as a public function.

Social work among immigrants is assuming special importance as a college subject. Fourteen institutions are now offering special courses which treat the subject of immigration, though few of these have as yet given much attention to the practical problem of what to do with the immigrant as a man and a citizen. Sixty-nine institutions treat the subject incidentally in connection with courses in economics, history and sociology.

In order to help in the present urgent demand for Americanization service for immigrants, the bureau of education has had prepared a syllabus entitled, "Professional Course for Service Among Immigrants." Some of the topics treated are as follows: The Incoming Tide and Its Distribution; Legislation and Restriction; Employment; Standards of Living; Education; and Ideals and Methods in Americanization Work.

In view of the interest shown by colleges in the subject of immigrant education, the commissioner of education has offered to give assistance and advice with respect to courses of study and methods to any colleges or universities planning to introduce courses in training for leadership in Americanization service. The division of immigrant education in the bureau has centered its attention upon the problems connected with the education of immigrants and the inculcation of American civic ideals.

MARCHING ON.

RICHMOND, Va., March 4.—The lower branch of the Virginia assembly tonight passed the statewide prohibition bill 85 to 5. The bill had passed the senate. One quart of whisky a month a person is the limit placed by the bill on importations of intoxicants from other states. The law will go into operation November 1, 1916.

Colonel House has been suggested for the vice presidency. Why sidetrack a man who can keep still so well on a job like that?—Detroit Free Press.

It transpires that altogether unsuspected possibilities in the letter-writing line are lurking in many of our prominent citizens.

We gather from the censored despatches that Villa is being coached upon his getaway.

MASONIC HISTORY IN ISLANDS WILL BE CELEBRATED

Ed Towse will respond to the toast "The History of Masonry in the Hawaiian Islands" at the big celebration to be given by the Oceanic Lodge on Saturday evening of this week, April 8, the occasion being the seventy-fourth anniversary of the establishment of the first masonic chapter in these islands.

He will be followed by Judge Ashford, who will discuss "The Days of Kalakaua." King Kalakaua was at one time master of the lodge, which was formerly under the French jurisdiction.

The Blue Lodges of the territory will be represented by Norman B. Gedge, inspector of Blue Lodges, and finally, George Davis will respond to the toast, "The Future of Masonry in Hawaii." There will be other speakers and numerous stunts during the evening to make the celebration a big success. W. R. Farrington is toastmaster, Lawrence A. Kerr in charge of the arrangements and Harry Denison is in immediate charge of the program being arranged.

Few people realize that 74 years ago when masonry made its advent into Hawaii, there wasn't another masonic chapter west of the Rockies. The banquet will begin at 7:30 in the sixth floor dining room of the Young hotel. A special invitation is given to all masters and past masters, and a general invitation to all masons in the city. Masons who are stationed in the army posts on the island will attend in numbers.

NO MORE WATER FAMINE IN KAIMUKI; PLENTY OF POWER HEREAFTER

There is no more danger of a water famine in Kaimuki.

Steam will be furnished to the pumping station by the Lava Brick Company's plant across the street if there is ever another breakdown. A pipe line has been run across the street, connecting the boilers in the brick plant and the engines in the pumping station. All that will be necessary in case of an accident will be to turn a cock. Steam will pour in from the boilers across the way and the pumps will start working.

No charge has been made by the brick plant for the connection. The only cost to the city will be for the installation of the pipe, done by its own workmen, and for steam the next time there is an accident.

now and will have more as soon as the money is available. Before kicking on what hasn't been done, it would be well if the kickers took a trip around the island and found what has been done.

J. J. WALSH: Everything in Maui is getting back in shape again after the big storm of last winter. The road over the mountain between Wailuku and Lahaina is as good as ever. Maui people didn't know just how hard they could work until they began repairing the damages wrought by the flood.

HARRY MURRAY, manager of the water and sewer department. A new city ordinance says that water and sewer connections must be made with every lot before a new tract is opened. I wonder how many prospective home purchasers know it? It would save my department a great deal of explaining if they all did.

SAM W. ROBLEY: Stung again, just because I was too soft in helping a poor family out that has had lots of trouble. This prison aid work is an ideal job for a millionaire with a desire to alleviate the sufferings of humanity. I could keep busy 25 hours a day introducing him to places where he could use his money and invest his heart.

JUDGE WHITNEY: If you don't believe interest in the tercentennial Shakespeare celebration is popular in Honolulu, and if you think knowledge of the Bard of Avon's works isn't a favorite with the reading public, listen to this: I went into a bookstore last week to get a copy of the "Taming of the Shrew," which is the play the Footlights are to give the latter part of this month. The shop girl pointed me to a table over which was a card bearing these words, "Latest Fiction." I turned to her and said: "It's by Shakespeare, you know." She said: "I know, you'll find it over there with the rest of the 1915-1916 books." I've had a headache ever since, and when I got home that afternoon my wife thought I was suffering from sunstroke.

A. L. C. ATKINSON: It was a pleasure to me as one of the Progressive party in Hawaii, to hear that the only out and out Roosevelt man in the Republican convention yesterday, Henry J. Lyman, was chosen as a delegate to Chicago.

RAYMER SHARP, deputy collector of customs: It wouldn't do us any good to save our waste paper, because there's no junkman in town that buys anything but old newspaper. Secretary Redfield's order to collectors to save their waste paper and sell it can't be applied here.

CHARLES N. ARNOLD: The Shriners' trip around the island Sunday gave a good many men a chance to see what the supervisors have recently done toward fixing up the roads on the other side. They found that conditions are not as bad as they have been painted. Hakipuu, which almost had become a synonym for "bad roads," has much good road

TEN SHIPS HAVE COME HERE IN FOUR DAYS

With only four days of April gone, arrivals of steamers here since last Saturday, April 1, number one-fourth of those which called at this port during the entire month of March.

This morning's arrival, the Lurline, swells to 10 the number calling here this month to date. There were four arrivals yesterday, the Tenyo and Shinyo Maru, the Hilonian and the army transport Thomas.

In March, according to Harbormaster Capt. William R. Foster's records, there were 46 arrivals and 42 departures. Arrivals last month were five more than in February, when the total was 41.

Tomorrow the harbormaster will move back to its old location at the Ewa side of Pier 7 the refugee German steamer Pommern, which was moved Saturday for the first time in a year and nine months, to make room for the Tenyo Maru, for which there was no room elsewhere.

Personal Mention

"DOONIE" HARTMAN of Waimea, Hawaii, is visiting in Honolulu for the first time in two years.

MRS. ARTHUR WALL, accompanied by the children, is spending the week at Waialeale, this island.

WILLIAM T. ROBINSON, Maui senator residing at Wailuku, is among the island visitors in Honolulu.

REV. STEPHEN L. DESHA, Hawaii senator, is visiting in Honolulu. He may return to his Big Island home tomorrow.

JAMES L. COKE, senator from Oahu, has resumed the practise of law, opening offices at 413 Kauikealani building.

JOHN D. PARIS, JR., of Kealekua, Hawaii, and Mrs. Paris, who are visiting in Honolulu, last Friday welcomed the arrival of a baby girl.

ALBERT A. CHAPMAN and Mrs. Chapman, who reside in Queen street, near Punchbowl, yesterday welcomed the arrival of their 14th child, a girl.

MISS JEANETTE PELTIER of Sacramento, California, who has been visiting in Honolulu, left for the Orient in the steamer Tenyo Maru yesterday.

ATTORNEY MASON F. PROSSER and Mrs. Prosser left for the Orient in the steamer Tenyo Maru yesterday for a visit to Japan, China and the Philippines.

MADAME DONALD AYER, prima donna, formerly with the Boston Grand Opera Company, who was a member of the visiting Shriners party, was to return to the coast in the Great Northern this afternoon.

S. C. HUBER of Tama, Iowa, whose nomination as U. S. district attorney for Hawaii recently was confirmed by the senate, is expected to arrive in Honolulu from San Francisco in the Wilhelmina next Tuesday morning.

ARTHUR VIERRA, clerk in the dry-goods department of Hackfeld & Company, will sail tonight on the Great Northern for a four months' vacation in the mainland. Vierra will visit around Los Angeles, Salt Lake, and will take in Chicago, Washington and New York on the trip.

A. M. BROWN, city attorney, was in apparently good health when he left Honolulu for his ranch on Maui Wednesday, according to a letter received by a friend of his yesterday. In tense pains Thursday morning worried his wife, and, despite his protestations, a doctor was called. He was rushed to the hospital and operated on for appendicitis. Friday complications set in and it was feared that a second operation would have to be performed.

Mr. Brown rallied, however, and is now well on the road to recovery.

To celebrate the 75th anniversary of the organization of Lodge Le Progres d'Oceanie No. 124, F. & A. M., and of the introduction of masonry in Hawaii, the members of Oceanic Lodge No. 371 will give a banquet at the Alexander Young hotel next Saturday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

FORMER COURT CLERK SAYS HE WANTED PROBE

Asked That Grand Jury Look Into Conduct of His Office, Davis Declares

That he has courted a grand jury investigation of his conduct in office since the day of his removal by Judge Charles F. Clemons as clerk of the United States court, is the statement of Foster L. Davis who, it is understood, now is facing a probe by the federal tribunal.

"When I received the first information that I was to be removed," says Mr. Davis, "I told Judge Clemons that I wanted the matter taken before the grand jury. I felt that it would be the only way I could receive vindication."

It is now generally understood that the October grand jury has been called for the purpose of investigating conditions in the clerk's office while Mr. Davis was deputy clerk and clerk. It is further understood that the purported investigation will be with respect to an alleged violation by Mr. Davis of one of the sections of the penal code. The claim is that he failed to deposit forthwith in the government depository funds which, it is charged, he was required to deposit.

The meeting of the grand jury was scheduled for 9 o'clock this morning, but as only 15 members were present the court continued the matter until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, ordering that Arthur Wong, Henry P. Beckley and James Gibb, manager of the Alea plantation, be summoned to appear.

Shortly before 10 o'clock this morning Judge Clemons opened court for the purpose of a further hearing in the matter of Mr. Davis' accounts from January 1 this year up to the time of his removal as clerk.

With the exception of two items regarding the payment of salaries to the deputy clerks, these accounts have been approved.

Judge Clemons held a brief conference in his chambers with Mr. Davis, District Attorney Horace W. Vaughan, Assistant District Attorney Samuel B. Kemp, Special Examiner Henry McConnell and Attorney Howard Grace, at which time, it is reported, the matter of Mr. Davis' accounts were discussed.

At the close of the conference the matter was continued until 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Davis made the following statement to the Star-Bulletin:

"Judge Clemons called my attention to what, he said in effect, might be a technical violation of section 35 of the penal code, which provides that no government officer shall submit vouchers which do not represent actual payments of money, and that it is in his power to call the matter to the attention of the grand jury. I told him I would be very glad to have the matter go before the grand jury."

"District Attorney Vaughan suggested that if I gave notes to the deputy clerks for their salary, which would be negotiable and which they could have cashed, that would remove any objection, the accounts would be approved and the matter closed."

"This I have said I would try to do. I did refuse to pay any actual cash, however, I have courted a grand jury investigation of the entire matter."

Four surgeons from the American army service list will be permitted to inspect the British army medical corps at the front.

Dynamite was found concealed in the cargo of the British steamship Rosebank, Baltimore for England, according to a report from Valencia, Spain.

A bill redefining the military law so that spies may be put to death in times of peace was passed by the senate.
