

NOTABLE EXERCISES TO DEDICATE HAWAIIAN BOARD'S NEW BUILDING

Ceremonies and Special Features on Three Days, April 14, 15 and 16

Services in dedication of the fine new Hawaiian Board memorial building in South King street, erected largely in memory of the early missionaries to these islands, will be held in the auditorium on Sunday afternoon, April 16, beginning at 3 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

The dedication will begin with a religious service lasting about 20 minutes, including the singing of anthems by the Young People's League under direction of Rev. Akako Akana. The dedicatory service and prayer will be conducted by Rev. O. H. Gulick, superintendent emeritus and member of the Hawaiian Board of Missions since its organization in 1862.

Following this will be the presentation of keys to the various departments of the board to the local workers by representatives of the older missionary families. The following persons will receive keys:

Secretary's office, Rev. H. P. Judd, acting secretary of the Hawaiian Board; treasurer's office, Theodore Richards; The Friend family, Miss E. V. Wariner; book room, W. E. Pietsch; Hawaiian room, Rev. J. P. Erdman; Japanese room, Rev. F. S. Scudder; Christian Endeavor room, Rev. Akako Akana; Chinese room, Rev. Norman C. Schenck; Cousins' room, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Andrews; board room and auditorium, to representatives of the board.

The list of those representatives of families who will present the keys has not yet been completed.

Members of the working force of the Hawaiian Board will be seated on one side of the platform, while on the opposite side will be the representatives of the missionary families. In the front row will be P. J. Lowrey, president of the board, who will receive keys; and P. C. Jones, who is the only other living member of the board who has been president.

Following the presentation of the keys there will be an address by Rev. J. F. Cowan, pastor of the Kohala, Hawaii, Union church. His subject will be "A House Not Built With Hands." Music by the Young People's League will conclude the program.

On Friday afternoon, April 14, at 2:30 o'clock, the first meeting of the Hawaiian Board in the new building will be held. This meeting will be held in the board rooms, second floor. Following the discussion of routine business, commemorative addresses on the anniversary of the early missionaries of April 14, 1820, will be delivered by Rev. O. H. Gulick, Rev. W. D. Westervelt and other members of the board will talk.

At 3:30 o'clock next Saturday afternoon the annual meeting of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society, otherwise known as the Cousins' Society, will be held in the board's assembly room, second floor. There will be a roll-call of mission families, after which the meeting will adjourn to the old mission house opposite the new memorial, where an interesting meeting will be held under the direction of two members who were "children" in the days gone by.

As a part of the dedicatory service, a union service of all Hawaiian churches will be held in the auditorium at 7:30 o'clock on Sunday night, April 16. Rev. Akako Akana, head of the Young People's League, will preside. Rev. Henry P. Judd and Rev. William Kamah, pastor of the Hawaiian church at Pearl City, will speak. Special music will be rendered by the Young People's League. The students of the Kamehameha schools, Kawalaho Seminary and Miss School have been invited to attend. The public, as well as visitors in the city, will also be welcomed.

NEW YARD CAPTAIN IS NOW IN CHARGE HERE

Chief Boatswain J. H. McDonald, the new captain of the yard at the naval station, succeeding Chief Boatswain Hugh J. Duffy, who leaves with his family at noon Monday on the U. S. S. Supply for Guam for sea duty, was in active charge of his new duties today, having reported to the commandant, Rear Admiral Clifford J. Boush, yesterday morning.

Mr. McDonald served as boatswain on the U. S. S. Birmingham of the North Atlantic fleet, for two and a half years, and was then detached from her and made chief boatswain of the U. S. S. Salem, receiving ship at the Boston Navy Yard. He and his wife and year-old boy have come here from Boston. They arrived on the Supply from San Francisco Thursday afternoon. A big snowstorm was raging in Boston March 20, the day they left.

MAN WHO TOTED ARMY AUTOMATIC ARRESTED

Charged with buying and receiving government property, Andrews Hodges, colored, former enlisted man, was arrested by Marshal J. J. Smiddy late yesterday afternoon. In Hodges' possession was found a .44 caliber Colt automatic revolver of the type recently adopted by the United States army. The numbers of the gun had been effaced, but the weapon still bore the inscription "United States Property." Hodges' case will be heard by Commissioner George S. Curry at 3 o'clock next Monday afternoon.

SMART MILLINERY AT MISS POWERS'

Crowning glories in the shape of the newest millinery are being constantly received at the smart shop of Miss Powers, in the Boston Building on Fort street. Echoes of antebellum days in quaint scoops and pokes, hints from the European war-torn countries in the chirky turban shapes, wide satins and silks so many other models in the finest, lightest summer straws and fabrics. The styles are extremely individual, there being very few duplicates in the whole showing.—Adv.

WEATHER OUTLOOK GOOD.

Indications are that tomorrow will be as nice a day as today has been. The U. S. Weather Bureau's local office at 8 o'clock this morning reported the barometer to be standing at 30.17, higher than for some time past. The relative humidity was 71 per cent, the temperature 72 degrees, and the wind from the northeast, blowing at 12 miles an hour.

Minister of Justice Dougherty of Ottawa, Ont., introduced a bill on behalf of the government forbidding the transportation of alcoholic liquors into any province or county which has enacted prohibition laws. Prohibition now prevails in five of the nine Canadian provinces.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Both the Clendine and Mithala are reported at Lahaina by the Mauna Kea.

To pay off the road laborers the city auditor and treasurer made a trip around the island yesterday.

Lei Aloha Chapter, No. 3, O. E. S., will meet in regular session tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

The members of the federal grand jury for the April, 1916, term will meet and be sworn in at 10 o'clock next Monday morning.

Lei Aloha Chapter No. 3, Order of the Eastern Star, holds a regular business meeting this evening in Masonic Temple at 7:30 o'clock.

A meeting of the Kamehameha Alumni Association will be held at 7:30 o'clock next Monday evening in the clubhouse, 1337 Fort street.

The road department is starting grading the Waiakua road through the military reservation, preparatory to paving with asphalt macadam.

Rev. Samuel K. Kamalopili will preach at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at a joint religious meeting of territorial and city prisoners to be held in Oahu prison.

Honolulu Branch of the National German American Alliance meets this evening at 7:30 o'clock in Knights of Pythias Hall. Ladies cordially invited to attend.

Funeral services for Mrs. Tressa E. Tindle of Schofield Barracks were to be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the Catholic cathedral, Fort street, with interment in the Catholic cemetery, King street.

A meeting of the Associated Charities is called for Wednesday afternoon, April 12, at 3 o'clock, at the bungalow, capitol grounds, to consider amendments to the by-laws; same having been approved by the board of directors.

W. E. Pietsch wishes it emphasized that he has no connection with the evangelist who is renting the Opera House for a two weeks' series of lectures. It was erroneously stated a few days ago that he had rented the opera house.

A big safe belonging to the building inspector which was left in the city auditor's office when the inspector moved to the Kapiolani building was lowered from an alley window of the McIntyre building this morning, and after being placed on a truck carted to the inspector's office.

Unexpected obstacles prevented the exploration of the 30-inch outlet to Reservoir No. 4 yesterday, and it will be Monday or Tuesday before the water department engineer can say definitely whether leaks in the pipe line can be repaired and a few days later before an estimate of cost will be ready.

Mrs. H. Arita, wife of the retiring acting consul-general for Japan, who leaves with her husband for home in the Shinjo Maru on April 28, will be the guest of honor at a farewell lunch given by the Japanese Women's Social Club, of which she is the founder and honorary president. The affair will take place at the Mochizuki Club, April 15, at 1:30 o'clock.

A daily cost record of the work on the Lunisana street improvement is being kept by the road department, so that at the end of the Lord-Young Engineering Company's work it will be possible to ascertain the exact cost of the improvement and the margin of profit to the contractors. This has never been done before, according to George M. Collins, city engineer.

STAINER'S "CRUCIFIXION" WILL BE SUNG TOMORROW

Tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at St. Andrew's cathedral, Emma street, Stainer's "Crucifixion" will be sung. Those who are familiar with this masterpiece of the great composer do not need to be told of its devotional character. There is no musical composition which brings home to English-speaking people with such force the events of holy week. The music of the "Crucifixion" is wonderfully adapted to the words and brings before the hearers the touching scenes in the last act of the Lord's life on earth. The solo work will be done by Philip Hall and Reynolds B. McGrew. There will be an augmented choir of 36 voices with R. Rudland Bode at the organ. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

GIRL AND YOUNG MAN ARE KILLED BY WORK TRAIN

Open Switch Cause of Fatal Accident Yesterday at Ewa Plantation

Carmen Montoro, a Spanish girl aged 15, and Cornelia Gutierrez, a Filipino aged 23, clasping hands, jumped to their death shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday morning, when the Ewa plantation work train got derailed because of an open switch, which formerly connected up a branch line which is no longer used. The work train was loaded with plantation laborers, including a number of lunas. When the passengers noticed that the engine was no longer on the tracks, but was bounding along over the bare ground, they became frightened and panic stricken, but most of them were quieted down by the lunas commanding them to stay where they were as the cars would remain upright, and it was safer for them to remain than to try to get off. All obeyed except the two, who felt their chances were better off than on a train running amuck on bare ground and likely to overturn and kill everyone at any moment.

Manuel Sousa, the engineer of the locomotive, stated after the accident that he noticed the open switch, but too late. When he did notice it he realized that it was too late to apply the brakes to prevent the train from dashing headlong down the rather steep incline, and jumped.

While the cars were bumping along down the steep hill, the two who had jumped slipped and rolled over, and in a trice were ground down by the wheels and the bodies frightfully mangled. Fortunately for the remainder of the passengers, the train reached level ground, lost its momentum, and stopped without any further fatalities, and with every car remaining upright.

That the blind switch was open at the time is attributed by Manager George E. Benton of Ewa Plantation to the careless work of some small boys, who little knew of the serious consequences of their mischief. The switch must have been opened some time between Thursday afternoon and Friday morning. It had not been used for so long and had always been closed since it became a blind switch that the engineer was off his guard until too late.

Deputy Sheriff J. Fernandez arrived a few minutes after the accident and took charge of the bodies until Monday morning when an inquest will be held at Ewa Court House. The report reached the police station last evening.

GOVERNMENT MAY GET FOUR DIAMOND RINGS

The famous "Diamond Case," where in the United States and a certain lot of jewelry, to wit, four rings set with diamonds, has been in dispute for several months past, has been brought to a head in a decision handed down by Federal Judge F. Clemens today. He holds that a motion in arrest of the judgment of the court, which was that the rings should be condemned, be overruled.

Arrest by Marshal J. J. Smiddy of a Chinese named Lee Tip several months ago on a charge of smuggling was what brought about the case. Lee Tip was charged with smuggling the rings into Honolulu and the government summarily confiscated them. Lee Tip was acquitted on a directed verdict, and since that time his attorneys have been trying to get his rings for him.

PLAN RECEPTION FOR NEW JAPANESE CONSUL

At a meeting of local Japanese business men and heads of Japanese organizations yesterday in the office of S. Awoki, manager of the Honolulu branch of the Yokohama Specie bank, it was decided to hold a reception for R. Moroi, new Japanese consul-general here, at the Tokiwa Club, Nuuanu street, at 7 o'clock next Friday evening. Plans were also made for a farewell reception to Acting-Consul Hachiro Arita, who will leave Honolulu on April 28 for his new post.

SAILOR WHO ESCAPED FROM THOMAS FOUND

James A. Carns, a sailor, who escaped here from the U. S. army transport Thomas on which he was being sent back to the mainland from Niihau to be dishonorably discharged, was arrested today by the police and will be turned over to the naval authorities.
