LUMBER MEN ARE AT MERCY OF SHIPOWNERS

Charter Rates Have Risen From $5.50 to $16 Per Thousand In Year's Time

At present charter rates for lumber schooners, Honolulu lumber firms not owning vessels are losing money when they sell Douglas fir at $32.50 a thousand feet.

This condition, it was learned today, has resulted from the scarcity of bottoms for lumber from the Northwest to this port. At this time last year charter rates were $5.50 a thousand feet. They are now between $15 and $16.

Last month the retail price of Douglas fir was raised from $30 to $32.50 by the City Mill Company, one of the largest of the local lumber firms not owning lumber bottoms. This variety of lumber had been selling at $30 for the last year or two.

The only reason we can keep on selling at $32.50 and not lose money is that we received a large amount of Douglas fir in January, before charter rates soared up to their present unprecedented figure, said C. K. Al, treasurer and manager of the City Mill Company, Ltd., today. "If our lumber now on hand had cost us $15 and $16 a thousand to ship here, the present charter rate, we would be selling at a loss if we kept our retail price at $32.50 per M."

Boats Get Own Price. Mr. Al said that lumber vessels which formerly supplied the City Mill Company and other firms here, have now been chartered to take lumber from the Northwest to Australia, at big charter rates. These include the Fred J. Wood, the Dauntless and the A. F. Costa. The last time these vessels brought lumber here, their charter rates were $9 and $9.50 a thousand feet. Now $15 and $16 is asked and is given.

"We are simply at the mercy of the shipowners," added Mr. Al. "We simply cannot get sailing vessels to bring lumber here. Even the small boats, with only half a million feet capacity, are getting $35 a thousand as a charter rate to Australia."

The City Mill Company expects to charter a steamer next month to bring nearly a million feet of Douglas fir here, from Grays Harbor, if a sailing vessel cannot be secured in the meantime.

The Canadian-Pacific liner Empress of Russia arrived at Vancouver April 8, with 24 cars of silk and 527 passengers from the Orient. The steamer is still painted admiralty gray. She saw strenuous war service prior to her return to her old run.

The inter-island steamer Mikahala brought 11 cabin and 23 deck passengers from Maui, Molokai and Lanai yesterday morning.

Bound for San Francisco via Port Blen, Kananala, Kohuli and Hilo, the American-Hawaiian steamer Georgia steamed last night from this port, taking sugar. On reaching San Francisco with a full sugar cargo she will call here for the Orient, and will not call here again soon.

SANTA FE STOPOVER IS NOW DISCONTINUED

General Agent H. E. Vernon of the Santa Fe's local office has received notice that the 10-day stopover privilege which was in effect last year on account of the California expositions, has been discontinued and will not be resumed this year. The arrangement allowed purchasers of first and second-class one-way eastbound tickets to make a 10-day stopover in San Francisco or Los Angeles.

IDE MARU GOES INTO DRYDOCK FOR REPAIRS

At 9:30 this morning the Japanese freight steamer Ide Maru went on the inter-island drydock and had her stern tipped up so that a new center gudgeon can be put on her stern post, the old gudgeon having been broken when the middle portion of her rudder carried away at sea March 6 on the Great Circle route.

Capt. T. Uchiyama said this morning he expects the new gudgeon will be made and put in place by Wednesday and that the repaired rudder can be shipped Friday or Saturday. The rudder is now being repaired by the Honolulu Iron Works Company.

After the rudder has been shipped 600 or 700 tons of bunker coal will be taken aboard, and if all goes well the big freighter will resume her voyage to Vladivostok May 3 or 4, a week from next Wednesday or Thursday.

Part of the Ide's Japanese crew was set to work this morning cleaning the ship's sides. A diver worked beneath the steamer, putting the keel blocks in place as her stern was lifted.

SEATTLE OFFERS BIG BONUS FOR HILL LINER

Now that the Matson Navigation Company has announced it must decline further shipments of lumber, millwork and furniture from Seattle and Tacoma to Honolulu, until further notice, owing to the urgent need of room in Matson steamers for shipping food necessities to Hawaii.

Northwest shippers of the classes of freight barred out will probably have two Hill liners put on the Seattle-Honolulu run.

Even before the Matson Line announced its refusal of these classes of freight, Seattle shipping and business interests had, on April 3, appealed to President L. W. Hill of the Great Northern Railway Company and President L. C. Gilman of the Great Northern Pacific Steamship Company in an effort to have either the Great Northern or the Northern Pacific operated from this port to Hawaii.

"Honolulu," says a Seattle despatch, "has offered $5000 a trip for five trips or $25,000 for one of the liners, and it is planned to offer at least this amount and a cash subsidy if one of the vessels is sent to Seattle. It is also planned to guarantee a full cargo for six trips."

"It was expected by shipping men today that approximately 15,000 tons of general freight, worth $300,000, is offering in Seattle every six weeks for ports in the Hawaiian Islands, with only two steamers, the Hyades and the Hilonian of the Matson Navigation Company, with a total cargo capacity of 11,000 tons, plying in this trade."

Commenting on this move, the San Francisco Journal of Commerce thinks it will not amount to much, and says: "In local shipping circles the endeavor to obtain one of the Hill liners for the Puget Sound-Honolulu run is expected to prove futile, as the Great Northern Pacific Company seems determined to operate both vessels on the San Francisco-Fuel run, for which purpose they were constructed and brought to the Pacific Coast."

"It is said that shipments from Seattle and nearby ports to the islands at the present time average in value approximately $300,000 a month. All this freight is transported to Hawaii on two steamers, the Hyades and Hilonian of the Matson Navigation fleet."

58,000 TONS OF SUGAR LEAVING EACH MONTH

With the American-Hawaiian moving 28,000 tons of island sugar to San Francisco every month for transshipment by rail to the east, and the Matson line taking 30,000 tons a month to Crockett Refinery, no trouble in getting the island sugar crop to market by the end of September is looked for by local shipping men.

Following the publication Saturday by the Star-Bulletin of the first official announcement by the Sugar Factors that island sugar consigned to eastern refineries would continue to be consigned east by rail until December 1, General Agent C. P. Morse of the American-Hawaiian's local office made the following statement today:

"We do not anticipate any trouble moving island sugar within the time that the Sugar Factors want it moved by the end of September. We are now transporting 28,000 tons a month to the coast. To date, including the Mexican, yesterday morning with 13,726 tons, we have carried during the present season 101,500 tons, of which 27,000 have gone via Magellan, and the rest to San Francisco and overland by rail."

Mr. Morse added that there are only 1500 tons of sugar on hand in Honolulu now, and that the Texan will clean it up when she returns from the coast.

There will be no trouble whatever," said Manager John H. Drew of the shipping department of Castle & Cooke, local Matson line agents. "Our steamers are now taking out about 30,000 tons of island sugar a month to the Crockett, California, refinery of the Sugar Factors. We can handle it all without difficulty. I don't think the American-Hawaiian will have any trouble taking care of its end, either."
